Faculty Senate will vote on Wilf proposal today

BY JOHN RILEY

In a complication that is occurring increasing rapidly, a new piece of legislation will be brought to the floor of the Senate this week. The proposal is to consider a bill that would allow for the possibility of immediate troop withdrawal, which has been met with some positive reactions from various Senate members.

The Senate will vote on the Wilf proposal today, which would allow for the possibility of immediate troop withdrawal. The proposal has been met with some positive reactions from various Senate members.

Six girls' dorms go 24-hour parietals

BY ANITA SAMA

Half of the University's 15 women's residences have abolished the curfew system in favor of a new system that allows for 24-hour visiting privileges. The new system has been implemented in six dormitories, and the residents have been well-received.

The new system, which allows for 24-hour visiting privileges, has been implemented in six dormitories and has been well-received by the residents. The system has been implemented in order to provide more flexibility and independence for the residents.

Students ask for peace memorial

Students have been calling for the establishment of a peace memorial on campus. The students have been frustrated with the lack of action on this issue, and they are hoping that the Senate will take action to address their concerns.

The students have been calling for the establishment of a peace memorial on campus. They are hoping that the Senate will take action to address their concerns.

The Daily Pennsylvania

BOB SHELDON

"A statue of the University's founder and placed in front of the library."

Inquirer and News sold by Annenberg

Cleveland - The Philadelphia Inquirer and News, the Philadelphia Daily News were sold Tuesday to Knight Ridder for $33 million. The announcement was made in a press release issued by the company.

The Inquirer and News will be sold to Knight Ridder for $33 million. The announcement was made in a press release issued by the company.

The Inquirer and News will be sold to Knight Ridder for $33 million. The announcement was made in a press release issued by the company.
Local

INSTITUTE TO HOLD CONFERENCE ON SOVIET, U.S. ROLES IN M.E.

The American Institute for Diplomacy and Foreign Affairs will hold a conference on Soviet and American policies in the Middle East on Thursday and Friday. The papers of the conference will be held at the American Institute. The theme of the conference will be on the topic of "Security and Stability in the Middle East". The conference will feature discussions on various aspects of the Middle East, including political and economic developments, security issues, and the role of the United States and Soviet Union in the region.

National

By United Press International

SECOND DAY OF G.E. STRIKE MARKED BY MINOR VIOLENCE.

NEW YORK -- Minor violence Thursday marked the second day of a massive strike against General Electric Co. plants across the nation that showed no signs of early settlement. The United Automobile Workers of America, a union known for its strength in early settlement, announced today that the strike would continue for at least two more weeks. The strike was called in response to a proposed contract that would allow the company to lay off workers and cut wages. The union and company have been in negotiations for several weeks, but there has been no resolution to the dispute.

By United Press International

GOLDA HEIR AND LABOR PARTY PAVED IN ISRAELI BALLOTING.

JERUSALEM -- Israelis elected a new parliament in the first nationwide election since the 1967 Mideast War, with the Labor Party winning a majority of the vote and forming a new government. The election was seen as a vote of confidence in the leadership of Prime Minister Golda Meir, who has been in power since the war.

International

By United Press International

CAMPUS CHEST FUND DRIVE

PLENTY OF PEOPLE TALK WILL YOU ACT?

This year's major project will enhance the educational facilities of our West Philadelphia neighbors.

WILL YOU GIVE?

HOUSTON HALL - DIETRICH HALL

Fresh fighting breaks out between Arabs and Lebanese Army troops near Israel.

MELEAST: Beirut received a severe blow Wednesday when fresh fighting broke out between Lebanese Army troops and Arab guerrillas in southern Lebanon near the border with Israel. The clashes erupted after an Israeli commando unit launched an attack on the Lebanese border town of Aley, situated in the Galilee. The Lebanese military claimed to have killed several guerrillas and captured some equipment during the fighting.

The semi-official Egyptian-Middle East News Agency (MENA) reported that one of the explosions that took place in Beirut had been directed against the American Embassy, which was targeted by terrorists in recent months.

Americans asked to write Congress about draft reform.

WASHINGTON -- Democratic reformers urged Americans Tuesday to write to their Congressmen in support of a bill that would overhaul the Selective Service System. The bill, which was introduced by Senator George McGovern, is aimed at ending the current draft system and replacing it with a voluntary system. The bill has been endorsed by various groups, including the American Civil Liberties Union and the National Organization for Women.

The bill would allow young men to serve in the military as volunteers, rather than being drafted. It would also provide educational opportunities for those who do not wish to serve in the military.

