University Unfreezes Wages

For Most Graduate Fellows

By JEFF GASTER

The University's safety defense system may become more effective and affordable under a proposal that is now under consideration.

The University's safety department, currently responsible for the campus's security, has submitted a proposal to the administration that would allow the installation of electronic security systems in selected areas of the campus.

The proposal, which was submitted to the administration last month, would involve the installation of electronic security systems in areas such as laboratories, libraries, and computer centers. These systems would be designed to detect and respond to a variety of security threats, including fire, theft, and vandalism.

The cost of the proposed installation would be borne by the institution, and the system would be maintained at the University's expense. The exact cost of the installation would depend on the specific needs of each area, but estimates indicate that the cost would be in the range of $75,000 to $100,000 per area.

The University's safety department is currently considering the proposal and will be meeting with representatives of the proposal's proponents to discuss the details.

The proposal is currently being reviewed by the administration, and a decision is expected to be made in the near future.

The installation of electronic security systems is a significant step forward in the University's efforts to improve its safety and security. The University has been working to improve its security for several years, and this proposal represents a major step in that direction.

The installation of electronic security systems is expected to improve the University's security and provide a safer environment for students, faculty, and staff. The University is confident that this proposal will be a positive step forward in the University's efforts to improve its safety and security.

Further details on this proposal will be available in the next issue of the Daily Pennsylvanian.
Pue2 bankers who were staying in a dormitory. The fires were set by delegates representing nearly 14 million workers, "If the was to negotiate contracts and provides justice for all who Said?, "When trouble comes it comas not in single spies, but in NORMAN, OKLA. - Arsonists ignited a flurry of fires on right to the "Idea Booth" and signed by an authorized represen asking for one year beyond the present April 30, 1972 deadline.

TEXT:

PHILADELPHIA.

WASHINGTON - Stringent steps by the federal govern- THEATRE PENNSYLVANIA

PHILADELPHIA - By United Press International 11 OPEN MEETING TONIGHT: 7:30. At the "Idea Booth" and signed by an authorized represen asking for one year beyond the present April 30, 1972 deadline.

PHILADELPHIA.

WASHINGTON - Stringent steps by the federal govern- THEATRE PENNSYLVANIA

PHILADELPHIA - By United Press International 11 OPEN MEETING TONIGHT: 7:30. At the "Idea Booth" and signed by an authorized represen asking for one year beyond the present April 30, 1972 deadline.

PHILADELPHIA.

WASHINGTON - Stringent steps by the federal govern- THEATRE PENNSYLVANIA
QUESTION: Why are the library and Chestnut Streets, or call 594-6581. Write The Daily Pennsylvanian, Thursday, closed; Friday and are: Wednesday, 8:45 A.M.-10 P.M.; Thanksgiving hours for the library bitter end. By the way, the students hanging around until the blinking lights and loud buzzers which justifying later hours. No wonder, areas of the library's operation. He not available, and said that obtaining additional funds for extending hours are DeGennaro further noted that ad-
employees make two and one half additional funds for employees, he library on Saturday-would require Fridays', and 5 P.M. for the main Justify later hours. No wonder, (So what else is new?) To keep the library not available, and said that obtaining additional funds for extending hours are DeGennaro further noted that ad-
employees make two and one half additional funds for employees, he library on Saturday-would require Fridays', and 5 P.M. for the main
It's Time the Truth Came Out

The author of the Residence Office, has asked that his story be published here.

On April 23rd, at 3:40 A.M. Mr. Bradley entered an elevator and proceeded to the basement of High Rise South where he was to store his belongings. The elderly guard, followed by the police, arrived at the residence hall at 4 A.M. But before all the details are exposed, it must be known that the story was never told. He was not allowed into the residence hall, and further, he was considered a victim. Had the police known that Bradley was there, they would have acted upon that information. He was a threat to the security of the Residence Hall. Mr. Bradley was not aware of the situation, but it appears to me only reasonable that his presence should be reported at once to the proper authorities.

Perhaps in this whole series of events, the Residence Hall was not the only thing that was considered a victim. Had there been some indication that Mr. Bradley was planning to break into the Residence Hall, perhaps some action would have been taken.

In analyzing its content, you are told that President Meyerson's observation about the students as "niggers" seems to have been blown out of proportion. He never said it, he was talking about his role as the University's role. But before all the details are exposed, it must be known that the story was never told. He was not allowed into the residence hall, and further, he was considered a victim. Had the police known that Bradley was there, they would have acted upon that information. He was a threat to the security of the Residence Hall. Mr. Bradley was not aware of the situation, but it appears to me only reasonable that his presence should be reported at once to the proper authorities.

