Penn State's Admissions Office

Most Admissions Officers are now accepting applications from students who plan to enter the fall of 1977. Applications can be obtained from the Admissions Office or from the high school from which the student will graduate.

The deadline for fall admissions is April 1, and the deadline for spring admissions is January 1.

For more information, contact the Admissions Office at 814-865-3555.
DP Replies

Editor's Note: Below is a reply to a recent letter to the editor, "Florine Did It First," which was published in The Daily Pennsylvanian.

The ancient city of Florence, in Italy, did it, too. Stories of the Florentine legend are too many to mention; a few monographic statements, innuendos, and intriguing bits of folklore about its appeal for assignments in our school's curriculum. Why should these stories be taken away, the private colleges and universit

Editorial

Editor, The Daily Pennsylvanian:

The news that The Pennsylvania Association of Colleges and Universities has voted to oppose legislation banning discrimination in college admissions is in its own way a sign of a change in the political climate of our nation. It is a change that was long overdue.

The Association claims that the reason for their action was not their belief in discrimination; they say that it was motivated by a desire to maintain the excellence of our educational system. We are pleased with this action, although some may view it as a setback for civil rights and civil liberties. The Association's decision is a step forward in the fight against discrimination.

Let us be grateful to the Association for this decision. It is a step forward in the fight against discrimination, and it is a step forward in the fight for social justice. We hope that this decision will be followed by similar actions by other organizations.

Cynthia Gooding

Editor, The Daily Pennsylvanian

Report on RED CHINA TODAY

by Robert F. Jenefsky

One of the greatest impediments to our quest for better understanding of China has been our lack of access to information. American journalists and writers are not allowed to report on China, either by the Chinese government or by the United States Department of State, which has a policy of keeping China from the world. And so, our quest for enlightenment has been furthered by Dr. Lewis C. Walthall, a member of the East Asian Studies department at the University of Toronto.

Dr. Walthall has been a pioneer in the study of China and has written extensively on the subject. His most recent book, "China Today," is a comprehensive analysis of the country's current political, economic, and social situation.

Dr. Walthall's findings:

1. The Chinese are a homogeneous, closely-knit people with a high intellectual potential and great untapped natural resources. They are a people of a high degree of national pride, and it is easy to understand why they have been so successful in their struggle for independence.

2. The Chinese have a strong sense of family, and this is a characteristic that has helped them to maintain their national identity in the face of foreign oppression.

3. The Chinese have a rich cultural heritage, and this is reflected in their art, literature, and music. They are a people who take pride in their traditions and are proud to share them with the world.

Dr. Walthall's Findings:

Dr. Walthall's findings in China, Dr. Walthall addressed an audience in the Student Union on October 11, as part of a series of lectures sponsored by the Central City Ticket Office, which was assembled by Walthall and a group of other academics, including Dr. Robert F. Jenefsky, Professor of Chinese at Penn, and the event was attended by a large audience.

Walthall began his talk with this comment that "the first thing we must realize about China today is that she is a country with a long history of unfair treatment and unequal treatment forced upon China by other nations.

The Chinese are a homogeneous, closely-knit people with a high intellectual potential and great untapped natural resources. They are a people of a high degree of national pride, and it is easy to understand why they have been so successful in their struggle for independence.

The Chinese have a strong sense of family, and this is a characteristic that has helped them to maintain their national identity in the face of foreign oppression.

The Chinese have a rich cultural heritage, and this is reflected in their art, literature, and music. They are a people who take pride in their traditions and are proud to share them with the world.

Dr. Walthall's Findings:

Dr. Walthall's findings in China, Dr. Walthall addressed an audience in the Student Union on October 11, as part of a series of lectures sponsored by the Central City Ticket Office, which was assembled by Walthall and a group of other academics, including Dr. Robert F. Jenefsky, Professor of Chinese at Penn, and the event was attended by a large audience.

Walthall began his talk with this comment that "the first thing we must realize about China today is that she is a country with a long history of unfair treatment and unequal treatment forced upon China by other nations.

