ACLU ATTACKS STUDENT PROTEST BILL

A bill pending in the Pennsylvania Senate, which provides penalty for student provosts unless they cite serious criticism from the local head of the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) Monday, Spencer Coxe, executive director of the Philadelphia chapter of the ACLU, asserted that the bill, under consider-

Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) Monday. Spencer Coxe, executive director of executive officials "to make the laws instead of administering them," the unrest rather than dissent itself.

lash." Warning that passage of this legislation will enable government burg, termed the bill penalizing students in Pennsylvania schools, colleges, student protesters drew sharp criticism from the local head of the American

Monday the election of Sanford Colb and Rona Zevin as co-chairmen. Colb, proposing changes in areas such as pass/fail and tenure and promotion deci-

Evaluation Committee. This year SCUE's efforts have been directed toward a College junior, is presently working on a report about class size, while Miss

DEADLINE FOR WOMEN'S JUDICIARY APPLICATIONS APPROACHES

SIRHAN BECOMES AGITATED AT RFK MURDER TRIAL

The 24-year-old Arab immigrant became angry and whispered furiously to

Heathrow Airport and began a round of talks with Prime Minister Harold

LOS ANGELES—Sirhan B. Sirhan became agitated for the first time at his murder trial Monday when the state produced three of his notebook fired from a distance of one inch.

GPH tells Senate

Penn is 'beacon'

Irvine group

The "cessation of demonstrations," meeting in Irvine national meeting, stressed that change in the educational systems was a victory for all parties.

"It was a very angry thing," said Worth, associate professor of communications, declared. "Nothing was the lesser. All sides won."

Irvine is a university where faculty members who expressed the sentiments during the demonstration which ended Sunday, was among several protests initiated in the city since the addressed the crowd of nearly 2,000 students, faculty members, administrators and black community leaders.

The others were the law, Jack Rusell, vice president for student affairs; (Continued on page 5)

"We have been dehumanized to a degree like the black community has been dehumanized. Our students have been oppressed," Russell declared.

"We've also called upon SDS to join this community," which, he said, built its "great student movement."

"In short," he added, "we're just four weeks away from the time we'll be right here at the University. Now in the future we say to students at the University of Pennsylvania: "Join us. We've got a movement for change."

Perhaps, one of the organizers of student support for the administration had "the single greatest internal and external change in the history of administration."

The demonstration," he emphasized, "at all times during the meeting had two objectives: end to violence, and determination of the University's role in the community. It was perhaps the single greatest demonstration of demonstration known."

"It was a very strange war," Sol Worth, associate professor of communications, declared. "Nothing was the lesser. All sides won."

"It hasn't stopped," he said, "because we've split from

The coaches brought students to the University Hall, said Russell the vice president for student affairs.

"We are looking forward to an expansion of the educational and training of".

"We also want to win this war," he said, "because it's a war against the administration, and this war is still in progress."

"We have been dehumanized to a degree like the black community has been dehumanized. Our students have been oppressed," Russell declared.

The demonstration," he emphasized, "at all times during the meeting had two objectives: end to violence, and determination of the University's role in the community. It was perhaps the single greatest demonstration of demonstration known."

"It was a very strange war," Sol Worth, associate professor of communications, declared. "Nothing was the lesser. All sides won."

"It hasn't stopped," he said, "because we've split from

The coaches brought students to the University Hall, said Russell the vice president for student affairs.

"We are looking forward to an expansion of the educational and training of".

"We also want to win this war," he said, "because it's a war against the administration, and this war is still in progress."

"We have been dehumanized to a degree like the black community has been dehumanized. Our students have been oppressed," Russell declared.
The College Hall sit-in is over. For all the "enemies" or "demons" on both sides, the trustees and demonstrators accepted what is only a beginning.

Ava's note: The following is the text of an agreement approved by the trustees Sunday evening. The text was printed in Monday's edition of the Daily Pennsylvania. In this agreement, use of the word "trustee" as used throughout to describe the trustees and the trustees of the University of Pennsylvania is intended to include members of the board of trustees, faculty, alumni, and students.

The University of Pennsylvania is an institution which exists for the purposes of educational and charitable objects. It is the mission of the University to provide a quality educational opportunity for the residents of the surrounding communities and to make available to the people of Philadelphia and the surrounding communities the benefits of education provided by the University.

The University of Pennsylvania is a public institution, with a mission to serve the public good. It is the University's duty to ensure that the University's resources are used in a manner that is consistent with the public interest.