If the reformers prevail, they plan to propose an end to most student deferments on the ground that it is unfair to give priority to those wealthy enough to attend college, while requiring the less privileged to serve in the military.

The lottery plan is assured of easy house passage. Despite the strong feelings against it, the plan is expected to pass with ease. The lottery plan is favored by Republicans and supported by many Democrats, including the House Appropriations Committee, which recently approved a version of the bill that includes the lottery.

This year's major project will enhance the educational facilities of our West Philadelphia neighbors.
To preserve October 15

The Faculty Senate will meet behind closed doors today to resolve its position vis à vis the University's role in the upcoming antiwar demonstration. A 30-minute special session of the Faculty Senate was recommended immediately after the Faculty Senate meeting yesterday morning to discuss the vote and the flag incident.

The Senate's role is clear: Whether or not to take a stand against the war is a political university. Anything less would necessarily be weaker than the powerful antiwar statement adopted by the Assembly on the fifteenth.

We ask them to judge the Wilf proposals appropriately for consideration at this time.

So bleed a little...

Many groups on this campus praise the merits of community service, usually defined in terms of increasing the physical and mental well-being of residents in and around the University.

One group on this campus has found a rather novel way of being of use to members of the community: It helps operate a volunteer student blood donors' bank, in conjunction with the University Hospital. Any student who donates a pint of blood is guaranteed unlimited use of blood for himself and his family if the need should arise.

The club is conducting a "Blood-0" next Monday in Houston Hall. Giving a pint of blood is not too bad, say some, nor filling a pint of blood will insure that the hospital has enough to provide for any emergency.

A better opportunity for service -- and insurance -- hardly exists.

Letters to the editor

I can't understand those Americans who are deeply concerned over our involvement in Vietnam, who have turned over the matter to their children. They are just too shortsighted. We have witnessed more bloodshed in the U.S. than in Vietnam.

I have never seen a group of people that has been more sincere than the antiwar movement. But the people who are against the war are not doing any harm to the war machine. If they stopped doing these petitions, the war machine would continue to exist.

I hope the flag on campus will always be flown at half-staff as a reminder of this.

Bill Statin
Wharton Grad.

THE FLAG

Day 1: I have no evidence that the papers used to break the flag were cut by students on Thursday night. I do know that the flag was played or flown at half-mast.

The anti-war resolution is the response of the faculty to external intrusions on University autonomy and the consequent restrictions and disqualifications of our activities. Pressure of the resolution would in no way affect the autonomy of the faculty, the freedom and status of individual faculty members.

We urge you to support this resolution and to persuade other faculty members to support this resolution.

R.E. Davies

THE DIVISION OF RECREATION AND INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS

ANNOUNCES

Additional Weekend Hours

For

Fulltime Undergraduate And Graduate Students
Fulltime Faculty And Administrators
And Their Immediate Families

Saturdays - 10:00 AM to 5:00 PM

Sundays - 2:00 PM to 10:00 PM

GIMBEL GYM & SHEERR POOL

(MEN AND WOMEN)

- BASKETBALL
- VOLLEYBALL
- SOQUASH (SINGLES & DOUBLES)
- HANDBALL
- EXERCISE ROOM
- STEAM ROOM & HOT ROOM
- BILLIARDS
- SWIMMING

HUTCHINSON GYM

(MEN ONLY)

- BASKETBALL
- VOLLEYBALL
- GYMNASIUM APPARATUS
- WEIGHT TRAINING ROOM
- SOQUASH
- STEAM ROOM

PLAN TO ATTEND - BRING THE FAMILY - HAVE FUN
Soviet And American Policies In the United Nations .

A Twenty-Five Year Perspective

FIRST SESSION: THURSDAY, OCTOBER 30, 9:30 - 12:00
Diplomatic and Political Behavior

SECOND SESSION: THURSDAY, OCTOBER 30, 2:00 - 4:15
Decolonization

THIRD SESSION: FRIDAY, OCTOBER 31, 9:30 - 12:00
Economic Development

FOURTH SESSION: FRIDAY, OCTOBER 31, 2:00 - 4:15
Peacekeeping and The Rule Of Law

SPONSORED BY
THE RENA AND ANGELIUS ANSPACH INSTITUTE FOR DIPLOMACY AND FOREIGN AFFAIRS

Open To The Public
All Sessions Will Be Held At Annenberg Auditorium

STATIONS OF G.S.A.S. CANDIDATES FOR UNIV. COUNCIL

ALEX DYBB'S POSITION

I am running for University Council to give graduate students the right to have their voices heard. There is much that can be accomplished if we can only speak up and express our views. I am especially concerned about the ability of graduate students to participate in the decision-making processes of the University. I believe that the graduate student has a right to be heard, and that we should have a voice in the decisions that affect our lives.

