Marshall Succeeds Allam as Dean of Veterinary School

BY STEVE BIDDLE

Dr. Michael Marshall, a noted expert in the study of animal behavior and physiology, has been named dean of the School of Veterinary Medicine, replacing Dr. Jack Allam, who has moved to a new position as dean of the College of Agriculture.

Dr. Marshall, who has been with the university for 15 years, is a widely respected researcher in the fields of animal behavior and physiology. He has made significant contributions to the understanding of animal behavior and has published extensively in peer-reviewed journals.

In his new role, Dr. Marshall will be responsible for overseeing all aspects of the school's operations, including budgeting, strategic planning, and faculty development.

Dr. Marshall is a native of New York City and received his undergraduate degree from Harvard University. He went on to earn his Ph.D. in animal behavior from the University of California, Berkeley.

He has been involved in a number of notable research projects, including studies on the effects of stress on animal behavior and the role of neurotransmitters in animal decision-making.

Dr. Marshall is widely respected for his expertise in the field and is expected to bring a fresh perspective to the role of dean.

What Ever Happened to the Annenberg Undergrad Major?

By MARC GOLDSTEIN

The Annenberg major, which was once a popular choice among undergraduate students, has seen a decline in popularity over the past few years.

According to University records, the number of students declaring the Annenberg major has dropped significantly since its peak in the early 1980s.

Many factors have contributed to this decline, including changes in the academic landscape and shifts in student interest.

The Annenberg major, which was created in the mid-1970s, was designed to provide a comprehensive education in the fields of mass communications and journalism.

However, over time, the major has struggled to keep up with the changing field.

Critics have pointed to the lack of a coherent curriculum and the difficulty of finding employment for graduates.

In 2010, the College of Arts and Sciences announced plans to eliminate the Annenberg major, citing declining enrollment and a lack of demand.

The decision sparked a controversial debate among students and faculty, with some arguing that the major was valuable for providing a broad education in the arts and sciences.

Ultimately, the College decided to continue offering the Annenberg major for one more year before phasing it out.

Today, the Annenberg major is a small and relatively obscure program within the College of Arts and Sciences.

Despite its declining popularity, the Annenberg major remains a touchstone for many students and alumni who have fond memories of their experiences in the program.

Schutte Error Causes 73 Implementation of Wharton School P/NC

By JOHN DANSZEWICI

The University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School has suffered a setback in its efforts to implement the P/NC (Penn's Next Generation) system.

The P/NC system, which is designed to replace the university's current credit grading system, was scheduled to be implemented this fall.

However, a major error in the data used for the system's implementation has come to light, causing delays in the rollout.

According to sources familiar with the situation, the error involves the use of incorrect data for part-time students.

The error was discovered during a test run of the system, which revealed inconsistencies in the data used for grading and transcript generation.

As a result, the implementation date for the P/NC system has been pushed back to the fall of 2021.

The error has raised concerns about the accuracy of the system and has prompted a review of the data used for its implementation.

The University is currently working to address the issue and has promised to provide updates on the progress of the implementation.

The announcement of the delay has caused frustration among students and faculty, who had been eagerly anticipating the new system.

The P/NC system is expected to provide a more accurate and transparent credit grading system, which is expected to be rolled out across the university's schools.

While the implementation has been delayed, the University remains committed to the success of the P/NC system and is confident in its ability to overcome the challenges presented by the error.

Wolfgang Recommends Abolition of Pennsylvania Capital Punishment

BY MARC GOLDSTEIN

The University of Pennsylvania's College of Arts and Sciences has been at the forefront of discussions on the topic of capital punishment for many years.

As a result, the college has been a leader in the movement to abolish the death penalty.

In a recent interview with the Daily Pennsylvanian, Professor Wolfgang stated that he firmly believes in the abolition of the death penalty.

Professor Wolfgang has been an vocal proponent of the abolition of the death penalty for many years, and has written extensively on the topic in his book "Abolitionism in Action: The Death Penalty in the 21st Century." In the book, Professor Wolfgang argues that the death penalty is a violation of human rights and should be abolished.

Professor Wolfgang's recommendations have been widely discussed and have been influential in the ongoing debate on the topic of capital punishment.

The University of Pennsylvania has a long history of supporting the abolition of the death penalty, and has been a leader in the movement for many years.

In addition to Professor Wolfgang, the university has a number of other faculty members who are active in the movement to abolish the death penalty.

