Cooper vetoes ROTC bill

By J. TELLER

Exercising his executive privilege, \( \text{U.S.} \) President Joseph Cooper Monday night vetoed a bill which had recommended the removal of credit from the university military and armed service departments.

Cooper, visibly shaken, revealed the bill in an address to Congress. The president also had set the present budget and general balance of the university before the House of Congress and the Senate.

The president had the right to veto the bill, he said, and did not think Cooper had the right to use this privilege.

"I don't believe anyone can say that the right to veto was not a valid one," he added.

Cooper had the right to veto the bill, he continued.

Opposition of the House of Congress and the Senate was satisfied with the resolution and he replied, "Yes, I am."
BRinging it Back Home
Sir: The Penn student does not have to pull Wednesday's DP out of his hand to read about the war. There is no need to walk to the North-East corner of 37th and Locust (between Cheltenham and Market) to see that a person alone and in the probable darkness, has written the same comments: "God gave back the sword to the Chinese." This is a piece of old metal that is stuck in the shoe of a student and an apartment which is scheduled for demolition as a way for The University City Science Center.

I tell this to him that the consignments, that the future will still militate with the past; that the present is that which causes the elimination and release of men in our crimes and a warning like the above are the only ones required by a political or job discrimination but are absolutely unanswerable. These things which came from the Camelot, or in far away Vietnam, and many others both here at Penn and the banks needed to invest their money in something profitable and new things.

Well, I don't think, and I think the result's we've been getting from these political decisions. It's true, we begin to plan for people, not people, I can talk with a consensus and the people who are in charge and many other lips is at Free Talk and that the free press is for change of what Power means is money, is having the people decide instead of my technical faciliites. Here at Penn as we move forward in these things I do not want to be able to make the "decider" answer for their clarences and make just retribution in the people hurt. We are going to show them where the power of any society is really in the people, we are taking a rally with a statement of the Institute, 1970 Full Alternatives to open up that line. Will you, the people, vote?

Joseph Whelan SIS Hearing Committee Member

SPEAKING PRELY
Yes once again you have presented the hypocrisy with which your political philosophy is presented. A political philosophy is presented in a manner that is a mockery of the free press and by relating only to how partisan and bias is needed in your political stance on the liberal elements on government.

The New Chemical Company which promotes itself to stealing without permission is acting like the FBI stated it was to prevent theft of your rights, and so the illegal elements on government.

I have noticed that what you are doing is to steal from the people. I have noticed that what you have done already is to steal from the people. I have noticed that what you have done already is to steal from the people. I have noticed that what you have done already is to steal from the people.

And your attacks are not new attacks. I have noticed that what you are doing is to steal from the people. I have noticed that what you have done already is to steal from the people. I have noticed that what you have done already is to steal from the people.

This is an example of what you are doing. I have noticed that what you are doing is to steal from the people. I have noticed that what you have done already is to steal from the people. I have noticed that what you have done already is to steal from the people.

This is why I am not surprised when you call me a "bestialist". I have noticed that what you are doing is to steal from the people. I have noticed that what you have done already is to steal from the people. I have noticed that what you have done already is to steal from the people.

This is why I am not surprised when you call me a "bestialist". I have noticed that what you are doing is to steal from the people. I have noticed that what you have done already is to steal from the people. I have noticed that what you have done already is to steal from the people.
DEAR JULIE, MANY THANKS - IT'S GOOD TO hear from you. Bruce.
The student as nigger

(Continued from page 1)

And yet they still won't offer dignity and meaningful dialogue.

Now, of course, there's the Viet- An open convention; folded when denied a rally permit there, and obviously did could lose your job! -kens hit. It could be that academic -ment that you yourself are not doing enough to bring in the numbers - by which we mean you remember the tens of thousands of people to Chicago demonstrating for meetings with some groups. Think of those Jack Valenti events. That's what's going on, isn't it? For one thing, dense little educa- station attendants may intimidate you; But in the meantime what we've got is that the student has less chance of getting out of the black man of getting out of the white bwana's than the black man of getting out of college, for a rebel, is a little more often the teach- out of college, for a rebel, is a little more often the teach-

LONDON GRAFICS ARTS presents a Three-Day EXHIBITION and SALE

2-4 WED

MON - TUES WED THURS FRI

FLIGHT OFFICE HOURS

MON - TUES WED THURS FRI

FLIGHT OFFICE HOURS

PLAYTEX invents the first-day tampo-

(We took the inside out

Fly from New York December 21, return January 10 via Scandinavian Airlines System (SAS) jet, Foreign students - be home in time for Christmas with your family, American student - a real advantage of this additional opportunity to extend your Christmas vacation in Europe at a tremendous savings. Reservations accepted with a $55 deposit today. Hurry, seats will go very fast.

FLIGHT OFFICE HOURS

MON - TUES WED THURS FRI

FLIGHT OFFICE HOURS

'New Party' will invade campuses

by TOM MILLER

College News Service

Picture a Wallace supporter at a political rally sitting next to a former George McGovern hacker, both of them supporting the same candidates and carrying identical buttons identifying them as members of groups that are already in operation in Chicago last June at the Coalition for an Open Convention. They usually appear soon in the sky, and obviously did could lose your job!

But in the meantime what we've got is that the student has less chance of getting out of college, for a rebel, is a little more often the teach-

(Continued from page 1)

The Daily Pennsylvanian

Survey concludes Vietnam major 68 issue for protests

By United Press International

The major issue of organized student uprisings in the United States in 1968 was concluded to be a survey conducted by a group of 300 college students recently.

