Children of grad school alumni get preference

By DAVID KAYE

The children of alumni of the University of Pennsylvania and graduate students receive special consideration if they apply for admission to any University of Pennsylvania graduate school.

"The University is committed to enrolling students who are likely to contribute to the intellectual life of the University," said University President Joseph Cooper.

"We believe that the children of alumni, because of their exposure to a university environment, are more likely to have the qualities that we seek in our students," Cooper added. "We are therefore giving them preference as candidates for admission."
End parties now

The first batch of the 1963-64 UPWG season has occurred, but it won’t be repeated until this afternoon when the Assembly meets to decide whether the proposal to eliminate political parties will be voted on next week or next semester.

Tom Brown, UPWG speaker and one of the top-ranking Red and Blue party captains in the government explained that he didn’t want to confuse the referendum on the abolition of parties with elections which would be held next week, and thus suggests next fall as a more acceptable date.

That’s his public reason.

Red and Blue was defeated decisively at the polls last month and the abolishment of parties so soon after that election will be too confusing, to that organization. What Brown and company would prefer is a way in which Red and Blue can withdraw gracefully from the University scene.

Joe Cooper, the independent who was elected President, has called the elimination of parties part of the “mandate” he received in his election. Cooper is not looking for a way to avoid hurting peoples’ feelings. He is looking for a way to rid this campus of parties.

Brown is an announced supporter of the movement to eliminate parties, but may be wary due to rumors that the referendum would be defeated this afternoon.

We cannot agree with Brown’s views. Red and Blue was soundly rejected in March, and that rejection was for the entire party system. To prolong the existence of parties will only relegate the issue to that of a constitutional proposal and remove the seriousness with which it must be considered.

Cooper’s interpretation of last month’s election is incorrect and it is up to the assembly to allow the voters to complete the job. If the assembly feels this way, they are certainly different from the voters. We think that voters would be confused if deciding upon new elected officers and the necessity of passing a referendum.

When the Assembly meets this afternoon, it should pass the constitutional amendment eliminating political parties and it is up to the Board of Visitors to see that the referendum is not defeated.

KILLING RECITAL

Sir: Those of our class who were fortunate enough to witness the extraordinary performance of Saturday night, April 20 in the Memorial Student Center, will have memories for a lifetime.

It was the second annual recital in the new auditorium. The excellence of the program was evident in the variety of the recitalists — most of whom are in the higher classes of the University.

Among the artistes that stood out especially were the pianists, the singer, and the organist. A few of the most outstanding recitalists were:

1. A pupil of BERTHOLD MARSHALL, will perform at the organ.
2. A pupil of M. CASTANEDA, will perform at the piano.
3. A pupil of DR. CHARLES HOSKINS, will perform at the piano.

I would like to thank you for the opportunity to perform in such a recital. I feel that I have learned a great deal from these recitalists, and I hope to continue my musical education in the future.

Sincerely,

J. SMITH

Students’ Recital

Sir: Last Friday’s “Vigil for King” (April 1) was a real job of some magnitude. The successful heightening of the assembly of Houston Hall at noon to pay respect to the murdered King, Montgomery, and all the black religious workers were laudable.

The program was very well organized and the order of the Negro workers, and the order of the Negro workers, who were there, was that of the assembly.

As far as we know, the King was a man of peace and a man of God. He was a man of love and a man of justice. He was a man of integrity and a man of courage.

We feel that it was a real job of some magnitude and that the program was very well organized.

Sincerely,

R. W. SMITH

Athletic Programs

Sir: It is a matter of fact that the University has a number of African American students. They are not only in the University, but also in the community. They are not just black Americans, but also American citizens.

We feel that it is important to recognize the contributions of these students to the community. We feel that the University has a responsibility to support these students and to provide them with the resources they need to succeed.

Sincerely,

J. SMITH

Marching Band

Sir: We are very pleased to announce that the UPWG Marching Band will perform at the next home football game. The band has been working hard to prepare for this performance, and we are confident that they will put on a great show.

We would like to thank the band members for their hard work and dedication. We hope you will all come out to support the band and enjoy the game.

Sincerely,

J. SMITH

Notes and Comment

By WILLIAM K. MANDEL

This is not a Jasper Leverkus year for performing arts in the University. The UPWG seasons of the last three years have been a series of disappointments, culminating in the current year’s "Vigil for King" performance, which was far from the level of excellence we had expected.

There is a feeling among the arts community that the UPWG is not serious about their functions, and this is reflected in the current year’s season.

This season has not been without its high points, however. The UPWG’s performance of "The Lion King" was a highlight of the season, and the UPWG’s production of "A Streetcar Named Desire" was a critical success.

We hope that the UPWG will continue to support the arts community and that they will work to improve the quality of their seasons in the future.

Sincerely,

W. K. MANDEL

The What Mon Kite
FROM THE VIETNAM COMMENCEMENT COMMITTEE OF THE UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA

Next week the first Vietnam Commencement in the United States will be held at the University. This will be a quiet convocation at which faculty, students and the friends of the University will honor and support those seniors and graduate students who will refuse induction into the Armed Forces. Similar assemblies will be held at more than a dozen other schools.

Our honored guest and principal speaker will be the Reverend William Sloan Coffin, Jr., Chaplain at Yale University, recently indicted by the federal government with Dr. Benno S. and others.

The assembly will be held in Irvine Auditorium on Thursday, April 25 at 8 p.m. All members of the University community will be welcome.

Golfers get double with Ivy opener

By R. L. LUCK

After a session interstate with head philosopher Dr. Ralph Heffernan, the Quakers went to Brown where they swept past the Bears 4-0. It marked the third straight season, the 13th and the Linee. From Brown to Bostom, and back to Madison. The Quakers both much better than their Ivy opener last September when Linn Wolf 10s double. They recorded only around to score on two wild pitches. Led off with a walk and scored on Ralph Heffernan's infield hit in the innings, giving up eight hits and luck pitcher. Linn went the full nine base on errors in the Engineer's year to Rutgers and Indiana U. (Pa.) their first Ivy competitors of the season. Considering the play of the injured golfers were worked on and Weatherly were well. Even the better team. No question aboui it, than they did last Wednesday when they beat Brown and 5-2 over Columbia. Perm took both matches easily, 6-1 and 6-4. The Quakers managed to hold both matches without any loses, when the Ivy tournament began. Two wild pitches, due to the season.
