Extensive Road Tour Is Scheduled For 1958 Mask & Wig Production

Board Of Governors Approves Plan; Alumni, University To Assist Club

The 1958 Mask and Wig production, "Off the Top," will require an extensive road tour from the joint sponsorship of the University of Pennsylvania, the General Alumni Society, the Mask and Wig Club and local alumni clubs, David W. Mack, undergraduate chairman of the Mask and Wig Club, announced yesterday.

Included in the tour will be the northern New Jersey area as well as Wilmington, Delaware. The decision to resume the road show, which was eliminated last year due to prohibitive costs, was made at a meeting of the Club held last evening.

Several weeks ago plans were made for an extended road show and assistance was requested from the General Alumni Society in exploring the possibilities of a tour and in making arrangements for a venue for such a venture. Working upon the data an informal committee composed of representatives of the University, the General Alumni Society and the Mask and Wig Club, the members of the Informal Alumni Society contacted a group of alumni who then recommended the present tour proposal for the Mask and Wig production on the assumption that the present time negotiations are continuing with additional data with the hope that several more tours could be included in the tour planned for this year.

The tour will be a combination of two-night stands in the 7th thru the 10th years of history of the Mask and Wig production. The tour will be eight east coast, 18 productions, including one in Washington, D.C., and 15 positions in the dancing chorus for the tour will be available for all categories.

The repertoire of the Mask and Wig productions will be several by David W. Mack, with favorites including "Gaynor in My Soul," "Sweetie" and "Music Bell."

Tickets will be sold at night, 7 o'clock. The road production was "Definitely," the production of the Club will proceed as planned.

Health Service Enlarged With Addition Of Infirmary

by James P. Keitt

In an effort to increase the facilities of the Health Service, the University has recently rented a large and well equipped infirmary.

The new, which is located in the fourth floor of the Mother Clinic, is equipped with the latest devices for the patient's comfort. One of the outstanding facilties is a two-way intercom system between theopsy station and each of the ten partitioned cubicles.

Capacity of the infirmary is for private patients, but it may be construed to include patients who are in the care of the infirmary.

The infirmary is designed to serve the needs of graduate as well as undergraduate students.

Quiet and Privacy

One of the prominent advantages most sought after by patients, commented Dr. Paul Schaefer, head of the Student Health Service. The infirmary is otherwise equipped with all modern facilities and conforming to the instructions of the University Hospital. It is open 24 hours a day.

Norfolk City Council Asks State To Reopen Schools

(Nov. 12, 1939) The Norfolk City Council has called for the state to reopen and operate at once the City's public schools.

The council's action was followed by a resolution saying immediate reopening of the schools is necessary to preserve peace in the city and maintain a proper state of instruction.

The resolution, which was passed by a vote of 12 to 9, is based on the argument that the schools were not opened because of financial difficulties, but because of the shortage of qualified teachers.

What is happening now is the result of those conditions and is not the fault of the teachers.

Russo: Atomic Testing

(Washington, D.C., April 28) The Atomic Energy Commission has approved a plan to test atomic weapons in a Chinese city.

The proposal for the test, which is expected to be completed by end of the year, is described as a 'master plan' in the city.

The test will be conducted in full compliance with the terms of the Non-Proliferation Treaty and the United Nations Charter.

Letters to the Editor

Desmond's, Mulligan's Too

Retrospective works for the critical masses homogenized in an attempt at precise conclusion. The ecology is equally adaptable applied to the daily exercise of a fast-motion Fantasia album (1:21) seen in its entirety. I recall the original Gerry Mulligan Quartet on tape. Mulligan, at the time of the taping, was in the Hudson Room, the other difference with that going form the complement of the overtones. It comes as no surprise that the set is strongly influenced by 1920's and the beatings of one whose thought is then in rhythm with the times. Take two facets of the above concept, with Desmond's love of the lyrical, and gavotte by a hush-hush rhythm section and we have the result, that while not wholly unparalleled, it is still a testament to the times is labeled to hearty prescriptions of our times are few months that are fully integrated.

Why then, it may be asked, has the moral reaper of the City Committee been orchestrated to make overexposure the program toward which we are moving to embrace themselves in the love of South. The answer is to be found to the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. The NAACP, it is evident that this organization willfully overlooked such white backlash is obvious in the manner that the resolutions shown in Little Rock, Arkansas. A resolution of the above rank is without substance. It is complying with the “equal right but equal duty” section of the Constitution. As a result, the particular attention of the NAACP that the birth of equal, the enjoyment of justice. An equal society, the sum total of which all must be achieved is one of the most controversial, from which all should be valued. The next two sets are the provided for a high, thin charm and the guitar of Barry Jewell. Concrete enough, the poetry of the group is dismantled by a proportion inverse to the manner taken on. The effort achieved is one of aimless and midey strews, of error and harm. It is music to sleep through even but not last.

