City Zoning Board Might Announce Decision on Wed.

Final decision on the fate of the proposed Fine Arts Building will probably be announced this Wednesday, the Zoning Board of Adjustment in its next meeting.

At that hearing, Mr. Hetherston himself led the delegation for the student BOE committee, supported by a number of specialists involved in planning the project, as called for by the City Planning Commission, whose chairmen, Mr. C. Miller, President of the Board of Graduate School of Fine Arts.

Testimony opposing the plan was led by Louis E. Levy, attorney for the student BOE committee. The Zoning Board rejected a petition with over 3,000 signatures opposing the proposal from artists and women's groups. The proposal was criticized from many sources, including the Resident Task Force on Natural Beauty.

Last Monday's appeal was made after the University's initial appeal to the Board had been rejected. Under normal procedures there is no appeal from the Zoning Board's decision after the second hearing.

Contrary to Zoning Board's usual informal proceedings, both sides were represented by counsel and used formal tactics in Monday's hearing.

Testifying for the University was Vice-President for Planning John R. Hetherston, his assistant Francis D. Betts, Planning Director Hetherston, his assistant Francis D. Betts, Planning Director, and assistant Francis D. Betts, Planning Director, and attorney Robert S. Ryan.

Peace Corps Program Begins On Campus

The Peace Corps has begun training twenty-six volunteers for a cooperative marketing project in India at the University this week.

In a related development, the Peace Corps opened an information booth in Boston Hall. The center, located in the first floor hallway, will be open until Sunday from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. to answer questions and give information.

Peace Corps representatives on campus this week will visit classes to inform the University community of the India Project.

The University was engaged by the Peace Corps because of Dean of the Graduate School of Fine Arts, according to Douglas O. Walker, Director of the North Asian Regional Study Department.

Continuing Training

The group will continue its training at the University of Wisconsin-Madison for the next few weeks during the Summer Institute of the Peace Corps.

Peace Corps representatives on campus this week will visit classes to inform the University community of the India Project.

Dr. Earnest P. Palmer, Director of the North Asian Regional Study Department, said that peace without political stability is impossible.

Mr. Ramsey, who is known to be a leader in the Asia-Pacific region, said that peace without political stability is impossible.

He added that the situation in the Asia-Pacific region is critical, and that peace cannot be achieved until political stability is established.

He also emphasized the importance of economic development in the region, stating that economic progress is necessary for political stability.

The Peace Corps has been working in India for several years, and is currently involved in a cooperative marketing project.

As of this week, twenty-six volunteers have begun training for the project at the University.

Peace Corps volunteers are being trained in various fields, including marketing, economics, and social sciences.

The volunteers will work with local businesses and organizations to help develop new markets for Indian products.

The Peace Corps has a long history of working in Asia, and has helped to build bridges between the United States and other countries in the region.

The Peace Corps continues to be an important tool for promoting peace and understanding in the Asia-Pacific region.

Peace Corps volunteers are being trained in various fields, including marketing, economics, and social sciences.

The volunteers will work with local businesses and organizations to help develop new markets for Indian products.

The Peace Corps has a long history of working in Asia, and has helped to build bridges between the United States and other countries in the region.

The Peace Corps continues to be an important tool for promoting peace and understanding in the Asia-Pacific region.
Robert Anderson's new play, "The Days Between," will be presented by the Penn Players in Irvine Auditorium, Friday and Saturday, October 22 and 23 at 8:15 P.M.

The Players' production will be the first presentation of the play in Philadelphia. The production will star Mark J. Busenkell, a senior in the College of Arts and Sciences, as David Ives; Pamela B. Dubose, a sophomore in the College of Liberal Arts for Women, as Barbara Ives; and Ronald L. Hunter, a senior in the College, as Ted Sears.

The other members of the cast are: Innes F. McDade, a sophomore in the College for Women, Mrs. Walker; Gregory Little, a freshmen in the College, George Brokking; and Adam Gopnick, a nine-year-old student at the Henry C. Lea School, Roger Ives.

Howard Taubman, Drama Critic of the New York Times, has described the play "a sensitive and compelling study of a marriage." He commented that Anderson's play has courage to probe under the surface of human relationships.

The Player's production of "The Days Between" is part of the American Playwrights Theater's (APT) 1965-66 program, which is designed to respond to the request of American playwrights for more numerous dramatic forums.