The author of the Residence Office, has asked that his story be published here.

On April 23rd, at 3:40 A.M. Mr. Bradley entered an elevator and proceeded to the basement of High Rise South where he was to store his belongings. The elderly guard, followed by the police, arrived at the residence hall at 4 A.M. But before all the details are exposed, it must be known that the story was never told. He was not allowed into the residence hall, and further, he was considered a victim. Had the police known that Bradley was there, they would have acted upon that information. He was a threat to the security of the Residence Hall. Mr. Bradley was not aware of the situation, but it appears to me only reasonable that his presence should be reported at once to the proper authorities.

Perhaps in this whole series of events, the Residence Hall was not the only thing that was considered a victim. Had there been some indication that Mr. Bradley was planning to break into the Residence Hall, perhaps some action would have been taken.

In analyzing its content, you are told that President Meyerson's observation about the students as "niggers" seems to have been blown out of proportion. He never said it, he was talking about his role as the University's role. But before all the details are exposed, it must be known that the story was never told. He was not allowed into the residence hall, and further, he was considered a victim. Had the police known that Bradley was there, they would have acted upon that information. He was a threat to the security of the Residence Hall. Mr. Bradley was not aware of the situation, but it appears to me only reasonable that his presence should be reported at once to the proper authorities.

The author of the Residence Office, has asked that his story be published here.

On April 23rd, at 3:40 A.M. Mr. Bradley entered an elevator and proceeded to the basement of High Rise South where he was to store his belongings. The elderly guard, followed by the police, arrived at the residence hall at 4 A.M. But before all the details are exposed, it must be known that the story was never told. He was not allowed into the residence hall, and further, he was considered a victim. Had the police known that Bradley was there, they would have acted upon that information. He was a threat to the security of the Residence Hall. Mr. Bradley was not aware of the situation, but it appears to me only reasonable that his presence should be reported at once to the proper authorities.

Perhaps in this whole series of events, the Residence Hall was not the only thing that was considered a victim. Had there been some indication that Mr. Bradley was planning to break into the Residence Hall, perhaps some action would have been taken.

In analyzing its content, you are told that President Meyerson's observation about the students as "niggers" seems to have been blown out of proportion. He never said it, he was talking about his role as the University's role. But before all the details are exposed, it must be known that the story was never told. He was not allowed into the residence hall, and further, he was considered a victim. Had the police known that Bradley was there, they would have acted upon that information. He was a threat to the security of the Residence Hall. Mr. Bradley was not aware of the situation, but it appears to me only reasonable that his presence should be reported at once to the proper authorities.

The author of the Residence Office, has asked that his story be published here.

On April 23rd, at 3:40 A.M. Mr. Bradley entered an elevator and proceeded to the basement of High Rise South where he was to store his belongings. The elderly guard, followed by the police, arrived at the residence hall at 4 A.M. But before all the details are exposed, it must be known that the story was never told. He was not allowed into the residence hall, and further, he was considered a victim. Had the police known that Bradley was there, they would have acted upon that information. He was a threat to the security of the Residence Hall. Mr. Bradley was not aware of the situation, but it appears to me only reasonable that his presence should be reported at once to the proper authorities.
Senate Comm. Defeats Troop Withdrawal Move

Rape Suspect

(Continued from page 1)

One Additional Performing Company

Of legal responsibility for the varying residence officials. "The idea of legal responsibility would require the administration to " saying that the Identification was also made by the girl Bradly raped on Nov. 4. Police

”...and leave the driving to ur.

Our Man at U of P ARMAND POSNER

Student Agent

Phone: 382-6575

Don't Miss!!!!

1971's Largest

Mixer

at 3940 Spuce St.

Saturday, Nov. 20 9 P.M. to 1 A.M.

FRESHMEN FREE

 arcadia

Student Discount Coupon

FOR

ONE ADDITIONAL PERFORMANCE

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 23
7:00 and 9:30 P.M.

THANKSGIVING SCHEDULE WEDNESDAY SERVICE

TUESDAY SERVICE

Tuesday, November 23
7:00 and 9:30 P.M.

THANKSGIVING SCHEDULE

TUESDAY SERVICE

WEDNESDAY SERVICE

Ly, Houston Hall

3:30 P.M.

1:30 P.M.

Ar, Northeast City

6:00 P.M.

3:00 P.M.

Ar, Houston Hall

4:00 P.M.

12:45 P.M.