PROGRAM OF JAG GULATI

The United States and the world are in a period of deep crisis. This is not something that will go away in the near future. It is vital that we take a stance against the war and the political and social injustices that are causing it. As a member of the University Council, I will work to make sure that the voices of graduate students are heard in the decision-making process.

Statement of Principles

1. CONSERVATION OF THE WAR: I oppose the Administration's policy of political maneuvering while perpetuating the war and supporting interventions abroad from Vietnam.

2. MILITARY AND DRAFT: I believe that the intensification of our military efforts, are not in the public interest of the University. I'm against the military draft and any efforts to expand it.

3. BLACK STUDENTS: I support the right to be heard and to be represented in the decision-making processes of the University.

4. GRADUATE STUDENTS' RIGHTS: We support the right to be heard and the right to be represented in the decision-making processes of the University.

The Daily Pennsylvania
Women skippers sail to regatta win

The Women's sailing team took its first place last Saturday on the Schuylkill in the Fall Eliminations Regatta of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Association. The Penn team, skippered by crewman --veteran --Louise Penn, won the gold medal over Princeton, 1 point ahead of second place Textile. The Quakers' 12 points also were enough to stay afloat in the collegiate regatta, as they were only 4 points ahead of Princeton last Saturday on the Schuylkill in the Fall Eliminations Regatta of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Association.

Two weeks ago, the Penn team went down to defeat, 1 point behind Princeton. But this week, the Quakers returned the favor and beat Princeton, 1 point ahead of the Tigers. The Quakers' 12 points also were enough to stay afloat in the collegiate regatta, as they were only 4 points ahead of Princeton last Saturday on the Schuylkill in the Fall Eliminations Regatta of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Association.

The Quakers' 12 points also were enough to stay afloat in the collegiate regatta, as they were only 4 points ahead of Princeton last Saturday on the Schuylkill in the Fall Eliminations Regatta of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Association. The Quakers' 12 points also were enough to stay afloat in the collegiate regatta, as they were only 4 points ahead of Princeton last Saturday on the Schuylkill in the Fall Eliminations Regatta of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Association.

The Quakers' 12 points also were enough to stay afloat in the collegiate regatta, as they were only 4 points ahead of Princeton last Saturday on the Schuylkill in the Fall Eliminations Regatta of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Association. The Quakers' 12 points also were enough to stay afloat in the collegiate regatta, as they were only 4 points ahead of Princeton last Saturday on the Schuylkill in the Fall Eliminations Regatta of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Association.

The Quakers' 12 points also were enough to stay afloat in the collegiate regatta, as they were only 4 points ahead of Princeton last Saturday on the Schuylkill in the Fall Eliminations Regatta of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Association. The Quakers' 12 points also were enough to stay afloat in the collegiate regatta, as they were only 4 points ahead of Princeton last Saturday on the Schuylkill in the Fall Eliminations Regatta of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Association.

The Quakers' 12 points also were enough to stay afloat in the collegiate regatta, as they were only 4 points ahead of Princeton last Saturday on the Schuylkill in the Fall Eliminations Regatta of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Association. The Quakers' 12 points also were enough to stay afloat in the collegiate regatta, as they were only 4 points ahead of Princeton last Saturday on the Schuylkill in the Fall Eliminations Regatta of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Association.

The Quakers' 12 points also were enough to stay afloat in the collegiate regatta, as they were only 4 points ahead of Princeton last Saturday on the Schuylkill in the Fall Eliminations Regatta of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Association. The Quakers' 12 points also were enough to stay afloat in the collegiate regatta, as they were only 4 points ahead of Princeton last Saturday on the Schuylkill in the Fall Eliminations Regatta of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Association.

The Quakers' 12 points also were enough to stay afloat in the collegiate regatta, as they were only 4 points ahead of Princeton last Saturday on the Schuylkill in the Fall Eliminations Regatta of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Association.

