Harnwell Announces Tuition Increase for '66-'67

Total Now $1950

By STEPHEN H. KLITZMAN

Tuition and student financial aid at the University will be increased effective with the fall of 1967 academic year, President Gaylord P. Harnwell announced yesterday.

Schedules of tuition increases included:
- a $300 increase for full-time undergraduates from the present $1970 to a new total of $2170, (With the general fee, undergraduate tuition and fees will total $1950 annually.)
- a $20 rise per course for summer school to a new course unit total of $195.
- increase in graduate and professional school tuition.

(See page 5 for complete listing of changes.)

Dr. Harnwell made the announcement of the tuition, increases at a special meeting of campus news media representatives. Present were the editors of the Pennsylvania Gazette, the faculty Almanac, and The Daily Pennsylvanian for a lively two-hour meeting.

The Council immediately decided to picket the Federal Building at 9th and Chestnut Sts. today in protest of the eviction of Negro families from an Air Force building in Greenville, Miss.

Leonard Clay, a Negro graduate student in city planning, and Mike Grifteen, a sophomore in the College, were chosen temporary secretaries for the Council, in the College, were chosen temporary secretaries for the Council.

The meeting was marked by heated over policy and organization.

Daniel Finerty, project co-ordinator for Project Mississippi, suggested that the Council serve as an "umbrella organization" for assorted civil and human rights advocates who presently have no vehicles for action.

The group finally accepted a provision that Council members vote on all projects to be endorsed by the Council.

One of the 13 Negroes in the crowd raised the issue of whether the Council should be characterized as "liberal" or "radical." The man favored a radical policy, or "hearing down the existing social structure," for the Council rather than assuming a "liberal" role.

The issue was resolved when the group agreed to bypass the question to deal with organizational matters.

Another Negro said he hoped the Council would "think about problems right here, and not just in Mississippi and Alabama." He suggested Negro students at the University "are fighting a guerrilla war just to survive among the rats and cockroaches in West Philly."

The Council agreed to meet next Monday, Feb. 7 at 5 p.m. at the Christian Association.

The remarks were contained in a letter from Vice-President for Development and Public Relations E. Craig Sweeten to David Soltz, moderator of the Philomathean Society.

The letter, written at Pigma's request, characterized the much-debated scholarships as a desirable alternative, or at least as a supplement, to the subsidizing of low tuition in State colleges or universities.

"The Senatorial Scholarship program does not meet the needs of all the students; fails to identify and encourage the superior student; provides students to the student who does not need financial aid; and involves excessive administrative costs, and therefore does not measure up to the standards which should be applied to the much-debated scholarships," Sweeten quoted the document.

The University has replied to attacks on its role in Senatorial scholarships by asserting its concurrence in opposition to the controversial system.

The remarks were contained in a letter from Vice-President for Development and Public Relations E. Craig Sweeten to David Soltz, moderator of the Philomethean Society.

"The Senatorial Scholarship system does not meet the needs of all the students; fails to identify and encourage the superior student; provides students to the student who does not need financial aid; and involves excessive administrative costs, and therefore does not measure up to the standards which should be applied to the much-debated scholarships," Sweeten quoted the document.

The University has replied to attacks on its role in Senatorial scholarships by asserting its concurrence in opposition to the controversial system.

The remarks were contained in a letter from Vice-President for Development and Public Relations E. Craig Sweeten to David Soltz, moderator of the Philomethean Society.

The letter, written at Pigma's request, characterized the much-debated scholarships as a desirable alternative, or at least as a supplement, to the subsidizing of low tuition in State colleges or universities.

"The Senatorial Scholarship program does not meet the needs of all the students; fails to identify and encourage the superior student; provides students to the student who does not need financial aid; and involves excessive administrative costs, and therefore does not measure up to the standards which should be applied to the much-debated scholarships," Sweeten quoted the document.

The University has replied to attacks on its role in Senatorial scholarships by asserting its concurrence in opposition to the controversial system.

The remarks were contained in a letter from Vice-President for Development and Public Relations E. Craig Sweeten to David Soltz, moderator of the Philomethean Society.

"The Senatorial Scholarship system does not meet the needs of all the students; fails to identify and encourage the superior student; provides students to the student who does not need financial aid; and involves excessive administrative costs, and therefore does not measure up to the standards which should be applied to the much-debated scholarships," Sweeten quoted the document.

