Arons Attacks Procedure In ZBT Social Probation; Possible New Hearing

MG President Steve Arons has protested the probation on which the Zeta Beta Tau fraternity has been placed, charging that the University Committee on Discipline was unfairly constituted. Arons said he thought ZBT had a basis for appeal because three undergraduate members of the committee whom he had appointed had not yet been seated. Gene D. Gibson, Vice President for Student Affairs, and Robert F. Longley, Dean of Men, disagreed with Arons statement. They said the students were not seated because their appointment had not yet received necessary approval from President Harmswell, who is out of town until October 6. To be consistent, new faculty members were also not present.

ZBT De'Z T Nonsatisfied

Mr. Gibson said that he was merely following university policy in not seating the students. "He stated that it would have been improper and unsatisfactory to have bypassed President Harmswell's approval in this case. The nominees for the committee were Bob Wolfe, Rick Spiegel and Paul Bloom.

Several members of ZBT, the fraternity which was placed on probation, had received an unjust hearing, according to Arons. The fraternity which was placed on probation was Zeta Beta Tau. A request for a reversal of the decision or a plea for a new hearing was made. The fraternity's last chance, according to Arons, lies with the latter proposal.

Arons had sent the names of the nominees for the disciplinary committee to Gibson two weeks ago. They were then immediately sent to the Secretary's office and to Mr. Harmswell for approval, but remained unsigned because of his absence. Gibson commented that the administration had been asking Arons to send in the nominees for quite some time.

WSGA Senate Defeats Co-Ed Govt. Proposal

The new proposal differs from that of ZBT, appealed to Gibson to

SGA Senate last Wednesday defeated a resolution last spring to form a co-ed government.

In its place, WSGA has proposed a system whereby the two governments would remain separate, with the addition of a formalized structure to "ensure cooperation" between the MSU and WSGA.

There will be an open meeting for all undergraduate women to discuss the new proposal and the co-ed government in general on Thursday, October 4, at 8:30 p.m. in Bennett Lounge. A general referendum will be held no later than two weeks after the open meeting.

The new resolution set up an Executive Board consisting of the President, first and second Vice Presidents of WSGA, the President of MSU and two other popularly elected members of MSU to be appointed by the President. Any item to be discussed and voted on by the Joint Assembly would have to be passed by a two-thirds vote of the Executive Committee. An item not passed by the Council would not be discussed at the joint meeting, but voted on separately by the individual governments. The Executive Committee must meet at least once a month, while joint meetings could be held as often as desired.

The new proposal differs from that of ZBT in that it is setting up a permanent structure, one which would be part of the constitutions of both governments. This includes the formation of a Joint Assembly, consisting of all voting members of both governments, and action taken by the Joint Assembly, to be held with joint voting, binding on both bodies.

Re'Fo Reverted Proposal

The reversed proposal was passed at the final meeting of the spring semester, called for joint meetings of the WSGA Senate and the MSG legislature to be held at least once a month during the fall semester. Mary Gabrielle, President of WSGA, stated that she believes separate structures should be preserved "so that women can initiate and carry on programs which would be of interest only to them and so that we may have women in high leadership positions." She added that she favors the new proposal only after the formation of a complete co-ed government because, "What we are trying to achieve is cooperation."

In its second presentation of the year, Connaissance will present a film entitled "Election Day Illusions: The Beat Majority" tonight at 8:15 in the Houston Hall Auditorium.

Rusk's statement was issued by the State Department following a broadcast reports that the Chinese Reds, known to have been working on an atomic weapon, could set off their I.

In Defense Of Honor

In reply to Mr. Robert Carter's letter of Friday, September 55, regarding the honor system, Mr. Carter's condemnation of the honor system as so much as an "I shall not" to conform to what some other 'name' schools are doing is unjustified and uninformed. The report of the Committee plainly states the motives for establishing an experimental honor system; but more important, the individual who is a part of the Committee could not, in view of their personal standards, have the motives attributed to them by Mr. Carter. Either Mr. Carter cannot understand the English language, or he is insensitive to the standards of the Committee members with regard to motives. If Mr. Carter is not informed, he has no right to criticize.

