Former DP Editor To Become Second 'Young Trustee'Here

By ROBERT SHIELDS

Charles A. Krause, a 26-year-old University graduate, was chosen Friday as one of the University's three 'young alumni' nominated in a poll of the undergraduate student body in 1971 and 1972, graduated from the College in 1969 and is currently studying International Relations at the Woodrow Wilson School of Princeton University.

The new trustee, a former editor-in-chief of The Daily Pennsylvanian, Tuesday, "I hope that I will be able to have contact with the students who are here and to help reflect their ideas and the needs on the Board of Trustees."

However, Krause said that role was not seen as a make-ready representative to the trustees. "As a student, I'm probably not able to have contact with the students as much as some of the others can," he said for supplying," he said.

Krause will meet next week with student leaders "to listen to what they have to say," he said he hopes to need "not just with student leaders, but with any student with an idea," he said.

He added, "I don't know that my expertise or experience will be in financial terms, but the ideas and the opinions of the students who are here will be most beneficial to the American University." Krause has worked for the college as an aide, and has worked under President G. William Mahoney, who was directed by field operations for Nixon's presidential campaign on March 1.

By RAYMOND ARBUCKLE

"The Senior Vice President should be able to consolidate and rationalize the status of this office," was the report of the Senate judiciary committee that will consider the nomination of Richard Kleindienst, 58, to be the new Attorney General of the United States.

"I don't know what the President's time for his other..." the report continued. "The Senior Vice President should be most beneficial to the American University, Krause said, "I think..."

Krause has worked for the college as an aide, and has worked under President G. William Mahoney, who was directed by field operations for Nixon's presidential campaign on March 1.

By ROBERT SHIELDS

The new trustee, a former editor-in-chief of The Daily Pennsylvanian, Tuesday, "I hope that I will be able to have contact with the students who are here and to help reflect their ideas and the needs on the Board of Trustees."

However, Krause said that role was not seen as a make-ready representative to the trustees. "As a student, I'm probably not able to have contact with the students as much as some of the others can," he said for supplying," he said.

Krause will meet next week with student leaders "to listen to what they have to say," he said he hopes to need "not just with student leaders, but with any student with an idea," he said.

He added, "I don't know that my expertise or experience will be in financial terms, but the ideas and the opinions of the students who are here will be most beneficial to the American University." Krause has worked for the college as an aide, and has worked under President G. William Mahoney, who was directed by field operations for Nixon's presidential campaign on March 1.
ANDERSON SAYS FRI GOOFED
NEW YORK - Syndicated columnist Jack Anderson charged Thursday that the Federal Bureau of Investigation had seized the tapes he and other reporter Barry Allen, Robert Winfrey by wrongly accusing him of leaking secret documents of Anderson. Asked to comment to Anderson's espionage charges by refusing to speak English in court.

May well be the loneliest film of the year.

—a film critic, Variety

Belongs in a class with ‘Bicycle Thief’ and ‘Shoeshine’.

—La Smith, CinemaScope

ACTORS! AUDITIONS!
The Plough and The Stars
by Sean O'Casey

Directed by Thomas Gruenewald

Feb. 21, 22, 23, 28, 29
Mar. 1 at 7:30 P.M.

For appointment call: 594-6701

IMPORTANT: All roles will be cast from non-Equity community actors and experienced students at the University of Pennsylvania and other area colleges.

THE ANNENBERG CENTER
FOR COMMUNICATION ARTS & SCIENCES
3680 Walnut St.
Gaddis

Young Trustee

The Daily Pennsylvania

Proudly Presents

THE DREAMER

ISRAEL'S ENTRY IN THE 1979 CANNES FILM FESTIVAL
A GREAT MOVIE

MONDAY
February 21

Fine Arts Auditorium

7:00 and 9:30 P.M. Admission +1

STUDENTS FOR ISRAEL

Picture not available.

Picture not available.

Picture not available.

Picture not available.

Picture not available.

Picture not available.

Picture not available.

Picture not available.

Picture not available.

Picture not available.

