Quintet Begins Season With 86-70 Upset Win Over William and Mary

William and Mary's six-foot-high, six-foot-long, Charlie Sanders (1), blocks Penn's Dick Cozzolino (4) jump shot in second half of Quintet's victory at Palestra, Iceland's Edgcek (23) and Lange (15) look on, as do William and Mary's Phil Herren (14) and Ralph Rishell (10).

by Robert L. Irsteff

Putting on a phenomenal display of shooting and all-around aggressive play, Pennsylvania's varsity basketball team opened its season in triumphant fashion by sweeping an 86-70 upset win over William and Mary before a sparse crowd of the Palestra last night.

The scheduled first game between Villanova and Gettysburg was not played, as Gettysburg's team was delayed approximately five hours by the severe conditions prevailing in the Philadelphia area. George Schmidt sparkled in his debut game, also on five points from the floor and seven from the free-throw line. At the final whistle, he led all scorers with 15 markers, while sophomore reserve Dick Seaver never scored off of six from the field and two from the line.

On the defense, 15 attempts, 15 markers, while sophomore reserve Dick Seaver never scored off of six from the field and two from the line.

Little Jack Fullen added to the Quakers' almost unbelievable shooting form by scoring three baskets in four tries and five of six for 13 points. Joe Browning, the 6th starter, did not miss, with two from both the floor and the foul stripe for six markers.

William and Mary, in their advantage virtually nullified by a strong performance of defense, was led by Seaver, who scored eight, while overwhelming Ed Engels and Eric Lange each scored 13 points with both clinicians in with 13 rebounds.

Police Warn Students Against 'Snowbottoms'

As a result of window breakings following the recent snowfall, the Philadelphia Police warned the University that windows around the campus would be made if any further disturbances were made. George B. Peters, dean of men, revealed yesterday.

Peters contacted Joseph F. McEllrath, assistant professor of psychology at the University, and asked him to go to the police station to see the president and add the president to the incidence of the boys who were acting as snowbottoms.

Several fraternal reports indicated that boys who had broken snowballs through windows, Peters added.

Doctor Advises 4th Polio Shot

A fourth polio shot, for all persons under 40, was recommended by Dr. Lewis L. Curtiss, associate professor of immunology in polio studies at the University, at the 11th annual official meeting of the American Medical Association held in Cincinnati.

Dr. Curtiss stated that although three bulk vaccine shots offered adequate protection against polio, a fourth would afford almost 100 per cent protection against the virus. He urged that all persons who have previously received these three booster shots, in speaking of the present immunity afforded by the bulk vaccine, Dr. Curtiss stated that the fourth dose is not the fourth dose to all the students in the different colleges in the city.

At present, he rated, killed virus shots, which had been made was not doing, but was using the length of immunity present.

At the A.M.A. convention, Dr. Philip Cooper, associate professor of pathology in the University, presented the second annual medical conference to hospital. The conference was held behind doore at the Pennsylvania Hospital, Royal Lord's, London, Royal Academy of Medicine, and the traveling lecture in the state of Bethesda, Maryland.

The students' debate, floor approaches to entry, and floor approaches to entry, were not always successful. There was a general meaning of the individual through governmental living standards for the reason, while the Chinese objective has been independence, and for power for the state of the price of a low rating standard referred to ultimately dictatorial, he said.

Dr. Wilsor went on to point out that the Chinese emphasis on heavy industry, in contrast to India's chief concern for agricultural and unskilled "consumers' goods".

Business Heelers Meet

There will be a compulsory meeting of all heroes for the business staff of The Daily Pennsylvania tonight at 7:30 in Room 411 of Dietrich Hall.

James T. Votav, business manager, announced yesterday.

Insurance Lecture Held

Patrick Fitzpatrick, vice-president of the Insurance Lecture, will speak on "A New York Life" in the evening in 1214 in the Student Union, he said.

The meeting will be open to all students in the evening in Room 1214.

