Metroplitan Life Ins. Announces Endowment Of Chair For Wharton

Testimonial Given For Hon. Chairman To Mark 75th Year With Company

The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company announced last night that it would be establishing a chair of life insurance at the Wharton School in honor of Frederick H. Ecker, honorary chairman of the board of the company.

The endowment will provide a permanent full professorship to be known as the Frederick H. Ecker Chair of Life Insurance. The announcement was made at dinner last night in connection with the annual meeting of the company's board of directors in the hotel ballroom. Other key corporate officials were present for the gala occasion.

Ecker, who is the company's longest-serving chairman, retired in 1984 after 53 years of service. He is known for his leadership in the insurance industry and his commitment to education.

The endowment will provide funds to support a professorship in life insurance, with the goal of advancing the field and preparing future leaders in the industry.

Mayor Richardson Dilworth has signed into law an amendment to the Pennsylvania Insurance Code that would allow for the establishment of the chair. The new law will also provide for the selection of the professor and the development of a curriculum.

The amendment was introduced by State Rep. John A. Ryan, a Wharton graduate, and sponsored by State Sen. Arlen Specter. The amendment was passed by both houses of the legislature and signed by the governor.

The endowment will be managed by the Metropolitan Life Foundation, which was established in 1933 and has donated more than $1 billion to charitable causes.

The conclusion is hard to force to face, but it's nonetheless true: good jazz is hard to find. We found some of it recently at Columbia's Red

Hill Inn, a periodic haven of ours, in the pres-sympathy for the lesser of the two.

With a complete playing of both drama. "Run

Silent" is in the latter role... more emotion than ally, the set was played with balance in mind

and neither song still in the picture of the scene. With the help of the band, of course, we listened, and the end result was a movingly strong solo.

The members of the New York Jazz Quartet

are no fly-by-night musicians simply working for the moment. Their aim is a solid,

body of work the end result of blood, sweat

and tears spent in the lab. While the band have never been accused of being characteristic Westerners, they have to be characterized Western, to allow melodramatists to design their style

simply, and to remove the self-con
division of groups in the idiom.

"Jockey brand underwear helped me get elected!"

"Me run for class president?" I said with mockery in my voice, "why I can't even run for a bus!" That's how uncomfortable my underwear was in those days. But my roommate solved everything. He got me to try tailored-to-fit Jockey brand briefs. What a difference!

"I felt so comfortable—so poised—and I acquired a trim, athletic look that I knew would impress the masses. Running for office was easy now, so I ran and won. And I owe it all to Jockey brand briefs, the only underwear that's tailored from 13 separate pieces to provide a perfectly smooth fit."
