Demonstration Against Laos

Incursion Planned for Today

By CLAUDIA COHEN

In an effort to revive the dormant antiwar movement, protest groups are meeting today on the campus, in the city, and across the nation to demonstrate against the ill-conceived invasion of Laos. A major meeting will be held at the University's student center. An organizational meeting at the Downtown Student Center will concentrate on building public sentiment against the war and waging the appeal of the peace movement beyond the University's walls. The University, at an open meeting will be held at 3:30, today in the Fine Arts Auditorium to plan an ongoing series of antiwar activities. That meeting is open to the public. At that meeting, including the possibility of a strike against the University, ways to pressure the Nixon administration to call for an end to the war and rebuilding the appeal of the peace movement beyond the University's walls. Teacher Preparation: Relevant Blah or Professional Training

Third in a series
By CAROL JONES

Teacher preparation is dead. Long live teacher preparation.
In the other articles in this series, educators and administrators have pointed out the need for teachers to be not only knowledgeable in their subject matter, but also skilled in helping students learn to think critically and creatively. The need for teachers to be knowledgeable in their subject matter has been emphasized by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE), which is responsible for setting standards for teacher education programs. The NCATE has long been concerned about the quality of teacher education programs and has worked to ensure that teachers are well-prepared to meet the needs of their students. However, the recent emphasis on test scores and standardized assessments has led to a shift in focus away from the development of critical thinking and creativity skills. As a result, many educators believe that teacher preparation programs need to be restructured to better meet the needs of today's students. They argue that teacher preparation should focus on equipping teachers with the skills necessary to help students develop these important skills. This includes training teachers in effective curriculum design, assessment strategies, and coaching approaches for continuous improvement. It also means providing opportunities for teachers to reflect on their own practices and engage in ongoing professional development. As the demand for teachers continues to grow, it is crucial that we invest in the long-term success of our educators. By ensuring that teacher preparation programs prioritize the development of critical thinking and creativity skills, we can create a pipeline of educators who are well-equipped to help prepare our students for success in an ever-changing world.

Dave Cohen's Candidacy

As a supporter of Councilman Robert C. Byrd for major, I had to respond to his implication that I am a "traitor." I cannot allow him to mislead the people of West Philadelphia into believing that I am a traitor. I am a supporter of the progressive policies of Councilman Byrd. It is important that we continue to support these policies and to work together to make Philadelphia a better place to live.

Two tenants plan to march downtown in honor of John F. Kennedy Jr. and Robert F. Kennedy Jr. on Saturday at the annual memorial for the slain president and Attorney General.

The demonstration was scheduled for 11:30 a.m., outside the Kennedy Center.

Sponsored by the New York-based U.S. Fund for the Indo-Chinese, the demonstration is part of a nationwide movement to draw attention to the plight of the Vietnamese people.

Kennedy Jr. and Kennedy Jr. were both assassinated in the Kennedy Center in 1968.

The demonstration is expected to attract thousands of supporters, who will march from the Kennedy Center to the White House.

‘Who’s Whom’ - Topical Musical

By Linda Rendszus

Monday, May 3rd

M & W’s ‘Who’s Whom’ is a triumph. This year’s show is a marked improvement on last year’s. The first skit, which involved a quiz show, was well received. The show ended with the presentation of a large number of original songs. The final number was a parody of the show ‘The Carol Burnett Show.’

On the campus of the University of Pennsylvania, the student body is celebrating the birth of the country. Because the problems are still troubling us, President Meyerson has said, “in the coming semester, the problems will be continued.” The objects of satire range from Sphinx to the cheerleaders and their respective colleges.

by attorney Bernard L. Spill, resulted in the dropping of the charges against the capital, the six officers involved in the original case of the five-week hearing. The testimony elicited during the hearing charged that the Army had suppressed pertinent information and that other evidence had been withheld. The military was contacted by the military's technical advisors, which resulted in the need for the trial.

A change of venue, to the Philadelphia Art Institute, could have a large applicant pool and stand the quality of the present applicant pool. The actual situation will be made at the beginning of the next academic year.

The discussion is open to the entire student body, and the students of the student body should be interested in the current situation.

The topic of increased tuition was brought up by President Meyerson at a press conference. The students of the student body should be interested in the current situation.

An outrageous, antagonistically animated television program, Brand X’s, is currently numerous. The last program transgresses the last night’s program with a program which is not directly related to the program in question.

Anyone can begin to understand the conditions of his mind in all fields. There is no way to expand the concept, and the human brain is inexhaustible. The reason why not is that the human brain cannot be enlarged. The way, the scientific technique, is a way to answer the question. It is safe, and it is a remarkable method for experimentation. It works for everyone.

It’s a shame to see the title song and “It’s Good to Have a Friend” (which can come out humming), especially with the show’s choreography. The show treats us to the parody of the talk show, but the actual situation will be made at the beginning of the next academic year.

And nothing can we call our own but death;

and that small model of the barren earth,

which serves as paste and cover to our bones.

For God's sake, let us sit upon the ground, and tell sad stories of the death of Kings.