The Quakers' 12 points also were enough to stay afloat in the collegiate regatta, as they were only 4 points ahead of Princeton last Saturday on the Schuylkill in the Fall Eliminations Regatta of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Association. The Quakers' 12 points also were enough to stay afloat in the collegiate regatta, as they were only 4 points ahead of Princeton last Saturday on the Schuylkill in the Fall Eliminations Regatta of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Association. The Quakers' 12 points also were enough to stay afloat in the collegiate regatta, as they were only 4 points ahead of Princeton last Saturday on the Schuylkill in the Fall Eliminations Regatta of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Association. The Quakers' 12 points also were enough to stay afloat in the collegiate regatta, as they were only 4 points ahead of Princeton last Saturday on the Schuylkill in the Fall Eliminations Regatta of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Association. The Quakers' 12 points also were enough to stay afloat in the collegiate regatta, as they were only 4 points ahead of Princeton last Saturday on the Schuylkill in the Fall Eliminations Regatta of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Association. The Quakers' 12 points also were enough to stay afloat in the collegiate regatta, as they were only 4 points ahead of Princeton last Saturday on the Schuylkill in the Fall Eliminations Regatta of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Association. The Quakers' 12 points also were enough to stay afloat in the collegiate regatta, as they were only 4 points ahead of Princeton last Saturday on the Schuylkill in the Fall Eliminations Regatta of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Association. The Quakers' 12 points also were enough to stay afloat in the collegiate regatta, as they were only 4 points ahead of Princeton last Saturday on the Schuylkill in the Fall Eliminations Regatta of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Association. The Quakers' 12 points also were enough to stay afloat in the collegiate regatta, as they were only 4 points ahead of Princeton last Saturday on the Schuylkill in the Fall Eliminations Regatta of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Association. The Quakers' 12 points also were enough to stay afloat in the collegiate regatta, as they were only 4 points ahead of Princeton last Saturday on the Schuylkill in the Fall Eliminations Regatta of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Association. The Quakers' 12 points also were enough to stay afloat in the collegiate regatta, as they were only 4 points ahead of Princeton last Saturday on the Schuylkill in the Fall Eliminations Regatta of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Association. The Quakers' 12 points also were enough to stay afloat in the collegiate regatta, as they were only 4 points ahead of Princeton last Saturday on the Schuylkill in the Fall Eliminations Regatta of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Association. The Quakers' 12 points also were enough to stay afloat in the collegiate regatta, as they were only 4 points ahead of Princeton last Saturday on the Schuylkill in the Fall Eliminations Regatta of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Association. The Quakers' 12 points also were enough to stay afloat in the collegiate regatta, as they were only 4 points ahead of Princeton last Saturday on the Schuylkill in the Fall Eliminations Regatta of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Association. The Quakers' 12 points also were enough to stay afloat in the collegiate regatta, as they were only 4 points ahead of Princeton last Saturday on the Schuylkill in the Fall Eliminations Regatta of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Association. The Quakers' 12 points also were enough to stay afloat in the collegiate regatta, as they were only 4 points ahead of Princeton last Saturday on the Schuylkill in the Fall Eliminations Regatta of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Association. The Quakers' 12 points also were enough to stay afloat in the collegiate regatta, as they were only 4 points ahead of Princeton last Saturday on the Schuylkill in the Fall Eliminations Regatta of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Association. The Quakers' 12 points also were enough to stay afloat in the collegiate regatta, as they were only 4 points ahead of Princeton last Saturday on the Schuylkill in the Fall Eliminations Regatta of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Association. The Quakers' 12 points also were enough to stay afloat in the collegiate regatta, as they were only 4 points ahead of Princeton last Saturday on the Schuylkill in the Fall Eliminations Regatta of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Association. The Quakers' 12 points also were enough to stay afloat in the collegiate regatta, as they were only 4 points ahead of Princeton last Saturday on the Schuylkill in the Fall Eliminations Regatta of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Association. The Quakers' 12 points also were enough to stay afloat in the collegiate regatta, as they were only 4 points ahead of Princeton last Saturday on the Schuylkill in the Fall Eliminations Regatta of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Association. The Quakers' 12 points also were enough to stay afloat in the collegiate regatta, as they were only 4 points ahead of Princeton last Saturday on the Schuylkill in the Fall Eliminations Regatta of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Association. The Quakers' 12 points also were enough to stay afloat in the collegiate regatta, as they were only 4 points ahead of Princeton last Saturday on the Schuylkill in the Fall Eliminations Regatta of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Association. The Quakers' 12 points also were enough to stay afloat in the collegiate regatta, as they were only 4 points ahead of Princeton last Saturday on the Schuylkill in the Fall Eliminations Regatta of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Association. The Quakers' 12 points also were enough to stay afloat in the collegiate regatta, as they were only 4 points ahead of Princeton last Saturday on the Schuylkill in the Fall Eliminations Regatta of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Association. The Quakers' 12 points also were enough to stay afloat in the collegiate regatta, as they were only 4 points ahead of Princeton last Saturday on the Schuylkill in the Fall Eliminations Regatta of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Association. The Quakers' 12 points also were enough to stay afloat in the collegiate regatta, as they were only 4 points ahead of Princeton last Saturday on the Schuylkill in the Fall Eliminations Regatta of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Association.