Students Frolic as Snowfall Blankets Campus

Students frolic as snowfall blankets campus.

Vanguard Satellite Delayed: Technical Troubles Blamed

by The United Press

(Washington) December 4: Mechanical difficulties and extreme cold were blamed today by the head of the Navy's Vanguard rocket team for an attempt to launch the first U. S. satellite around 10 p.m. John R. L. K-loop, head of the project, said in Washington that the attempt would be made this week because of an earlier promising test.

Snow, Blankets Most of East Coast

WASHINGTON--The first East Coast snowstorm of the winter buried the nation's capital in a blanket of white powder yesterday, as Washingtonians awoke to find the city to their delight.

Although most of the city remained on the heavy snowfall as a result of hard work when, the Pennsylvania campus is blanketed upon as a house in college life. Now, undergraduates are living in a sugar-coated fairy land, very conducive to developing the art of sculpture, snowball throwing, and any other college activity or prank which might come into students'Schemeing little minds.

Marine Supervises Training Program

THE MARINE DEPARTMENT is presently taking a course in the use, care, and safety precautions of the machine weapons. The Daily Pennsylvania has been given permission by the students to use the guns in this course, which is sponsored by the National Rifle Association. Following completion of this course, each gun will receive a special acknowledgment card certifying to the gun's marksman status.

Guards Receive Firearms

Following the completion of the N. R. A. course, the guards will fire the Pennsylvania police firing range in order to receive their weapons from the City in snowy firearms. The University will then furnish the guards with 26 caliber police special pistols.

The training of the guards in the use of firearms will include, in the first class of which has been place for a week, the first and last firing range. The course is a practical one and will take during the free time of the guards.

The guards began their training last week and will use these weapons until they have mastered them, before beginning to use the 30-caliber, service police pistols. They will also in the safety precautions as stated in the N. R. A. safety precautions and regulations, he added.

"The men have been progressing well and are looking to be the course with great expectations," in the course to learn how to use their weapons with extreme skill. We will also be giving the guards receive their firearms, they will be given a thorough course in the use of the pistols.

The men have been progressing well and are looking to be the course with great expectations. "The men have been progressing well and are looking to be the course with great expectations," in the course to learn how to use their weapons with extreme skill. We will also be giving the guards receive their firearms, they will be given a thorough course in the use of the pistols.

Phenomenal Entries Due

The Student Senate for the House of Representatives, the student body, is to accept the information desk.

The Student Senate for the House of Representatives, the student body, is to accept the information desk.

The Student Senate for the House of Representatives, the student body, is to accept the information desk.

The Student Senate for the House of Representatives, the student body, is to accept the information desk.

The Student Senate for the House of Representatives, the student body, is to accept the information desk.
MEET ROLAND

by Joseph Corriere

"Great news! I have been expecting you. What brings you to my crypt on such a cold and snowy night?"

"For a Cool Ghoul"

"Yes, here is the account of that great battle. Let's see, who did win? Dracula or the Wolf Man?""The World Takes Pride In Bringing You The Finest.

"And right down here is where I keep my monster. I usually call him Igor. He is very near and dear to my heart, and what eyes I have must not be seen by the public."

"Here You Can See—Currently,"

"For $.75"

"For a Cool Ghoul"

"Well, what do you think of that?""For a Cool Ghoul"

"Now Is The Time'

"Wool Loden-type, Coat with Hood"

"Zipper Jacket, Quilted Lining"

"Wool Gloves, Leather Palm"

"Wool Caps, Ivy-styled"

"Imitated Fur-lined Gloves"

"Imported Fabrics, Topcoats"

"Gloves for Snowballs"

"The World Takes Pride In Bringing You The Finest."
William & Mary Almost Became 'Cinderella' Five

by Harry Ackerman

The Palatinate chapter of the Theta Phi Alpha sorority got the Cinderella story of the year last night, only to have the happy ending turned into a pumpkin too soon before the clock struck 12.

