earlier. Papadopoulos also said all former politicians now under detention will not be allowed to vote in a nationwide referendum Sept. 29.

With the Aug. 20 Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia. A China news agency said the situation continued to hurt China's international position.

Papadopoulos was speaking in a live interview in a TV, 1967, article which Jonathan Goldberg, a College of Arts and Sciences political scientist. He said that he would to the death of what he calls the "international community's concern for the issue of the century." Papadopoulos said that it is a complete pass-fail system for all its courses. The SCUE proposal will be submitted to the Assembly concerning the validity of the appointments of the steering committee of the University. It is an obvious method of selection of committee members. "It is very hard to decide how well the student is doing and we advise the student body."

It has been in practice ever since the faculty first proposed the system 1943. Governor Lester Maddox of Georgia announced Monday that he will actively fight the draft law passed by the U.S. House in the spring of last year. Figures for last year jumped to 2,560 students in the spring term. A survey of the faculty found 20 percent of the pass-fail students was comparable to the lazy."

That statement does not apply to the College for Women and Art 140A has brought the two-year-old controversy to a head. McCoubrey, chairman of the art department, remarked, "The meeting with Cooper was on the first exam of this semester."

"The Red ana Blue was a closed corporation," Cooper remarked when asked to comment on the student appointment to the University's student organizations. Sometimes I have to assume the initiative for these appointments. The appointments have to be approved by the Council Committees do not apply in this instance."

"He said the appointment of one man to do all the appointments is that kind of structure that permits one man to do all the appointments he can in his position. He should carry his responsibilities into the organization."

"The whole thing came as a complete surprise," Cooper said. "I think it's a great idea. I think it will work for a number of years."

"The appointments have to be approved by the Assembly, and that's all there is to it," Cooper asserted. Those who object to the appointments have been disapproved by the Legislation Council. "The appointments must be approved by the Assembly concerning the validity of the appointments," he said. The appointments have to be approved by the Legislation Council. That dispute was settled, as was another that arose when the policy of placing students in sections was adopted. The dean of the College, Dr. William Stephens, voiced a similar position.

"My complaint about Joe is that he never went to the department. Joe never went to the department," said Miss Zoia Coccagna, a College of Arts and Sciences student. "And I don't think that's the reason. I think it's a matter of attitude."

Miss Zoia also objected to the process of appointments. "I'd like to keep the process, I'd like to see it kept, but I don't think it's a matter of personal attitude."

In addition to his criticism concerning the method of selecting students, Cooper faced with a challenge within the UPSG concerning the validity of the appointments he has made.

Editor, The Daily Pennsylvanian, Tuesday, September 17, 1968

National

By United Press International

International

By Thedaily Press International

CHINA CLAIMS SOVIET AGRESSION

Communist China Monday formally presented a parcel of alleged Soviet violations of Chinese airspace along the China-Soviet border in connection with what U.S. government sources described as an incident when the Soviet Air Force fired a rocket shell at a Chinese plane near what is believed to be the border town of Tado. The Chinese claim was made in a statement read to the National Daily. The statement said the incident occurred during a recent reconnaissance, surveillance, and patrolling over Soviet China Aug. 20. "The rocket shell hit the plane," the statement said. "The plane was destroyed." The statement also said the Soviet Air Force fired another rocket shell at a Chinese plane during a similar incident Aug. 9. The statement said the incident occurred during a recent reconnaissance, surveillance, and patrolling over Soviet China Aug. 20. "The rocket shell hit the plane," the statement said. "The plane was destroyed." The statement also said the Soviet Air Force fired another rocket shell at a Chinese plane during a similar incident Aug. 9.

"The appointments have to be approved by the Assembly, and that's all there is to it," Cooper asserted. Those who object to the appointments have been disapproved by the Legislation Council. "The appointments must be approved by the Assembly concerning the validity of the appointments," he said. The appointments have to be approved by the Legislation Council. That dispute was settled, as was another that arose when the policy of placing students in sections was adopted. The dean of the College, Dr. William Stephens, voiced a similar position.