Of the Electoral College

In an attempt "to conform to what other 'name' schools are doing," Mr. Carter could not, in view of their personal standards, have the motives attributed to them by Mr. Carter. Either Mr. Carter cannot understand the English language, or he is insensitive to the standards of the Committee members with regard to motives. If Mr. Carter is not informed, he has no right to criticize.

We, as students, will determine whether honor and fraud will be chosen over discipline and trust. If one condemns the system as one of mistrust, he must condemn his fellows and himself in the same breath.

To the claim that the honor code is a signed pledge which will not teach honor, I agree, but find it a narrow definition of the system. The larger view is that the system embodies asking each student to make his own moral decisions rather than have someone else make them for him.

School For The Bill Of Rights

In addressing the final session of the graduate school of Education and Law school’s Conference on the Bill of Rights, Associate Supreme Court Justice William J. Brennan spoke last night of a problem which has received not nearly the attention it deserves. America’s lack of appreciation for basic human rights of the citizens of a free society poses a basic challenge to the democratic progress in our country.

In a nation in which a large proportion of high school graduates come, according to Justice Brennan, to readily accept the violation of the right to freedom, from illegal search and seizure on the grounds of expediency there is a clearly demonstrated need for improved civic education. When the Attorney General of the United States proposes to infringe on a citizen’s right to a private phone conversation, when members of the U.S. Congress dare not support the Supreme Court’s defense of freedom of religion in the school prayer decision, the need for such education is more obvious.

Justice Brennan’s call for an institute dedicated to improved education in the nation’s primary and secondary schools concerning the Bill of Rights must be heeded. All that the ideas needs for a realization, the Justice suggested is a “catalyst.”

We concur with the suggestion Brennan made after his speech, that the University of Pennsylvania, which has two fine schools in education and law, start in this direction.

Our Phillies

No question about it, the Phillies are a team on the move. As a matter of fact, it is nearly impossible for a team to lose ten in a row without being a miserable club. They started this year with a victory because he had promised to the Chilean election in which he was last in Harrisburg, we would jump off it. "Stick with a winner" would be to abandon the team they warmly embraced that three years ago the Phillies were a league in July and they stayed the re two month--.

They still have a crack at the pennant, and should they win it, we wonder whether the fans that booed them so lustily will turn out at the airport to welcome "their boys" back.

The Court decision provided the learned justices gave us the fatty part.

Harrisburg observers are noting the retirement of veteran Commonwealth politician W. Harvey Taylor with mixed feelings. Taylor, 67, perennial President Pro Temp of the State Senate, was defeated for renomination in the April 28 primary by 47-year-old Millersburg attorney W. B. Lewis and has announced that his political role will henceforth be played from the wings.

We remember that when we were last in Harrisburg, we asked a native where we could find the Senator for an interview. "Try the State Museum at 3rd and P." he replied. "That’s where they keep the old relics."

Senator Taylor also has the distinction of having had a bridge named after him in his lifetime. Some Harrisburgers believe this action was taken in the hope he would jump off it.

Commenting further about the difficulties of racial adjustments, Moore stated that "we want Negroes and whites to know each other as individuals. I think the average white can overcome his ingrained, unfounded prejudices if he tries hard enough. The Negro is probably more willing to accept the white as a partner than the white is to accept the Negro." Moore reaffirmed his position as leader of the Pennsylvania Negro masses and asserted that he has looked for the people, "We have no problem with the Black Muslims in Philadelphia. In fact, Philadelphia is the only city in which membership in the Black Muslims and Nationalists has declined." The NAACP president criticized Mayor Tate's "war or peace" as "a big salary giveaway." Blanchard Hall Razed for Public Library

Blanchard Hall, one of the University’s best-known structures and a beloved home of arts and sciences students, will be razed to make way for a new public library. Blanchard Hall was located at 3446 Walnut St. Its origins can be traced back to the late 19th century, and it was once the home of Hamlin Hall, the University’s first residence hall. The building was named in memory of Harriet Blanchard, who died in 1868, and her name is inscribed on the stone above the entrance. Blanchard Hall occupied a significant role in the University’s history, serving as a classroom and residence hall for many years. It was dismantled in stages, with the final demolition completed in 1964.