The University has replied to attacks on its role in Senatorial scholarships by asserting its concurrence in opposition to the controversial system.

The remarks were contained in a letter from Vice-President for Development and Public Relations E. Craig Sweeten to David Soltz, moderator of the Philomethean Society.

"The Senatorial Scholarship system does not meet the needs of all the students; fails to identify and encourage the superior student; provides students to the student who does not need financial aid; and involves excessive administrative costs, and therefore does not measure up to the standards which should be applied to the much-debated scholarships," Sweeten quoted the document.

The University has replied to attacks on its role in Senatorial scholarships by asserting its concurrence in opposition to the controversial system.

The remarks were contained in a letter from Vice-President for Development and Public Relations E. Craig Sweeten to David Soltz, moderator of the Philomethean Society.

"The Senatorial Scholarship system does not meet the needs of all the students; fails to identify and encourage the superior student; provides students to the student who does not need financial aid; and involves excessive administrative costs, and therefore does not measure up to the standards which should be applied to the much-debated scholarships," Sweeten quoted the document.

The University has replied to attacks on its role in Senatorial scholarships by asserting its concurrence in opposition to the controversial system.

The remarks were contained in a letter from Vice-President for Development and Public Relations E. Craig Sweeten to David Soltz, moderator of the Philomethean Society.

"The Senatorial Scholarship system does not meet the needs of all the students; fails to identify and encourage the superior student; provides students to the student who does not need financial aid; and involves excessive administrative costs, and therefore does not measure up to the standards which should be applied to the much-debated scholarships," Sweeten quoted the document.

The University has replied to attacks on its role in Senatorial scholarships by asserting its concurrence in opposition to the controversial system.

The remarks were contained in a letter from Vice-President for Development and Public Relations E. Craig Sweeten to David Soltz, moderator of the Philomethean Society.

"The Senatorial Scholarship system does not meet the needs of all the students; fails to identify and encourage the superior student; provides students to the student who does not need financial aid; and involves excessive administrative costs, and therefore does not measure up to the standards which should be applied to the much-debated scholarships," Sweeten quoted the document.

The University has replied to attacks on its role in Senatorial scholarships by asserting its concurrence in opposition to the controversial system.

The remarks were contained in a letter from Vice-President for Development and Public Relations E. Craig Sweeten to David Soltz, moderator of the Philomethean Society.

"The Senatorial Scholarship system does not meet the needs of all the students; fails to identify and encourage the superior student; provides students to the student who does not need financial aid; and involves excessive administrative costs, and therefore does not measure up to the standards which should be applied to the much-debated scholarships," Sweeten quoted the document.

The University has replied to attacks on its role in Senatorial scholarships by asserting its concurrence in opposition to the controversial system.

The remarks were contained in a letter from Vice-President for Development and Public Relations E. Craig Sweeten to David Soltz, moderator of the Philomethean Society.

"The Senatorial Scholarship system does not meet the needs of all the students; fails to identify and encourage the superior student; provides students to the student who does not need financial aid; and involves excessive administrative costs, and therefore does not measure up to the standards which should be applied to the much-debated scholarships," Sweeten quoted the document.

The University has replied to attacks on its role in Senatorial scholarships by asserting its concurrence in opposition to the controversial system.

The remarks were contained in a letter from Vice-President for Development and Public Relations E. Craig Sweeten to David Soltz, moderator of the Philomethean Society.

"The Senatorial Scholarship system does not meet the needs of all the students; fails to identify and encourage the superior student; provides students to the student who does not need financial aid; and involves excessive administrative costs, and therefore does not measure up to the standards which should be applied to the much-debated scholarships," Sweeten quoted the document.

The University has replied to attacks on its role in Senatorial scholarships by asserting its concurrence in opposition to the controversial system.

The remarks were contained in a letter from Vice-President for Development and Public Relations E. Craig Sweeten to David Soltz, moderator of the Philomethean Society.

"The Senatorial Scholarship system does not meet the needs of all the students; fails to identify and encourage the superior student; provides students to the student who does not need financial aid; and involves excessive administrative costs, and therefore does not measure up to the standards which should be applied to the much-debated scholarships," Sweeten quoted the document.