The APT serves educational, community, and resident non-profit theaters by providing a system for the dissemination of new plays by established playwrights to the non-commercial stage.

"The Days Between" will be directed by Miss Kathleen C. Quinn, the Player's director since the undergraduate drama group was formed in 1937.

Tickets can be purchased at the Penn Players' office or in the auditorium. Prices are $3.50, 2.50, 1.50. The $2.50 tickets are available to students for $1.75.

Photos by Neal Gosman Planning—What and Where?

We are gratified to receive a statement from Vice-President for Coordinated Planning John C. Hetherington, committing the University to the preservation of the Botanical Garden. Mr. Hetherington states that references to the garden made by attorney Ryan at the recent Faculty Board hearing were intended to demonstrate the subject-area concept and were not to be taken literally. The background is somewhat unclear on this suggestion, There has been discussion of the fate of the Garden for a number of years, and decided. (In that case, the models and plans which have been circulated are misleading.)

The University's revenge on Princeton, this extending our best wishes for the coming, has not been seen since the good old days. We are gratified to receive a statement What and Where?

Letters To The Editor

Supports Rutan

Professor Palmer calls into question Professor Rutman's statement about peace forces on the grounds: 1—Professor Rutman is a chemist. 2—His statement, "amounts to a flat charge of falsehood against President Johnson, Secretary of State Rusk, and other spokesmen of official American policy in Vietnam." 3—Harper's editor John Fother wrote, "It is noteworthy that several historians or professors of international relations took part in the "Quill Vietnam" teach-in." I would question his objections point by point.

1. The chemist does not dispute one from the knowledge of a non-chemist fact, Professor Palmer does not refute Professor Rutman by quoting a "historian or a professor of

Letters To The Editor

Hughes v. Dumont

Battle Of Trenton Revisited

By BERTON HOCHFELD

The moderate-conservative dispute among New Jersey Republicans has reached its apex: the Senate race is one of the best examples of blind obstinacy in modern American political history. Despite the fact that the Garden State is the most heavily industrialized and urbanized area in the nation, and is in the face of devas-
tion and becoming just as ossified themselves within 10 years. And as in some of those states New Jersey Republicans have been too stupid and too factional to take any advantage of Democratic sloth, Organization Disrupted

The moderate-conservative dispute among New Jersey Republicans has reached its apex: the Senate race is one of the best examples of blind obstinacy in modern American political history. Despite the fact that the Garden State is the most heavily industrialized and urbanized area in the nation, and is in the face of devas-
tion and becoming just as ossified themselves within 10 years. And as in some of those states New Jersey Republicans have been too stupid and too factional to take any advantage of Democratic sloth, Organization Disrupted

The moderate-conservative dispute among New Jersey Republicans has reached its apex: the Senate race is one of the best examples of blind obstinacy in modern American political history. Despite the fact that the Garden State is the most heavily industrialized and urbanized area in the nation, and is in the face of devas-
tion and becoming just as ossified themselves within 10 years. And as in some of those states New Jersey Republicans have been too stupid and too factional to take any advantage of Democratic sloth, Organization Disrupted

The moderate-conservative dispute among New Jersey Republicans has reached its apex: the Senate race is one of the best examples of blind obstinacy in modern American political history. Despite the fact that the Garden State is the most heavily industrialized and urbanized area in the nation, and is in the face of devas-
tion and becoming just as ossified themselves within 10 years. And as in some of those states New Jersey Republicans have been too stupid and too factional to take any advantage of Democratic sloth, Organization Disrupted

Hughes v. Dumont

Battle Of Trenton Revisited

By BERTON HOCHFELD

The moderate-conservative dispute among New Jersey Republicans has reached its apex: the Senate race is one of the best examples of blind obstinacy in modern American political history. Despite the fact that the Garden State is the most heavily industrialized and urbanized area in the nation, and is in the face of devas-
tion and becoming just as ossified themselves within 10 years. And as in some of those states New Jersey Republicans have been too stupid and too factional to take any advantage of Democratic sloth, Organization Disrupted

The moderate-conservative dispute among New Jersey Republicans has reached its apex: the Senate race is one of the best examples of blind obstinacy in modern American political history. Despite the fact that the Garden State is the most heavily industrialized and urbanized area in the nation, and is in the face of devas-
tion and becoming just as ossified themselves within 10 years. And as in some of those states New Jersey Republicans have been too stupid and too factional to take any advantage of Democratic sloth, Organization Disrupted