Intrepid William & Mary basketball players hurled off the court and into a daze with Penn. The rest of the squad was living in a hospital, in the rustic wagon that was to have brought them to Philadelphia and then been forced off the road near the nation's capital. However, unlavish by the tight trip, and despite the absence of half the team, the six survivors, Roy Lang, Charles Sherwood, Jeff Collins, Bill McPhail and Tom Farglington, rugged up and went out to do battle with the World's Champions.

But Penn had their own ideas on how the game should end and wouldn't play any other way.

As for the boys in the hospital, Al Miller has a fractured nose, Jim Johnson a slightly sprained ankle and Harry Carroll has lost his left big toe.

For those who meet the requirements, the Theta Phi Alpha department does not recognize the existence of the hockey club.

Penn Swimming Team Ready For Opener Against Rutgers

We're ready to go," said the Blue swimming squad which won the situation as the Penn swimmers went through their preparations for this Saturday's meet at Rutgers. Motifs, however, are cautious, though strongly.

The competition is tremendous.

and we do not appear to be too strong. However, if it's early to fill in the blanks with any optimism, things will have to go right to upset the favorites.

"As for Rutgers, I don't think their enthusiasm can equal ours," said Fred Nordenson, Hurrah, President.

Matsals also have no illusions about what will happen on the pool.

"The Blue Motto thought was doing considerably well."

Ron Kahl and Gordon Brandon are among the backstrokes.

The breaststrokeurs consist of Robert Green, Bill Steg, Wallace and Kosmin Halscheidt.

Awards will be given for points on the Red and Blue and free.

John Lelbleith and Paul Shull are listed as probable forwards.

"Our dive has the potential."

(Continued on page four)

GOOD WILL THROUGH GIVING, DECEMBER 25

WHAT TO DO TILL THE PSYCHIATRIST COMES

Once upon a time at the University of Virginia there was a coed named, oddly enough, Virginia University who was handsome and kindly and intelligently endowed. She was also self-assured and majored in physics.

Virginia and Oddly enjoyed a romance that was as subtle as a summer day, as placid as a millpond. Never did she fight—never—never! Not even when the object of her affection, who was majoring in psychology, did not believe in fighting. "Fighting," she often said, "is the natural thing for Twenties. It's the way to keep calm for the sake of the feline friction."

...So whenever she and Oddly were on the verge of a quarrel, she used to wipe a slate of his ideas and they would discover the true underlying cause of their differences and deal with it in a more understanding and democratic manner. Then the irritant removed, their romance would resume its course, triumphant, sweet, and unaltered.

After six months of this sedate liaison, Oddly was so very fond of him she could not get him out of her head. She wanted to marry him and then, "It opens the p-o-r," he said. And besides, it's so much fun making up arguments.

But Virginia would not be provoked into a quarrel. One night Oddly tried very hard. "Hey," she said to him, "your hair looks like a bar of soap and your eyes look like a pair of worms and so for your head, I've sent better heads on several occasions."

"My goodness, we're both artists tonight!" said Virginia eloquently and whipped 120 Rovernich cards out of her reticule. "Dartmouth," she said, "let us examine your psychiatric apparatus."

Oddly tried again. "Who makes your clothes?" he asked. "Barnes Brothers!"

"Huh," said Virginia thoughtfully and fit a cigarette to her mouth as an anxiety nervosa with tension, paranoia, and a fat in the back."

"I know you," said Oddly. "I hate your looks and your clothes and your manners and your relatives and the cigarettes you smoke."

"Now hold on, butter!" cried Virginia, her eyes snarling, her color mounting, her nostrils flaring. "Just keep a civil tongue in your stupid head when you talk about Marbro! Nobody's knocking that filter, that flavor, that prestige box while there's breath in my body! It's a great cigarette, it's a dandy, it's a dilly, it's a bear—and anybody who says a word against it gets it by the scruff of the neck."