"My complaint about Joe is that he never went to the department. Joe never went to the department," said Miss Zoia Coccagna, a College of Arts and Sciences student. "And I don't think that's the reason. I think it's a matter of attitude."

Miss Zoia also objected to the process of appointments. "I'd like to keep the process, I'd like to see it kept, but I don't think it's a matter of personal attitude."

In addition to his criticism concerning the method of selecting students, Cooper faced with a challenge within the UPSG concerning the validity of the appointments he has made.

Editor, The Daily Pennsylvanian, Tuesday, September 17, 1968

China claims Soviet aggression

Communist China Monday formally presented a parcel of alleged Soviet violations of Chinese airspace along the China-Soviet border in connection with what U.S. government sources described as an incident when the Soviet Air Force fired a rocket shell at a Chinese plane near what is believed to be the border town of Tado. The Chinese claim was made in a statement read to the National Daily. The statement said the incident occurred during a recent reconnaissance, surveillance, and patrolling over Soviet China Aug. 20. "The rocket shell hit the plane," the statement said. "The plane was destroyed." The statement also said the Soviet Air Force fired another rocket shell at a Chinese plane during a similar incident Aug. 9. The statement said the incident occurred during a recent reconnaissance, surveillance, and patrolling over Soviet China Aug. 20. "The rocket shell hit the plane," the statement said. "The plane was destroyed." The statement also said the Soviet Air Force fired another rocket shell at a Chinese plane during a similar incident Aug. 9.

"The appointments have to be approved by the Assembly, and that's all there is to it," Cooper asserted. Those who object to the appointments have been disapproved by the Legislation Council. "The appointments must be approved by the Assembly concerning the validity of the appointments," he said. The appointments have to be approved by the Legislation Council. That dispute was settled, as was another that arose when the policy of placing students in sections was adopted. The dean of the College, Dr. William Stephens, voiced a similar position.

"My complaint about Joe is that he never went to the department. Joe never went to the department," said Miss Zoia Coccagna, a College of Arts and Sciences student. "And I don't think that's the reason. I think it's a matter of attitude."

Miss Zoia also objected to the process of appointments. "I'd like to keep the process, I'd like to see it kept, but I don't think it's a matter of personal attitude."

In addition to his criticism concerning the method of selecting students, Cooper faced with a challenge within the UPSG concerning the validity of the appointments he has made.

Editor, The Daily Pennsylvanian, Tuesday, September 17, 1968

China claims Soviet aggression

Communist China Monday formally presented a parcel of alleged Soviet violations of Chinese airspace along the China-Soviet border in connection with what U.S. government sources described as an incident when the Soviet Air Force fired a rocket shell at a Chinese plane near what is believed to be the border town of Tado. The Chinese claim was made in a statement read to the National Daily. The statement said the incident occurred during a recent reconnaissance, surveillance, and patrolling over Soviet China Aug. 20. "The rocket shell hit the plane," the statement said. "The plane was destroyed." The statement also said the Soviet Air Force fired another rocket shell at a Chinese plane during a similar incident Aug. 9. The statement said the incident occurred during a recent reconnaissance, surveillance, and patrolling over Soviet China Aug. 20. "The rocket shell hit the plane," the statement said. "The plane was destroyed." The statement also said the Soviet Air Force fired another rocket shell at a Chinese plane during a similar incident Aug. 9.
Ducking

The Mundheim report (delegation of Open Expression and Oppression) unearthed the Faculty of Mundheim University in the midst of major issues under the umbrella of being fair and open-minded. For some, this might sound like a no-brainer, but under what manner will this committee work?

The University should recognize that student dissent is a legitimate means of voicing disapproval and that student members should be afforded the opportunity to participate in university life on the same level as regular students. The University should actively encourage student involvement in policy-making and decision-making processes. The University should also provide opportunities for students to express their views and concerns through established channels. This will help to foster an environment of open expression and opposition to the status quo.

If the Commission report is adopted as official policy, the University will recognize the validity of student dissent and will engage in open discussion regarding the content of the dissent. The University will also endeavor to understand the perspectives of student dissent and will work to address their concerns. By doing so, the University will demonstrate its commitment to open expression and opposition to the status quo.

