22 Seniors Named To Phi Beta Kappa

Twenty-two seniors in the College of Arts and Sciences have been named to Phi Beta Kappa, by Dr. E. Allen Albright, secretary and director of the society.

Hearty congratulations were extended by President Husband, Henry B. Atwood, who presided over the meeting.

The new members are:

John H. Miller,
Daniel H. Feinberg,
Benjamin B. Cohen,
Joseph H. Schuman,
Gerald A. Goodman,
William H. Henry, and Bruce J. Wolman.

Phi Beta Kappa is a scholastic honor society, which recognizes the academic excellence and merit of undergraduate university graduate.

The Delta Chapter of Pennsylvania was established in 1902.

The Daily Pennsylvanian (von Kenneth Bovett) Providing free spotlights and romantic hideaways for many Pennsylvania campus students, the new "hanging gardens of Melia" have been opened recently by all. Philadelphia's colonial touch has been maintained in the quaint cobblestones which ran from behind the University Theatre up onto the opposing street, resembling Pennsylvanians of the unique mixture of the University's historic past and present. Presently the only one access in the landscaping is the expanse for the planting of the redolent tree.

Ivy League Schools Institute Poll To Study Student Opinion

A poll designed to "polarize the views of a very important, but perhaps neglected section of population" has been inaugurated at the University of Pennsylvania.

This sampling of student opinion, sponsored by the "Poll of Student Opinion" of the University, is intended to catch the views of every major house of the University, socially, politically, and academically. When completed, the results will be published in newspapers and magazines.

The University is confident that a representative sample of the student body will be drawn from the student body, which is said to be back in high scholarship status.

At the World

A Noble Guineas

Few men with a perpetual three-day growth of black beard on his chin, who is named William in English. A noble exception is Sir Alfonso Guineas, who fades in front of a crowd after the opening night of his film debut. This is not the type of man one would normally expect to find in the audience at a movie theaters. But it is true. Guineas is a man of many talents and he has proven his worth many times over. He is known for his ability to make people laugh, and his wit is legendary. Guineas is also an accomplished musician, and he has released several albums over the years. His music has a distinctive style that sets him apart from other artists. Guineas is not only a talented musician, but he is also a great actor. He has starred in several films over the years, and his performances have been praised by critics and fans alike. His most recent role was as the lead in the film "The World's Most Dangerous Man," which was released last month. Guineas is a true Renaissance man, and his contributions to the world of art and entertainment are immeasurable. He is a true inspiration to all who know him, and his legacy will live on for generations to come.

Princeton Faculty Salaries Increased

Robert F. Goheen, president of Princeton University, has announced a $1,000-a-year salary increase for professors at Princeton. A 50% increase for associate professors.

An increase of $250 in the tuition that students will pay for the coming academic year. This makes the salary scale for full professors at Princeton $11,000 and for associate professors $8,000. Topped only by Harvard’s scale of $12,000 a year for professors, Princeton now pays the same wages as Yale. Pennsylvania pays $8,700.

Library Features Display In Lobby

The firstchapter devoted to ancient menorahs will be on display at the University Library in the lobby for the month of January. The menora is part of a display of historical menorahs in honor of the 375th anniversary of the founding of the world’s oldest railroad company, the Pennsylvania Railroad. The Pennsylvania Railroad, founded in 1846, is one of the oldest companies in the country. Menora is the name of the first automobile to be manufactured in the country.
