'The Dipper's' Dilemma

by Bernard Schneyer

When Dr. James A. Naismith sailed up the first neatly hatched for the novelty of his flag, back in 1903, he had no conception of a diet, or a snack, or a roll, much less the ability to discern the fine discrimination between them. Now, linguists are running the present day, in a favored position to pin down the origins of each. It is even the exact:

Deep Wilson Chamberlain, after "The 50th, which certainly traces back, too, deep

Rutgers Tops Penn Matmen Easily, 23-5

Pennsylvania's only wrestling win of the year thus far came on Saturday when Rutgers topped the Quakers, 23-5. In recent years, the two teams have been evenly matched, but in this contest Rutgers' five wins were decisive. Rutgers' standout was a 75-pounder, a senior named Michael Jones, who scored a major decision over Paul Franklin, 24-6.

Frosh Cagers Meet LaSalle

In a non-conference game played at the Paleface stadium, the Frosh basketball team defeated LaSalle, 90-76, in the afternoon session.

Scarlet Pin Frosh

Tom LeClair, a promising half-miler on the track team, was named to the Scarlet Pin Frosh team. He placed third in the mile in the Paleface meet, 2:46.7, at Albuquerque.

Powerful Yale Mermen Rout Quakers, 67-19

The powerful Yale Mermen, one of the nation's strongest teams, defeated the Penn Quakers, 67-19, in a varsity swimming meet at the Paleface stadium. Yale's victory was a victory of unprecedented proportions, and the Quakers were completely outclassed.

Betas Take I-M Wrestling Laurels; Sigma Nu Dethroned

Sigma Nu remains the only national collegiate organization that can claim a perfect I-M record. Yale's victory over Sigma Nu, 5-1, was a major upset and brought Sigma Nu's I-M record to 3-2-1.

Collegeiate Champ Violet Fencers Rip Penn Team, 19-8

The defending Interstate Collegiate champion fencing squad of Yale topped the Penn fencing team, 19-8, in a thrilling match at the Paleface stadium.

Boardman, Hickey, and Smith of the Yale fencing team were particularly impressive, with Boardman winning the foil match and Hickey taking the epee match. Smith, however, was the real star of the day, winning all three of his matches and helping to lead Yale to victory.

ROCKETT SELECTED BY COACHES AS ALL-IVY SOCCER FORWARD

Robert Rockett, a junior forward on the Penn soccer team, was selected as the All-Ivy soccer forward for the 1957-58 season. Rockett's selection was well deserved, as he had been a key player for the Quakers throughout the season.