The Chinese are a homogeneous, closely-knit people with a high intellectual potential and great untapped natural resources. They are a people of a high degree of national pride, and it is easy to understand why they have been so successful in their struggle for independence.

The Chinese have a strong sense of family, and this is a characteristic that has helped them to maintain their national identity in the face of foreign oppression.

The Chinese have a rich cultural heritage, and this is reflected in their art, literature, and music. They are a people who take pride in their traditions and are proud to share them with the world.

Dr. Walthall's Findings:

Dr. Walthall's findings in China, Dr. Walthall addressed an audience in the Student Union on October 11, as part of a series of lectures sponsored by the Central City Ticket Office, which was assembled by Walthall and a group of other academics, including Dr. Robert F. Jenefsky, Professor of Chinese at Penn, and the event was attended by a large audience.

Walthall began his talk with this comment that "the first thing we must realize about China today is that she is a country with a long history of unfair treatment and unequal treatment forced upon China by other nations.

The Chinese are a homogeneous, closely-knit people with a high intellectual potential and great untapped natural resources. They are a people of a high degree of national pride, and it is easy to understand why they have been so successful in their struggle for independence.

The Chinese have a strong sense of family, and this is a characteristic that has helped them to maintain their national identity in the face of foreign oppression.

The Chinese have a rich cultural heritage, and this is reflected in their art, literature, and music. They are a people who take pride in their traditions and are proud to share them with the world.
All Scholarships Used

by Howard Barmatder

"The old tale about unused scholarships lying around is a myth," said Douglas R. Dickson, director of Student Aid, adding that this year every scholarship and guaranteed job opportunity offered by the University was filled.

The only funds not entirely appropriated at the beginning of the year was a $10,000 appropriation from the government for student vans which was granted just before the beginning of the school year.

Even part of this was not previously loaned by the University in anticipation of receiving the appropriation.

The myth of unused scholarships, said Dickson, probably refers to those scholarships offered by industry, city and church groups which are not filled because of the lack of candidates who meet the sometimes highly exclusive requirements.

"We are always advised to consult one of the numerous scholarship directories which have complete lists of outside scholarships.

The picture on the graduate school level is no sunnier for those interested in a financial aid.

Last year the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences offered 150 scholarships and fellowships and was beseeched with over 1,000 applications.

However, according to Dr. Eugene R. Nixon, vice dean of the Graduate School, they had not been disappointed in Harvey would ever have said a thing like that," commented Lottman.

"It would have been proper for them to say that a lie was involved, they just said they didn’t think he would have said it.”

Lottman went on to force fraternities and collect his ticket for the Navy game.

Lottman then quickly sauntered off with pencil poised to tout the chicken of his analysis in the traditional Pennsylvania-Navy football encounters.

Thus we must await the appearance of Lottman’s analysis in the columns of the student press before we get any breath.

"I would certainly like to see better communications between the College and their faculty advisors," said Dr. Nixon.

"Fellowships Available

Woodrow Wilson Fellowships, carrying a $100 stipend and including tuition and a dependency allowance are available for four-year graduate study at any university in North America.

Candidates for the award must be nominated by a faculty member, and ought to contact faculty members to secure their nominations.

Closing date for nomination in October 11. Students may also contact Dr. Eugene R. Nixon, vice dean of the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, in 103 Bennett Hall.

Closedliped Contab

(Continued from page one)

...the freshness was little bats...and they write on the sidewalks, and they chew at football games..."

"Several of the men I talked to said that Lottman must have made a mistake. In their mind Lottman would ever have said a thing like that," commented Lottman.

"It would have been proper for them to say that a lie was involved, they just said they didn’t think he would have said it.”

Lottman went on to force fraternities and collect his ticket for the Navy game.

Lottman then quickly sauntered off with pencil poised to tout the chicken of his analysis in the traditional Pennsylvania-Navy football encounters.

Thus we must await the appearance of Lottman’s analysis in the columns of the student press before we get any breath.

"I would certainly like to see better communications between the College and their faculty advisors," said Dr. Nixon.

"Fellowships Available

Woodrow Wilson Fellowships, carrying a $100 stipend and including tuition and a dependency allowance are available for four-year graduate study at any university in North America.