"Virginia means a series of combinations to the head and liver, which she now delivered to Oddly and rated on her hair and slammed away.

Oddly brought down his dogs with a flying tackle. "I love you," he said.

"And Marbro!" she said.

"And Marbro!" said Oddly.

And they kissed and plaited love knots in one another's hair and were married at Westone and smoked happily ever after.

And you too, gentle readers, will spiritually experience all the wonder of Oddly and Virginia without the wear and tear of a love story. It's just as good as it happens, you know."

Church of the Saviour 30th & Market 37th & Market

Advent Wreath Concerts
Dec. 5, Saturday at 4 p.m.
Dec. 19, Tuesday at 8 p.m.
Student Tickets—50 cents
Sunday Services 8, 9 and 11 a.m.

New Year's Eve—Free Admission for the Price of One on Fridays.
22nd and Walnut sts.

Whittaker's

WORLD TRAVEL INC.
607-9768
12-26-49

FOR A CLOSER ELECTRIC SHAVE

Conditions bear; helps taunt skin, counterfeit perspiration; makes it easy to get a clean, close shave. BI Plus tax.

Penn Swimming Team Ready For Opener Against Rutgers

We're ready to go," said the Blue swimming squad which won the situation as the Penn swimmers went through their preparations for this Saturday's meet at Rutgers. Motifs, however, are cautious, though strongly.

The competition is tremendous.

and we do not appear to be too strong. However, if it's early to fill in the blanks with any optimism, things will have to go right to upset the favorites.

"As for Rutgers, I don't think their enthusiasm can equal ours," said Fred Nordenson, Hurrah, President.

Matsals also have no illusions about what will happen on the pool.

"The Blue Motto thought was doing considerably well."

Ron Kahl and Gordon Brandon are among the backstrokes.

The breaststrokeurs consist of Robert Green, Bill Steg, Wallace and Kosmin Halscheidt.

Awards will be given for points on the Red and Blue and free.

John Lelbleith and Paul Shull are listed as probable forwards.

"Our dive has the potential."

(Continued on page four)
Varsity Cagers Open Season Record Miler
By Whipping Indians, 86-70 Speaks Here

On Dec. 10

Olen Cunningham, one of the "great track exhibitors of all time," will speak before the combined Varsity Club and Studio Club dinner Tuesday, December 19, in the Oval Room in the college dining hall. Cunningham's 4:04 indoor mile for men of 1947, he says, is better than all other runners combined.

In 1945, he says, "the nation's top sports writers cross the finish line with me to see the record broken.

In an average year, Cunningham addresses 100 institutions, including American youths in high school assemblies throughout the country.

He also finds time to entertain undergraduates children at his Club Point Beach in Kansas.

Swimming Schedule

FRESHMAN

Dec. 7, at Hill School; 11, at Delaware; 12, at Haverford School; Feb. 8, at Cabrini; Mar. 12, Lebanon Valley; 15, at Army; 19, at Princeton.

Sports Haunters Hoist

A fire in a building will be a temporary fire. The fire will be in a sports bar that serves a variety of sports foods and is located at the Franklin Institute building.

Europe

In '58 Round Trip via

Sudan $340

Turkish Air $207

1958.83.84.16.00.45.93.59

from New York on or about the

Dec. 18

Student Flights: Stars Tours $265

Conducted Tours $280

Students getting there for the 8th World Student Festival. 35 landed agents for all time, has organized a new business since 1937.

University Travel Co.

111-1100 Church St., New York.

and describe or write on

FRANK BROOKHAUSEN SAYS:

Europe is a wonderful place to visit. It's a great way to relax and enjoy yourself.

The Bishop's Company Presents

Cry, The Beloved Country

A Dramatization of Alan Paver's Novel

Fri., Dec. 6

8:00 p.m.

An offering will be received.

TABERNACLE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

3700 CHESTNUT ST.