Penn Players' Spring Musical Is 'Oklahoma' by Michael W. Zuckerman

With 127 songs and a direct choral and instrumental line of the show, the students of the play will perform for the benefit of the University-wide drive.

Students are urged to support the drive by contributing to the University-wide drive, which will benefit the Student's Hospital and the University Hospital.

The show will be performed at 8 p.m. each evening from April 17 to 19 in the Auditorium.
Letters

Editor, Daily Pennsylvanian.

I write to the Daily Pennsylvanian in an attempt to� seek the many students instructors, and suggestions from the students who are making the Pennsylvania Players' productions possible. This is especially true today in an atmosphere of extracurricular activities in which interest in the arts is prominent. The enthusiastic support of the students for the productions is apparent in the enthusiasm with which they are depicted in the "Bunting of the Shows" to the University. But what is needed, but unrecorded, is the appreciation of the students and the faculty. It is true that the students are the main reason for the theater being "a third major" to the University during the spring. Thus, it is necessary to recognize the many students interested in the theater. I am writing this letter to the Daily Pennsylvanian to inform the students of the need for this recognition.

JOHN R. GUTBETLI

The Daily Pennsylvania

The Beautifully Refinished Student Theatres

The beautifully refinished Student Theatres have opened its doors to a few thousand engagements of Piecy and Martin's "The Papal Bull". This new musical comedy is produced at the opening of today's engagement to fill the demand for tickets and even the songs and dances that have been created by the talented composers and lyricists. The beautiful production of "The Papal Bull" is the first in the series of musicals to be produced in the Student Theatres. It is a story of a young lady who, through her talent and dedication, is able to achieve success in the entertainment industry. The production is directed by John H. Moore, the artistic director of the Student Theatres, and starred by the talented comedienne, Miss Alice Fliessick. The success of "The Papal Bull" is a testament to the dedication and hard work of the entire cast and crew. It is a true pleasure to watch these talented individuals bring this musical to life.

Gardol and Grunch

One cold winter, long ago there was a great depression in the kind of debt. All of the dentists and all of the toothpaste makers were out of work. Of course, nothing human had a tooth. Actually, the main problem was that the world didn't want to be sick. This was a cause of great unhappiness for the world at large. It was well known by the world. It is necessary to note that experts call the phrase "The Toothpaste Sign". This phrase made Victor Summers rich. This is an example of how an answer can make a difference in the world. The phrase was coined when a newspaper editor asked a question about the state of the world. The answer was given by a dentist who was a member of the graduating class of the University. The dentist said: "For the last time, sir, I must say that my hands are full in U.S. law. The world was still rather young, but it has changed. It has grown longer and longer, and things have become a little more complex. In fact, I think we should all take a moment to consider the world as it is today."

Cardinal and the Little Man

I write to the Daily Pennsylvanian in an attempt to seek the many students instructors, and suggestions from the students who are making the Pennsylvania Players' productions possible. This is especially true today in an atmosphere of extracurricular activities in which interest in the arts is prominent. The enthusiastic support of the students for the productions is apparent in the enthusiasm with which they are depicted in the "Bunting of the Shows" to the University. But what is needed, but unrecorded, is the appreciation of the students and the faculty. It is true that the students are the main reason for the theater being "a third major" to the University during the spring. Thus, it is necessary to recognize the many students interested in the theater. I am writing this letter to the Daily Pennsylvanian to inform the students of the need for this recognition.

JOHN R. GUTBETLI

The Daily Pennsylvania

The Beautifully Refinished Student Theatres

The beautifully refinished Student Theatres have opened its doors to a few thousand engagements of Piecy and Martin's "The Papal Bull". This new musical comedy is produced at the opening of today's engagement to fill the demand for tickets and even the songs and dances that have been created by the talented composers and lyricists. The beautiful production of "The Papal Bull" is the first in the series of musicals to be produced in the Student Theatres. It is a story of a young lady who, through her talent and dedication, is able to achieve success in the entertainment industry. The production is directed by John H. Moore, the artistic director of the Student Theatres, and starred by the talented comedienne, Miss Alice Fliessick. The success of "The Papal Bull" is a testament to the dedication and hard work of the entire cast and crew. It is a true pleasure to watch these talented individuals bring this musical to life.

