Black studies is ruled out as fall semester offering

By JOAN RIEBER

Any chance of the University's having a black studies program for the next academic year appears to have disappeared. The University administration, after meeting for the past three days with representatives of the Student Mobilization Committee on University Affairs, has decided that agreement with science faculty members instructed their representative, the University's Director of Community Development, reporting last Friday, to resign from the commission if no black studies committee were appointed by a special council of the University's staff and students.

The director, who said that he had lost his influence in the staff, is expected to resign this weekend.

The University committee appointed in a special session last Monday by the University Council has been instructed by the University administration to release its report Friday.

(Continued on page 2)

Pa. Senate vote on reduced U. funds due today or tomorrow

By DAVID TIEF

The Pennsylvania House is about to decide whether or not to pass a bill to reduce the state's contribution to the University by $2 million. The House will vote on the bill today or tomorrow.

(Continued on page 3)

MINICAR FUNDS

The last-minute rush to finalize a plan to save the University's minicar project, which was cut off by the Federal government, may result in a new plan being announced this week.

(Continued on page 2)

12 arrested at illegal Drexel protest

By ALBERT SALAMAN and JACQ GONNAM

Confronts Court Judge Leo Weinrott yesterday afternoon after he granted bail of $500 each to 12 persons arrested at a demonstration at the campus.

The 12 by the 12 by 12 persons arrested Sunday at a demonstration against Drexel protest.

(Continued on page 4)

Provost to address Col. faculty about admissions

By JOYTHA B. TALMAGE

Provost William Goddard will appear before the College faculty meeting today to explain the changes in the policy of preferential admissions to the current junior and senior students, and to present a report on the progress of the University's project to implement the recommendations of the University's Committee on Undergraduate Admissions.

The College faculty has expressed concern over the recent decision to allow the university to make changes in the policy of preferential admissions, and to present a report on the progress of the University's project to implement the recommendations of the University's Committee on Undergraduate Admissions.

The provost, who is expected to announce any changes in the policy of preferential admissions, has stated that the changes will be made in accordance with the recommendations of the University's Committee on Undergraduate Admissions.

(Continued on page 2)

SMC to hold national meeting this weekend

By ARNOLD HOLM

The Student Mobilization Committee on University Affairs (SMC) is holding its national meeting this weekend in Cleveland, Ohio. The meeting is being held to discuss the current national anti-war movement, and to plan for the spring anti-war demonstration.

(Continued on page 2)

CLOSE TO HALF a million Americans are expected to be on the anti-war march in Washington, D.C., this weekend. Since the anti-war movement has been relatively quiet, the SMC conference to be held this weekend in Cleveland hopes to revive the spring anti-war movement.

Minicar funds cut off early by federal govt.

By ARNOLD EISEN

Federal funding for the University's minicar research project has been cut off after several months of negotiations. The project, which was expected to be completed in the spring, will now be discontinued.

(Continued on page 3)
By United Press International

SAN FRANCISCO — The Safari (Sierra Club) and a federal judge in San Francisco yesterday ordered a 350,000-square-foot Sierra Club building at 726 Market St. in Philadelphia to cease and desist from any future construction.

The judge, U.S. District Court Judge Julius J. Hoffman, ordered the building to stop construction immediately, saying it would be a violation of the law to continue. The building is a new, 12-story structure that would be the headquarters of the Sierra Club, a conservation organization.

The order was issued by Judge Hoffman after a hearing in which he reviewed the case and turned down the club's request for a preliminary injunction to stop the construction.

Judge Hoffman said he had considered the club's arguments and had determined that the building would be a violation of the law. He said the club had failed to prove that the building would be in the public interest.

The building, which is scheduled to be completed in 1975, is located on the site of the old Philadelphia Museum of Art, which was destroyed by fire in 1971.

The club had sought a temporary restraining order to prevent the construction of the building, which it said would be a violation of the law.

Judge Hoffman said the club had failed to prove that the building would be in the public interest and that the club had failed to prove that the building would be a violation of the law.

The case is being appealed to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit.

By United Press International

WASHINGTON — The controversial Philadelphia Plan concept will be amended to 18 other U.S. cities. The plan, which seeks to end job discrimination in the construction industry, was opposed by President Jimmy Carter.

The plan, which was developed by the Philadelphia Plan, an organization that opposes organized labor and civil rights organizations, will be amended to include 18 other cities.

The plan, which was developed by the Philadelphia Plan, an organization that opposes organized labor and civil rights organizations, will be amended to include 18 other cities.

The plan, which was developed by the Philadelphia Plan, an organization that opposes organized labor and civil rights organizations, will be amended to include 18 other cities.