Text Of New WSGA Resolution

In the last meeting of the outgoing council, the WSGA Senate passed a proposal which called for joint meetings of the WSGA Senate and MSG legislature to be held during the fall semester at least once a month. At these meetings, any votes taken would have to be taken separately, for there has been no constitutional change permitting the governments to operate separately. There has been no similar legislation in their first months of operation.

In their meeting this week, WSGA took a further step and passed the following proposal—voters both of MSG and WSGA have expressed a desire for a formal structure to insure cooperation. Where such a structure would help to achieve common goals.

Whereas the preservation of the separate structures of WSGA and MSG still holds many advantages for both men and women, and whereas the following is an effort to increase cooperation and coordination between the two governments on this campus.

Sec. 1. There shall be an Executive Board which shall consist of the President, First and Second Vice-presidents of WSGA, the President of MSG, and two other popularly elected members of MSG to be appointed by their respective Presidents.

A. Duties. The executive board shall set up an agenda for joint meetings of the WSGA Senate and MSG legislature (to be referred to hereinafter as the Joint Assembly). Members shall elect officers to be responsible for the agenda by a two-thirds vote of the membership present. They shall be discharged such business as the association in its collective wisdom assembles to attend the Joint Assembly.

B. Meetings—The Executive Board shall meet at least once a month and place as decided by the two presidents of WSGA and MSG, calling such meetings to be held at the University at the request of either president. The meeting shall be held alternately at the offices of WSGA and MSG.

Goldwater Charges "SOFT ON COMMUNISM'

Cincinnati, Ohio - GOP presidential nominee Barry Goldwater fired "soft on communism" charges Tuesday night at President Johnson at the end of a day of whistlestop campaigning across southern Ohio.

In a caustic indictment of the President, the President's running mate and the Democratic administration, Goldwater called, in a speech prepared for a party rally Friday, reality preventing such were the policies of "drift, deception and defeat." "I charge that this administration is soft on communism, and you know it," he said.

"I charge that this administration has a foreign policy of drift, deception and defeat. These are the watchwords of my opponent and his curious crew."

Population is growing, Goldwater said that, because of decisions of the U.S. Supreme Court and "the leniency of the lower courts," it is safer in this country to be a criminal than to be a law-abiding citizen."

Four University professors have indicated that they definitely favor President Johnson in the coming election, and you know it," he said.

This represented a shift by Goldwater in his time of attack on Johnson and Democratic vice-presidential nominee Hubert H. Humphrey.

Declaring that crime is increasing at a rate greater than the population, Goldwater said that because of decisions of the U.S. Supreme Court and "the leniency of the lower courts," it is safer in this country to be a criminal than to be a law-abiding citizen."

PROGRESS IN G.M. STRIKE

DETROIT - Confused minor progress was reported Tuesday by General Motors spokesman, and the United Auto Workers Union in negotiations to end a nationwide strike that has halted production of GM's 1965 car models.

Both sides agree, however, the major stumbling block to getting negotiations to end a nationwide strike that has halted production of GM's 1965 car models.