Candidates for the award must be nominated by a faculty member, and ought to contact faculty members to secure their nominations.

Closing date for nomination in October 11. Students may also contact Dr. Eugene R. Nixon, vice dean of the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, in 103 Bennett Hall.

Closedliped Contab

(Continued from page one)

...the freshness was little bats...and they write on the sidewalks, and they chew at football games..."

"Several of the men I talked to said that Lottman must have made a mistake. In their mind Lottman would ever have said a thing like that," commented Lottman.

"It would have been proper for them to say that a lie was involved, they just said they didn’t think he would have said it.”

Lottman went on to force fraternities and collect his ticket for the Navy game.

Lottman then quickly sauntered off with pencil poised to tout the chicken of his analysis in the traditional Pennsylvania-Navy football encounters.

Thus we must await the appearance of Lottman’s analysis in the columns of the student press before we get any breath.

"I would certainly like to see better communications between the College and their faculty advisors," said Dr. Nixon.

"Fellowships Available

Woodrow Wilson Fellowships, carrying a $100 stipend and including tuition and a dependency allowance are available for four-year graduate study at any university in North America.

Candidates for the award must be nominated by a faculty member, and ought to contact faculty members to secure their nominations.

Closing date for nomination in October 11. Students may also contact Dr. Eugene R. Nixon, vice dean of the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, in 103 Bennett Hall.

Closedliped Contab

(Continued from page one)

...the freshness was little bats...and they write on the sidewalks, and they chew at football games..."

"Several of the men I talked to said that Lottman must have made a mistake. In their mind Lottman would ever have said a thing like that," commented Lottman.

"It would have been proper for them to say that a lie was involved, they just said they didn’t think he would have said it.”

Lottman went on to force fraternities and collect his ticket for the Navy game.

Lottman then quickly sauntered off with pencil poised to tout the chicken of his analysis in the traditional Pennsylvania-Navy football encounters.

Thus we must await the appearance of Lottman’s analysis in the columns of the student press before we get any breath.

"I would certainly like to see better communications between the College and their faculty advisors," said Dr. Nixon.
Shaw Boots Final Tally 24 Yards; Koval, Seksinsky Voted Honors

(Continued from page one)

first half came after the Red and Blue recovered their own punt on the Navy 17. Six plays later Debelli went off right tackle for two yards and Penn's third score. Prostrated in their attempts for two point conversions, the Quakers went to the top of the polls for point number 19 and a 19-6 halftime lead.

Maxfield Takes Helm

With Transitillo sidelined nursing a second-quarter injury, the field duplicated his 1960 role in taking over the helm of the Navy attack, and with Dick Parrott running and reviving, the Midshipmen looked like their predecessors who had played on Franklin Field. However, it was not until early in the fourth period that Maxfield turned up with Carell on a 22-yard return that helped through from the two yard line.

The fumbles and interceptions that played an important part in the day's action came into focus as Brandpoint intercepted a pass and fumbled on the first play from scrimmage on the Navy 42. On a fourth and four with one second and six seconds remaining Shaw booted the tying three points on a 24-yard field goal.

Convinced the point after touchdown options which could have turned the tide for either Penn. Penn Coach Steveilio said that the silly rules concerning the decidion of whether to go for one or two points are responsible for the loss, especially with his team leading, Penn again showed a lack of confidence in the last two minutes, and lost the chance of not only a tie but a win.

The Quakers were held scoreless in the second half.