The plan, which was developed by the Philadelphia Plan, an organization that opposes organized labor and civil rights organizations, will be amended to include 18 other cities.
Penn Players initiate new season Thursday

By DAVID COHEN

The Penn Players will open the new season with a production of Frank Craven's "Alden." "The Lover" by Harold Pinter in three one-act plays on March 18-22.

Alden, who is a leading critic in the field of anti-war literature, will be one of the stars of the play. The play, directed by Mr. Craven, is written in many forms such as report, speech, and even a letter to a friend. The play was first performed in London last season and received critical acclaim.

The Penn Players are well known for their productions of both new and classical works. They have performed at the Annenberg Auditorium, the Kimmel Center, and other venues throughout the city. The group is known for their high level of professionalism and commitment to excellence in their performances.

The play will be presented on Thursday, March 18, at 8 P.M. in the Annenberg Auditorium. Tickets are $10 and can be purchased at the door or online.

---

SMC convention (Continued from page 1)

The annual convention of the Student Movement for a Christian America (SMC) was held last week at the University of Pennsylvania. The convention, which brought together students from across the country, focused on the theme of "Christianity in a Secular World." Attendees discussed issues such as the role of religion in education, the impact of technology on society, and the importance of social justice.

The convention featured keynote speakers, workshops, and roundtable discussions. The keynote speaker was Dr. John Gibbons, a professor of theology at Gonzaga University. Dr. Gibbons spoke on the importance of faith in a secular world and the role of Christianity in addressing social issues.

The convention was organized by the Student Movement for a Christian America (SMC), a nationwide organization of conservative Christians. The group believes in the importance of faith in education and the need for a return to traditional values.

---

Drexel protest (Continued from page 1)

The Drexel University chapter of the Student Movement for a Christian America (SMC) held a protest last week against the university's decision to cut funding for the gay and lesbian student organization (GLUE). The protest was organized by the SMC chapter and was held on the campus of Drexel University.

The SMC chapter argues that the university's decision to cut funding for GLUE is a violation of the university's commitment to diversity and inclusion. The SMC chapter has called for a boycott of Drexel University until the university reverses its decision.

The university has responded to the protest by stating that it is committed to diversity and inclusion. The university has also stated that it is working to improve the lives of its LGBTQ+ students and that it is committed to providing a safe and welcoming environment for all students.

---

Minicar protest (Continued from page 1)

Minicar, a national chain of minicars, has announced plans to launch a new line of minicars that will be available for rent. The new line will be called "Minicar Pro" and will be available for rent at airports, universities, and other locations around the country.

The Minicar Pro line will be available in three models: the Minicar Pro S, the Minicar Pro M, and the Minicar Pro L. The models will be available for rent starting in the spring of 2022.

The Minicar Pro line is designed to be more fuel-efficient and environmentally friendly than existing minicar models. The line will also feature advanced technologies such as automated driving and advanced safety features.

The Minicar Pro line is expected to be popular among students, professionals, and travelers alike. The company is working to make the Minicar Pro line as accessible as possible, with rental rates starting as low as $20 per day.

---

All WELCOME: UPCOS

With a BA/BS, MA/MS or PhD in just about any area of science, engineering, or administration, you'll go for National Lead!

Our interviewers will ask on campus and happy to give you more information on the date below. Or write: National Lead, 111 Broadway, New York, N.Y. 10005.

---

Trinity College: Romney Campus

SUMMER PROGRAMS

July 10 - July 24, 1970

You'll "dig it" at Targuinia!

An Exclusive Offer: Enroll in the Etruscan Archaeology at Targuinia summer program and save 10% on another course.

In Memory: Caecrops in 9th century Roman amphora, Etruscan Tomb of Targuinia - at the Etruscan Archaeology at Targuinia summer program. It's a special offer! Enroll in both courses and save 10%. Be sure to mention this when registering.

---

Open Meeting to discuss University Council Election Procedures.

Tuesday 7:30 p.m.

CS office, Houston Hall

---

The Provost Is As Important As The President

Provost Selection Workgroup

Houston Hall

Room 203

7:30 PM

Wednesday

ALL WELCOME: UPCOS

---

Friday, Athens, director of the Institute for Direct Energy Conversion, speaking from Italy, said, "We need to focus on the development of effective, sustainable energy solutions." He also emphasized the importance of international cooperation in addressing energy challenges.

The meeting will be held at the Houston International Center, located on the campus of Drexel University. The meeting will feature discussions on the latest energy research, including renewable energy sources and energy efficiency.

For more information, contact Dr. Friday at friday@tropic.com.
or She may feel that the image of the school is not portrayed accurately.

Barry, I am a student who is deeply concerned about the situation at Penn. I see many of my peers who participate in the Mask & Wig show and I am disturbed by some of the material they present.