The University has replied to attacks on its role in Senatorial scholarships by asserting its concurrence in opposition to the controversial system.

The remarks were contained in a letter from Vice-President for Development and Public Relations E. Craig Sweeten to David Soltz, moderator of the Philomethean Society.
The Daily Pennsylvania Wednesday, February 2, 1966

1966 Tuition Increased by $200; Harnwell Promises Raise in Aid

(Student financial aid will be increased at the same rate that tuition is increased, although he said that financial aid for tutoring "will be $2500 in five to ten years.")

Dr. Harnwell revealed that the University had advised the chairman of the State Senate and Senate Appropriations Committee, the Governor, and the State Board of Higher Education of the tuition increase. "They won't be surprised," he declared.

Dr. Harnwell has been highly concerned over "pricing the University," he noted.

The increase will be $2500 in five to ten years.

The drive, which started January 31st and will continue until April 30th, is an effort to get new tutors as well as to familiarize present tutors with the Board's new projects.

The conference will be held on Thursday, February 11th.

The world of the tutee will be

The conference will be held on Thursday, February 11th.

The world of the tutee will be

The conference will be held on Thursday, February 11th.

The world of the tutee will be

GAYLORD P. HARNWELL

"Absolutely Necessary"

The conference will be held on Thursday, February 11th.

The world of the tutee will be

The conference will be held on Thursday, February 11th.

The world of the tutee will be

The conference will be held on Thursday, February 11th.

The world of the tutee will be

The conference will be held on Thursday, February 11th.

The world of the tutee will be

The conference will be held on Thursday, February 11th.

The world of the tutee will be

The conference will be held on Thursday, February 11th.

The world of the tutee will be

The conference will be held on Thursday, February 11th.

The world of the tutee will be

The conference will be held on Thursday, February 11th.

The world of the tutee will be

The conference will be held on Thursday, February 11th.

The world of the tutee will be

The conference will be held on Thursday, February 11th.

The world of the tutee will be

The conference will be held on Thursday, February 11th.

The world of the tutee will be

The conference will be held on Thursday, February 11th.

The world of the tutee will be

The conference will be held on Thursday, February 11th.

The world of the tutee will be

The conference will be held on Thursday, February 11th.

The world of the tutee will be

The conference will be held on Thursday, February 11th.

The world of the tutee will be

The conference will be held on Thursday, February 11th.

The world of the tutee will be

The conference will be held on Thursday, February 11th.

The world of the tutee will be

The conference will be held on Thursday, February 11th.

The world of the tutee will be

The conference will be held on Thursday, February 11th.

The world of the tutee will be

The conference will be held on Thursday, February 11th.

The world of the tutee will be

The conference will be held on Thursday, February 11th.

The world of the tutee will be

The conference will be held on Thursday, February 11th.

The world of the tutee will be

The conference will be held on Thursday, February 11th.

The world of the tutee will be

The conference will be held on Thursday, February 11th.

The world of the tutee will be

The conference will be held on Thursday, February 11th.
Tuition Ad Infinitum?

The emotional impact of a tuition of, for practical purposes, $200 a year is considerable, to say the least. And while we realize that the University of Pennsylvania is primarily a rich man's school, we must admit that the headlines, "Penn Tuition Hits $1950," will most assuredly have, it does not matter that aid be available to the student body is on financial aid. At present some one-third of the undergraduates receive such aid, of which one-third again receives a scholarship.

The effect of raising tuition is, first, to increase the financial burden placed on our students and their parents. At present some tuition adjustments will be made.
4:00 PRELUDE: Chopin Nocturne No. 3 in E Major
Liszt: Les Preludes

5:00 NEWS and FINANCIAL REPORT by Don Casiddy.

PRELUDE: Brahms: Trio in E Flat for French Horn, Violin and Piano
Schubert: Gruppe aus dem Tartarus
Dvorak: Concerto for Violin and Orch.

6:30 SPECTRUM: Project Mississippi: A report by Dan Finnerty and other students.

8:00 MUSIC 21 (A.M. ONLY) ROCK ’N ROLL Dick Hogan
(F. M. ONLY) FROM THE MIDWAY: Automation and Leisure.

10:00 MASTERWORKS: Mozart Concerto No. 12 in A Major.
Dvorak: Symphony No. 3 in E Flat Major

12:00 JAZZ: with Bob D’Augustine.

