Wide Area Telephone Service Line
Implemented For University Savings

By CLIFF GOODMAN

This week's limited long-distance telephone service came to the University in the form of a new service, the Wide Area Telephone Service (WATS). It offers savings to the University's long distance telephone calls.

Wide Area Telephone Service (WATS) for direct-dial station-to-station calls was presented to the University's faculty and staff by Burke Greenwald, Director of University Telecommunications. Burke explained that the cost for WATS for June and July, a new service, will be more than 98 percent lower than for the comparable period a year ago.

The telephone service came to the University for direct-dial station-to-station calls. It is limited to telephone communications between the states of the University and the District of Columbia, but will be available in several states outside of the WATS geographic system. Burke explained that no other service and staff would be allowed to use the service.

One of the limitations on the service is that any telephone service is busy telephone time. Therefore, 'trip' (outside) available for the WATS system, Burke said, is not the usual 24-hour service. The cost for the new system is that cost will be greatly reduced if all will use the new system.

Although WATS is available to the University 24 hours a day, personnel will not be able to use the service from 8:30 A.M. to 5:00 P.M. when University operations are in recess. However, it is possible that the University's long distance telephone service will continue to be used even when the University is closed. Burke explained that the University used over 7,000 instruments. Total cost to Pennsylvania for the 21-state area will be

Burke explained that the total long-distance rate per minute for the University will be greatly reduced if all will use the WATS service. He explained that the faculty and staff will not be allowed to use the service.

Egypt Claims Arabs Left Lower Lebanon

Cairo -- Egyptian press reports said Wednesday that Palestinian guerrillas have withdrawn from all of southern Lebanon so that they could conduct freedom fighting inside the Lebanon border and to aid the Israelis and the Israeli-occupied Hijaz regions near the Lebanon border with Syria.

The Cairo newspaper Al Ahram said the guerrillas, whose activity, according to military observers, had been chief factor in the recent fighting in the area, would return to the area that would indicate the Arab guerrillas were withdrawing from the border.

Wagner's Lightweights Rely On Age For Shot at Crown

BY JOEL SHAPIRO
Remnants of old stats, or even the distant memories of Wagner's past, reveal little of the present. But in the days when the Green and White was a football powerhouse, the program's lightweight team was a formidable force. Their small size was offset by speed and agility, and they made up for their lack of weight with heart and determination. The lightweight football team was a prominent part of the college's athletic program, and their success was often a source of pride for the students and alumni.

The Lightweights'轻量化队依赖年龄优势

"We were expecting about 70 guys somewhat disappointing 55 would be about right," said Wagner's coach.

In the early part of the season, the team obtained valuable experience needed to taste of battle on September 29. The team's success is due to their youth and determination.

"The eligibility qualifications for this program are very strict. We need to show a certain amount of weight, but we are able to play in a lightweight varsity level sport," said team manager Bill Wagner.

The Lightweights are a section of the Ivy League, Army, Navy, and Penn. Wagner proudly proclaims, "Our most famous alumnus is Bill "Stork" Thomson, Terrorizes Penn's BOB HOFFMAN and Yale's GLENN PARTRIDGE (one goal, PAUL HARRISON (two goals), and FRANK BOLGER (one goal, two assists) have been terrorizing offenses ever since."

The eligibility requirements for this program are very strict. The team must weigh 158 pounds two days before a game and be able to play in a lightweight varsity level sport. To achieve this, they must split their game against the service academies their long tradition of football.

"It's an advantage in rushing the passer," said Thomson. "I feel that I'm not particularly strong, but I have good speed and can hopefully block the pass or scare the quarterback."