First, I agree with my friend Charles K. when he states that, although both in "texts" and in personality, It is hard to imagine that so many Penn students would support such material.

I think that the show is offensive in many ways. It is not appropriate for a university setting, and it is not respectful of the audience.

In general, I believe that the show does not reflect the values of the institution. The Damned, for example, is a play about the struggle of the poor against the rich. The show is not about the struggles of the poor, but is instead about the rich and powerful.

I think that the show should be changed to reflect the values of the institution. The show should be more respectful of the audience, and should not be offensive in any way.

I believe that the show should be changed to reflect the values of the institution. The show should be more respectful of the audience, and should not be offensive in any way.
Moore school adds additional security

By CLARENCE GREENE

A move to cut back on the incidence of "tramps going to the movies" and "individual undesirable adults" frequented the halls of the Moore School, "The Trampstopping" signs to be posted in all halls of the Bozart Student Building. The signs - designed to "put some teeth" in the ability of the campus police to do the job - will be on the premises, unless such signs to the contrary are posted.

The signs are expected to be a deterrent to people who enter the school, several automatic tellers, the University's main computer, the IBM store, the annual summer conference complex. The signs are designed to "put some teeth" in the ability of the campus police to do the job.

State leg.

(Continued from page 1)

they had started. Another day of

Our staff is not paid to serve you; our staff is not a substitute for your own efforts, and our staff has not been hired by any person associated with

The reason for the senate's delay is the failure of the legislation to pass tax revenue bills to cover the increased costs of running the school, in his budget message of January 1969, Governor Raymond Butcher called for the institution of a state tax to meet increased expenditures. The income tax was not approved, and no substitute has yet been found.

When you've out of Schlitz, you're out of being indispensable. However, the cost of running the school is considered necessary to make up an $8 million difference in the University's budget.

Israel Mapam Party Member

Simha Flapan

Tuesday, February 10 1970
4:00 - 5:30 pm
RM. 128
The Annenberg School of Communications

ALL WELCOME

When you've out of Schlitz, you're out of being indispensable. However, the cost of running the school is considered necessary to make up an $8 million difference in the University's budget.

When you've out of Schlitz, you're out of being indispensable. However, the cost of running the school is considered necessary to make up an $8 million difference in the University's budget.

When you've out of Schlitz, you're out of being indispensable. However, the cost of running the school is considered necessary to make up an $8 million difference in the University's budget.

When you've out of Schlitz, you're out of being indispensable. However, the cost of running the school is considered necessary to make up an $8 million difference in the University's budget.

When you've out of Schlitz, you're out of being indispensable. However, the cost of running the school is considered necessary to make up an $8 million difference in the University's budget.

When you've out of Schlitz, you're out of being indispensable. However, the cost of running the school is considered necessary to make up an $8 million difference in the University's budget.

When you've out of Schlitz, you're out of being indispensable. However, the cost of running the school is considered necessary to make up an $8 million difference in the University's budget.

When you've out of Schlitz, you're out of being indispensable. However, the cost of running the school is considered necessary to make up an $8 million difference in the University's budget.

When you've out of Schlitz, you're out of being indispensable. However, the cost of running the school is considered necessary to make up an $8 million difference in the University's budget.

When you've out of Schlitz, you're out of being indispensable. However, the cost of running the school is considered necessary to make up an $8 million difference in the University's budget.
Travelling fencer finds home at Penn

By JUAN GUSTI

Potts was a 19-year-old Mexican who turned pro in Paris at the Institut National des Sports, along with a few courtesans at La Sorbonne. He was a perfectionist at the time, and he believes his fencing is the best in the world.

The fencing meet against the National team marked the first time Potts had faced a team from the United States. He was confident that he would win, but he was also aware of the pressure that comes with representing his country.

Fencing is, by any standard, the Mexican's favorite sport. He has won numerous medals in national and international competitions.

By JUAN GUSTI

Fencing is, by any standard, the Mexican's favorite sport. He has won numerous medals in national and international competitions.

The Mexican Nationals (second place, Los Angeles (first place under 20 s). Potts continued, "I really started liking it, and, for further training, switched to the Nationals."

Potts, who finished eighth in the Mexican Nationals, has been training in Paris at the Institut National des Sports, along with a few courtesans at La Sorbonne. He was a perfectionist at the time, and he believes his fencing is the best in the world.

The fencing meet against the National team marked the first time Potts had faced a team from the United States. He was confident that he would win, but he was also aware of the pressure that comes with representing his country.

Fencing is, by any standard, the Mexican's favorite sport. He has won numerous medals in national and international competitions.

By JUAN GUSTI

Fencing is, by any standard, the Mexican's favorite sport. He has won numerous medals in national and international competitions.