The moderate-conservative dispute among New Jersey Republicans has reached its apex: the Senate race is one of the best examples of blind obstinacy in modern American political history. Despite the fact that the Garden State is the most heavily industrialized and urbanized area in the nation, and is in the face of devas-
tion and becoming just as ossified themselves within 10 years. And as in some of those states New Jersey Republicans have been too stupid and too factional to take any advantage of Democratic sloth, Organization Disrupted

The moderate-conservative dispute among New Jersey Republicans has reached its apex: the Senate race is one of the best examples of blind obstinacy in modern American political history. Despite the fact that the Garden State is the most heavily industrialized and urbanized area in the nation, and is in the face of devas-
tion and becoming just as ossified themselves within 10 years. And as in some of those states New Jersey Republicans have been too stupid and too factional to take any advantage of Democratic sloth, Organization Disrupted
The most walked about slacks on Campus are HUBBARD slacks with "DACRON"

Great Hubbard styling with the lasting neatness and care-free comfort of "Da-cron", in these slacks of 55% Dacron® polyester, 45% worsted wool. Styled in traditional Classic and Gay Blade plain front models, in all the favorite colors, at better stores everywhere. Also available in blends of 70% Orion® acrylic, 30% worsted wool, or "Dacron" with "Orion".

CAMPUS EVENTS

Official Announcements

Graduate School of Business, University of Chicago: Mr. Frank B. McVrearity, Jr., Assistant Dean of Students in the Graduate School of Business will be on campus Monday and Tuesday, October 18 and 19 from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. to discuss graduate programs of study and to provide information about financial aid and career opportunities. For appointments call the Office of Fellowship Information and Study Programs Abroad, 228 South 38th Street, ext. 8346.

University Agenda

Tonight at 10 p.m. in the Catacombs, the next chapter of our movie serial, "Queen of the Jungle," will be shown.

Graduate School of Business, University of Chicago: Mr. Frank B. McVrearity, Jr., Assistant Dean of Students in the Graduate School of Business will be on campus Monday and Tuesday, October 18 and 19 from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. to discuss graduate programs of study and to provide information about financial aid and career opportunities. For appointments call the Office of Fellowship Information and Study Programs Abroad, 228 South 38th Street, ext. 8346.

Campus chest all college mixer: Fri. Oct. 22, 8-? Weightman Hall. Continuous Music by the Thronton Sisters and the Seven Sounds.

Miss University Contest Undergrad Organizations desiring to sponsor a candidate pick up entry blanks at HU info desk, Oct. 18-25. Any undergrad female may be entered.

Attention all Penn football fans! The Kite and Key Society will be sponsoring buses to and from the Princeton game this Saturday. Tickets are on sale from 8 to 5 in Houston Hall and Dietrich Hall. Buses will leave Houston Hall at 11 a.m. on Saturday morning and return after the game and at midnight.

Surfing films to be shown at Delta Kappa Epsilon tomorrow and Friday at 7 and 9 p.m. Previews at Houston Hall Coffee Hour at 11 a.m. in West Lounge.

The AEPhi open house schedule for Friday evening has been postponed due to the Campus Chest mixer. It will be held at a later date.

Dr. Richard M. Key from the Dept. of Inter-American affairs of the State Dept. will lecture Wed. night 7:30 in the Franklin Room of Houston Hall on the Alliance for Progress. Members wishing to attend the dinner with him contact Sue Hildelanda 594-5321.

Only about one quarter of G.E. sales are in consumer goods. All the rest are in industrial, aerospace and defense products. A variety of products (over 200,000 in all). A variety of activities (everything from research and development to advertising and sales). A variety of challenges for young men who want to be recognized for their talents and rewarded for their work.

"Yeah, yeah. Things like that."

"Right. Things like the world's most powerful jet engines, the world's largest turbine-generator, the world's first Man-Made diamonds. Things like nuclear power plants, suitcase-size computers and a whole new family of plastics."

"I know all about General Electric. They make toasters and irons and things like that."

"Progress is Our Most Important Product. Only about one quarter of G.E. sales are in consumer goods. All the rest are in industrial, aerospace and defense products. A variety of products (over 200,000 in all). A variety of activities (everything from research and development to advertising and sales). A variety of challenges for young men who want to be recognized for their talents and rewarded for their work.

Important responsibilities come to you early at General Electric. Talk to the man from G.E. about coming to work for us.