Picture not available.

Picture not available.

Picture not available.

Picture not available.

Picture not available.

Picture not available.

Picture not available.
A Day in the Life

By STEVE CALDWIN

The group walks past the exit to Hwu Hall, and into the Annex, venturing out to the quad. The class has been delayed. The instructor cannot make up his mind to begin the quiz.

"What is the word for 'members'?" he asks. The students, in their usual confusion, wait for the answer that will begin the quiz. The instructor again asks the question.

"The word is 'members'," one student answers. The instructor nods and begins to write on the blackboard.

The instructor is patient. He understands the confusion of the students. He has taught them for many years and has seen the same problems over and over again.

The quiz is finally over. The students return to their dormitories. They have the rest of the day to themselves. The instructor has the rest of the day to himself.

The university has been quiet today. The students are either studying for their classes or preparing for their classes.

The instructor, on the other hand, is preparing for the next day. He must grade the quizzes and plan the lessons for the next day.

As the sun sets, the instructor returns to his office. He sits at his desk and begins to grade the quizzes. He is patient and waits for the right answer.

He grades the quizzes and plans the lessons for the next day. He is satisfied with his work and ends his day.

The university has been quiet today. The students are either studying for their classes or preparing for their classes.

The instructor, on the other hand, is preparing for the next day. He must grade the quizzes and plan the lessons for the next day.

As the sun sets, the instructor returns to his office. He sits at his desk and begins to grade the quizzes. He is patient and waits for the right answer.

He grades the quizzes and plans the lessons for the next day. He is satisfied with his work and ends his day.

The university has been quiet today. The students are either studying for their classes or preparing for their classes.

The instructor, on the other hand, is preparing for the next day. He must grade the quizzes and plan the lessons for the next day.

As the sun sets, the instructor returns to his office. He sits at his desk and begins to grade the quizzes. He is patient and waits for the right answer.

He grades the quizzes and plans the lessons for the next day. He is satisfied with his work and ends his day.

The university has been quiet today. The students are either studying for their classes or preparing for their classes.

The instructor, on the other hand, is preparing for the next day. He must grade the quizzes and plan the lessons for the next day.

As the sun sets, the instructor returns to his office. He sits at his desk and begins to grade the quizzes. He is patient and waits for the right answer.

He grades the quizzes and plans the lessons for the next day. He is satisfied with his work and ends his day.

The university has been quiet today. The students are either studying for their classes or preparing for their classes.

The instructor, on the other hand, is preparing for the next day. He must grade the quizzes and plan the lessons for the next day.

As the sun sets, the instructor returns to his office. He sits at his desk and begins to grade the quizzes. He is patient and waits for the right answer.

He grades the quizzes and plans the lessons for the next day. He is satisfied with his work and ends his day.

The university has been quiet today. The students are either studying for their classes or preparing for their classes.

The instructor, on the other hand, is preparing for the next day. He must grade the quizzes and plan the lessons for the next day.

As the sun sets, the instructor returns to his office. He sits at his desk and begins to grade the quizzes. He is patient and waits for the right answer.

He grades the quizzes and plans the lessons for the next day. He is satisfied with his work and ends his day.

The university has been quiet today. The students are either studying for their classes or preparing for their classes.

The instructor, on the other hand, is preparing for the next day. He must grade the quizzes and plan the lessons for the next day.

As the sun sets, the instructor returns to his office. He sits at his desk and begins to grade the quizzes. He is patient and waits for the right answer.

He grades the quizzes and plans the lessons for the next day. He is satisfied with his work and ends his day.

The university has been quiet today. The students are either studying for their classes or preparing for their classes.

The instructor, on the other hand, is preparing for the next day. He must grade the quizzes and plan the lessons for the next day.

As the sun sets, the instructor returns to his office. He sits at his desk and begins to grade the quizzes. He is patient and waits for the right answer.

He grades the quizzes and plans the lessons for the next day. He is satisfied with his work and ends his day.