Ar, Harrisburg

6:15 P.M.

2:45 P.M.

Ly, Houston Hall

4:30 P.M.

1:15 P.M.

Ar, Northeast City

6:15 P.M.

3:45 P.M.

Ar, Houston Hall

5:00 P.M.

1:00 P.M.

Ar, Harrisburg

7:15 P.M.

5:45 P.M.

Ar, Houston Hall

8:25 P.M.

3:55 P.M.

Reservations Required

Your Greyhound ticket must be in hand by 7:30 p.m. on special service or regular schedules with connections to all Ame-

Our Man at U of P ARMAND POSNER

Student Agent

Phone: 382-6575

GO GREYHOUND
That's the difference between just a little lemon fragrance or extract. That's why Lemon Up Shampoo makes hair shiny clean. That's why Lemon Up Facial Cleanser is far better than soap. And that's why Lemon Up Anti-Blemish Lotion with hexachlorophene is your best defense against oil-troubled skin.

available at the University of Pennsylvania Bookstore
Gridders

(Continued from page 8)

Saturday. The bruising tailback has an Ivy title, the Heisman Trophy, and professional football on his mind. He has carried Cornell to its present success almost single-handedly, although he isn’t ready to admit it.

"We’ve been able to grow as a team together," Marinaro said of how his team could change from a better-than-average to a title-contending squad in only one year with essentially the same personnel. "We built this team from my sophomore year. Of course we’ve gotten quite a bit of help this year from underclassmen, but the nucleus of the team is seniors. It just evolved."

But the team is still where it is primarily because of Ed Marinaro. Otherwise the squad is almost a faceless mob. Of course Cornell has Don Jean, who is a fine defensive back and has four interceptions thus far, Bob Jeohl, who is a fantastic blocking fullback for Marinaro, Mark Allen, who isn’t a very good passer but hands off to Big Ed pretty well, and John Killian, who is a shoeless kicker and holds the Ivy record with a 54-yard field goal, but no one ever hears about them.

Marinaro doesn’t mind being a one-man gang in Musick’s offense. "I can’t complain," he laughed, "because we’re 7-1 right now and there are quite a few teams around the country who would like to be us.

Right now, Jack Musick’s non- creativity looks mighty brilliant.

Scribes

(Continued from page 8)

While the Scribes defense is paced by Phil "The Flash" Shimkin, Stan "Quick Shot" Degory, and John "The Phantom" Wertheimer. The Loudmouths’ sole standout is Chuck "Swift’s Premium" Torrie, who is an apprentice of the Doggie Man. Local oddsmakers have followed the example of "Big Al" who has established the Scribes as 22 point favorites over WXPN.

"You might have heard this before," belched Bard, "But we’re going to kick ass on those pussy disc jocks."

"I’ve reserved a suite of rooms in HUP for dcre carcasses," echoed assistant player-coach Wertheimer.

Booters

(Continued from page 8)

While the Quakers’ explosive attack is a force to be reckoned with. "The key to the game," he explained, "will be containing Perry’s forwards. If we get off to a bad start, their offense could put the game out of reach. If we win," he continued, "it will have to be a low scoring game."

The game promises to be anything but low scoring, as the Quakers have dented the nets at least five times in each of their AstroTurf outings. "It looks like breaks should decide this game," commented Seddon, "but we’ve looked good in practice, and if we continue to play well, our chances for winning are good. I just hope we won’t be looking past Cornell to the NCAA’s."

The booters already have two cases of champagne stored in the corner of their lockerroom for a post-game celebration. They’d better keep in mind that Cornell wouldn’t mind a shot at some big bubbly of their own.

Kick out the jams...

Garage East

Weekly Rock Disco-Club

Fri., Nov. 19 9 P.M.

Class of 1920 Snack Bar

(next to Hi-Rise East)

39th & Locust St.

Music by

Absinthe

Dancing

Girls

Boys

Food

A Splendid Time is Guaranteed For All!

Admission: $0 75

$0 25

Maintain Your Freedom Of Action!!!

There is a small active group of students who are willing to seize the chance to maintain their freedom of action. They are the students of ROTC at the University of Pennsylvania. They have multiplied their opportunities for uninterrupted study-both graduate and undergraduate, for financial aid, and for making interesting contributions both in the military and civilian communities. They choose what they will do in the army, and they will have an edge in experience when they return to a civilian job. Members of the classes of ’74 and ’75 may enroll now. Army ROTC

...the more you look at it the better it looks.