This is where the young men are important men.

HUBBARD
Letters
(Continued from page 3)

2- I am reasonably sure Professor Palmer knows of many falsehoods for reasons of state. One only has to suppose a falsehood by President Johnson. Presumably, the rest of the administration would back him up. To quote from President Johnson's speech at Johns Hopkins of April 7, 1965:

"Since 1954, every American President has offered support of the people of South Vietnam. In my non-professional opinion, a man who could convert a pledge to seek a unified Vietnam into a defense of an independent South Vietnam and carry on an undeclared war contrary to our Constitution could bring himself to an occasional falsehood.

3- Quite eminent professionals in the fields of international relations, Asian studies, and history have opposed American actions in Vietnam. Since opposition to the government on this issue is unpopular and is based to a large extent on moral grounds, the lack of protest by some historians and professors of international relations is possibly just evidence that their desire to be unpopular and their concern with the morality of our country's actions is no greater than that of their non-professional fellows.

Milton David Fisher
Programmer-Analyst

Raskin Speaks This Afternoon

A. H. Raskin, labor expert and assistant editor of the editorial page of The New York Times, will speak at 4 p.m. today in Room W-51 of Dietrich Hall.

The lecture is sponsored by the Industrial Relations and Management Association of the Graduate Division of the University's Wharton School of Finance and Commerce, the lecture is free to the public.

With the Times since 1934, Raskin has been a member of the newspaper's editorial board, specializing in labor and national affairs, since 1961. He was named to his present post last October.

Raskin has won numerous awards for his reporting, including the Sidney Hillman Memorial Award in 1951, the George Polk Memorial Award in 1952, and the Page One Award of the New York Newspaper Guild in 1941. In 1946 he again won the latter two awards, plus the American Newspaper Guild Heywood Broun Award and the Bulletin Society Award, for his coverage of the 14-day 1942-43 New York newspaper strike.

A 1931 graduate of the City College of New York, Raskin served as chief of the Labor Branch of the U.S. Army Industrial Service Division during World War II. He was a consultant to the President's Committee on Universal Training in 1947, a consultant to the Scientific and Research Board of the National Military Establishment in 1950 and the first director of industrial relations for the Defense Department in 1951.
CAMPUS EVENTS

(Continued from page 4)

Activity Notices

ADA — Meeting today to discuss University reform at 11 a.m. in Room 1 of Houston Hall.

ALPHA CHI SIGMA CHEMICAL FRATERNITY — Lecture tonight at 7:30 by Dr. Charles C. Price on “Chemistry and the Understanding of Life” in L1RM. A meeting of the brothers will follow. Attendance at both events is required of all brothers.

PENN LITERARY SOCIETY — Reading and discussions of Edward Albee’s Ballad of the Sad Cafe at 7:30 p.m. Tomorrow in Philo Hall, 4th floor, Hare Building. All invited.

CAMPUS CHEST — Campus chest: Kite and Key; IF; heeler meeting at 8 p.m. today for all those interested in working for Campus Chest at the SAM house.

CONNAISSANCE — Meeting tonight at 8:00 at Houston Hall.

FROSH COMMITTEE — Freshman committee will meet at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the Friar’s room at Houston Hall.

IVY CLUB — Dr. Bates will address the club at 11:00 a.m. today in the Franklin room of Houston Hall. Be prompt. Football game this afternoon. Meet at Batchelons Gym at 4:00.

JOHN MARSHALL SOCIETY — Meeting at 8:00 p.m. today in Penman room, Houston Hall. Mr. Hogan of public defender’s office will speak. All seniors with 3.0 average and interest in law welcome. Scrolls and pins will be distributed to members.

MEN’S RESIDENCE BOARD — There will be a meeting of the Men’s Residence Board at 7:00 in McClay Hall. All residents are urged to attend.

RECORD PHOTOGRAPHY STAFF — Meeting at 7:00 p.m. Wednesday at Record office for all staff andheelers.

SDS — Students for a Democratic Society — General meeting tomorrow evening 8:00 p.m., Houston Hall room 11. All invited.

STUDENT OF OBJECTIVISM — Meeting, Wednesday night, Oct. 20, at 7:30 p.m. in room 10, third floor, Houston Hall.

SWIMMING — All prospective varsity and freshman swimming candidates must report to Batchelons gym pool between 10 a.m. and 6 p.m., Monday-Friday.

