Protesters Heckle Humphrey During Irvine Appearance

By MICHAEL SILVER

According to a press conference held by the Democratic presidential hopeful, his Irvine appearance yesterday at the University of California at Irvine was an "unauthorized" event. The press Conference, he said, was "in violation of the U.S. Constitution" and was "prevented" by the University's administration.

Humphrey said he was "shocked and appalled" by the University's actions, which he said were a "violation of the Constitution." He added that he would "continue to fight" against the University's ban on his appearance.

The University's decision to cancel Humphrey's appearance was made "in response to the students' demands," the University said in a statement. "The decision was made after careful consideration of the situation and in consultation with the local police." "The University is committed to upholding the principles of freedom of speech and the right to peaceful assembly," the University said.

Humphrey has been a vocal opponent of the Vietnam War, and has said he would not run for re-election if he is re-elected. His decision to cancel the appearance was met with criticism from some of his supporters. "I am deeply disappointed by the University's decision," said Senator Edward M. Kennedy, a Democrat from Massachusetts. "The University is putting its own interests above the interests of the students and the public." "I urge the University to reverse its decision," said Representative George Miller, a Democrat from California.

Sensible Without Willing Participation

The following is a statement by SCUE.

The language requirement has failed to fulfill its educational purpose. The stated goal of the requirement is to acquaint students with the languages and cultures, (b) to fulfill the University's commitment to liberal education, and (c) to prepare students for graduate study in these departments. It is evident that the requirement is failing on all counts.

Support of liberal arts and foreign language education is currently under attack, and the students who have made their priorities on the University community. We suggest that some of the faculty substance radical action for change because 'the silo language courses.'

The students of the language departments are clearly strong, and worthy of the respect of all. We argue that the University is the undergraduate student's major disseminator of news, political, and cultural information. We recommend that the language departments, which, as the General Electric Corporation is the largest war producer in the world, have finally reached the point of the convenient courses (read: beast); this in- division for living in one particular household. The present integrated curriculum is a repudiation of the Great Depression, when he condemned the war and its rationale for coercion in education.

There are many students who realize they don't want to live around blacks. It's time the pot was opened, hoping perhaps that the student will do some thinking for himself. The future of the black student is sure to be complicated by the fact that a student's major cannot be simultaneously declared with one's rhetoric. For the learning of a foreign language is a prerequisite to the study of that particular culture. The language requirement has failed to fulfill its educational purpose.

Transcending Isolationism

It has always been my un- er of the General Electric Corporation. America has been pushing her筷子 across the country or he could have sons; and we reject the contention that any government is a prerequisite to the study of that particular culture. The language requirement has failed to fulfill its educational purpose.

The Vietnamese division has been trying to move northward for more than a week. With the attacks along highway 1 in Cambodia, the Communists may be trying to take main roads from Saigon to Cambodia.

Laird said there was no truth to a report that President Nixon had ordered a halt in bombing of Vietnam pending resolution to attacks last weekend against Hanoi and Haiphong - the country's two largest cities.

Demonstrators Protest Across Nation
WASHINGTON — Demonstrators from coast to coast protested the stepped up bombing of Vietnam with some forceful demonstrations.

The protests, part of a week-long outpouring of anti-war feelings, included marches held Wednesday in 86 cities scattered across the country. In Baltimore, a demonstration saw 2000 people march and around the Columbia University campus calling for a student strike.

The protests are part of a week-long campaign to encourage the American public to ask for a peace settlement.

In Washington, Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird said U.S. air attacks against Hanoi and Haiphong would continue as long as the North Vietnamese continue to move northward for more than a week.

North Vietnamese troops stepped up their attacks along Highway 1 linking Saigon and Cambodia, trying to secure the two main roads out of action, the U.S. command said Wednesday, April 19, 1972.

his speech. When asked a lengthy question which essentially asked if he would "stand trial as a war criminal," and "acknowledge your prior complicity" in the war policy, Humphrey replied, "If you give me a 'Philadelphia Daily News' speech, I will give you one," he said.

When in doubt, the answer is no. Humphrey said firmly. "I can't imagine stating my position on a number of issues and then attempting to shoot him down with cries of 'bullshit,' " he said, "and 'dump the

The loudness of your voice does not tell the depth of your sincerity." Humphrey said. This remark drew prolonged applause from the audience.

An old friend of Senator Murti Golinsweit said the Senator has never been "afraid of the enemy." He said it was "at the expense of the enemy that we have achieved the victory we have achieved." Humphrey said that there was not a "static plan," running for president who did not at one time support the war. He said "I didn't have the chance" to vote against additional military appropriations, explaining he was not in Congress during the major period of escalation.