But if Mundheim university forges ahead and adopts the report as official policy, the University will likely be renouncing its time-honored responsibility to protect the political integrity of students. The University will be seen as a failure to maintain the balance between the freedom of expression and the need for a stable environment for students.

If the University does not act promptly and effectively, the students will lose faith in the University and may resort to further direct action. The University will then lose its ability to prevent such incidents in the future.

In conclusion, it is imperative that the University reject the report and adopt a policy that upholds student rights to freedom of expression while also ensuring a safe and stable environment for all students. The University must take this opportunity to demonstrate its commitment to open expression and opposition to the status quo.

The cost of inaction will be too high. The University cannot afford to lose the trust of its students. The University must act now to ensure that the rights of students are protected and that the University is seen as a responsible custodian of student rights.
SEPT. 28TH "THE TIME HAS COME..."
The Houston Hall Board
Proudly Presents

FIRST FOOTBALL SPECTACULAR!
SATURDAY SEPTEMBER 28
7:30 P.M. SHARP

THE CHAMBERS BROS.
TICKETS ON SALE - HOUSTON HALL INFO. DESK
FIRST COME, FIRST SERVED - BEGINNING TOMORROW, WEDS. SEPT. 18th, 9 A.M.
$4.00; $3.50; $3.00; $2.50
Penn Players hold open tryouts today

Penn Players will be holding open tryouts for all their fall productions today, Thursday, Sept. 19, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m., in Houston Hall. All undergraduates and graduates interested in participating in the annual fall musical production and/or one-acts are invited to try out.

Army field band, chorus here tonight

The United States Army Field Band and Chorus will present a concert Thursday at 8:15 p.m., in Houston Hall. The concert is free and open to the public.

Penn Network offers free lenses for soccer games

The Penn Network will offer free lenses for soccer games in Empire Realty, effective immediately.

Engineering dean's list

Here's a list of new members of the engineering dean's list. These students have been recognized for their academic excellence.

HBB: Update and open tryouts

The Houston Hall Band is looking for students to join their chorus and instrumental groups. Interested students should contact Mr. Thomas Brown, the band director, at 215-898-8800.

Campus events

- HBB: Update and open tryouts
  - The Houston Hall Band is looking for students to join their chorus and instrumental groups. Interested students should contact Mr. Thomas Brown, the band director, at 215-898-8800.

- Penn Players
  - Penn Players will be holding open tryouts for all their fall productions today, Thursday, Sept. 19, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m., in Houston Hall. All undergraduates and graduates interested in participating in the annual fall musical production and/or one-acts are invited to try out.

- Army field band, chorus here tonight
  - The United States Army Field Band and Chorus will present a concert Thursday at 8:15 p.m., in Houston Hall. The concert is free and open to the public.

- Penn Network offers free lenses for soccer games
  - The Penn Network will offer free lenses for soccer games in Empire Realty, effective immediately.

- Engineering dean's list
  - Here's a list of new members of the engineering dean's list. These students have been recognized for their academic excellence.

- HBB: Update and open tryouts
  - The Houston Hall Band is looking for students to join their chorus and instrumental groups. Interested students should contact Mr. Thomas Brown, the band director, at 215-898-8800.

- Penn Players
  - Penn Players will be holding open tryouts for all their fall productions today, Thursday, Sept. 19, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m., in Houston Hall. All undergraduates and graduates interested in participating in the annual fall musical production and/or one-acts are invited to try out.

- Army field band, chorus here tonight
  - The United States Army Field Band and Chorus will present a concert Thursday at 8:15 p.m., in Houston Hall. The concert is free and open to the public.

- Penn Network offers free lenses for soccer games
  - The Penn Network will offer free lenses for soccer games in Empire Realty, effective immediately.

- Engineering dean's list
  - Here's a list of new members of the engineering dean's list. These students have been recognized for their academic excellence.

- HBB: Update and open tryouts
  - The Houston Hall Band is looking for students to join their chorus and instrumental groups. Interested students should contact Mr. Thomas Brown, the band director, at 215-898-8800.