Gridders Romp In Mud

By BARRY FELL

With the Ivy League opener only four days away, Quaker gridironists and fans alike are tuning their attention south, to Providence and the grizzly Bruins of Brown, in addition to being the Ivy opener for both the standing quarterbacks and two fine ends. The quarterbacks are Jim Hixson and Bob Such, with All-American Bob Stall as a sophomore. Hixson, Ball completed 50 per cent of his passes before being sidelined with a broken leg in the fifth game of the season. Hixson is a two year veteran, and particularly dangerous on a roll-out option to either side. Their two top receivers are John Parry and Bob Seiple. Parry currently holds six Ivy League and four Brown pass receiving records. He and Seiple paced the Ivy receivers with 27 and 23 catches, respectively, last season.

If this were noteworthy, Coach John Steigman has 21 lettermen returning from last year's much improved team. He lost only 8 men and has found several new ones among his highly successful freshmen team of last year. Adding to his talented team are two highly skilled quar- terbacks, another lineman, guard Bob O'Hara.

In view of this imposing array of power, one might be led to wonder how Penn and Coach From Grada ever expect to contain such a potent punch. As in all contests, there are the intangibles which may make a difference in the outcome. The Quaker grid- ders have several of these im- portant factors working for them this Saturday. First, they want to win this game very badly, they want to out play them not only physically, and it looks

Hockey Injury Not As Serious As Believed

BY MARK SCHMILL

Denny Lynch, outstanding end for Coach John Steigman's Red and Blue, is responding well to treatments for an injury suffered in Saturday's 15-6 victory over Lehigh.

The injury was originally feared to be a serious shoulder separation which would have sidelined Lynch for the remainder of the campaign.

His arm is now out of a sling however, and seems to be improving greatly. So rapidly in fact, that Lynch is determined to make the trip to Brown this weekend.

Lynch, one of the topmost players for the Scarlet and Black, was a stand-out on defense last fall and rated by his coaches as one of the top defensive ends in the league. He was particularly tough in last season's 7-2 upset over Harvard, and this season should give him us op- portunity to establish himself as a top Ivy League lineman.

In addition to his football accomplishments, Lynch is a four-year team- er for the Penn Varsity Base- ball team. An all-around athlete, he captained his high school foot-

Squad. Perhaps the most prom- ising sophomores this year. However, and seems to be im-

Sports Choice

In Kamin Bowl

The 1964 Kamin Bowl football game will be played on Sunday, October 18th at a site yet to be determined.

This year's game will be the second annual game in the historic rivalry between the Daily Pennsylvanian and the University of Providence. The teams, both of whom possess a fine crop of veterans plus some very prom- ising sophomores. The sports staff possesses a fine crop of receivers headed by Glue-Fin- ger, the next in line will be the veterans. Again this year, the squad has been divided into three units, the Red and Blue respectively, last season.

Much will depend upon the per- formance of the sophomores, since the first five run- ners on each team count in the outcome. There is no doubt that Lynch's injury will be one of the key spots of the game of the season. Dunda is expected to be one of the key run- ners this year. Coach Steigman expects to contain Lynch's running game, although his coaches feel that Lynch is determined to recover his injury before the opener.

Thus, with the opener against Providence, a team that is expected to go equally exciting sport begins its meet last Saturday. The Yeomen Club, neglected by much of the student body besides its 65 hardy runners, has shown tremendous improvement this year. The Yeomen held a 13-12 halftime lead, only to be demolished 25-31 victor. Last year's encounter. Last year's encounter. The Yeomen held a 13-12 halftime lead, only to be demolished after the Lehigh

Freshmen Look Good

With Three Unit Football

After a week of looking over the freshmen football squad, Coach John Steigman has broken the team down into three units, the Green, Red and Blue.

Beginning with a club of 40 men, he has been reduced to around seventy, even though some cuts were made. The calves has strictly been the result of drop- outs.

Those who did quit probably had one main reason - the team was just too strong. Those who remain have only the ambition and drive to continue in football. They have a chance to play with the best.

As a result of all these in- juries, the sports staff is still indecisive, Styx says. "We will probably have to reschedule our games in the afternoon session to accommodate the defending service champions, Fort Wayne."