Army ROTC Advisor Hollenback Center 594-7757

Maintain Your Freedom Of Action!!!
A RARE OCCURRENCE—The Penn defensive line stacks up Cornell's Heisman candidate Marinaro for a stomp. The defense closes out his career and year with a 28-7 win.

By GLENN UNTERBERGER

The Nassau has a lot on its mind. With Penn Campus hockey (second in the league), football (third in the league), and basketball (second in the league) all at stake, the Crimson fans hope there will be no letup.

The reason why Cornell can't let down is because it ripped apart the Cornell defense. Tom Einhorn and William Murray are top-notch goalsmen. If Cornell has a problem area, though, it's in the goal. Einhorn and Murray are accounting the backline. If Cornell has a tendency to let down, it's to these guys. But we can't afford that."

The reason why Cornell can't let down is because we've already lost the Ancient Eight title last week. Instead it travelled to chilly Saranac, N.Y., and lost to perennial top champ Dartmouth (0-5, 9-9). Now the top of the league looks like a Christmas tree with the Red and the Green deadlocked for the crown.

And it is going to be extremely difficult. The Ivy line and Cornell boast the Red's largest offensive front in captivity. The Red has big players at every position."

The Cornell football coach has already established a strategy which, according to our enemy, is "a beautiful thing; and Rick Furlong, roommate of Boo Morcom, tries his hand at the real thing; and Rick Furlong, roommate of Boo Morcom, tries his hand at the real thing.

The main culplits in Cornell's attack have been Rome Waugh and Victor Harris (third in Ivy scoring) and Frederico Rojas, third in the league in rushing. Waugh is the leader. He has 896 yards and 10 touchdowns.

Shue had better be hot, because no one else has."

Dave Wohl, a forward and alternate football player, is a doubtful participant. Crowds are scheduled for a med school interview later this week. Marinaro will close out his collegiate career Saturday before a decent throng of 2000.

A RARE OCCURRENCE—The Penn defensive line stacks up Cornell's Heisman candidate Marinaro for a stomp. The defense closes out his career and year with a 28-7 win.

By GLENN UNTERBERGER

The Nassau has a lot on its mind. With Penn Campus hockey (second in the league), football (third in the league), and basketball (second in the league) all at stake, the Crimson fans hope there will be no letup.

The reason why Cornell can't let down is because it ripped apart the Cornell defense. Tom Einhorn and William Murray are top-notch goalsmen. If Cornell has a problem area, though, it's in the goal. Einhorn and Murray are accounting the backline. If Cornell has a tendency to let down, it's to these guys. But we can't afford that."

The reason why Cornell can't let down is because we've already lost the Ancient Eight title last week. Instead it travelled to chilly Saranac, N.Y., and lost to perennial top champ Dartmouth (0-5, 9-9). Now the top of the league looks like a Christmas tree with the Red and the Green deadlocked for the crown.

And it is going to be extremely difficult. The Ivy line and Cornell boast the Red's largest offensive front in captivity. The Red has big players at every position."

The Cornell football coach has already established a strategy which, according to our enemy, is "a beautiful thing; and Rick Furlong, roommate of Boo Morcom, tries his hand at the real thing; and Rick Furlong, roommate of Boo Morcom, tries his hand at the real thing.

The main culplits in Cornell's attack have been Rome Waugh and Victor Harris (third in Ivy scoring) and Frederico Rojas, third in the league in rushing. Waugh is the leader. He has 896 yards and 10 touchdowns.

Shue had better be hot, because no one else has."

Dave Wohl, a forward and alternate football player, is a doubtful participant. Crowds are scheduled for a med school interview later this week. Marinaro will close out his collegiate career Saturday before a decent throng of 2000.

A RARE OCCURRENCE—The Penn defensive line stacks up Cornell's Heisman candidate Marinaro for a stomp. The defense closes out his career and year with a 28-7 win.

By GLENN UNTERBERGER

The Nassau has a lot on its mind. With Penn Campus hockey (second in the league), football (third in the league), and basketball (second in the league) all at stake, the Crimson fans hope there will be no letup.

The reason why Cornell can't let down is because it ripped apart the Cornell defense. Tom Einhorn and William Murray are top-notch goalsmen. If Cornell has a problem area, though, it's in the goal. Einhorn and Murray are accounting the backline. If Cornell has a tendency to let down, it's to these guys. But we can't afford that."

The reason why Cornell can't let down is because we've already lost the Ancient Eight title last week. Instead it travelled to chilly Saranac, N.Y., and lost to perennial top champ Dartmouth (0-5, 9-9). Now the top of the league looks like a Christmas tree with the Red and the Green deadlocked for the crown.

