Report Being Prepared by Parking Committee, Dr. Goodman Discloses

Study Is Recommendatory in Nature, Will Cover Existing, Future Facilities

The University Parking Committee is in the process of preparing a report which will be recommendatory in nature. The committee, under the direction of the University, Dr. Charles S. Goodman, chairman of the committee and associate professor of marketing and foreign commerce, has revealed.

The Committee, established last August by Dr. Harwell, has held several meetings since Labor Day, 1957, when it first met to consider its three-point program.

The Committee was charged "to consider all phases of parking administration at the University." In recommending changes, it is necessary, in the existing parking program, which is designed to make the best possible use of existing facilities, and to recommend, for a long range improvement in parking conditions, appropriate policies and procedures and necessary new construction or land acquisition," Dr. Goodman said.

Projects Add to Problem — The report, which will be given to Dr. Harwell and John L. Moore, chairman of the campus facilities committee, will be a preliminary survey of the campus problems facing us," Dr. Goodman said. It is a difficult situation, becoming more severe each day, he said. Dr. Goodman pointed out that the University is losing parking spaces each time a new construction project is begun.

Considering the three functions of the committee, by Goodman continued, we decided to approach the combined problem very broadly. That was last September when we had to order all of the cars which were not nearly enough to cover the problem.

For the past several months, the committee, which is composed of members from the Student Union, the College of Administration, many departments, has been trying to get ideas for solving the parking problem. They have held several meetings of the entire faculty and the student body. They have talked with the various departments and they have been meeting with the administration and with the various student groups.

Teacher Turned Politician

by David Seidelfeld

Lev's fact the facts, a professor-politician combination, is distinctly uncommon these days. This year at Penn's School of Law, the University of Pennsylvania, the juxtaposition of the two, that of Dr. E. G. Jansoink, is something of a spectacle. Dr. Jansoink is a professor of political science and a former teacher-turned-politician, who now serves as the legal advisor to the Pennsylvania House of Representatives. He is known for his expertise in constitutional law and his advocacy for civil liberties. Dr. Jansoink is a member of the Pennsylvania State Bar Association and has served as counsel for various organizations, including the ACLU and the NAACP. He is also a frequent speaker at legal conferences and has written extensively on constitutional law. Dr. Jansoink is a graduate of Harvard Law School and received his Ph.D. in political science from the University of California, Berkeley. He is married to Dr. Mary Jansoink and they have two children. Dr. Jansoink is a popular figure among the students and faculty at Penn and is widely respected for his intellect and dedication to the law. He is often sought after for his opinions on legal matters and his insights into the workings of the judiciary. Dr. Jansoink is a true testament to the idea that one can pursue a career in both academia and public service.