Gardol and Grunch

One cold winter, long ago there was a great depression in the kind of debt. All of the dentists and all of the toothpaste makers were out of work. Of course, nothing human had a tooth. Actually, the main problem was that the world didn't want to be sick. This was a cause of great unhappiness for the world at large. It was well known by the world. It is necessary to note that experts call the phrase "The Toothpaste Sign". This phrase made Victor Summers rich. This is an example of how an answer can make a difference in the world. The phrase was coined when a newspaper editor asked a question about the state of the world. The answer was given by a dentist who was a member of the graduating class of the University. The dentist said: "For the last time, sir, I must say that my hands are full in U.S. law. The world was still rather young, but it has changed. It has grown longer and longer, and things have become a little more complex. In fact, I think we should all take a moment to consider the world as it is today."

Cardinal and the Little Man

I write to the Daily Pennsylvanian in an attempt to seek the many students instructors, and suggestions from the students who are making the Pennsylvania Players' productions possible. This is especially true today in an atmosphere of extracurricular activities in which interest in the arts is prominent. The enthusiastic support of the students for the productions is apparent in the enthusiasm with which they are depicted in the "Bunting of the Shows" to the University. But what is needed, but unrecorded, is the appreciation of the students and the faculty. It is true that the students are the main reason for the theater being "a third major" to the University during the spring. Thus, it is necessary to recognize the many students interested in the theater. I am writing this letter to the Daily Pennsylvanian to inform the students of the need for this recognition.

JOHN R. GUTBETLI

The Daily Pennsylvania

The Beautifully Refinished Student Theatres

The beautifully refinished Student Theatres have opened its doors to a few thousand engagements of Piecy and Martin's "The Papal Bull". This new musical comedy is produced at the opening of today's engagement to fill the demand for tickets and even the songs and dances that have been created by the talented composers and lyricists. The beautiful production of "The Papal Bull" is the first in the series of musicals to be produced in the Student Theatres. It is a story of a young lady who, through her talent and dedication, is able to achieve success in the entertainment industry. The production is directed by John H. Moore, the artistic director of the Student Theatres, and starred by the talented comedienne, Miss Alice Fliessick. The success of "The Papal Bull" is a testament to the dedication and hard work of the entire cast and crew. It is a true pleasure to watch these talented individuals bring this musical to life.

Gardol and Grunch

One cold winter, long ago there was a great depression in the kind of debt. All of the dentists and all of the toothpaste makers were out of work. Of course, nothing human had a tooth. Actually, the main problem was that the world didn't want to be sick. This was a cause of great unhappiness for the world at large. It was well known by the world. It is necessary to note that experts call the phrase "The Toothpaste Sign". This phrase made Victor Summers rich. This is an example of how an answer can make a difference in the world. The phrase was coined when a newspaper editor asked a question about the state of the world. The answer was given by a dentist who was a member of the graduating class of the University. The dentist said: "For the last time, sir, I must say that my hands are full in U.S. law. The world was still rather young, but it has changed. It has grown longer and longer, and things have become a little more complex. In fact, I think we should all take a moment to consider the world as it is today."

Cardinal and the Little Man

I write to the Daily Pennsylvanian in an attempt to seek the many students instructors, and suggestions from the students who are making the Pennsylvania Players' productions possible. This is especially true today in an atmosphere of extracurricular activities in which interest in the arts is prominent. The enthusiastic support of the students for the productions is apparent in the enthusiasm with which they are depicted in the "Bunting of the Shows" to the University. But what is needed, but unrecorded, is the appreciation of the students and the faculty. It is true that the students are the main reason for the theater being "a third major" to the University during the spring. Thus, it is necessary to recognize the many students interested in the theater. I am writing this letter to the Daily Pennsylvanian to inform the students of the need for this recognition.
VARSITY SHOP IS RUNNING THEIR 34TH ANNIVERSARY SALE

Celebrate by Saving on . . . 101 Items on Sale

VARSITY SHOP NEVER A CHARGE FOR ALTERATIONS ON CLOTHES
UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA

An Evening of Folk Music with . . .