And it is going to be extremely difficult. The Ivy line and Cornell boast the Red's largest offensive front in captivity. The Red has big players at every position."

The Cornell football coach has already established a strategy which, according to our enemy, is "a beautiful thing; and Rick Furlong, roommate of Boo Morcom, tries his hand at the real thing; and Rick Furlong, roommate of Boo Morcom, tries his hand at the real thing.

The main culplits in Cornell's attack have been Rome Waugh and Victor Harris (third in Ivy scoring) and Frederico Rojas, third in the league in rushing. Waugh is the leader. He has 896 yards and 10 touchdowns.

Shue had better be hot, because no one else has."

Dave Wohl, a forward and alternate football player, is a doubtful participant. Crowds are scheduled for a med school interview later this week. Marinaro will close out his collegiate career Saturday before a decent throng of 2000.

A RARE OCCURRENCE—The Penn defensive line stacks up Cornell's Heisman candidate Marinaro for a stomp. The defense closes out his career and year with a 28-7 win.

By GLENN UNTERBERGER

The Nassau has a lot on its mind. With Penn Campus hockey (second in the league), football (third in the league), and basketball (second in the league) all at stake, the Crimson fans hope there will be no letup.

The reason why Cornell can't let down is because it ripped apart the Cornell defense. Tom Einhorn and William Murray are top-notch goalsmen. If Cornell has a problem area, though, it's in the goal. Einhorn and Murray are accounting the backline. If Cornell has a tendency to let down, it's to these guys. But we can't afford that."

The reason why Cornell can't let down is because we've already lost the Ancient Eight title last week. Instead it travelled to chilly Saranac, N.Y., and lost to perennial top champ Dartmouth (0-5, 9-9). Now the top of the league looks like a Christmas tree with the Red and the Green deadlocked for the crown.

And it is going to be extremely difficult. The Ivy line and Cornell boast the Red's largest offensive front in captivity. The Red has big players at every position."

The Cornell football coach has already established a strategy which, according to our enemy, is "a beautiful thing; and Rick Furlong, roommate of Boo Morcom, tries his hand at the real thing; and Rick Furlong, roommate of Boo Morcom, tries his hand at the real thing.

The main culplits in Cornell's attack have been Rome Waugh and Victor Harris (third in Ivy scoring) and Frederico Rojas, third in the league in rushing. Waugh is the leader. He has 896 yards and 10 touchdowns.

Shue had better be hot, because no one else has."

Dave Wohl, a forward and alternate football player, is a doubtful participant. Crowds are scheduled for a med school interview later this week. Marinaro will close out his collegiate career Saturday before a decent throng of 2000.

A RARE OCCURRENCE—The Penn defensive line stacks up Cornell's Heisman candidate Marinaro for a stomp. The defense closes out his career and year with a 28-7 win.

By GLENN UNTERBERGER

The Nassau has a lot on its mind. With Penn Campus hockey (second in the league), football (third in the league), and basketball (second in the league) all at stake, the Crimson fans hope there will be no letup.

The reason why Cornell can't let down is because it ripped apart the Cornell defense. Tom Einhorn and William Murray are top-notch goalsmen. If Cornell has a problem area, though, it's in the goal. Einhorn and Murray are accounting the backline. If Cornell has a tendency to let down, it's to these guys. But we can't afford that."

The reason why Cornell can't let down is because we've already lost the Ancient Eight title last week. Instead it travelled to chilly Saranac, N.Y., and lost to perennial top champ Dartmouth (0-5, 9-9). Now the top of the league looks like a Christmas tree with the Red and the Green deadlocked for the crown.

And it is going to be extremely difficult. The Ivy line and Cornell boast the Red's largest offensive front in captivity. The Red has big players at every position."

The Cornell football coach has already established a strategy which, according to our enemy, is "a beautiful thing; and Rick Furlong, roommate of Boo Morcom, tries his hand at the real thing; and Rick Furlong, roommate of Boo Morcom, tries his hand at the real thing.

The main culplits in Cornell's attack have been Rome Waugh and Victor Harris (third in Ivy scoring) and Frederico Rojas, third in the league in rushing. Waugh is the leader. He has 896 yards and 10 touchdowns.

Shue had better be hot, because no one else has."

Dave Wohl, a forward and alternate football player, is a doubtful participant. Crowds are scheduled for a med school interview later this week. Marinaro will close out his collegiate career Saturday before a decent throng of 2000.