Panel Debates

Watts’ Effect

The Graduate Sociology Club will sponsor a panel discussion on the topic: “After Watts... What?” tonight in the MBA Lounge, 1096 Diefrich Hall, at 7:45 p.m.

Panelists will be sociologists Dr. Seymour Leviantman and Dr. Martin Oppenheimer, and James Williams, regional director of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE).

Dr. Leviantman teaches race relations and social theory at the University, and has written the book, “Children of the Guilded Ghetto”. Dr. Oppenheimer is in the sociology department of Bryn Mawr College and has co-authored the widely circulated book, “A Manual for Direct Action.”

The discussion will be followed by an informal coffee hour during which the audience may talk with the panelists.

Garden

(Continued from page 1)

clearing of the land. While the Redevelopment Authority and the land owner are trying to reach an equitable price, the land can be cleared for redevelopment, the spokesman stated.

Hetherston mentioned that the Faculty Housing Committee, along with several members of the Joint Committee on Development, is conducting discussions on several other problem areas in University redevelopment.

MEN PART TIME JOB COLLEGE STUDENT

3 Evenings OR

2 Evenings + Saturday

Salary $50 Week Kl-5195

Imported Auto Service

Authorized Agents for
All-norma SAAB Morgan
Service All Foreign Cars

Phila. Lo 3-6121
118 North 22nd St.

A button-down in a basket weave.
(Something old, something new.)

This Arrow shirt gives you best of both worlds. (1) A long-pointed collar role in the most authentic tradition. (2) A husky-looking basket weave that updates ordinary oxford. For other interesting features, check the tapered body; back pleat and loop; back collar button. Lots of unusual stripes to choose from. $5.00. You expected to pay more? Bold New Breed from

—ARROW—

Campus Agent for all Arrow Products
Ruggers Crush Jefferson 11-3, ‘B’ Team Wins with Late Burst

Blowing its offensive power for the first time this season, the Penn Rugby Squad scored in both halves of a bitterly fought contest in Fairmount Park last Saturday to defeat the Jefferson Medical College. "A" Team II-3, Tom McEwen opened the scoring with a ten yard plunge following a quick back from a set scrum on the Jefferson 5 yard line. That made the score 3-0, Dan Kallian made the conversion, and Penn carried a 5-0 lead into half time. Jef ferson came right back, however, to score a long run by Tim Green, but failed to convert. Penn still led, 5-3.

Food Store

After stopping numerous drives just short of its goal line, Penn moved the ball to mid-field where fullback Julian Rob drives just short of its goal line, of the Jefferson backfield. Green, but failed to convert. Penn still led, 5-3.

Conditioning Pays

In the "B" game with Jefferson, Penn showed that conditioning pays off by coming from a 5-0 deficit to scores twice in the closing minutes of the game on a sixty yard rumble by Steve Gardner and a short run by Bill Blane, who along with Jim Mahoney and John Rhodes played in both games.

Next Saturday the Penn Rug gers travel to Princeton for a game with a tough Princeton "B" team which is scheduled to start at 9:30 a.m.

Lebine Speaks On Humanism

Dr. Joseph M. Lebine, instructor in the History Department, will speak on "Renaissance Humanism" at 4 p.m. on Oct. 20, in the Bennett Union Lounge. Levine will be the third speaker in a series sponsored by the Bennett Union Board on the Renaissance Mind. Other lectures were the "Renaissance Idea of Art," by Dr. James Stubbeibolle, Chairman of Art History at Rutgers and "The Renaissance Mind in Medieval or Modern" by Richard S. Dunn, Associate Professor of History.

Dr. Lebile, who received both his B.A. and his Ph.D. form Columbia University, has previously taught at Queens College, MARIOTT MOTOR INN'S

SPECIALIZING IN CONTOUR RAZOR CUTTING

THE MARIOTT BARBER SHOP
City Line Ave. & I-76 Westbound
(215) 875-2521

Campus Chest

ALL-COLLEGE MIXER

All Local Colleges Invited

Peacemaking Pays

With one man between him and the goal line, he faked a run to left and lateralized the ball back to McEwen, who then raced untouched into the end zone. Jefferson, stormed by Penn razzle dazzle, threw a bad lateral deep in the Jefferson backfield where fullback Julian Rob drives just short of its goal line, of the Jefferson backfield. Green, but failed to convert. Penn still led, 5-3.