PETE SEEGER and Sonny Terry
EXCLUSIVE FOLKWAYS RECORDING ARTISTS
Saturday, November 22nd, at 8:30 p.m.
AT RECORD MART 37th and WALNUT STREETS
ALL SEATS RESERVED - $7 75 and $3 95

NEW DELUXE RESTAURANT
40TH AND IRVING STREETS
From the finest Continental restaurants in the world we've borrowed just that little touch of atmosphere that makes us the only cosmopolitan restaurant on the world.

Frosh Booters Close Season; Oppose Haverford JV Squad

The Quaker freshman booters closed their campaign today when they invade Haverford to plug the Favo's Junior varsity at 3:30 as an attempt to even up their recent at 12 wins and 3 losses.

The Boot and Haverford met between games to Prineston and Penn State at Giant Seats to a byte of 2:44 more fancy and were the winners.

Harvey Burg will again be in the for the Favo front, but the allowed for opponents to near 12 leaders and has now +hick to his credit.

VARSITY SHOP IS RUNNING THEIR 34TH ANNIVERSARY SALE

Celebrating by Saving on . . . 101 Items on Sale

VARSITY SHOP NEVER A CHARGE FOR ALTERATIONS ON CLOTHES
UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA

An Evening of Folk Music with . . .

PETE SEEGER and Sonny Terry
EXCLUSIVE FOLKWAYS RECORDING ARTISTS
Saturday, November 22nd, at 8:30 p.m.
AT RECORD MART 37th and WALNUT STREETS
ALL SEATS RESERVED - $7 75 and $3 95

NEW DELUXE RESTAURANT
40TH AND IRVING STREETS
From the finest Continental restaurants in the world we've borrowed just that little touch of atmosphere that makes us the only cosmopolitan restaurant on the world.

Frosh Booters Close Season; Oppose Haverford JV Squad

The Quaker freshman booters closed their campaign today when they invade Haverford to plug the Favo's Junior varsity at 3:30 as an attempt to even up their recent at 12 wins and 3 losses.

The Boot and Haverford met between games to Prineston and Penn State at Giant Seats to a byte of 2:44 more fancy and were the winners.

Harvey Burg will again be in the for the Favo front, but the allowed for opponents to near 12 leaders and has now +hick to his credit.
Circus Evicts Hockey Team

The 24 members of the hockey team that left town last week for practice sessions, were evicted by the Palace Southern Club which owned in Philadelphia. The squad will go through light drills at the Puckrora for the remainder of the season.

The skaters, confident of a successful season although hampered with their first "out-of-town" schedule, have scheduled exhibition games with Yale School and a Blue Line amateur hockey group. The skaters are formed from a nucleus of Villanova hockey players whom Penn trained last season.

Quaker coach Jack Cleveland will direct the first regular-season game on December 5 when Penn travels to Bluenose to face Cornell's entice. On the next afternoon the Red and Blue will face Calvary in nearby Hamilton.

The Quakers will get their first look at the club when Mr. James Le- kip, December 17. The Quakers will have been in the club two years and have failed to beat the Quakers in three matches.

Captain Dayt Parrett, Mickey Myers and Bob Billington, Outstanding in last year's play, will be key players for the starting line.

A watch is to tell time
but without hands... you miss the whole idea of a watch

A cigarette is to smoke
but without flavor—you miss the whole idea of smoking

When it comes to flavor
It's what's up front that counts

A watch is to tell time
but without hands... you miss the whole idea of a watch

A cigarette is to smoke
but without flavor— you miss the whole idea of smoking

When it comes to flavor
It's what's up front that counts

Up front in Winston is
FILTER-BLEND
That's why
WINSTON TASTES GOOD,
like a cigarette should!