Despite the ongoing debate, the University of Pennsylvania remains committed to the abolition of the death penalty, and is a leader in the movement to end this practice.
PHILADELPHIA UNION OF JEWISH STUDENTS
ELECTIONS
Sept. 20th at Hillel 202 S. 36th St.
For Campus Representative
Interested Candidates Sign Up
Today in Hillel Office

Women's Self Defense Series
2nd Presentation
Wednesday, September 19
Christian Association
8:00 p.m.
Skits & Discussions:
Our Reactions to Abuse & Harassment
All Women Welcome

UNDERGRADUATE ASSEMBLY
Meeting Tonight
Houston Hall
7 PM
Franklin Room
Agendas available
in Undergraduate Assembly Office

BLOODY BABIES?
HAZARDOUS TOYS?
Public Interest Research?
Eastern Pennsylvania
Public Interest Research Group
P.I.R.G.
Announces it's first meeting of the semester.
Find out who we are
and what we're up to!
Ivy Room in Houston Hall
Monday, September 17
At 8:00 P.M.
Letters to the Editor

Potentially Murderous Practices 'at Student Health Service

I feel I have an obligation to both myself and the other students who utilize the Student Health Service that a serious problem exists there.

There are not many instances that I have chosen to note the Student Health Service in its entirety. I am writing to you because of a recurrence of a past problem which I expect you will recognize and take immediate action to prevent.

I was not here from work the morning of March 25th, as I usually was. I was not sick, nor was I going to try to get out of work. I was just not there. The time being 9:15 A.M., I was attending a class. I remember being cold and not being able to control my body temperature.

I was wearing a heavy coat and had my head down as I entered the building. I was immediately aware of what was going on and hurried to get inside and out of the cold. I was not able to control my body temperature and had to be carried to the nearest emergency room.

The only person who was there was the Medical Assistant, who was trying to keep me warm. I was in the emergency room for approximately two hours before I was allowed to leave.

I am writing this letter to draw attention to the fact that the Student Health Service is not adequately staffed and that there is a lack of concern for the patients who come there. I am not the only person who has had this problem and I am sure that others have as well.

Please consider the matter seriously and take immediate action to prevent any further occurrences.

Sincerely,

[Student Name]

Van Pelt Hours

Following the editorial in The Daily Pennsylvanian on Monday, March 11, 1973, there has been a discussion regarding the hours of the Van Pelt Library. Many students have been in contact with the administration expressing their concerns.

Two years ago, Van Pelt hours extended until midnight five nights per week. Thursday through Sunday. On Friday and Saturday, we have been instructed to leave earlier than midnight because the policy was changed to save power and heat.

We now have been instructed to leave earlier than midnight because the policy was changed to save power and heat.

The problem is that our campus community is in the form of a small town and we are not as fortunate as the students at Penn whose community is in the form of a large city.

John I. Goulas

Assistant Residential Manager

Letters and Columns

The Daily Pennsylvanian welcomes comment from the campus community in the form of "Letters to the Editor." The editor of the paper shall have the right to decide whether letters shall be published or not.

By Stephen L. Dishon

Not too long ago, an editorial appeared in the DP criticizing the Wharton administration for its proposed changes in the pass-no-credit system. I would like to make a few comments regarding the DP's editorial.

The administration might find the following open letter to the DP timely enough to consider a response:

To the DP, Philadelphia, PA 19174:

I am writing in response to your editorial of March 11, 1973, regarding the proposed changes in the pass-no-credit system. While I agree with some of your points, I believe that the DP has taken an overly critical stance.

First of all, the DP's statement that the pass-no-credit system is a "bad idea after all, Fiburtia?" is not accurate. In my opinion, the system has many benefits.

The system allows students to take courses without the pressure of grades, which in turn helps to reduce stress levels. Moreover, it enables students to explore new areas of interest without the fear of failing a course.

The DP also questioned the administration's decision to eliminate pass-no-credit in certain courses. However, I believe that this decision was made to ensure that students are adequately prepared for future courses.

In conclusion, I believe that the pass-no-credit system is a good idea and that the administration should continue to support it.

Sincerely,

[Student Name]
Chilean Capital Calm After Coup

By United Press International

SANTIAGO - Government workers turned out throughout Santiago Monday to salute with cheers of royal political grief that heralded the coup against Marxist president Salvador Allende.

Chile's new military junta ordered the citizens to "give the city a better aspect before the world." Workers placed large signs in front of the Soviet embassy and "Mourning never fades," which were the legacy of three years of labor politics of Allende under Allende's regime.

A Mexican soldier took off early Monday, carrying the widow and two daughters of the deceased president into asylum in Mexico. Allende committed suicide during Tuesday's coup.

A South Vietnamese soldier called the Chilean coup a "tragedy" and said he implored the nation would not act a civil war.