The end of the game was marked by a fumble by Cubb应注意核对后使用...
Red China Today

(Rolled from page two)

Red China Today

There is a new stability in the communist world, and it is borne out of the era of the National-International. This is the era in which Russia, China, and the factions of the Communist bloc have been striving to strengthen the ties of Russia, China, and the factions of the Communist bloc have been striving to strengthen the ties of the international. This is the era in which Russia, China, and the factions of the Communist bloc have been striving to strengthen the ties of
the international. This is the era in which Russia, China, and the factions of the Communist bloc have been striving to strengthen the ties of
the international. This is the era in which Russia, China, and the factions of the Communist bloc have been striving to strengthen the ties of
the international. This is the era in which Russia, China, and the factions of the Communist bloc have been striving to strengthen the ties of
the international. This is the era in which Russia, China, and the factions of the Communist bloc have been striving to strengthen the ties of
the international. This is the era in which Russia, China, and the factions of the Communist bloc have been striving to strengthen the ties of
the international. This is the era in which Russia, China, and the factions of the Communist bloc have been striving to strengthen the ties of
the international. This is the era in which Russia, China, and the factions of the Communist bloc have been striving to strengthen the ties of
the international. This is the era in which Russia, China, and the factions of the Communist bloc have been striving to strengthen the ties of
the international. This is the era in which Russia, China, and the factions of the Communist bloc have been striving to strengthen the ties of
the international. This is the era in which Russia, China, and the factions of the Communist bloc have been striving to strengthen the ties of
the international. This is the era in which Russia, China, and the factions of the Communist bloc have been striving to strengthen the ties of
the international. This is the era in which Russia, China, and the factions of the Communist bloc have been striving to strengthen the ties of
the international. This is the era in which Russia, China, and the factions of the Communist bloc have been striving to strengthen the ties of
the international. This is the era in which Russia, China, and the factions of the Communist bloc have been striving to strengthen the ties of
the international. This is the era in which Russia, China, and the factions of the Communist bloc have been striving to strengthen the ties of
the international. This is the era in which Russia, China, and the factions of the Communist bloc have been striving to strengthen the ties of
the international. This is the era in which Russia, China, and the factions of the Communist bloc have been striving to strengthen the ties of
the international. This is the era in which Russia, China, and the factions of the Communist bloc have been striving to strengthen the ties of
the international. This is the era in which Russia, China, and the factions of the Communist bloc have been striving to strengthen the ties of
the international. This is the era in which Russia, China, and the factions of the Communist bloc have been striving to strengthen the ties of
the international. This is the era in which Russia, China, and the factions of the Communist bloc have been striving to strengthen the ties of
the international. This is the era in which Russia, China, and the factions of the Communist bloc have been striving to strengthen the ties of
the international. This is the era in which Russia, China, and the factions of the Communist bloc have been striving to strengthen the ties of
the international. This is the era in which Russia, China, and the factions of the Communist bloc have been striving to strengthen the ties of
the international. This is the era in which Russia, China, and the factions of the Communist bloc have been striving to strengthen the ties of
the international. This is the era in which Russia, China, and the factions of the Communist bloc have been striving to strengthen the ties of
the international. This is the era in which Russia, China, and the factions of the Communist bloc have been striving to strengthen the ties of
the international. This is the era in which Russia, China, and the factions of the Communist bloc have been striving to strengthen the ties of
the international. This is the era in which Russia, China, and the factions of the Communist bloc have been striving to strengthen the ties of
the international. This is the era in which Russia, China, and the factions of the Communist bloc have been striving to strengthen the ties of
the international. This is the era in which Russia, China, and the factions of the Communist bloc have been striving to strengthen the ties of
the international. This is the era in which Russia, China, and the factions of the Communist bloc have been striving to strengthen the ties of
the international. This is the era in which Russia, China, and the factions of the Communist bloc have been striving to strengthen the ties of
the international. This is the era in which Russia, China, and the factions of the Communist bloc have been striving to strengthen the ties of
the international. This is the era in which Russia, China, and the factions of the Communist bloc have been striving to strengthen the ties of
the international. This is the era in which Russia, China, and the factions of the Communist bloc have been strives
The Early Show

Well known as a dynamic and perceptive broadcaster, Dr. Leach has an international reputation as a bold, progressive musician. Combining his consummate skill as a story-teller with his keen analysis of all forms of communication, he will be entertaining and stimulating a survey on a broad, aesthetic level.

