University Sponsors Dinner To Begin Brotherhood Week

In observance of National Brotherhood Week, February 12-20, the University is sponsoring a brotherhood eveing on Monday night at 8 in the Houston Hall Auditorium, Rev. Edward Harris, University chaplain, will speak.

Speaking at the dinner will be Dr. Samuel S. Kramer, chief residen- tial professor of American and European history. Kramer is a member of the University faculty, and has been on the campus since 1965.

A schedule of events for the week will be included in the program. The event will be followed by a reception at the Houston Hall coffee hour.

Weber Head Manager Of '59 Basketball Team

Robert Weber, a member of Delta Tau Delta fraternity, was named head basketball manager for the 1958-59 season, Jonathan H. Ford, II, Director of Intercollegiate Athletics, announced yesterday.

Kramer will present a new book titled "The King of France" by D. W. McElwee. The book will be read by the German students in "Briarwood," and the protein will be served in the Fellowship "Salaam," enter- tainment before the meal will consist of a talent show.

Dr. Levitt To Discuss 'Sputniks, Explorers' Tonight at 8 in Irvine

An internationally known scientist and author, Dr. Levitt has been much sought after by the press in recent years as a member of the expert panel of the future satellite launches by both the United States and the Soviet Union.

In August, 1957, Dr. Levitt deliv- ered a report to the Fifth Inter- national Astronomical Federation Congress at Enschede, Austria, concerning the possibility of lost radio equipment, and his paper, written in the form of a letter to the editor of the Journal of the Astronomical Society, will be of great interest to the scientific community.

Dr. Levitt considers himself pri- marily a writer and an author, and is available for the planning and execution of projects he considers the most important in the field of astronomy and related sciences.

Write an Article. It has been the policy of the University to 20 the abstract terminology of science down to the simple language of the youth. This has contributed to many projects, including the writing of Space Traveler's Guide to the Universe, and the development of the "Let's Look at the Stars" theme for the University's variety show.

The First Annual
Philadelphia Philatelic Society Show will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 in the Union. The show will feature three main sections: "Firsts," "Old" and "Modern".

The show will be held in the Union Ballroom and will feature a collection of stamps from around the world. The show is free to the public and will run from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday.

The Boys' Club

A Worthwhile Socialism

by Joseph N. Corriere, Jr.,

One of the newest but yet excellent athletic organizations on campus is the University of Pennsylvania's Boy's Club. The club has been organized to provide an avenue for young men from the varsity teams to socialize and help each other. The club is open to all members of the University and has over 150 members.

The club meets every Monday evening in the LaFayette Room of the Hotel College. The meetings are conducted by a committee of five members and are open to all members of the University. The meetings usually last about two hours and include a social hour followed by a business meeting.

The Boy's Club is unique in that it is open to all members of the University and not just the varsity teams. This has allowed many young men to get involved who might not have been able to otherwise.

The club has been successful in helping many young men socialize and make new friends. It is hoped that the club will continue to grow and provide a valuable service to the University community.

Two points for the University of Pennsylvania's Boy's Club: The club's name is perhaps the only one in the middle circuit with an Ivy League team to the close, but the club's members have made sizable contributions to the University's athletic program.

The present director of the club, W. J. O'Brien, is the third of three generations of O'Brien's to hold the position. The club's first president, W. J. O'Brien, Jr., was a member of the class of 1921. The present director, W. J. O'Brien, is the grandson of the first president.

The club publishes a newsletter, which is sent out to all members of the University. The newsletter contains information about upcoming events, club news, and other relevant topics.

The Boy's Club basketball team is perhaps the most successful of all the University's varsity teams. The team has won several conference championships and has made several appearances in the NCAA tournament. The team is known for its strong defense and team play.

The club is run by a committee of five members, who are elected annually by the members. The committee is responsible for overseeing the club's operations and ensuring that the club's objectives are met.

The club has a strong tradition of giving back to the University and its community. The members of the club have made many contributions to various University organizations and have been active in community service projects.

The Boy's Club is an excellent example of how a social organization can provide valuable service to its members and the University community. It is hoped that other similar organizations will be formed on campus in the future.

Sophomore R.O.T.C. Students: MAJOR IN LEADERSHIP with the Advanced R.O.T.C. course

If you are a sophomore Army R.O.T.C. student, there are three important reasons why you should accept the challenge of applying for the Advanced R.O.T.C. course. As an advanced R.O.T.C. student, you will:

1. Learn to Lead
   With R.O.T.C. you can actually take a course in Leadership—a course that will prepare you to think on your feet for an executive position, whether in military or civilian life. In addition, you will get practical experience in command responsibilities.

2. Attain Officer's Rank
   As an R.O.T.C. graduate, you will fulfill your military obligation as an Army officer. You will not only enjoy the rank, pay and privileges of an Army officer, but will also have the satisfaction of serving your country in an important capacity.

3. Receive Extra Income
   With the Advanced R.O.T.C. course, you will qualify for a subsistence allowance which comes to around $535 for the two-year course. You will also be paid $117 for your six-week summer camp training and receive a travel allowance of five cents per mile to and from the camp.

Would you like to find out? BRIDE & HOME asks you twenty leading questions in the Summer Issue, then analyzes your answers. It's revealing and well worth taking seriously, as is the entire issue which explores, in depth, the psychology behind the bride's choice of trousseau, honeymoon and home. All in all, one of the more penetrating issues of this new quarterly for the girl with a husband in mind. To be sure of your copy, subscribe now.
