Dr. Hempel Speaks Tonight At Second Franklin Lecture On Sciences, Human Values' Philosophy Prof. To Correlate Subject With 'Social Control In A Free Society'

Dr. Carl G. Hempel, professor of philosophy, Princeton University, will be the second Benjamin Franklin Lecture tonight at the University Museum Auditorium at 8 p.m. Speaking on the topic "Science and Human Values," Dr. Hempel will be called for the theme with the entire Franklin Lecture Series: "Social Control in a Free Society".

Dr. Hempel taught at the University of Chicago and Yale University before going to Princeton, he is a student of the second World War, having served in Germany, Austria, and Belgium.

Five Lectures Recognizing this year after several years of suspension, the Franklin Lecture Series will present five different lecturers addressing the theme of "Social Control in a Free Society." Each of the lectures will be presented within two hours.

The first speaker was Dr. William H. Hastie, former presiding officer of the University. Dr. Hastie advised to use the law courts as our last resort as a society, to prevent against the building of the law courts as a price of society.

In his lecture, Dr. Hastie stressed the need for the law to work as a force to address the failure of the law to fulfill the needs of the community. He further stated the need for the law to address the needs of the community.

Alumni Giving Reaches $618,000 Last Year As 15,000 Contribute Largest Amount In University History Donated By Graduates Of All Schools By Paul R. Weisberg A recent report of the Alumni Annual Giving Committee has revealed that contributions during 1957-1958 total $618,000. With this amount, 15,000 alumni contributed.

Howard Butcher III, general chairman of the alumni giving campaign, said that this amount is a major contribution to the University. The campaign raised a total of $618,000 in the last fiscal year.

All Fraternities Host Students At Lunches by Michael D. Birrell The University's student fraternity and intercollegiate house, has invited 26 foreign students to its annual lunch on respective free-press private homes.

The lunches were arranged by the council in order to help familiarize foreign students into the University and to give them opportunities to learn more about Pennsylvania and the United States.

The lunches were hosted by the fraternities and the intercollegiate houses, which were responsible for the arrangements. The fraternities and their guests enjoyed a variety of foods and drinks, making the lunches a memorable event for all.

Penn Players Casts, Staffs Ready 'Shrew' A cast of 21 and a production staff of more than 30 are now engaged in preparing "The Taming of the Shrew," which will open on November 20 at the University Auditorium.

The production will be directed by Dr. Charles D. Stuart, associate professor of drama, and will feature performances by both professional and student actors.

The production is a part of the University's fall season and is expected to draw a large audience.

The production will be directed by Dr. Charles D. Stuart, associate professor of drama, and will feature performances by both professional and student actors.

The production is a part of the University's fall season and is expected to draw a large audience.

The production will be directed by Dr. Charles D. Stuart, associate professor of drama, and will feature performances by both professional and student actors.

The production is a part of the University's fall season and is expected to draw a large audience.
Editorial

Toward A Better Class

We extend the hand of welcome and friendship to those who wish to theo...
Coaches Drill Gridders To Stop Eli Halfback

By Harry Detisch

With "3-9-1" in 1958 the battle cry, Penn's football team continued its search for a suitable successor to the Ivy League's premier halfback of the season.

The fall camp routine is continuing the tradition of trying to find the right back for the 1959 season, a back who will be able to carry on the great tradition of Penn's halfbacks.

No. 6 KODL CROSSWORD

Across
1. Type of service offered 2. Alaska has one of these, but not on the coast 3. Type of advertisement that calls for bids 4. Type of room in a hotel 5. Type of air travel plan 6. Type of weather report 7. Type of comparison 8. Type of test

Down
1. Type of diet that limits food intake 2. Type of cake baked with fruit 3. Type of game 4. Type of advertisement that calls for bids 5. Type of room in a hotel 6. Type of air travel plan 7. Type of weather report 8. Type of test

What's the answer? (5, 7, 9, 11, 12, 13, 15)
NOTICES

THE PENNSYLVANIAN

BASKETBALL

The 1959 Basketball season will be the finest ever on the University of Pennsylvania campus, with game dates set for November 12, 13, 14, and 15. The schedule includes games against some of the top teams in the nation.

DAILY PENNSYLVANIAN

The Daily Pennsylvanian is the official newspaper of the University of Pennsylvania, named after the city of Philadelphia where the university is located. It serves as a platform for students to express their opinions and voices on various social and political issues.

GODFATHER CLUB

The Godfather Club is dedicated to the support of students who have experienced and are still responding to the challenges of growing up in a family with a member cut off by the Wall of Silence. The club focuses on providing a supportive environment for these students, where they can feel safe and respected.

HAA

The HAA (Harvard Alumni Association) is a group of alumni who have attended Harvard University. It serves as a community for former students to stay connected with one another and with the university, offering various events and programs.

NPO AFRICA

NPO Africa is an abbreviation for National Policy Organization, Africa. It is a political organization that aims to promote and support the interests of African people and nations across the continent.

OUR TV NEWS

Our TV News is a local news station that covers various events and activities taking place in the city. It provides up-to-date information and news for the community.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council is an organization representing the student body of the University of Pennsylvania. It serves as a liaison between the university administration and the student body, advocating for student needs and interests.

BASKETBALL

The 1959 Basketball season will be the finest ever on the University of Pennsylvania campus, with game dates set for November 12, 13, 14, and 15. The schedule includes games against some of the top teams in the nation.

DAILY PENNSYLVANIAN

The Daily Pennsylvanian is the official newspaper of the University of Pennsylvania, named after the city of Philadelphia where the university is located. It serves as a platform for students to express their opinions and voices on various social and political issues.

GODFATHER CLUB

The Godfather Club is dedicated to the support of students who have experienced and are still responding to the challenges of growing up in a family with a member cut off by the Wall of Silence. The club focuses on providing a supportive environment for these students, where they can feel safe and respected.

HAA

The HAA (Harvard Alumni Association) is a group of alumni who have attended Harvard University. It serves as a community for former students to stay connected with one another and with the university, offering various events and programs.

NPO AFRICA

NPO Africa is an abbreviation for National Policy Organization, Africa. It is a political organization that aims to promote and support the interests of African people and nations across the continent.

OUR TV NEWS

Our TV News is a local news station that covers various events and activities taking place in the city. It provides up-to-date information and news for the community.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council is an organization representing the student body of the University of Pennsylvania. It serves as a liaison between the university administration and the student body, advocating for student needs and interests.