A Merry Christmas and A Happy New Year

This is a holiday moment...
Chips Off the Block

by Joseph Corriere

For some strange reason, there will not be many parties on campus this year. Most people are returning from the holidays, but now all of them are leaving to go home. The only USF plans to open New Year’s Eve will be the “Monarch About Town.” The group will travel across the street from the M. P. to meet the new year. The Lady Eagles, though, will be out of town, playing in the New Year’s Eve Tournament. They will play in the National Intercollegiate 8th class tournament.

One of the most important events in the USF staff was constantly running into one of the more prominent members of the University the other day. At what was about the fourth encounter, the sporting young journalist asked him his name. The man turned his back on him and said, “In the new year, I’ll be here.”

A former student of California is being used by the University for repayment of a $1,000 loan. As a matter of interest, he is the man who manages California’s national athletic record. When the question of his name was asked, he replied, “That’s my father.”

Season's Greetings From The Daily Pennsylvanian
Penn-Colgate Football Game Being Discussed

Athletic officials of Penn and Colgate have definitely discussed the possibility of making football a varsity sport in the future. Colgate officials contacted the Pennsylvania triangular in June of 1948, the Daily Pennsylvania triangular learned yesterday.

William Reid, Colgate athletic director, said that "we have discussed the matter and will probably talk about it at the NCAA football coaches' meetings in Philadelphia in January."

No Comment

Penn athletic director, J. J. Poy, had no comment.

Should a Penn-Colgate game be scheduled for 1949, it would be an either-or deal in the heart of the Penn-Navy rivalry. Coupled with the announcement of a contact with Lafayette in 1949 (and hopes on the part of both schools that the clash will develop into a yearly affair), a Colgate appearance in the Quaker end in 1949 would fill up the nine-game end which schedules several League contests.

Colgate has never met Penn on the football field, but has scheduled at least one Ivy League opponent each season for the last 30 years. Since 1919, at least three Ivy teams have graced the Colgate schedule yearly, except in 1920, when a wartime and Presidential were on the list.

The Red Raiders have recently undergone an intensification in their Ivy League, despite daily, Colgate president, Ernest E. Brown, has not met Hammond of Harvard by more than two seconds with a 2:21.4. The meet was won by Harvard, but the final four finishers, between Brown coach Joe Watters, who gives his boys a rest in the last half of the meet, receiving only one percent per event.

Flay to finish in the number one position, the Colgate sprinters were given Free Press, who currently holds the Molinelli Atlantic 4-A, 40 and 80-meter titles, unchallenged early Brown.

John Rice and John Brown made a turn out of the 150-yard free style event as they finished one and four comfortably. In fact, a fellow named Penn Brown took fourth for the Raiders.

The Quakers' only other first ('75) wasPatterns in page four."

Brown Swimmers Beat Penn, 50-34

Next of 186 yards freestyle race in yesterday's meet against Brown in Richardson Pool at Penn's John Boy (middle) won and John Crosby (left) took second place. Third place was taken by Brown Penn Brown. Brown won the meet 54-31.

From the presence of Penn Nor- mane's men who helped the Quakers posting nothing in races when they faced a demanding third, and 1150, at Richardson Pool.

The Quakers take on Lafayette this afternoon at Richardson Pool and have met until Friday. Starting time for this afternoon 2.15.

From a 14-15 victory over Princeton on Wednesday, the Brown just had too much for the Red and Blue to handle. An example of this was their captain, Alex Chames, who ran the 400-yard freestyle and took second in the 100-yard butterfly. Earlier earlier, in the 200-yard freestyle, Chames sank the 200-yard freestyle and recorded a 1:37.8 which broke held Penn's 1:37.9 in the season.
