THINKLISH

English: SLOW-WITTED BASEBALL PLAYER

Thinklish translation: The guys who patrol the fences on this man's team include a slugger (cloutfielder), a braggart (showfielder) and a sorehead (pouthead)—reading from left field to right. The clod in question—a louthead—rarely breaks into the line-up. He thinks RBI is the second line of an eye chart. But he's no doubleheader when it comes to smoking. He goes all out for the honest taste of fine tobacco... the unforgettable taste of a Lucky Strike!

HOW TO MAKE $25

Take a word—institution, for example. With it, you can make an aquarium (institution), a bowling alley (institution), a firework factory (institution) or a salon (institution). That's Thinklish—and it's that easy! We're paying $25 for the Thinklish words judged best—your check's itching to go! Send your words to Lucky Strike, Box 61A, Mt. Vernon, N.Y. Enclose your name, address, university and class.

The teams squared for position from that time on until Brown broke away again but missed the shot. Columbia's defense took charge and in the ensuing counter-attack Swiftly got the tying goal. Brown had three goals and finished two goals and three assists to Penn. The only other combination to score was Rocky Favretti and Johnny Bright who combined for Penn's fourth marker. Kyley and Forrest, with two goals apiece, led the Light Blue attack. The resigned Penn lineup had Favretti and Bright, usually wides,- men, playing defense, alternating with Tom Needler and Connie Mc-Curdy. The two lines which Cleveland employed consisted of Brown, John and Bill Jackson on one and Hank Orr, Gege Bailey and Rusty Rohr on the other.

Ed Flamer of Lehigh. Flamer, who captured the 137 crown in 1:07, defeated Bob Foster of Harvard, 6-0, to capture the trophy.

Ed Schmitz put in another good performance in defeat to be held to Norm Turner of the Nittany Lions in the opening round by a count of 6-4 in his 137 pound bout. Ed Schmitz. Quacker heavyweight, was eliminated by Dave Drahon, 196 Eastern winner.

This strategy employed by Coach Edelmann in switching Al Black from 119 to 130 and Larry Cook from 130 to 137 did not mate-rinize.

Black was downed by finalist Dan Johnson of the Nittany Lion, while Cook was joined by 132 Eastern champ Dick Santoro of Lehigh.