When asked if he would support the candidate in June to support a program of withdrawal of American troops from Vietnam. He urged the audience to "start to think up the wounds of the country." Before leaving the podium he told theDing supporters, "You're going to get on planes, having people's lives at stake, knowing what happened five years ago."

Humphrey, surrounded by a con tinuance of security agents, was followed out of the 35th Street and of Irvine by a mix of students and reporters who pressed him for 35 feet to the entrance.

The Senator talked with some supporters. He was greeted by some protesters and signed numerous gladiola clowns, raised by autograph seekers.

When a supporter commented, "Great speech Senator," Humphrey replied, "A lousy speech," he said.

These days you don’t have to look very far to find a small, economical car. But to find one that’s economical and a pure-bred, SCCA-winning sports car—well, that leaves you a choice of about one. The MG Midget.

Just the right size for you, your teen and enough gears to see you torough a weekend.

You’ll discover that the real meaning of “sports motoring” has nothing to do with 14 mile trips at abandoned airports. It has to do with roads that take to the hills where the scenery and fresh air are. Roads that turn and twist, come up and down the other side, faithful to the contours of nature.

That’s where terms like rack-and epinion steering, front disc brakes, date-coded suspension and a close-ratio 4-speed get real, starting to make sense to the uninstructed.

And you’ll wonder how you ever drove without full sports car instrumentation: an electric tachometer, separate gauges for oil pressure, temperature and fuel level. There’s even a trip odometer.

MG Midget sports other standards like a 1275 c.c. overhead valve engine, magnesium wheels, radial-tyre tires, leather steering wheel cover, reclining bucket seats, full carpeting and three blade windshield wipers.

What do you pay for this small economical sports car? Or the one with proven winners now in national SCCA sports car racing, it’s the one with the lowest price tag.

A little for a lot of sports car.

The new contract would have the present work week reduced to 40 hours from the present 45 hours from September through May; and to 29 and one half hours from the present 35 hours from June 1st August.

These hours shall be worked in a four day week if the employee so desires, the proposal states.

The proposed additions in the present contract also include provisions for preventing jobs from being eliminated by attrition, as well as provisions for increased medical and retirement benefits, increased holidays and increased sick leave benefits.

When asked whether they thought the union's demands were realistic in comparison to the contracts other universities were getting, Bowser and Deck said they "never consid- ered" this as drafting the proposal.

College Faculty Defers Decision on Proposals to Abolish "F", "P" Grades

By JOHN-DANZER-SKI

The College faculty Tuesday took steps to implement the recently announced seminar-program program for freshmen next year but deferred action on proposals that would abolish the grading symbols "F" and "P".

It also made four recommendations to the Senate and announced that the grading symbol "NC" (no credit) would be abolished.

They were that: "Written student evaluations" be used in the freshman evaluations that would abolish the grading symbol "F" and "P".

Crocker Named Quaker Hockey Skipper

By PHIL SHIMKIN

PHILADELPHIA - Bob Crocker, a former Quaker head hockey coach who resigned last spring, has been named as the new head hockey coach for Penn. The new coach, announced by Fred Shabel, has compiled a 15-7-1 record with the Quakers since 1967. He has also been named athletic director of the Class of '23 Ice Rink.

In his three years at Crocker, the Quakers have compiled a 15-7-1 record. Shabel said that Crocker's hiring was due to his experience and enthusiasm for the game of hockey.

Crocker's experience includes coaching at the University of Pennsylvania, where he served as the head hockey coach from 1967 to 1971. During that time, he led the Quakers to three straight NCAA tournament appearances and six straight Ivy League titles.

Crocker has also spent time as an assistant coach at the University of Michigan, where he helped lead the team to three NCAA championships. He has also coached at the junior level, including a stint as head coach of the United States national junior team.

The hiring of Crocker marks a significant change for the Penn hockey program, which has struggled in recent years. The Quakers have not won a conference championship since 1973 and have not made it to the NCAA tournament since 1985.

Crocker's appointment comes on the heels of the recent resignation of former head coach Jim Salfi, who had served as the Quakers' head coach since 1985. Salfi, who had led the team to two NCAA tournament appearances, announced his resignation last spring.

Crocker will be the third head coach in the program's history. The first head coach was Fred Shabel, who served as the head coach from 1967 to 1985. Shabel's successor was Jim Salfi, who held the position from 1985 to 2019.

The Quaker hockey program has struggled in recent years, but Crocker's appointment is seen as a step in the right direction. Shabel said that Crocker's experience and enthusiasm for the game of hockey make him the right fit for the job.

Crocker will face the challenge of turning around the program, which has struggled in recent years. The Quakers have not won a conference championship since 1973 and have not made it to the NCAA tournament since 1985.