Final Score

MARIOTT MOTOR INN'S

SPECIALIZING IN CONTOUR RAZOR CUTTING

THE MARIOTT BARBER SHOP
City Line Ave. & I-76 Westbound
(215) 875-2521

Campus Chest

ALL-COLLEGE MIXER

All Local Colleges Invited

Continuous Music By:

THORNTON SISTERS

SEVEN SOUNDS

Fri. Oct. 22 8-7Weightman Hall

WXPX

OCTOBER 19, 1965

4:00 PRELUDE

PRINCETON, DARTMOUTH WIN, TIE FOR IVY LEAGUE LEAD

While Penn's football team was earning a second straight victory at the expense of Bucknell, the Ivy League colleagues were involved in three league contests and one "non-League" romp.

Princeton, the Quaker's next foe, still has its Geese Galore, and in the dome's win over the Quakers last week, it will be Galore's turn again. After losing to 36 and racking up 70 yards to pay dearly, Quarterback Jim Mahoney and Fullback Pete Walton, with short passes and smashing line plunges, clipped the Bruns de fense for the remaining tallies. In perhaps the biggest game of the weekend, Cornell and Harvard squared off at Boston, New York.

Pre-game reports matched both teams almost equally; the out come here be out by the scores. The score was tied 3-0 thru the final buzzer sounded. Cornell's Pete Zogby and the Crimson's Maurice Dalessi, added goals in the first half, and the two teams remained deadlocked at 3-3 thru the rest of the afternoon.

Coach Alde Donnelly's Columbia contingent won him his 100th victory, as they romped Yale, 21-7. Halfback Roger Dennis squared off at the Princeton defense. Sophomore Gene Ryzewicz, who started in his first dual meet for the first time this season, scored in two league contests and one "non-League" romp.

Dartmouth remained tied with Princeton for Ivy League laurels by winning its third consecutive contest. Dartmouth's Gene Ryzewicz, who figures prominently in the Quaker's win over the Quakers last week, will again be the teams' prime tryout. In three league contests and one "non-League" romp. While Penn's football team was earning a second straight victory at the expense of Bucknell, the Ivy League colleagues were involved in three league contests and one "non-League" romp.

After stopping numerous drives just short of its goal line, Penn moved the ball to mid-field where fullback Julian Rob drives just short of its goal line, of the Jefferson backfield. Green, but failed to convert. Penn still led, 5-3.

Princeton, the Quaker's next foe, still has its Geese Galore, and in the dome's win over the Quakers last week, it will be Galore's turn again. After losing to 36 and racking up 70 yards to pay dearly, Quarterback Jim Mahoney and Fullback Pete Walton, with short passes and smashing line plunges, clipped the Bruns de fense for the remaining tallies. In perhaps the biggest game of the weekend, Cornell and Harvard squared off at Boston, New York.

Pre-game reports matched both teams almost equally; the out come here be out by the scores. The score was tied 3-0 thru the final buzzer sounded. Cornell's Pete Zogby and the Crimson's Maurice Dalessi, added goals in the first half, and the two teams remained deadlocked at 3-3 thru the rest of the afternoon.

Coach Alde Donnelly's Columbia contingent won him his 100th victory, as they romped Yale, 21-7. Halfback Roger Dennis squared off at the Princeton defense. Sophomore Gene Ryzewicz, who started in his first dual meet for the first time this season, scored in two league contests and one "non-League" romp.

Dartmouth remained tied with Princeton for Ivy League laurels by winning its third consecutive contest. Dartmouth's Gene Ryzewicz, who figures prominently in the Quaker's win over the Quakers last week, will again be the teams' prime tryout.
If we believed in fate, or predestination, or the concept that things are fore-ordained by a greater being, this belief would have been greatly supported by the unfortunate happening on Franklin Field this past Saturday.

Bruce Molloy turned in one of the finest individual performances by a Penn player seen on Franklin Field in a long time. It was almost as if the other Ivy League teams had been overconfident, for there wasn't some premonition of disaster in the big tailback's mind as he stepped out onto the turf at the start of the game. However, here's where the predestination works itself in again. True, this was the same point at which Penn's go-ahead touchdown was scored, and as the first half was about to end, we were reminded of a similar jaunt to the Bucknell 13 after taking a pitchout from Tom Kennedy. This one play, which setup Penn's go-ahead touchdown in the second quarter, is the very one that ended Molloy's collegiate football career.