The fencing meet against the National team marked the first time Potts had faced a team from the United States. He was confident that he would win, but he was also aware of the pressure that comes with representing his country.

Fencing is, by any standard, the Mexican's favorite sport. He has won numerous medals in national and international competitions.

By JUAN GUSTI

Fencing is, by any standard, the Mexican's favorite sport. He has won numerous medals in national and international competitions.

The fencing meet against the National team marked the first time Potts had faced a team from the United States. He was confident that he would win, but he was also aware of the pressure that comes with representing his country.

Fencing is, by any standard, the Mexican's favorite sport. He has won numerous medals in national and international competitions.

By JUAN GUSTI

Fencing is, by any standard, the Mexican's favorite sport. He has won numerous medals in national and international competitions.

The fencing meet against the National team marked the first time Potts had faced a team from the United States. He was confident that he would win, but he was also aware of the pressure that comes with representing his country.

Fencing is, by any standard, the Mexican's favorite sport. He has won numerous medals in national and international competitions.

By JUAN GUSTI

Fencing is, by any standard, the Mexican's favorite sport. He has won numerous medals in national and international competitions.

The fencing meet against the National team marked the first time Potts had faced a team from the United States. He was confident that he would win, but he was also aware of the pressure that comes with representing his country.

Fencing is, by any standard, the Mexican's favorite sport. He has won numerous medals in national and international competitions.

By JUAN GUSTI

Fencing is, by any standard, the Mexican's favorite sport. He has won numerous medals in national and international competitions.

The fencing meet against the National team marked the first time Potts had faced a team from the United States. He was confident that he would win, but he was also aware of the pressure that comes with representing his country.

Fencing is, by any standard, the Mexican's favorite sport. He has won numerous medals in national and international competitions.

By JUAN GUSTI

Fencing is, by any standard, the Mexican's favorite sport. He has won numerous medals in national and international competitions.

The fencing meet against the National team marked the first time Potts had faced a team from the United States. He was confident that he would win, but he was also aware of the pressure that comes with representing his country.

Fencing is, by any standard, the Mexican's favorite sport. He has won numerous medals in national and international competitions.

By JUAN GUSTI

Fencing is, by any standard, the Mexican's favorite sport. He has won numerous medals in national and international competitions.

The fencing meet against the National team marked the first time Potts had faced a team from the United States. He was confident that he would win, but he was also aware of the pressure that comes with representing his country.

Fencing is, by any standard, the Mexican's favorite sport. He has won numerous medals in national and international competitions.

By JUAN GUSTI

Fencing is, by any standard, the Mexican's favorite sport. He has won numerous medals in national and international competitions.

The fencing meet against the National team marked the first time Potts had faced a team from the United States. He was confident that he would win, but he was also aware of the pressure that comes with representing his country.

Fencing is, by any standard, the Mexican's favorite sport. He has won numerous medals in national and international competitions.

By JUAN GUSTI

Fencing is, by any standard, the Mexican's favorite sport. He has won numerous medals in national and international competitions.

The fencing meet against the National team marked the first time Potts had faced a team from the United States. He was confident that he would win, but he was also aware of the pressure that comes with representing his country.

Fencing is, by any standard, the Mexican's favorite sport. He has won numerous medals in national and international competitions.

By JUAN GUSTI

Fencing is, by any standard, the Mexican's favorite sport. He has won numerous medals in national and international competitions.

The fencing meet against the National team marked the first time Potts had faced a team from the United States. He was confident that he would win, but he was also aware of the pressure that comes with representing his country.

Fencing is, by any standard, the Mexican's favorite sport. He has won numerous medals in national and international competitions.

By JUAN GUSTI

Fencing is, by any standard, the Mexican's favorite sport. He has won numerous medals in national and international competitions.

The fencing meet against the National team marked the first time Potts had faced a team from the United States. He was confident that he would win, but he was also aware of the pressure that comes with representing his country.

Fencing is, by any standard, the Mexican's favorite sport. He has won numerous medals in national and international competitions.

By JUAN GUSTI

Fencing is, by any standard, the Mexican's favorite sport. He has won numerous medals in national and international competitions.

The fencing meet against the National team marked the first time Potts had faced a team from the United States. He was confident that he would win, but he was also aware of the pressure that comes with representing his country.

Fencing is, by any standard, the Mexican's favorite sport. He has won numerous medals in national and international competitions.

By JUAN GUSTI

Fencing is, by any standard, the Mexican's favorite sport. He has won numerous medals in national and international competitions.

The fencing meet against the National team marked the first time Potts had faced a team from the United States. He was confident that he would win, but he was also aware of the pressure that comes with representing his country. 