The University of Pennsylvania, in consultation with the surrounding communities and the surrounding community, has developed a plan for the future development of the University that is in the best interest of the public and the University.

The University of Pennsylvania, in consultation with the surrounding communities and the surrounding community, has developed a plan for the future development of the University that is in the best interest of the public and the University.

The University of Pennsylvania, in consultation with the surrounding communities and the surrounding community, has developed a plan for the future development of the University that is in the best interest of the public and the University.

The University of Pennsylvania, in consultation with the surrounding communities and the surrounding community, has developed a plan for the future development of the University that is in the best interest of the public and the University.

The University of Pennsylvania, in consultation with the surrounding communities and the surrounding community, has developed a plan for the future development of the University that is in the best interest of the public and the University.

The University of Pennsylvania, in consultation with the surrounding communities and the surrounding community, has developed a plan for the future development of the University that is in the best interest of the public and the University.

The University of Pennsylvania, in consultation with the surrounding communities and the surrounding community, has developed a plan for the future development of the University that is in the best interest of the public and the University.

The University of Pennsylvania, in consultation with the surrounding communities and the surrounding community, has developed a plan for the future development of the University that is in the best interest of the public and the University.

The University of Pennsylvania, in consultation with the surrounding communities and the surrounding community, has developed a plan for the future development of the University that is in the best interest of the public and the University.
Candidates for Honor Awards

Students will vote today to select four Honor Men and three Honor Women.

Nominees are selected on the basis of scholarship, extra-curricular activities and a good disciplinary record. Nominees are selected by a faculty, administrative, student committee.

Voting will take place today from 9 A.M. till 4:30 P.M. in Houston and Heating Halls.
Here's one card from the establishment that no student will ever burn.
Tuesday, February 25, 1969

Irvine auditorium

(Continued from page 1)

A portion of the meeting concentrated on several bills that have drawn the attention of state lawmakers and students during the current legislative session.

The key bill under consideration was Senate Bill 217, sponsored by state senator from Philadelphia, David J. Lawrence, and introduced by the University's student body. If passed, the bill would mandate that a $150 fine and three months

...and not just Area III or Powelton. If we're going to say we support the black community, we must pledge that this faculty

...the resolution, but could not vote on

...the trustees.

...to endorse this

...to the Science Center's board of trustees. The trustees said they would apply pressure on the trustees to endorse this

...an exposure to Grumman operations which broadens

...with Lensine, from the

...the lenses, we

...are tired of using

...If you're tired of

...are your

...and not just Area III or Powelton. If we're going to say we support the black community, we must pledge that this faculty

...the trustees.

...to endorse this

...to the Science Center's board of trustees. The trustees said they would apply pressure on the trustees to endorse this

...an exposure to Grumman operations which broadens

...with Lensine, from the

...the lenses, we

...are tired of using

...If you're tired of using

...are your

...and not just Area III or Powelton. If we're going to say we support the black community, we must pledge that this faculty

...the trustees.

...to endorse this

...to the Science Center's board of trustees. The trustees said they would apply pressure on the trustees to endorse this

...an exposure to Grumman operations which broadens

...with Lensine, from the

...the lenses, we

...are tired of using

...If you're tired of using

...are your

...and not just Area III or Powelton. If we're going to say we support the black community, we must pledge that this faculty

...the trustees.

...to endorse this

...to the Science Center's board of trustees. The trustees said they would apply pressure on the trustees to endorse this

...an exposure to Grumman operations which broadens
Quaker title hopes revived as Cantabs top Princeton

By STEVE FADE

The Quakers closed out the season on a high note in a 6-5 victory over Yale on Saturday. They had defeated the Elis six games in a row, this one making eight in a row in fact, as the 15-12 season had been suspended. Where were the                       Quakers had scored 37 goals the previous Saturday, 15-12, a win that launched the Indians from Philadelphia back into the Ivy League race right.

Before the "Great Vanguard," Tom C off man repeated Cutter's feat.

![Image]

Red and Blue collegiate ski team to train for the World Cup races for the Widener Cup races with Princeton and Pennsylvania, 2, and Columbia, 0.

The Penn rugby team will be show-

![Image]

Williams, relay team only Heps scorers

![Image]

NOTICES

Tickets fortomorrow's basketball game against the Yale Bulldogs are on sale at the Collge Store today or throw the ticket windows at the Collge Store.

The Penn rugby team will be show-

![Image]

Williams, relay team only Heps scorers

![Image]