Committee probes process of selecting University president

The student government's Extra-Academic Affairs Committee last night considered, and then tabled until last night's meeting, a proposal to change the procedure for selecting the next University president.

According to Cathy Riegleman, Mark Rindner, Gary Mullin and Howie Schoenfeld, four of the members of the committee, David Harris, was not pictured.

A poet eyes the fast

BY JOHN RILEY

Thirty-four people all day, 20 and 30 listening to the line, hard bangin', jagged jazz, easy and out. Two hours behind the poet's quiet contemplation. With no luck.

Today dialect University people, more or less, enter the University, for this week in conjunction with the Vietnam war protests, student voices are being heard in a new and unaccustomed context. The inflation of student exchange, the burst of student energies, now are becoming a national voice. The student voice, workshops and quanities imprison the era, has added a new, unaccustomed dimension to the intellectual atmosphere of the University, for the first time.

I've just written the first of a series of the selection committee's recommendations, and have concluded that the process is being handled in a general sense.

Cathy Riegleman, Mark Rindner, Gary Mullin and Howie Schoenfeld (left to right), four of the members of the newly-established Student Committee to Select a President, are home to a meeting of the Student government's Extra-Academic Affairs Committee Tuesday. The fifth student member of the president-elect committee, David Harris, is not pictured.

Black teachers told to expect harassment for union activities

BY JON RIEGER

At an emergency meeting in Bronx before last night, the National Education Association New York Teachers' Section condemned the actions of black teachers in the city public schools.

The association addressed a meeting called by Committee for Peace in Vietnam, a community group which has gained a major role in the recent controversy in West Philadelphia High School over the proposed transfer of a white school teacher.

The teachers demonstrated to follow through with the city's major reform programs and to publicize the teachers involved with the union are major students and students of West Philadelphia.

Suggestion for an improved educational policy was also made by the support of the administration to the teachers in the transfer of a white school teacher.

The teachers involved with the city's major reform programs and the teachers involved in the transfer of a white school teacher.

At the meeting, which was attended by about 25 persons, several educators, including the teachers of the city public schools, were present. The teachers demonstrated to follow through with the city's major reform programs and to publicize the teachers involved with the union are major students and students of West Philadelphia.

Suggestions for an improved educational policy were also made by the support of the administration to the teachers in the transfer of a white school teacher.

The teachers involved with the city's major reform programs and the teachers involved in the transfer of a white school teacher.

At the meeting, which was attended by about 25 persons, several educators, including the teachers of the city public schools, were present. The teachers demonstrated to follow through with the city's major reform programs and to publicize the teachers involved with the union are major students and students of West Philadelphia.

Suggestions for an improved educational policy were also made by the support of the administration to the teachers in the transfer of a white school teacher.

At the meeting, which was attended by about 25 persons, several educators, including the teachers of the city public schools, were present. The teachers demonstrated to follow through with the city's major reform programs and to publicize the teachers involved with the union are major students and students of West Philadelphia.

Suggestions for an improved educational policy were also made by the support of the administration to the teachers in the transfer of a white school teacher.

At the meeting, which was attended by about 25 persons, several educators, including the teachers of the city public schools, were present. The teachers demonstrated to follow through with the city's major reform programs and to publicize the teachers involved with the union are major students and students of West Philadelphia.

Suggestions for an improved educational policy were also made by the support of the administration to the teachers in the transfer of a white school teacher.
Veterans’ rallies back Nixon

By United Press International

American-born veterans are working with traditional conservative forces to aid the nation's slain in their capital, according to American-born veterans. Thousands of Americans turned out for parade and coronation-themed events to honor the fallen heroes. The nation's only living five-star general, Omar N. Bradley, said in a speech to the crowd that the event was a gesture of support for the nation's heroes.

The parade will feature a wide assortment of units, from the nation's armed forces to local community groups. The highlight of the event will be the appearance of President Nixon himself, who will lay a wreath at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

National Moratorium

The antiwar movement, which has been growing in strength and influence, has called for a national moratorium on the Vietnam War. The moratorium, which is expected to draw millions of participants, will be held on Sunday, November 13th. The organizers are confident that the New Mobilization for a New Agenda (NMA) will succeed in their mission to bring an end to the war.

United Nations

The United Nations General Assembly is scheduled to vote on admitting Communist China to the UN. The vote is expected to be close, with China needing at least 76 votes to win.

Vietnam

President Nixon is visiting Vietnam for the first time as president. The trip is expected to be a significant moment in the Vietnam War, as it will mark the first official visit of a U.S. president to the country since the beginning of the conflict.

Further reading

For more information, please visit the following websites:

- National Moratorium
- United Nations
- Vietnam War
Fraternities: How much VD is there on campus? A major concern?

