Engineering Mechanics Course Is Established at University
By Arnold J. Knox

A curriculum in engineering mechanics has been established within the School of Civil Engineering in order to modernize engineering education.

The program will consist of work in theoretical subjects, rather than specific training in any particular field. It is expected that this course will be of much interest to engineering students, who desire to study more scientifically.

Hays Predicts Bright Future For Soph-Dominated Golfers

Pennsylvania’s varsity golf team, participating in the recent Victory Invitational tournament group over the entire eastern section of the United States, April 26-28, won the championship. Coach Hays, back for his 25th year as mentor, is well pleased with the early season’s results. Hays, who has witnessed the fall of his charges, has been pleased with the early season’s results. His charges have been victorious in every tournament since the fall’s opening.

Better Things In Store for Squash Team

"All will be an act removed from squash players," said Coach Hays. "This brief surge of early spring for the Squash players had climaxed another era of tranquility. The thrill also means Johnson is looking ahead towards the more grueling matches for the most future of the season.

Ralph Bennett

Quakers vs. Lions

The Whigs and the Tories, the members of the aristocratic political parties, have their favorite haunts. Despite the Whigs, which makes the political activity of these parties, the society is a fine one. The Whigs hold their annual meeting in a fine old inn, which is the headquarters of the Whig Loyalists, and they will also abide the Washington Inn for the Whig campaign with the Tory Loyalists. The Whigs will meet in private rooms, and the Whig officers will meet in the Whig headquarters, with prospective plays to be held next season.

Dr. John Bokman, one of the Whig top assistants, said that his charges will also exhibit their system of grading performances in the Whig courtesies.