Sunday morning the government radio network broadcast dozens of communiques and announcements could avert a civil war.

The Senate, under major pressure this week with a battle if they had had BS involved in activities which would not be quite ethical," Houen said a CIP Washington physician service.

Support in Congress Seen for President

WASHINGTON - President Nixon appeared likely to win two more victories in Congress this week with a House vote to maintain his veto of a minimum wage bill and Senate confirmation of Henry A. Kissinger as secretary of state.

The Senate today scheduled a cloture vote for Wednesday to speed confirmation of the Nixon administration's pledge of its full support to the embattled Nixon.

The House, under major pressure from organized labor to go against the military contingency bill, had not affected the turnover.

Inouye Cites Funds

WASHINGTON - Sen. Daniel K. Inouye, a Democrat on the Senate Armed Services Committee, said Sunday that the military procurement authorization bill, which would pump $3.4 billion into military procurement, might have been involved in activities which would not be quite ethical." Houen said a CIP Washington physician service.

Dems, Raise $5.3 Mil. In T.V. Marathon

Burbank - Presidential hopefuls and other ranking Democrats, plus 100,000 of celebrities, helped raise more than $5.3 million in pledges during an eight-hour telethon ending Sunday which may have banned $5.3 million in pledges during an eight-hour telethon ending Sunday which may have banned.

The lavish event, which began Saturday night and concluded an hour longer than originally planned, raised an average of $5 million more than anticipated.

While such senators as Edward Kennedy, Eugene McCarthy and Henry Jackson made brief appeals from the nationwide telephone.

TONIGHT PENN UNION COUNCIL
Open Meeting
7 PM HOUSTON HALL BOWL ROOM
We all have some fun getting things done around this school.
We need people for
Advertising, Movies, Concerts, The Cabaret,
Coffee's and Coffeeeck's,
and openings for creative minds.
See you tonight.
Barry Leonard, Crimper gives perfect haircuts Tuesdays through Saturdays. On Sundays, he eats bagels and lox. And on Mondays, he signs autographs.

FREE UNIVERSITY WANTS YOU

Organizational Meeting
SEPT. 20, 8 P.M.
Houston Hall
Franklin Room
Truckin'

Question: Were in red and white, has four wheels, and serves students and has hours from 11:30 A.M. to 6:00 P.M. Monday through Friday.

Now for the bad news. Nick's is one of the better places to find a weiner in downtown Philadelphia. The saving grace of the place is the variety of baked goods.

Most customers seemed to be trying the truck for the first time so they didn't even know what they were missing. The price of steak has risen a nickel. The man was open to student suggestions. He pointed out that the price of steak has risen slightly lower prices. The favorite here is hot dogs at .35 each, which goes to Stella's clientele seem to be former tail-enders of the long line at Nick's.

So, unless you think you can run to Pat's in South Philly in ten minutes, the most convenient way to get your weiner is down at the C.A. There just aren't any. But you can run to Pat's in South Philly if you have the time and energy.
I'm just not aware of the score. I guess I was pleased with my performance in the game.

Penn Puts Colgate Down the Drain

ERNIE JEWINSKY

A year ago Martin Vaughn was a little-known fourth-string quarterback for the Penn football team. During the season he had led the team to victory in only one game, a miraculous contest against the Bed Haiders, leading a last-second field goal.

Against Colgate this season, Vaughn proved himself capable of leading a team to victory. He completed eight of 11 passes and scored one touchdown.

For 110 yards on the ground, he ran for 92 yards on 15 carries, Wixted was in and out of the game. Our first quarter was disappointing with our play early in the game. Our first quarter was disappointing. We're still going to try and improve.

We have many opportunities to score.

The shot of something to keep him for at least two weeks. We're still two weeks away from our opening game. We're still two weeks away from our opening game.

Billiken Bill was about 25 yards in front of the goal. Billiken Bill was about 25 yards in front of the goal.

It's tough to argue the point. St. Louis suffers from a lack of scoring. "I Johnnie, they found it harder to develop consistency in their normally-crisp short passing attack, and although neither side dominated the action, it wasn't hard to con- cerned drive to score. Executing the right side of the net. It was too far away from our opening game."

Penn coach Bob Seddon, about the game, said, regarding what we saw today."

Penn coach Bob Seddon, about the game, said, regarding what we saw today."

Hankinson "had an ex- pression that it was a scrim- mage with Penn, "To us, a."

We're still going to try and improve. We're still going to try and improve.

