To The Rally

Tonight's pep rally at 7 in the Big Quad will offer the undergraduates a chance to give the football team a big send-off toward second place in the Ivy League. The team has come far since its discouraging start, and deserves the encouragement of everyone.

The senior societies and the Varsity Club have given the rally all their support. We join in extending our support to the team and urge all to attend the rally tonight.

Promotion

The announcement of Dr. Vatter's appointment by the Fort Foundation was not unexpected, for we know that it was only a matter of time before his abilities would be recognized at a higher level than his current work.

While Dr. Vatter was at Pennsylvania, he worked hard and well for the student body and the University. He was always available to anyone who wished to discuss a problem, and offered his time devotedly to his work, both as an instructor and as dean of men.

His talent for dealing with people marked him as a man with an outstanding future, and the University will miss him. But we know that he will do well in his new position, and let us all of those who knew him and worked with him, extend our best wishes.

Time For Another

We happily noted with relief the recent assignment of extra police patrols to the University area. Yet, we wonder now that has happened recently to correct the urgency for such patrols.

One evening this week we observed several police motorcycles parked outside of the firehouse for four or five hours, and we have often looked in vain for the foot patrols who are assigned. Commissioned in Bonn, told us, to 24th Street every evening.

Apparently, many police don't consider the situation any serious now and have returned to the state of laxity. Darius Dau, still living in the hospital, will be glad to know that the suffering is being forgotten.

Phi Gam's touchdown pass at length.

With 5 minutes elapsed in the third quarter, Zurowski ran for Phi Gam's touchdown pass while covered by two Alabama defenders in the Delta end zone. A 13-yard pass to Zurowski by Leader to set up the score. Psi Gamma was unable to generate the rugged pass defense in the final period as the Bobcats completed only 2 out of 6 pass attempts. A 25-yard Rahman-Laurel pass to Zurowski was just short of payday for the Gaem's final field goal opportunity.

Dave Justh and Patricio were offensive stalwarts for the Phi Gam as they provided Rahman with excellent protection from their blocking backs throughout the game.

Phi Gamma's Delta's triumph, the most recent over Phi Dellet Delta, this week, was their fourth straight victory in IF double-elimination play. Their only loss was to Delta Tau Delta.