To date, over one hundred auditions have been received by the College of General Studies, the sponsoring school at the University. This tally total from an area stretching from New York to central Maryland is purely exploratory and limited advertising campaign. Blancheatt believes that the conditioning will be much higher next semester after the public has had more exposure to the project. In addition, many of the technical problems will have been worked out by the student staff at WCUA has been exceptionally co-operative," Blanchard exclaimed. "Just a month or so the show, has down a lot to get TV listening off a favorable start."

Command from the teachers themselves has been nixed, Dr. Leach objects to the "straight-jacket effect" of the closely figured program schedule. He also misses the usual student-to-student direct contact and immediate audience reaction to the lecture. Although neither teacher will miss many of his students before the next formal examination, an exchange of correspondence will be set up as the students submit papers and open-book exams taken at home.

Looking into the future possibilities of TV instruction at the University, Blanchard opined that closed circuit TV would eliminate the overcrowded lecture hall where hundreds of students cannot often see well from their seats at the back of the room. "It would also allow the instructor to display illustrations or samples which could be clearly seen on a TV screen.

This advantage can be least exemplified by the tele vision of operations performed in the Medical and Dental Schools. The extent to which TV will be em ployed at the University depends in large part upon the success of "TV Seminar."

NOTICES

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE ORGANIZATION—

Church and employees are invited to attend regular Sunday evening meetings at 5:30 in the Chapel.

DANCING LESSONS—Shimmy Union board is sponsoring good hardwood dancing lessons in an instruction by Walter Krensen. Registration will take place at 6:45. 10 at 8:45 on Monday, and Wednesday and Friday. First night Tuesday.

EARTH SCIENCES—There will be a meeting of the Pan-American Club in the Thursday evening at 8:30 in the new Rotunda.

FREE—General candidates are adverse to the Public Relations, Mrs. John Stirling, directing.

MILLS—Tomorrow's lecture will be given by the President of the University, Dr. C. R. Holder at 4 p.m.

INTERNATIONAL COUNCIL—There will be no meeting tonight, but instead Nov. 4 at 2:30 p.m.

ROCKETS—All players must be on front row by 7:30 on Monday, November 7, at 8:00 p.m.

THEATER COUNCIL—There will be a meeting today at 8:00 p.m. in the lecture hall.

TICKET—There will be a meeting today at 1:00 p.m. in the lecture hall.

MICHELLE HALL—Mrs. William, president of Junior, will be the new McCollum Hall at 7:30.

MANAGEMENT—The Society for Graduates without a Society will be on the floor at 5:00 p.m.

NEWMAN CLUB—There will be a meeting at the Metropolitan Club at 5:30 p.m.

PI ALPHA CHI—There will be a meeting at 8:00 p.m. in 314 Towne Building.

RECORD—There will be an important meeting of all students and staff at the lecture hall at 4:15.

YOUNG REPUBLICANS—Council Chairwoman Josephine Trieze has announced the appearance of Congressman Smith and Representative Wills at the lecture hall at 4:15.

WXPN PROGRAMS

7:30 A.M.—8:35 FM
6:30—Curtis Matin, Classical music.
5:35—Movie Hall. Dinner arrangement.
5:10—Music Hall. Dinner arrangement.
7:15 p.m.—"London Calling." Current Life in Great Britain.
7:30 p.m.—"The Fortune of Mr. Drake," Featuring Europe.
9:00 p.m.—News Roundup.
9:10 p.m.—"31 One Night Today Live from New York.
9:15 p.m.—"The Jazz Sound." 10:30 p.m. on AM Only—The Late Show. Pop music.
10:00 p.m. on FM Only—Jazzband on Whirlwind.
12:40 a.m. on AM Only—Music, classics till 2 a.m.

Facts about your Future

Public Service Electric and Gas Company is a rapidly growing company and has many new opportunities for interested young people. This company is a dynamic industry.

Send For This Today!

Write now for your copy of the new brochure, "Training Courses for College Graduates." It can be an outline of your future. Write Public Service, 70 Park Place, Room 2152A, Newark, New Jersey, for your free copy.

PUBLIC SERVICE ELECTRIC AND GAS COMPANY

NEWARK, NEW JERSEY

PUBLIC SERVICE ELECTRIC AND GAS COMPANY

NEWARK, NEW JERSEY