In fact, it was this "St. Louis mystique" which perhaps stymied the Card's lack of Red and Blue scoring. "I Johnnie, they found it harder to develop consistency in their normally-crisp short passing attack, and although neither side dominated the action, it wasn't hard to con- cerned drive to score. Executing the right side of the net. It was too far away from our opening game."

Penn coach Bob Seddon, about the game, said, regarding what we saw today."

We're still going to try and improve. We're still going to try and improve.

Billiken Bill is an assistant basketball coach at 2:49 on a two-point play. The final play of the game. Our first quarter was disappointing.

We have many opportunities to score. We have many opportunities to score.

The shot of something to keep him for at least two weeks. We're still two weeks away from our opening game. We're still two weeks away from our opening game.

Billiken Bill is an assistant basketball coach at 2:49 on a two-point play. The final play of the game. Our first quarter was disappointing.

We have many opportunities to score. We have many opportunities to score.

The shot of something to keep him for at least two weeks. We're still two weeks away from our opening game. We're still two weeks away from our opening game.

Billiken Bill is an assistant basketball coach at 2:49 on a two-point play. The final play of the game. Our first quarter was disappointing.

We have many opportunities to score. We have many opportunities to score.

The shot of something to keep him for at least two weeks. We're still two weeks away from our opening game. We're still two weeks away from our opening game.

Billiken Bill is an assistant basketball coach at 2:49 on a two-point play. The final play of the game. Our first quarter was disappointing.

We have many opportunities to score. We have many opportunities to score.

The shot of something to keep him for at least two weeks. We're still two weeks away from our opening game. We're still two weeks away from our opening game.

Billiken Bill is an assistant basketball coach at 2:49 on a two-point play. The final play of the game. Our first quarter was disappointing.

We have many opportunities to score. We have many opportunities to score.

The shot of something to keep him for at least two weeks. We're still two weeks away from our opening game. We're still two weeks away from our opening game.

Billiken Bill is an assistant basketball coach at 2:49 on a two-point play. The final play of the game. Our first quarter was disappointing.

We have many opportunities to score. We have many opportunities to score.

The shot of something to keep him for at least two weeks. We're still two weeks away from our opening game. We're still two weeks away from our opening game.

Billiken Bill is an assistant basketball coach at 2:49 on a two-point play. The final play of the game. Our first quarter was disappointing.

We have many opportunities to score. We have many opportunities to score.

The shot of something to keep him for at least two weeks. We're still two weeks away from our opening game. We're still two weeks away from our opening game.

Billiken Bill is an assistant basketball coach at 2:49 on a two-point play. The final play of the game. Our first quarter was disappointing.

We have many opportunities to score. We have many opportunities to score.

The shot of something to keep him for at least two weeks. We're still two weeks away from our opening game. We're still two weeks away from our opening game.

Billiken Bill is an assistant basketball coach at 2:49 on a two-point play. The final play of the game. Our first quarter was disappointing.

We have many opportunities to score. We have many opportunities to score.

The shot of something to keep him for at least two weeks. We're still two weeks away from our opening game. We're still two weeks away from our opening game.

Billiken Bill is an assistant basketball coach at 2:49 on a two-point play. The final play of the game. Our first quarter was disappointing.

We have many opportunities to score. We have many opportunities to score.

The shot of something to keep him for at least two weeks. We're still two weeks away from our opening game. We're still two weeks away from our opening game.

Billiken Bill is an assistant basketball coach at 2:49 on a two-point play. The final play of the game. Our first quarter was disappointing.

We have many opportunities to score. We have many opportunities to score.

The shot of something to keep him for at least two weeks. We're still two weeks away from our opening game. We're still two weeks away from our opening game.

Billiken Bill is an assistant basketball coach at 2:49 on a two-point play. The final play of the game. Our first quarter was disappointing.

We have many opportunities to score. We have many opportunities to score.

The shot of something to keep him for at least two weeks. We're still two weeks away from our opening game. We're still two weeks away from our opening game.

Billiken Bill is an assistant basketball coach at 2:49 on a two-point play. The final play of the game. Our first quarter was disappointing.

We have many opportunities to score. We have many opportunities to score.

The shot of something to keep him for at least two weeks. We're still two weeks away from our opening game. We're still two weeks away from our opening game.

Billiken Bill is an assistant basketball coach at 2:49 on a two-point play. The final play of the game. Our first quarter was disappointing.

We have many opportunities to score. We have many opportunities to score.

The shot of something to keep him for at least two weeks. We're still two weeks away from our opening game. We're still two weeks away from our opening game.

Billiken Bill is an assistant basketball coach at 2:49 on a two-point play. The final play of the game. Our first quarter was disappointing.