Activities Council Allocates Funds; Most Groups Get Budget Cuts

BY NANCY SPARKS

Most campus activities received budget cuts in their 1973-74 allocations from the Activities Council, it was announced by council Chairman Bruce Cooper Thursday. Of the 49 activities requesting funds, 43 were allocated, with 37 of those which were not. The U.S. Army were reduced completely.

Several organizations that had received money in past years did not get funding this year.

The appropriations, which constitute the first cut of total council funds, totaled $112,819. Of this amount, $25,412 is to come from the University Student Senate. The council has the option to cancel the allocation after the semester if additional funds are needed.

The open meeting was held Thursday evening in the Student Center.

President Richard M. Nixon, in a close-to-campus appearance, addressed a conference of Catholic educators at the Catholic Center on Thursday. The student was held to press for more public support of parochial schools.

University Gives Final Approval to Plan for Black Residential Center

BY JIM KAIN

The University Council's Action Committee Thursday to include blacks, among others, and Commonwealth in an "admission's rollback" of initiatives to be announced on Wednesday. The council will take place Wednesday at 4 p.m. when the council's committee will be assembled.

The council's decision reverses an administrative policy which did not allow the committee to include black students. The rollbacks under the committee's mission, about half of all 3600 applicants, will be seniors.

The move, most public school authorities agree, to a situation where approximately 1300 students will be included in the decision.

Junior-level students would be accepted this year and in previous years.

The university's board of trustees Wednesday approved a resolution calling for a "residential program primarily for incoming Black freshmen and students." A statement issued by Vice President for Public Relations Wednesday said they would view the proposal as "an experimental program" to be expanded in future years.

The university's board of trustees Tuesday approved a resolution calling for a "residential program primarily for incoming Black freshmen and students." The statement said the university would view the proposal as "an experimental program" to be expanded in future years.

The council's decision reverses a policy under which blacks were refused completely.

The move, most public school authorities agree, to a situation where approximately 1300 students will be included in the decision.

This Fall Next Fall

Extensive Seminar Program to Be Offered to Freshmen

OF SPECIAL INTEREST

A new seminar program, oncontaining 25 courses in a wide range of disciplines, will be offered to the freshmen class in the fall semester.

Several of these courses will be offered to students who have been accepted by the University during the past year. The program will be open to all incoming freshmen, regardless of discipline.

The council's decision reverses a policy under which blacks were refused completely.

The move, most public school authorities agree, to a situation where approximately 1300 students will be included in the decision.

This Fall Next Fall

A preliminary paper for a workshop on "Black Education" offered last fall during the fall semester, said the small number of students in the seminars should allow a good number of students into the seminars.

The paper stated, "The planning of the freshman seminars should include information and data on the interests and concerns of students, and as much as possible, should guide students in the planning process.

In addition, the paper said that the seminar program will be considered "a voluntary activity for the primary emphasis in the seminars is on the liberal arts curriculum." -

The U.S. Escalates "Retaliatory" Viet Bombing

SAIGON - U.S. warplanes began heavy raids north of Vietnam Thursday after the U.S. government warned that it would increase the bombing and strafing raids were stepped up in the North Vietnamese. The northern front, where an estimated 80,000 man force of North Viet Names were fighting in the north, was threatening Saigon for the first time since the truce ended.

The heaviest fighting was on the northwest front, where an estimated 80,000 man force of North Viet Names were fighting in the north, was threatening Saigon for the first time since the truce ended.

Within a few hours after the U.S. warning, North Vietnamese planes and rockets have stepped up the raiding sweep over the capital. The force might be as many as 100 aircraft, and some estimates said 200 aircraft were on the way.

The U.S. command said it had no report of any early action taken by the North Vietnamese forces, but that it was "serious, of concern for the future of the war in the north." The U.S. command had no report of any early action taken by the North Vietnamese forces, but that it was "serious, of concern for the future of the war in the north."
The Eclipse of the Senate Elite

By Michael Lake and Seth Karp

Yesterday we suggested that the place of the student was not to question or criticize institutionalizing the question of institutions, both students and professors. The student, by the intellectual process, should promote the social character of which the first principles favor a "universal" particularism. Indeed, it is the role of the second that is in the university's mission. Students are not the only participants in this process, but they are the ones who have a dual devotion of the intellectual and social. If we are to act reasonably, it is impossible to determine. If students seek the truth, they must be free to doubt it. Students must be free to question and be free to accept the possibility that their doubts are wrong. The only way to determine this is to move forward and to continue to question. The thing is to move forward and move on.

Yesterday we suggested that the student's role is not to question or criticize the university's mission. Instead, the student's role is to question and to question. The only way to determine this is to move forward and to continue to question. The thing is to move forward and move on.

The non-committal attitudes of students are a de facto evidence of an intellectual majority. Students are not fully relied on, but they are the ones who have a dual devotion of the intellectual and social. If we are to act reasonably, it is impossible to determine. If students seek the truth, they must be free to doubt it. Students must be free to question and be free to accept the possibility that their doubts are wrong. The only way to determine this is to move forward and to continue to question. The thing is to move forward and move on.

Some more: speak in cold terms to each other, in your best practical fashion. Or, if you don't want to take a course not yet in existence could.

We have brought this up now for a couple of reasons. First, we note that many of the students of the old order have already left or are leaving the institution. Second, many of the students of the old order have already left. Third, many of the students of the old order have already left. And, fourth, many of the students of the old order have already left. These people are our friends now. We must be sure to find out where they are and how to reach them. We must be sure to find out where they are and how to reach them. We must be sure to find out where they are and how to reach them. We must be sure to find out where they are and how to reach them. We must be sure to find out where they are and how to reach them.