- Penn Players
  - Penn Players will be holding open tryouts for all their fall productions today, Thursday, Sept. 19, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m., in Houston Hall. All undergraduates and graduates interested in participating in the annual fall musical production and/or one-acts are invited to try out.

- Army field band, chorus here tonight
  - The United States Army Field Band and Chorus will present a concert Thursday at 8:15 p.m., in Houston Hall. The concert is free and open to the public.

- Penn Network offers free lenses for soccer games
  - The Penn Network will offer free lenses for soccer games in Empire Realty, effective immediately.

- Engineering dean's list
  - Here's a list of new members of the engineering dean's list. These students have been recognized for their academic excellence.
Girard, the only bank on Campus

We're in the heart of the Penn campus at 36th and Walnut across from the Van Pelt Library.

Girard Trust Bank is one of Philadelphia's best known financial institutions having served Penn students for six generations. We also have 61 offices throughout the city and suburbs.

In September, when classes start, there is always a rush of students to open checking and savings accounts. If you'd like to save time and enjoy express service in opening your account, mail in this coupon now.

---

To: Branch Administration Division
Girard Trust Bank
P.O. Box 7899
Philadelphia, Pa. 19101

I would like to arrange in advance for Express Service in opening the following type(s) of accounts:

☐ Personal (Special) Checking
☐ Regular Checking

No minimum balance

Individual name __________________________
Joint account with ________________________

☐ Savings Account

Individual name __________________________
Joint account with ________________________

My name __________________________
Street __________________________
Town __________________________
Tel. __________________________

GIRARD TRUST BANK
Philadelphia and Suburbs • Member FDIC
Cooper

(Continued from page 1)

equitably. Cooper insists on evaluat- ing the views of others, not merely assuming that student government action is correct. He surveyed, though, does not appeal and he prefers to let things go. There is no adequate representation for students in the faculty. People also are not involved. They often don't have the time, knowledge, or awareness of the data to make up the faculty. And Cooper does not feel he can agree to the system the University should adopt as a fair, equitable, reasonable. Doris MI 9-6684.

Borges to speak

Dr. John Ferry Borges, a resign- ing Professor of Architecture and Urban Planning, will address the Class of 1969 at commencement on June 26. The commencement exercises will be held at the Philadelphia Civic Center.

Events

(Continued from page 4)

undergraduate regulations, computer science, physics and math majors. For information: 215-951-5408, 3605-0432, 7-10 P.M.

College for Women dean's list

Penn comment

A Committed Magazine of University Expression

Committed. Committed because the editors feel that the times need, that the times demand, a publication that will focus attention on the controversial issues facing students and society today. A publication that will raise questions, that will challenge established points of view, that will critically examine anything from the university and education to the crisis in the cities and the suburbs.

We are equally committed to maintain Penn Comment as a magazine for creative expression: short stories, poetry, art, photography. People are needed to work with the editorial, artistic, literary, business, layout and photography staffs, as well as to do research into the various manifestations of university policy.
Fulbright application deadline approaches

The competition for United States government grants for graduate study abroad is now in its second phase. Students who are interested in the creative and performing arts are requested to submit complete applications by October 15; students who are majoring in the physical and social sciences, or the humanities and social sciences, should have applications in by October 20.

The Fulbright program, with three different types of grants, is designed to help the student's career prospects in every field, to further the understanding of our country by the students and to increase the understanding of the students by our citizens. The Fulbright program is supported by the United States government and the state governments through which it is administered. The Fulbright program provides an opportunity for students to study abroad and gain a better understanding of other cultures and of the world in general. The program is open to students who are majoring in any field, regardless of their academic background.

Fulbright application deadline approaches

The competition for United States government grants for graduate study abroad is now in its second phase. Students who are interested in the creative and performing arts are requested to submit complete applications by October 15; students who are majoring in the physical and social sciences, or the humanities and social sciences, should have applications in by October 20.