Question: How much VD is there on campus? A major concern?

Answer: Yes, it is a concern, as VD is a serious and widespread issue. It's important for students to be aware of the risks and take preventive measures to protect their health.

VD is a sexually transmitted infection caused by the bacterium Neisseria gonorrhoeae. It can affect both men and women and is transmitted through sexual contact.

Causes and Symptoms:
- VD causes a range of symptoms, including:
  - Men: Red, painful urethra (painful urination), urgency, and frequency
  - Women: Discharge, pain during urination, bleeding after sex

Preventive Measures:
- Use condoms consistently and correctly
- Get tested regularly
- Practice safe sex

Treatment:
- Effective treatment is available. It is important to complete the full course of antibiotics prescribed by a healthcare provider to prevent complications.

Remember, if you or someone you know is affected by VD, it's important to seek treatment and report it to the appropriate authorities to help prevent the spread of the disease.
Letters to the editor

The University of Pennsylvania has repeatedly taken political stands regarding its foreign policy. As an example, the University's Board of Trustees was considered by many to be the only institution of higher learning to have endorsed anti-war policies. This is important because the University's actions can set a precedent for other institutions and the broader society.

The following question should be asked: How does the University have the power to make statements about political issues?

Pro-war tradition at Penn

Pro-war sentiment has been a part of the University's history. For example, the University's Board of Trustees has a long history of supporting the war effort. This is significant because it shows that the University's political decisions can have a profound impact on society.

The University Council itself, although it has a less direct role than the Board of Trustees, has also played a significant role in supporting the war effort. For instance, the University Council has approved the use of anti-war pamphlets on campus, which has caused controversy among some students.

The true issue facing the University is whether it should speak out on political issues or remain neutral. Regardless of the decision, the University must consider the potential consequences of its actions.

The University's political decisions can have a significant impact on society. As a result, it is important that the University carefully consider the potential consequences of its actions before making any decisions.

Pro-war tradition at Penn

Pro-war sentiment has been a part of the University's history. For example, the University's Board of Trustees has a long history of supporting the war effort. This is significant because it shows that the University's political decisions can have a profound impact on society.

The University Council itself, although it has a less direct role than the Board of Trustees, has also played a significant role in supporting the war effort. For instance, the University Council has approved the use of anti-war pamphlets on campus, which has caused controversy among some students.

The true issue facing the University is whether it should speak out on political issues or remain neutral. Regardless of the decision, the University must consider the potential consequences of its actions.

The University's political decisions can have a significant impact on society. As a result, it is important that the University carefully consider the potential consequences of its actions before making any decisions.

Pro-war tradition at Penn

Pro-war sentiment has been a part of the University's history. For example, the University's Board of Trustees has a long history of supporting the war effort. This is significant because it shows that the University's political decisions can have a profound impact on society.

The University Council itself, although it has a less direct role than the Board of Trustees, has also played a significant role in supporting the war effort. For instance, the University Council has approved the use of anti-war pamphlets on campus, which has caused controversy among some students.

The true issue facing the University is whether it should speak out on political issues or remain neutral. Regardless of the decision, the University must consider the potential consequences of its actions.

The University's political decisions can have a significant impact on society. As a result, it is important that the University carefully consider the potential consequences of its actions before making any decisions.
Pro-war tradition

(Continued from page 4)

Johnson knows best." Today they say, "We have got to win, and now.

Today they say, "We have got to win, and now.

We are faced with a choice. On the one hand there is a possibility that institutional action can help achieve the immediate goals of pushing the war into a position toward stabilization. On the other hand, there is the possibility of potential institutional action that could shape the future outside of the university, as well as the clear risk that representative elements within the university might use such actions as a pretext when the balance of power shifts in their favor. If our country's actions in Vietnam are acceptable, then we should allow institutional interventions into this conflict. But if not, the university should take a stand. If the moderate position favors the student's right to learn, then our country's actions in Vietnam are acceptable. If our country's actions in Vietnam are unacceptable, then we should not allow institutional interventions into this conflict.

Council

(Continued from page 1)

The resolution, said the Misses, was to be followed by the Council, and called on her to make an apology about the substance.

The official mustn't let the issue in the public places. She has to keep the peace within the institution. The Council agreed to consider the proposal at a special meeting on May 3, which will consider this matter. If the proposal is approved, the Council will meet.

In memory of the victims of the Vietnam War, a proposal of the Council's

The first T.S. was to enable participants to avoid conflict with the march. The second T.S. was to enable participants to avoid conflict with the march. The second T.S. was to enable participants to avoid conflict with the march. The second T.S. was to enable participants to avoid conflict with the march.

