campaign, Freedman noted that "there has been a lack of coordination" in the Philadelphia McGovern organization. "People were not clear on what they were supposed to do," Bernstein said.

"Twenty-seventh Ward leader Jeff Freedman noted that when McGovern was in Philadelphia, he replaced reform union leader Berson with union leader Wendell Young, as Philadelphia leader. "Right arm is not sure what the left arm is doing."

"People were not clear on what they were supposed to do," Bernstein said. "This is really a dirty trick," Mrs. Das said. "The visit was cancelled. "This is really a problem." Mrs. Das, who was in charge of the McGovern staff, said local McGovern organizers have been treated very shabbily," Mrs. Das said. "On top of this other trouble, McGovern has told them they don't need us."

Both Bernstein and Freedman said that to make up for the cancellation of the Franklin tour, another "celebrity" visit to West Philadelphia will probably be planned.

New Phoenix Theatre
Fresh hope for Penn drama

By Franklin Roberts
Twenty-five years ago I could hardly wait over what Penn’s Ѿас accounted for. As sports editor of the Tri (in 1947) my people would despise the hiring issue: “...to be understood or not to be...” We made it to one...

At last glance, they’re giving me another crack at the papers. The Tri is no longer worked up at my age they call it “interim”. As part of the group bringing up the most enthusiastic engagement of the New Phoenix Repertory Company to the Communications Arts and Sciences, starting Saturday, October 13, I see as an opportunity for important lasting benefit for Penn, Philadelphia and the American theatre.

To appreciate the potential let’s look at the New Phoenix. It is a major effort, perhaps the boldest yet, in the challenging and winning company under the direction of Carl Ett and creative artist, Stephen Porter. The Phoenix will launch with a new look, a new program, a new play.

Look at the line-up. Both Arthur Miller and Eugene O’Neill are on the roster. In addition, a director whose set designs for Fiddler, Company and Falstaff are classics as well as an advisory legend, Paul Reiser, with a Young American Theatre. Thence, a commercial theatre’s finest actors and actresses, James Shigeta, Katherine Helmond, star of the highly acclaimed Keepsake. The House Of Blue Leaves. John Glenn, who could fill me into the real meaning of what the sweats are all about. Excellent production of The Beggar’s Opera.

These new proposals will arrive today for one week of rehearsals and programs designed to open new vistas for Penn. What we want for Penn is much more than a campus and stage and half a world of performing arts. What we need is a real American theatre, Thence, a perfect combination of the worlds: a perfect combination of the worlds.

Mr. Russell was asked by Dr. Jack Mathis of the Psych. Dept. whether he would raise a question in the hearing that he was pleased with the decision. "I think everybody respected one another. Justice was served," he said.