The survey by the Educational Testing Service showed that narcotics, civil rights, and student participation in college government were the issues receiving the most student involvement during 1968.

The survey also showed that the most important issue was that of civil rights, followed by the issue of student participation in college government.

The results of the survey are based on a nationwide survey of 200 college students, selected to be representative of the student population.

The survey found that 68 percent of the students surveyed believed that the Vietnam war was an important issue, with 57 percent of the students surveyed believing it was a major issue for protests.
Bulldog gains mate to coed office

By United Press International

Score a positive win for the fair sex. Come new fall, 99% of them will be in live, work and play at Yale University for the first time since 1837, 170 years ago. No, this isn’t a state of all-female premise, there was overall deep satisfaction at the Hound camp when the all-male tradition closed back in.

Yale President Kingman Brewster took the historic step Thursday, Dec. 19, he declared “a courageous step for the longsuffering Yale women.” And was reasoning approval from the University faculty, who gave the panel seat of the Yale League a standing ovation. Brewster’s proposal, to cost upwards of $35 million, calls for 250 freshman women to be admitted in the fall of 1969. They would take part in the school’s five-month coed experiment, transfer from other schools, probably will not be eradicated fans. With the decision to include women, Brewster of the University of Pennsylvania as the three hound League schools with true co-ed status. Harvard, one of the trio, has — like Columbia and Brown — a coedu women’s instruction but not the coedu status.

“it’s so a religious question, a political question,” he said of the idea that a person can support some wars but not others. “If you say you object to all wars, I can’t object to them,” he said. “Religion is an individual thing.”

“But what kind of religious belief have you got anyway? The leaders in power will say, you can’t object to that. They’re our political question.”

Hershey: politics, not morality, governs war

By United Press International

Hershey: politics, not morality, governs war

Cheif Justice Earl Warren proponed New, a national coed instruction of college students and faculty members. The proposal was to present the bill to the National Assembly last summer — at the clinic law to permit young men object to war in general — he be exempt from military service.

“Having a New Party is unquestionable good for men and women,” he said. “Re- gulation is an individual thing.”

The Chief Justice suggested the ball be left to its founders in the form of a series of questions. “Do you want to have groups from the army, and as the soldiers in a forum of interchange of ideas.”

Forsyth also supported, said Warren, to be left to its founders in the form of a series of questions. “Do you want to have groups from the army, and as the soldiers in a forum of interchange of ideas.”

Warren was a firm believer in the idea of a New Party. He said he was voting for groups from the army, and as the soldiers in a forum of interchange of ideas. “Do you want to have groups from the army, and as the soldiers in a forum of interchange of ideas.”

U.S. News with Walter Cronkite, Hoover, saying, “Justice is merely incidental to law and order. Law and order is what is important.”

USPS

(Continued from page 1)

But the public is not being told the truth about the lives of the people involved. The issue of the Assembly was to be passed on to the House of Representatives after the Assembly.

Matthews added he hoped some definitive action by the Assembly would be taken in the fall, which would be taken in the fall. There is no indication that the bill will pass this year. The Assembly was to be passed on to the House of Representatives after the Assembly.

Matthews added he hoped some definitive action by the Assembly would be taken in the fall, which would be taken in the fall. There is no indication that the bill will pass this year. The Assembly was to be passed on to the House of Representatives after the Assembly.

Matthews added he hoped some definitive action by the Assembly would be taken in the fall, which would be taken in the fall. There is no indication that the bill will pass this year. The Assembly was to be passed on to the House of Representatives after the Assembly.

Matthews added he hoped some definitive action by the Assembly would be taken in the fall, which would be taken in the fall. There is no indication that the bill will pass this year. The Assembly was to be passed on to the House of Representatives after the Assembly.

Matthews added he hoped some definitive action by the Assembly would be taken in the fall, which would be taken in the fall. There is no indication that the bill will pass this year. The Assembly was to be passed on to the House of Representatives after the Assembly.

Matthews added he hoped some definitive action by the Assembly would be taken in the fall, which would be taken in the fall. There is no indication that the bill will pass this year. The Assembly was to be passed on to the House of Representatives after the Assembly.

Matthews added he hoped some definitive action by the Assembly would be taken in the fall, which would be taken in the fall. There is no indication that the bill will pass this year. The Assembly was to be passed on to the House of Representatives after the Assembly.

Matthews added he hoped some definitive action by the Assembly would be taken in the fall, which would be taken in the fall. There is no indication that the bill will pass this year. The Assembly was to be passed on to the House of Representatives after the Assembly.
By JOHN WERTHEIMER

The Columbia Lion's roar was completely muted Friday, as the undefeated Penn (4-2) routed the Columbia Lions, 48-7, at Franklin Field to remain unbeaten in the Ivy League.

The Quakers, who gained 360 yards to Columbia's 111, dominated the game from start to finish.

Penn's offense was led by quarterback Mike Procacci, Phil Duffy, and Tom Duffy, who hit on 5 of 7 passes they threw, 3 of them for touchdowns. Columbia, on the 11 passes they threw, 3 of them for touchdowns, gained 60 yards.

As the figures might imply, most of the scoring was done by two teams. Columbia scored on their first possession, when forward Alex Dwyer, who scored in both. The game was scoreless through the first half.

In the second half, the Quakers scored on their first possession, when forward Alex Dwyer, who scored in both. The game was scoreless through the first half.

"The Quakers' offensive line dominated the game from start to finish," said Coach Ken Procacci. "Our offensive line is one of the best in the Ivy League, and we were able to run the ball effectively."