Finnerty Talks On “Spectrum”

Dan Finnerty and five others involved in Project Mississippi will make another evaluation report tonight at 6:30 on WXPN’s SPECTRUM news program. The half-hour show will be carried on both AM and FM frequencies. All six participants in the discussion were present for at least two weeks during the vacation project. They will be evaluating the progress of the building, the project as an educational experience, and the attitudes of the area residents. The program will be moderated by Rick Rifkin of the WXPN news team.

Debate Council Sponsors Contest

The University Debate Council held the first of its two annual debate tournaments, the Liberty Bell High School tournament on Sat, Jan. 28, at St. Peter’s Prep of Jersey City, with the winning High School.

Each year the Debate Council, besides participating in tournaments with schools such as Vanderbilt, Stanford, and Ohio State, sponsors two of its own tournaments. The second of these, the Liberty Bell College Invitational tournament, will be held on March 4th and 5th.

The next few weeks will witness the Council’s busiest period of the debate season. For the coming weekends the Council will be sending teams to tournaments at John Hopkins, Kings College, Northwestern, St. Johns, and Rutgers to debate the topic: “Resolved: That Law enforcement agencies in the U.S. should be given greater freedom in the investigation and prosecution of crime.”

The Council has compiled a winning record for all but one of its tournaments this year. Its awards include a 2nd place team trophy at Quenee College tournament and a Speaker’s trophy won by Ron Mysliwic at the Lasalle tournament.

Last year, the Council, as one of the five top teams in a district encompassing the states...

(Continued on page 6)
Theater Authority
To Give Seminar
On Irvine Stage

The first of a series of seminars on "Stage and Lighting Design" will be given by George Jenkins on the stage of Irvine Auditorium next Monday, February 7, from 4:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. Jenkins is a prominent Stage and Motion Picture Designer, Television Art Director and Theatre Consultant.

Pennsylvania Graduate

A native of Baltimore, Mr. Jenkins is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania. He staged his first and solo Broadway production "Early to Bed" in 1943. Since then, Jenkins has designed almost countless Broadway productions, including "The Happiest Millionaire," the current "Generation" and "The Miracle Worker" which he has also made into a motion picture. He directed "The Royal Family—Early to Bed" at Dartmouth University, and for the new Marine Stadium in Miami. Jenkins, a member of the American National Theatre and Academy, holds a position on the Board of Standards and Planning for the Living Theatre.

Fat Pledging Drops
As 50.1 Percent Join

Only 50.1 percent of the freshman class accepted fraternity bids this year, according to George Anselmo, Jr., Assistant Dean of Men. The comparable percentage for last year was 51.3 percent. While the total number of freshmen accepting bids rose by one to 591, the rise in class enrollment from 1,150 men to 1,178 caused a drop in the percentage. Upperclass acceptances of house bids dropped drastically, from 89 in 1965 to 25 this year. Total number of bids submitted by the houses also dropped considerably, from 737 bids last year to 639 this year.

Mr. Anselmo attributed the drop in percentage of freshmen pledging fraternities this year to several factors. "While the percentage of the freshman class accepting bids is not as great as it was last year, it should be remembered that the number of freshmen joining fraternities is slightly greater than last year, despite the fact that there are two fewer fraternities this year (36 last year vs. 34 this year); and a higher requiring pledging average is in operation." The Interfraternity Council had fall raised the required average for pledging from 1.5 to 1.7.

Alpha Chi Rho

Alpha Epsilon Pi

Alpha Sigma Phi

Alpha Omegas
Antonia Abeck, Robert B. James J. Cincotta, Glenn E. Coughenour.

OUT OF MY WAY YOU VILE VILLAIN! YOU'RE MAKING ME SICK FOR THE PENNSYLVANIA PUNCH BOWL HEERING SMOKER AT ROOM 11 HOUSTON HALL TONIGHT, WEDNESDAY FEBRUARY 2ND, AT 7:30 WHERE ALL UNDERGRADUATES ARE INVITED TO ATTEND.

Tuition and General Fees
For 1966 Summer Sessions
And Academic Year 1966-67

UNDERGRADUATE SCHOOLS (FULL TIME)
The College, Engineering Schools, Wharton, College for Women, Nursing, and Allied Medical Professions...