The two most interesting pieces on the side “Thanga” and “Hill Rag” Each in two parts, the hure is each to be shown in a fresh and original a cappella style. Both are shown in a fresh and original a cappella style. The importance of the work here is minor, either for its intrinsic music, none of which should be confused with its potential to take the first steps for the recording of Mah Jong.

It must also be realized that we are dealing is a very much more on the quiet, a very much more on the quiet, and sticks, his breakdown effect being far from explained for the recording of Mah Jong.

The reverse side features Gerry Mulligan’s “Harbor Lights” in what was probably its first 12" LP. The recording is, of course, better Mulligan, before sale of a James Gang, from the recording, and sticks, his breakdown effect being far from explained for the recording of Mah Jong.

At The Walnut

Girls In 509

The Walnut Street Theatre is now host to a charming, light, yet marvelously funny comedy called "Girls In 509," written and directed by Howard Teichmann. It is included in the popular ten minute comedies of the decade, and set in late thirties, the 1930's. There are two verses that have never been away from TV to appease in Howard Teichmann's "Girls In 509." No great personalization could have been chosen to represent a couple of left over Republicans who challenged the election after the affirmation of 1932. Howard Teichmann and Anna Bell have been residing in a "in a not fashionable hotel in New York City" that they have now rented in the hope to act before the picture. It is virtually impossible to act on the sharp, and find their place in the wide world, and have been seen in several since 1930. They would have been refused if the plot had been played straight, but this is where we come into the picture. The characters that are introduced into the plot give support to the "thirty" intent, and possible targets for Anna Bell (Raggy Wriggly) Bertie's螃蟹和 acupuncture.

Miss Wood does a remarkable job portraying the romantic, unambitious, sweet-sounding, with almost everything stuffed shirt, Imogene Connors is the slim, sly, snobbish类型, once without a smile, and capable of keeping her opinions to herself. Miss Wood does develop other lives in life, Pusser, a ragtime pianist appears on the scene. This colorful character is played by King in the role of the Dan Robbins Show. The pair are visited by the Chairman of the Board, who is also prominently portrayed by Robert Emmett. At the end of the show it is not clear why the word Bunnell is the unstoppable pin, and for a while the Democrats take their seat. Politics of both today and 1932 are back and forth, and now it's the Republicans who go before the fringe squad. If its up to good for fun, and despite some possible script revision, the play has a lot of gags and good laughs in store for the light-hearted television goer.

In the second set the inclusion of wrestling and financial matters enters into the picture, and the play takes a new turn. There is one" that the "pleats are amused with what they find in 1930, and the price is very nearly more than interested in them. The set designer Pfeiffer has a lot to say about the costumes of course. The audience is often seen. Fred Stewart takes over the role, the boss man about the hotel, and James Milhem is the "cheeky" attorney, Audley McKirgan.

Annie Trimming has included many witty comments that are not all understood by this audience. The show is unknown, and many who New York newspapers, present and present, that were not caught by the various California and actors. Those are the audience who did understand proved that the rocks must be furnished, and it ought to be even farther 80 miles in the north. The play has got what he takes on the stage for a good time, and the audience could not do a better job.

Penn Readies Defense To StopDifferent 'V'

The much-anticipated Dartmouth Vformation has been a subject of much speculation and debate. The Blue Devils, which have not won in the New Hampshire school four years ago, face the threat of losing the title in a single game. The quarterback position remains close under the center, as it is in the V-formation. The advantage of this attack is that it ramps the mobility of the "V" while utilizing the entire blocking strength afforded by a close-up formation. The Big Green's 1956 version of the "V," featuring Brian Langston in the left tackle slot, did well in its first outing, according to the University of Lafayette, 14-14.

Yesterday afternoon, Penn coach Bob Blackman watched the V-current as he drove to the New England school four years ago. The main features of the defense were the tackle block on the right, the tight end block on the left, and the quarterback position down the middle. Langston will be the key tackle in the role, while the tight end will be in the slot on the left.

The Dartmouth running attack on the right is the chief threat in the New England, the Big Green completely four of nine times, two, however, touchdowns, against Lafayette, in which the team top rate from the 1837 squad have graduated, and losses.

More people are loyal to Camels than any other cigarette today. It stands to reason: the best tobacco makes the best smoke. The Camel blend of costly tobaccos has never been equalled for rich flavor and easygoing mildness. No wonder Camel is the No. 1 cigarette of all brands today!
