Ollie Beamon Sidelined
For Brown Encounter
Due To Knee Injury

Sebo Drills Pennsylvania Gridders
For High-Powered Bruin Offense

The 24th over River Field yesterday darkened not so much by the overcast weather, but more by the announcement that Ollie Beamon, Penn's stellar guard, will miss this Saturday's game because of his knee injury. Beamon is Pennsylvania's most 'injured' ball player and also one of the key men of the "Brown" defensive interior line that has lived up to his pre-season high rating.

Coach Sebo Sebo has already named Joe Hordubay, last year's second team All-ivy, to replace the lost Beamon. Hordubay is so far proving up to his expectations, and is playing there as his usual position of guard.

by Sylvia M. Edelberg

Robert B. Feldman has been elected president of the freshman class in an election held yesterday. Robert B. Fuchs was chosen as vice-president of the class. Robert K. Kelly was named as secretary and Benjamin Levine was elected treasurer.

Feldman is a resident of New York City and attended Taft High School. He is a member of the Wharton School and is a member of Phi Eta Kappa.

Fuchs is a member of the Wharton School and is a member of Sigma Chi.

Levine is a member of the Wharton School and a member of the Hillel Foundation.

As president of this class, Fuchs will serve as a liaison between the Undergraduate Council. He will be responsible for the freshmen's activities, such as the annual freshman dance, the freshman reunions, and the freshman sports.

Officers Elected Today

One of the most important events of the day was the election of the officers of the freshmen's class. The freshmen's class is responsible for the freshman class, and the freshmen's officers are chosen by the freshmen.

Also to be appointed are the officers of the sophomore class, which will serve as the faucet for the future year. The freshmen's class will choose the officers of the junior class, and the freshmen's officers will serve as the faucet for the future year.

The freshmen's class is divided into two parts, the freshmen and the sophomore class. The freshmen will choose the officers of the junior class, and the sophomores will choose the officers of the senior class.

Editorials

- "Triangulation"

Congratulations are in order for the editor and the staff of the Pennsylvania Triangle, which has just received three awards this year. Most notable of these awards was its selection as the best magazine of its type over some forty or more engineering magazines published at engineering schools throughout the country.

It is one thing to be classed as excellent on an individual campus for a particular student venture. It is even more remarkable to receive the same acclaim for work that is recognized as the "best" by others not associated with you. A bit of well deserved egom is can be expected from the Triangle's staff, for they have earned it.

- Something To Work With

Yesterday's elections for freshman class officers have given to the Class of 1962 the first of its leaders for the coming four years. The officers are now at work in their new positions, and I hope that they do as much as is necessary and possible to organize the class and get down to serious business.

We spoke earlier about the apparent apathy of the class as so far as football spirit was concerned. This apathy seemed also to exist in the elections, with barely one-third of the total eligible class voting yesterday. Although these results do not indicate a healthy situation, the approximately 250 freshmen who did participate indicate that the class has a group of interested men, interested at least enough to vote.

Now, today is the time for the newly-elected officers to begin their work. There is a lot that can be done, and can be accomplished. They, as the first-year students, take it upon itself to organize and lead the undergraduate body in social activities. It can develop itself through inter-freshman athletics and social activities, and it can promote an appreciative spirit in such things as the current Campus Chest Drive and the upcoming Navy poster contest.

Letters To The Editor

Dear MF Allen,

I haven't had a chance to send you your column in the daily Pennsylvania, "Get it in 100." I am sorry to inform you that you had written a very regrettable paragraph in that truth article. I quote you, "It is my opinion that the woman who donates the insignificant sit, and for a white the blacks raise a .level. The whole thing is a lie, and it's a lie."

I want to say that no woman donates the insignificant sit, and for a white the blacks raise a .level. This whole thing is a lie, and it's a lie.

Melvyn Stern

Dear MF Allen:

I don't know how much you'll believe of what I'm about to tell you, but I am writing to you in order to correct something that was written in your column.

Your statement that "the woman who donates the insignificant sit, and for a white the blacks raise a .level. This whole thing is a lie, and it's a lie." is absolutely incorrect.

It is true that there are some women who do donate their time and energy to social causes, but to generalize and make such a statement about all women is misleading.

Please consider this as a correction of your column.

Sincerely,

D. E. Stern

Dear MF Allen,

Thank you for your kind words. I agree wholeheartedly that personal political viewpoints should be left out of a review. However, if you read the article with an open mind, you will discover that it is filled with factual information and logical arguments, which I believe are based on your own views, or even some of the quotations that have been presented.

Please continue to bring us your thoughtful and informative columns.

Sincerely,

D. E. Stern

Frosh Tennis Matches End Today

In an effort to pick as good a freshman tennis team as possible for next spring's season, Coach Wallace Johnson has slated the first freshman tennis tournament. Yesterday afternoon the Law Tennis Courts Court of final matches brought perfect scores into the tournament. In the first match of the afternoon, a showdown between 3, 4, 6, 7, and 8, the latter was dropped and won. Both men display fine tennis, but 7, 6-4, 6-2, in overall and dual matches, undefeated. William Reynolds took his 6-2, 6-2. Today, at 4 p.m., Kent and Reynolds will vie for the championship of the class of '52. Each man won the first four matches, which lawyers supplemented to a 2-1. Both men display fine tennis, but Kent's net play is almost certain to put Penn's one-two punch in the spring tournament of men's events. Credit must be given to Benson and Schwartz. They played the best tennis in defeat. Coach Johnson will undoubtedly call on both players to represent the school in the 1952 matches.