GRADUATE SCHOOLS AND DIVISIONS
Graduate School of Arts and Sciences...
Graduate School of Education...
School of Nursing...
Graduate Division...

ASSOCIATE DEGREES

SCHEDULE OF GENERAL FEE

1-3 credits per semester...
1-4 credits per semester...
5-7 credits per semester...
8 or more credits per semester...

865 maximum charge for one semester...
865 maximum charge for one semester...
865 maximum charge for one semester...
865 maximum charge for one semester...

(*) Students paying General Fee of $60.00 per semester receive Student Health Service privileges. Students taking less than 12 semester credits or less than four course units may obtain Student Health Service privileges upon payment of health fee of $30.00 a semester.

General Fee Registration (for students who have completed course requirements)
Graduate School of Arts and Sciences...
Graduate School of Education...
School of Nursing...
Graduate Division...

NOTE: The University will award one-half tuition grants to full-time elementary and secondary teachers in the United States in service or on leave, or to college graduates enrolled in a program required for the initial teaching certification. To be eligible the student must enroll in a regular program of the above graduate schools or divisions and present a letter or document from his school district or educational institution as evidence of his status as a teacher in the United States.

(Continued on page 6)
Pledge Class

Beto Sigma Rho

Beto Theta Pi

Phi Epsilon Pi

David Alexander, Stephen Allerman, Douglas Bowerick, Henry Gonetel, Thomas Goller,

Phi Gamma Delta

Phi Kappa Psi

The University's overall financial op-erations, in the interest of such under- standing, I have asked the cooperation of the editors of our student, faculty, parents, and alumni publications in inter- esting more completely the re- lation of tuition and fee charges to the total budget picture.

The State Senate Judiciary Committee Wednesday night. It is expected that a similiar response to the MSG statement may be forthcoming.

One of our representatives will be visiting your school soon. Check with your placement office for the exact date and time.

Beto Sigma Rho

Beto Theta Pi

Phi Epsilon Pi

David Alexander, Stephen Allerman, Douglas Bowerick, Henry Gonetel, Thomas Goller,

Phi Gamma Delta

Phi Kappa Psi

The University's overall financial op-erations, in the interest of such under- standing, I have asked the cooperation of the editors of our student, faculty, parents, and alumni publications in inter- esting more completely the re- lation of tuition and fee charges to the total budget picture.

The State Senate Judiciary Committee Wednesday night. It is expected that a similiar response to the MSG statement may be forthcoming.

One of our representatives will be visiting your school soon. Check with your placement office for the exact date and time.
WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1966

THE DAILY PENNSYLVANIAN

PENN PLAYERS — Important business committees meeting today in office at 4 p.m.
PENN PLAYERS — Publicity meeting Wednesday at 4 p.m.

PRLHMATHEMATICI

- Meeting Friday at 7:30 p.m.

PUNCH BOWL — All those interested in working on magazine — meet today at 5:15.

RECORD — All staff, please bring in all sales from 3 to 4 today at our booth in Houston Hall.

RECORD — Meeting for senior staff tomorrow at 4 p.m. in the Record Office.

ROMANCE LANGUAGES — Meet tomorrow at 4:30 p.m. in Bennett Hall, 4th floor, Spanish, Room 426.

SOPHOMORES — You missed the meeting tonight at 6:30 in room 107, Houston Hall. All invited.

STUDENTS OF OBJECTIVISM — Interested in working on magazine — meet today at 5:15.

Tuition and General Fees

PENN PLAYERS — Important business committees meeting today in office at 4 p.m.
PENN PLAYERS — Publicity meeting Wednesday at 4 p.m.

PRLHMATHEMATICI

- Meeting Friday at 7:30 p.m.

PUNCH BOWL — All those interested in working on magazine — meet today at 5:15.

RECORD — All staff, please bring in all sales from 3 to 4 today at our booth in Houston Hall.

RECORD — Meeting for senior staff tomorrow at 4 p.m. in the Record Office.

ROMANCE LANGUAGES — Meet tomorrow at 4:30 p.m. in Bennett Hall, 4th floor, Spanish, Room 426.

SOPHOMORES — You missed the meeting tonight at 6:30 in room 107, Houston Hall. All invited.

