“Tm pretty confident about the electrical future, too. One thing America’s use of electricity has been doubling every ten years. And it will increase even faster as our population grows another 65 million by 1976 — and as research and development lead to new electrical products that help people live better. The way I look at it, the technical, manufacturing and marketing resources of large companies like General Electric are important factors in the growth of the electrical industry. And in a growing industry, there’s room for me to grow.”

“Here at General Electric,” says Penn R. Post, 24-year-old marketing trainee, "you hear a lot about the future — even as far as about 1978. In fact, I’ve discovered that planning ahead for America’s needs and 20 years from now is characteristic of the electrical industry. And, that’s important to me. General Electric’s long-range planning takes my future into account. I’m now in my fourth assignment in the Company’s Technical Marketing Program — all planned steps in my development.

Holt was pleased with the University of Wisconsin. ‘Tom, left a public message before the pane ended.

MEMO TO MAESTROS: is your band dressed in tuxedos? In full of bottle flasks and dropping drummers? Well, this reminder domestics may have trouble to lockeys. Better give your band a break—and make it a Lucky one! A Lucky, you see, is a light-smoke—the right smoke for everyone. It’s all citizenship—all naturally light, wonderfully good-tasting tobacco. And Lockleys’ fine tobbacco is too taint to taste even better. Now then, what’s a marching band that never gets a Lucky break? Why, it’s a Sore Corps! (Wasn’t that cymbal?)