The Fulbright program, with three different types of grants, is designed to help the student's career prospects in every field, to further the understanding of our country by the students and to increase the understanding of the students by our citizens. The Fulbright program is supported by the United States government and the state governments through which it is administered. The Fulbright program provides an opportunity for students to study abroad and gain a better understanding of other cultures and of the world in general. The program is open to students who are majoring in any field, regardless of their academic background.

McCarthy workers don’t give up, reject Humphrey at state meeting

John Kiviat, a student in economics, submitted his name to the University's Fulbright committee. After the election, President Kiviat said he was pleased with the results. "I think the Fulbright program is a great way to give back to the country," he said. "It is a great way to give back to the country." The Fulbright program is supported by the United States government and the state governments through which it is administered. The Fulbright program provides an opportunity for students to study abroad and gain a better understanding of other cultures and of the world in general. The program is open to students who are majoring in any field, regardless of their academic background.

Princeton, 'apparently not drawing as many top students,' considers admission of coeds

The Office of Admissions has met with a number of top students who are considering Princeton for the fall of 1969. The office said that it is working hard to attract top students to Princeton. The office also said that it is working hard to attract top students to Princeton. The office also said that it is working hard to attract top students to Princeton.

The Admissions Office wants to increase the number of female students at Princeton. The office has set a goal of admitting at least 50% of the entering class as female. The office also said that it is working hard to attract top students to Princeton. The office also said that it is working hard to attract top students to Princeton.

The Admissions Office wants to increase the number of female students at Princeton. The office has set a goal of admitting at least 50% of the entering class as female. The office also said that it is working hard to attract top students to Princeton. The office also said that it is working hard to attract top students to Princeton.
One Harvard manager who is going to Mexico, with the US Olympic committee, says he will try to get kids interested enough to become managers. There is no money, no organization on campus to get into. There is no need to be a history buff or student of international relations to get the apathy bit in Penn athletics.

Joe Goodin, in charge of the group, said that Princeton and Harvard had more than 500 people interested in a few weeks. There are hundreds of people interested, but the numbers are not the same in other universities.

The history books don’t say everything. It goes, “Stomp, Yell, Raise Hell!” and even stately old Harvard has been a little enthusiasm. It is an easy price to pay. The real price is enthusiasm. It is a price that many people are willing to pay, but not all.

The kids in the band pay it and they don’t even have a field to practice on. The girls in the Quakerettes pay it and the basketball team pays it, and they are supported by the band. The real price is enthusiasm. It is a price that many people are willing to pay, but not all.

THE REAL PRICING

The real price is enthusiasm. It is an easy price to pay. The kids in the band pay it and they don’t even have a field to practice on. The basketball players pay it and the cheerleaders pay it, because that is what they have in their hearts.

The history books don’t say everything. It goes, “Stomp, Yell, Raise Hell!” and even stately old Harvard has been a little enthusiasm. It is an easy price to pay. The real price is enthusiasm. It is a price that many people are willing to pay, but not all.

The kids in the band pay it and they don’t even have a field to practice on. The girls in the Quakerettes pay it and the basketball team pays it, and they are supported by the band. The real price is enthusiasm. It is an easy price to pay. The real price is enthusiasm. It is a price that many people are willing to pay, but not all.

The real price is enthusiasm. It is an easy price to pay. The kids in the band pay it and they don’t even have a field to practice on. The basketball players pay it and the cheerleaders pay it, because that is what they have in their hearts.

The history books don’t say everything. It goes, “Stomp, Yell, Raise Hell!” and even stately old Harvard has been a little enthusiasm. It is an easy price to pay. The real price is enthusiasm. It is a price that many people are willing to pay, but not all.

The kids in the band pay it and they don’t even have a field to practice on. The girls in the Quakerettes pay it and the basketball team pays it, and they are supported by the band. The real price is enthusiasm. It is an easy price to pay. The real price is enthusiasm. It is a price that many people are willing to pay, but not all.

The real price is enthusiasm. It is an easy price to pay. The kids in the band pay it and they don’t even have a field to practice on. The basketball players pay it and the cheerleaders pay it, because that is what they have in their hearts.