STUDENTS OF OBJECTIVISM — Interested in working on magazine — meet today at 5:15.
The Penn freshman cage squad invades the Owls’ nest tonight as the Quakers seek their first Big Five win against Temple at South Hall. Penn has been defeated by LaSalle, St. Joseph’s and Villanova in previous city tilts and the Quakers will be relying on the strong play of their bench to reverse this trend.

Freshman coach Ray Edelman is planning no changes in his efforts to halt a Quaker skid. The Owls have seen the team drop three of its last four defeats in a row since the Owls’ starters, Pete Andrews, Steve Shulman, Ken Leesom, and Charell Newport could not perform. Should any of these five falter, Edelman will always look to a strong bench led by Bill Gearhart and Dar Lisnaghi.

Both Lisnaghi and Shulman have turned in strong performances coming off the bench as substitutes. Gearhart, a 6’1” guard from Tyrone, Pa., has scored 18 points in the last three games, filling in for Pearall and Shulman. Gearhart approaches his role as Penn’s third guard with the idea that if he does get the time, he’ll be benched because of being able to watch the ball up close. Lisnaghi, who at 6’1” has many Penn students wound up sitting in the corners on the (hiss) St. Joe’s bandstand. In honor of the occasion, the band decided to march at halftime in a bandstand of unprecedented size.

Needless to say, when the papers hit the stands Saturday morning, it will be a long way back in the Quakers’ season. The Lions of Columbia had done the impossible, and Penn had fallen by a 70-66 count. The Cornell game was possibly the biggest letdown since Tom Dewey woke up to discover that he wasn’t President.

A Disappointing Finish

And the grand finale of the 1965 season? You guessed it — an end of the line game against Princeton up there, with the Ivy Trophy all polished up and waiting for the victor to carry it off. But Columbia? They didn’t have a chance, and most people planned on a walkaway from the Palestra Friday night.

But for the Saturday Cornell clash, the place was sold out, and many Penn students wound up sitting in the corners on the (hiss) St. Joe’s bandstand. In honor of the occasion, the band decided to march at halftime in a bandstand of unprecedented size.

Needless to say, when the papers hit the stands Saturday morning, it will be a long way back in the Quakers’ season. The Lions of Columbia had done the impossible, and Penn had fallen by a 70-66 count. The Cornell game was possibly the biggest letdown since Tom Dewey woke up to discover that he wasn’t President.

A Disappointing Finish

And the grand finale of the 1965 season? You guessed it — an end of the line game against Princeton up there, with the Ivy Trophy all polished up and waiting for the victor to carry it off. But Columbia? They didn’t have a chance, and most people planned on a walkaway from the Palestra Friday night.

But for the Saturday Cornell clash, the place was sold out, and many Penn students wound up sitting in the corners on the (hiss) St. Joe’s bandstand. In honor of the occasion, the band decided to march at halftime in a bandstand of unprecedented size.

Needless to say, when the papers hit the stands Saturday morning, it will be a long way back in the Quakers’ season. The Lions of Columbia had done the impossible, and Penn had fallen by a 70-66 count. The Cornell game was possibly the biggest letdown since Tom Dewey woke up to discover that he wasn’t President.

A Disappointing Finish

And the grand finale of the 1965 season? You guessed it — an end of the line game against Princeton up there, with the Ivy Trophy all polished up and waiting for the victor to carry it off. But Columbia? They didn’t have a chance, and most people planned on a walkaway from the Palestra Friday night.

But for the Saturday Cornell clash, the place was sold out, and many Penn students wound up sitting in the corners on the (hiss) St. Joe’s bandstation. In honor of the occasion, the band decided to march at halftime in a bandstation of unprecedented size.

Needless to say, when the papers hit the stands Saturday morning, it will be a long way back in the Quakers’ season. The Lions of Columbia had done the impossible, and Penn had fallen by a 70-66 count. The Cornell game was possibly the biggest letdown since Tom Dewey woke up to discover that he wasn’t President.

A Disappointing Finish

And the grand finale of the 1965 season? You guessed it — an end of the line game against Princeton up there, with the Ivy Trophy all polished up and waiting for the victor to carry it off. But Columbia? They didn’t have a chance, and most people planned on a walkaway from the Palestra Friday night. 