The university has been quiet today. The students are either studying for their classes or preparing for their classes.
Wednesday February 16, 1972

People's Party To Run Dr. Spock

(Continued from page 1) believed that the "fundamental economic and social change" the party espouses must come about through the use of the "lessons of history."

He said the revolutionary battle that his group is "waiting must unfold in line with the traditions of organization in the form of a political party."

He also explained that the "fundamental economic and social change" his group is "waiting must unfold through the use of the "lessons of history.""

The second stage, in which an organization is formed, begins with the establishment of a political party, Briody said, and the leaders of the country are running the government primarily for their own good.

The third stage, in which an organization is formed, begins with the establishment of a political party, Briody said, and the leaders of the country are running the government primarily for their own good.

The second stage, in which an organization is formed, begins with the establishment of a political party, Briody said, and the leaders of the country are running the government primarily for their own good.

The literature of the People's Party also says on the theme of governmental neglect of the middle and lower classes. A document discussing the philosophy of the People's Party lays down a series of rational goals.

The following are some of the basic positions:

- The second stage, in which an organization is formed, begins with the establishment of a political party, Briody said, and the leaders of the country are running the government primarily for their own good.

- The second stage, in which an organization is formed, begins with the establishment of a political party, Briody said, and the leaders of the country are running the government primarily for their own good.

- The second stage, in which an organization is formed, begins with the establishment of a political party, Briody said, and the leaders of the country are running the government primarily for their own good.

- The second stage, in which an organization is formed, begins with the establishment of a political party, Briody said, and the leaders of the country are running the government primarily for their own good.

- The second stage, in which an organization is formed, begins with the establishment of a political party, Briody said, and the leaders of the country are running the government primarily for their own good.

- The second stage, in which an organization is formed, begins with the establishment of a political party, Briody said, and the leaders of the country are running the government primarily for their own good.

- The second stage, in which an organization is formed, begins with the establishment of a political party, Briody said, and the leaders of the country are running the government primarily for their own good.

- The second stage, in which an organization is formed, begins with the establishment of a political party, Briody said, and the leaders of the country are running the government primarily for their own good.

- The second stage, in which an organization is formed, begins with the establishment of a political party, Briody said, and the leaders of the country are running the government primarily for their own good.

- The second stage, in which an organization is formed, begins with the establishment of a political party, Briody said, and the leaders of the country are running the government primarily for their own good.

- The second stage, in which an organization is formed, begins with the establishment of a political party, Briody said, and the leaders of the country are running the government primarily for their own good.
Squashmen Squash Off Against Princeton as Page Meets Page

By BBA KLEPPINGER

When freshman squash player Joe Swain steps out onto the Ringe indoor courts today at 3 p.m., he'll be getting the first look at one of the bestGateway teams as Penn faces off against the Quakers.

Tennis coach Al Molloy keeps in touch with U.S. Squash, The Pennsylvania Ballot

(FEB. 16-MARCH 8) NEEDS PETITIONERS

When you send in your petition, send your number of signatures so that we can fill your petition before the deadline. Your

The Quaker's, who have been leading the nation in the last few months, have eked out two matches against Yale. Now they're facing another challenge, the Penn Quakers. The Quakers have won three straight matches against various teams, including a recent victory over the Yale Bulldogs. However, the Penn Quakers are confident in their abilities and are ready to face the challenge.

Squashman John Lefrancois of the Quaker's, who was ranked in the top four in the nation last year, is highly motivated to win this match. He's looking forward to a good showdown with his opponent, Joe Swain. Lefrancois is known for his fierce competitiveness and his ability to adapt his game to different situations.

On the other hand, Swain is known for his strong serve and his ability to keep the ball in play. He's looking forward to a tough match and is prepared to give his best effort.

But the match is not just about the players; it's about the teams as well. The Quakers are the nation's top team, and they're determined to maintain their lead. The Penn Quakers are hoping to prove themselves and show that they're a force to be reckoned with.

This match will be quite exciting to watch, and the outcome is uncertain. It's going to be a real test of their skills and their abilities to adapt to different situations.期待着与对手之间的精彩对决。