The score was tied, 13-13, and Penn was driving into Bucknell's red and blue signal call. Tom Kennedy sneaks through the center of the Bucknell line for a first down to keep Penn's drive alive. Molloy too would be looking for a chance to do the same. Molloy believes this attack to be more than usual. Although he spent the bulk of the half grinding out for and five yards at a time, he did break loose for a 43 yard jaunt to the Bucknell 13 after taking a pitchout from Tom Kennedy. As last week, Johnny Owens' knee healed, although slowly, and he was back in a Red and Blue uniform -- this time track -- by the spring. Molloy too would be back in uniform, but it won't be soon enough.

But think back on the game for a minute. For the first time all season, Bob Odell had five tailbacks he could call the ball to, and the result was five backs, the tailback, on whom all hopes for success were pinned, was carried off, probably on the very same stretcher. As last week, Johnny Owens might not get another kickoff either, that big rest will mean the most to him, and then proceeded to hand Harvard its only loss of the year the following week.

Notes on the Bucknell Game

By GUT K. BLTN

Penn head coach Bob Odell was asked to explain his plans and go for the field goal.

"If he got that goal, he would have a guy in there who you know will get the one or two yards when it's really needed," Odell said.

Bucknell head coach Carroll Business was obviously disappointed after losing such a close battlegame. He attributed the outcome of the game to the "never-say-die" attitude of the Bucknell defense.

There was a great deal of confusion as to what actually was happening during the closing seconds of Saturday's game. After using all their time outs, the Quakers found themselves on the Bucknell 2 on his 108 yards and forced Odell to switch to his "never-say-die" strategy on luck, but he doesn't take it into consideration. Each Saturday morning he arms himself with good luck charms. For example, before meeting his Bucknell opponents, "practiced every single night for an hour or two".

"Bucknell has played the Quakers a total of fourteen times without a victory. Saturday's thirteen points were the most the Bison's defense has ever scored in Franklin Field where all the games have been played. Prior to Saturday, Bucknell had recorded eight shutouts in limiting the men from Lewisburg to three points. For example of his varsity career, Bruce Molloy usually handles the Quaker's kicking chores, but, he is no stranger to the place kick routine. One of the 5'13", 185 lb. sophomore's goals this summer was to become proficient in this most important of football specialties. Along with a number of other Penn fullbacks, he spent his vacation months at George Munger's CampTeague, 1.4 reliable source reports that while the others were enjoying themselves, Henderson practiced "practiced every single night for an hour or two".

Bucknell head coach Carroll Business was obviously disappointed after losing such a close battlegame. He attributed the outcome of the game to the "never-say-die" attitude of the Bucknell defense.

Owens' knee healed, although slowly, and he was back in a Red and Blue uniform. The Bucknell game was the springboard for the Freshman Committee. If we believed in fate, or predestination, or the concept that things are fore-ordained by a greater being, this belief would have been greatly supported by the unfortunate happening on Franklin Field this past Saturday.

Bruce Molloy turned in one of the finest individual performances by a Penn player seen on Franklin Field in a long time. It was almost as if the other Ivy League teams had been overconfident, for there wasn't some premonition of disaster in the big tailback's mind as he stepped out onto the turf at the start of the game. However, here's where the predestination works itself in again. True, this was the same point at which Penn's go-ahead touchdown was scored, and as the first half was about to end, we were reminded of a similar jaunt to the Bucknell 13 after taking a pitchout from Tom Kennedy.

The score was tied, 13-13, and Penn was driving into Bucknell's red and blue signal call. Tom Kennedy sneaks through the center of the Bucknell line for a first down to keep Penn's drive alive. Molloy too would be looking for a chance to do the same. Molloy believes this attack to be more than usual. Although he spent the bulk of the half grinding out for and five yards at a time, he did break loose for a 43 yard jaunt to the Bucknell 13 after taking a pitchout from Tom Kennedy. As last week, Johnny Owens' knee healed, although slowly, and he was back in a Red and Blue uniform -- this time track -- by the spring. Molloy too would be back in uniform, but it won't be soon enough.

But think back on the game for a minute. For the first time all season, Bob Odell had five tailbacks he could call the ball to, and the result was five backs, the tailback, on whom all hopes for success were pinned, was carried off, probably on the very same stretcher. As last week, Johnny Owens might not get another kickoff either, that big rest will mean the most to him, and then proceeded to hand Harvard its only loss of the year the following week.