The Daily Pennsylvania!!

The first T.S. was to enable participants to avoid conflict with the march. The second T.S. was to enable participants to avoid conflict with the march. The second T.S. was to enable participants to avoid conflict with the march. The second T.S. was to enable participants to avoid conflict with the march.

The Daily Pennsylvania!!

The first T.S. was to enable participants to avoid conflict with the march. The second T.S. was to enable participants to avoid conflict with the march. The second T.S. was to enable participants to avoid conflict with the march. The second T.S. was to enable participants to avoid conflict with the march.

The Daily Pennsylvania!!

The first T.S. was to enable participants to avoid conflict with the march. The second T.S. was to enable participants to avoid conflict with the march. The second T.S. was to enable participants to avoid conflict with the march. The second T.S. was to enable participants to avoid conflict with the march.

The Daily Pennsylvania!!

The first T.S. was to enable participants to avoid conflict with the march. The second T.S. was to enable participants to avoid conflict with the march. The second T.S. was to enable participants to avoid conflict with the march. The second T.S. was to enable participants to avoid conflict with the march.

The Daily Pennsylvania!!

The first T.S. was to enable participants to avoid conflict with the march. The second T.S. was to enable participants to avoid conflict with the march. The second T.S. was to enable participants to avoid conflict with the march. The second T.S. was to enable participants to avoid conflict with the march.
You know how it is, the way we sporcswriters trip out on reality. We get hung up of a Bruno Vogt shot. But no whistle.

get carried away and pick apart our all-too-convenient scapegoats, but there

Dartmouth, against Princeton, against Harvard. Once behind, the team catch-

Goalie Dan Beigel was wearing a gray, "46" tee-shirt; it didn't contrast with his

In the hope that this might be the Austrian's final request, the refs agreed,

Oh, let's set the scene a little better: Vogelsinger is an orphan, born in

Come to

The Frisbees which dominated

Informal athletics is not limited
to weekend activities; indoor

If you had to pick off the most frustrating player of Penn, it’s a fairly

The Quaker ground game hasn't been developed because

The Quaker ground game hasn't been developed because

One reason the Quaker ground
game couldn't be established at Yale was that Penn was running an un-

The Penn team has this habit of getting behind. It happened against

One will be able to thrill to scenes like "Wet and Wild," "Oh Calcutta", and "Chain Reaction", as Penn

It's the only sport without a score, but you need a card to fill the players, or ensembles.

It's really an odd feeling, to stroll back across the "West End," "West Columbus," and "West Monmouth" as Penn's female (and a couple of male) real witnesses do their thing to the sounds of the大学生es and St Petersburg-On-The-Dept.

The Pennguinettes will be performing their annual aquatic spectacular this Friday at 8 P.M. and Saturday 11 A.M. at the 1-1 Pool at the Hutchinson Gym. Come on down and enjoy.

10 FJ40, Southern.

Informal athletics is not limited to weekend activities; indoor

Was there one? Did it happen?

The Quaker ground game hasn't been developed because

The only way for me to play if I ever play like George Burrell was, if you make the nuance of "pseudomutual" a choice, I'd comment on your school in a matter of fact I'd have to get bigger and funny and far from my sense of things.

The Frisbees which dominated

The Daily Pennsylvanian needs Advertising Sale-men. For

Roommate for four bedroom Townhouse near Art

The Frisbees which dominated

Penn's Gimbel Gym appears to

The only sport without a score, but you need a card to fill the players, or ensembles.

It is the only sport without a score, but you need a card to fill the players, or ensembles.

Penn's Gimbel Gym appears to

If you had to pick off the most frustrating player of Penn, it’s a fairly

The Quaker ground game hasn't been developed because

The only sport without a score, but you need a card to fill

The only sport without a score, but you need a card to fill

You know how it is, the way we sporcswriters trip out on reality. We get hung get carried away and pick apart our all-too-convenient scapegoats, but there

Dartmouth, against Princeton, against Harvard. Once behind, the team catch-

Goalie Dan Beigel was wearing a gray, "46" tee-shirt; it didn't contrast with his

In the hope that this might be the Austrian's final request, the refs agreed,

Oh, let's set the scene a little better: Vogelsinger is an orphan, born in

Come to

The Frisbees which dominated

Informal athletics is not limited
to weekend activities; indoor

If you had to pick off the most frustrating player of Penn, it’s a fairly

The Quaker ground game hasn't been developed because

The Quaker ground game hasn't been developed because

One reason the Quaker ground
game couldn't be established at Yale was that Penn was running an un-

The Penn team has this habit of getting behind. It happened against

One will be able to thrill to scenes like "Wet and Wild," "Oh Calcutta", and "Chain Reaction", as Penn