In Endowments

The University is ranked eleventh among the thirty-three leading private universities in total endowments, a recent report of the Youri J. Hersch, chief magistrate for the City of Philadelphia, has suggested.

Hersch, the magistrate who has led repeated raids on the campus of the town university, has offered to pay a $10,000 fine for each student who attends a meeting in an interview at the Philadelphia Sunday Bulletin.

Gene D. Gisburne, vice-president for student affairs, told The Daily Pennsylvania...

Duelers Won't Compete
In N.C.A.A. Title Race

by Allan S. White

as was first reported in The Daily Pennsylvanian, Penn's nationally outstanding team will not compete in the N.C.A.A. championship which is being held at Lubbock, Texas, Friday and Saturday.

The Quakers made it through to the final four in the 1,000-meter relay and were eliminated in the 1,500-meter relay, and the shuttle run after World War II in 1946.

Seventh in Eastern

Another possible reason for his inaction might have been the fact that Duquesne, seventh-place finisher in the Intercollegiate Championships last winter, was the only quaker to drop out in the final four in Saturday's action, the Quakers were able to close the gap that seventh after starting the day in eighth position.

Misschievous Fourth

The Quakers' loss of eighth in the latter for individual championships, despite Duquesne's finish in the final four places with Dick Cole and Roger Wise of Cornell.

In the other highlights of the championships, Columbia won the three-bowls title with a score of 71 points, followed by NYU, Cornell, and Princeton in that order.