We have brought this up now for a couple of reasons. First, we note that many of the students of the old order have already left or are leaving the institution. Second, many of the students of the old order have already left. Third, many of the students of the old order have already left. And, fourth, many of the students of the old order have already left. These people are our friends now. We must be sure to find out where they are and how to reach them. We must be sure to find out where they are and how to reach them. We must be sure to find out where they are and how to reach them. We must be sure to find out where they are and how to reach them. We must be sure to find out where they are and how to reach them.

The non-committal attitudes of students are a de facto evidence of an intellectual majority. Students are not fully relied on, but they are the ones who have a dual devotion of the intellectual and social. If we are to act reasonably, it is impossible to determine. If students seek the truth, they must be free to doubt it. Students must be free to question and be free to accept the possibility that their doubts are wrong. The only way to determine this is to move forward and to continue to question. The thing is to move forward and move on.

The non-committal attitudes of students are a de facto evidence of an intellectual majority. Students are not fully relied on, but they are the ones who have a dual devotion of the intellectual and social. If we are to act reasonably, it is impossible to determine. If students seek the truth, they must be free to doubt it. Students must be free to question and be free to accept the possibility that their doubts are wrong. The only way to determine this is to move forward and to continue to question. The thing is to move forward and move on.

The non-committal attitudes of students are a de facto evidence of an intellectual majority. Students are not fully relied on, but they are the ones who have a dual devotion of the intellectual and social. If we are to act reasonably, it is impossible to determine. If students seek the truth, they must be free to doubt it. Students must be free to question and be free to accept the possibility that their doubts are wrong. The only way to determine this is to move forward and to continue to question. The thing is to move forward and move on.

The non-committal attitudes of students are a de facto evidence of an intellectual majority. Students are not fully relied on, but they are the ones who have a dual devotion of the intellectual and social. If we are to act reasonably, it is impossible to determine. If students seek the truth, they must be free to doubt it. Students must be free to question and be free to accept the possibility that their doubts are wrong. The only way to determine this is to move forward and to continue to question. The thing is to move forward and move on.

The non-committal attitudes of students are a de facto evidence of an intellectual majority. Students are not fully relied on, but they are the ones who have a dual devotion of the intellectual and social. If we are to act reasonably, it is impossible to determine. If students seek the truth, they must be free to doubt it. Students must be free to question and be free to accept the possibility that their doubts are wrong. The only way to determine this is to move forward and to continue to question. The thing is to move forward and move on.
News in Brief

Friday April 7, 1972

executives.

The Senate Judiciary Committee tentatively agreed Thursday to call at least 17 more witnesses in its ITT investigation into the relationship between Justice department and ITT.

Kleindienst inquiries.

The Senate Judiciary Committee, which is now a month old.

The state says was used in the courtroom escape attempt and the subsequent slayings.

About 300 homes in a nine-block area were evacuated and schools, and some businesses in the area closed.

About 300 homes in a nine-block area were evacuated and schools, and some businesses in the area closed.

GREAT DOUBLE FEATURE

MARLON BRANDO’S

ON THE WATERFRONT

CHARLIE CHAPLIN’S

GOLD RUSH

FRI., APRIL 7, 1972

S1.00

HOU NTON HALL IVY ROOM

WHERE ARE YOU LIVING NEXT YEAR?

We need 15 men to be part of a new kind of living group, formed within the loose confines of a fraternity, Alpha Sigma Phi. This fraternity can be anything you choose to make it.

WHERE ARE YOU LIVING NEXT YEAR?

We need 15 men to be part of a new kind of living group, formed within the loose confines of a fraternity, Alpha Sigma Phi. This fraternity can be anything you choose to make it.

We need 15 men to be part of a new kind of living group, formed within the loose confines of a fraternity, Alpha Sigma Phi. This fraternity can be anything you choose to make it.
Admissions Rollback

The administration earlier this week set on a total reappraisal of its current freshman class.

The committee members are: Dr. Bernard Anderson, assistant professor of history; Dr. Helen Dickinson, associate professor of educational psychology; Dr. J. L. Jones, associate dean of students; Dr. James A. Adams, associate chairman, College of Arts and Science; Dr. J. W. Scott, associate dean; and Dr. W. E. Wheeler, dean of the college. The committee members are all black.

Dr. Anderson, head of the committee, said that the committee's first step would be to meet with the Administration Office to set up the procedures to be followed. The committee will then meet to discuss the matter of admission to the University. The committee members are all black.

Dr. Anderson said that the committee would first meet with the Administration Office to set up the procedures to be followed. The committee will then meet to discuss the matter of admission to the University. The committee members are all black.

The committee members are all black.
Tup Foregoes Pessimism on the outcome of this lacrosse match.

Cambridge to face the Red and Blue lacrosse powerhouses, much will rest in the process. Tomorrow night - Quaker soccer team demolished the 1-03-51 squeaker.

Tuppeny again finds his squad beset by invariability. Traditionally, the Quakers have the potential to be good use in wins against Maplewood and an exceptionally strong showing -

Laxmen Hope for Scoring Boom Against Johns' Deficient Defense

The Quakers would like to see their defense improve, something they haven't seen this season. First, the Quakers need to find a way to prevent the enemy from scoring. It's been a problem for them all season, and it's something they need to work on.

The look of starvation was evident in the early minutes of the game, with the Quakers struggling to find a rhythm. They were forced to play catch-up for the majority of the game, but they never gave up.

After a difficult first half, the Quakers came out strong in the second half, scoring three goals in the final 20 minutes of the game. They were able to put the game out of reach for the visitors, and they came away with a 10-3 victory.

The Quakers were led by a strong performance from their midfield, with several key players stepping up to make important contributions.

Nonetheless, the Quakers will be looking for more consistent performance from their defense going forward. They need to work on closing out games and preventing the opponent from scoring late.