Penn Spells Trouble for Fenn

by Bernard Schneyer

This is directed mainly as a reminder to the students of the University of Pennsylvania, that the better part of valor is in the avoidance of danger. The events of last Saturday, when Fenn, the other challenge to Penn, was defeated, were of a dire nature, and it behooves every student to take heed and to make sure that he is familiar with the rules of the game.

To every Fenn enthusiast, the news of the defeat must have been a shock. The Boys in Blue are a team to be reckoned with, and their defeat was unexpected. The game was played with great spirit and determination by both teams, but the margin of victory was so huge that it is impossible to overlook.

The victory of the Boys in Blue is not only a victory for the team, but for the entire University of Pennsylvania. It is a victory that will be remembered for years to come, and it is a victory that will be looked upon with pride by every student.

In conclusion, let us not forget the lesson that was taught by the events of last Saturday. Let us be prepared for any challenge that may come our way, and let us be ready to meet it with courage and determination.
