Assembly Meets Tonight on H.H. Renovation Plan

By LARRY FIELD
The student body's Representative Council will meet tonight to consider a resolution to renovate Houston Hall, in the absence of the Senate. The proposal, approved earlier by the President's Budget Committee last February, is designed to amend the University's credit line with a goal to boost the University's financial position. The proposal, which will be voted on tonight, is expected to be discussed at length on the floor of the Senate.

Ford Next Auto Target

DETROIT (UPI) - Its quarrel with Chrysler Corp., officially over, the United Auto Workers turned its full attention Monday to Ford Motor Co., its second negationist target.

Production at Chrysler resumed normally on Tuesday following ratification by UAW rank and file for a one-week strike. The union officially over, the eight members of the settlement reached over the weekend said it gained at Chrysler.

The head of the Ford negotiating team, Vice President Malcolm Denise, said he foresaw "real stumbling blocks and problems in adopting the terms of the Chrysler agreement to the Ford contract."

He did not spell out specific problems.

UAW Vice President Ken Hansen, leading the union team in the absence of UAW President Leonard Woodcock, said the membership override had been ordered at the strike's beginning.

The UAW, he said, wants a complete voluntary overtime program at Ford-unlike the Chrysler settlement, which allows the company to demand overtime hours a week.

Both men said they hoped the two sides could agree without the union calling a strike.

Brezhnev: Red Treaty Ignored by Peking

MOSCOW (UPI) - Communist Party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev disclosed Monday the Soviet Union offered last June to sign a nonaggression treaty with China but Peking refused it.

At the same time, the General Secretary of the Soviet Communist party reaffirmed the Soviet interest in better relations with the United States. But he said allegations that the two superpowers have taken it upon themselves to decide the fate of other peoples are contrary to Soviet policy and thinking and to reality.

He said the Soviet proposal for a nonaggression treaty was conditional upon China's refusal to refrain from land, sea and air attacks on each other and refrain from threats of attack.

Calif. Death Penalty Reinstituted by Reagan

LOS ANGELES (UPI) - Governor Ronald Reagan Monday signed into law legislation reinstituting the death penalty in California and making it mandatory for 11 kinds of murder.

When the law goes into effect Jan. 1, death in the gas chamber for those convicted of murder will become mandatory upon conviction without consideration of the defendant's crimes.

Skylab 2 Astronauts

Head Toward Home

HOUSTON (UPI) - The Skylab 2 astronauts Monday started the end of their 59-day orbital flight. They are scheduled to splash down Wednesday night in the Pacific Ocean off the coast of San Diego.

The Skylab 2 astronauts, Alan L. Bean, Owen K. Garriott and Donald K. Slayton, are expected to arrive on the recovery ship USS New Orleans.

Although the Apollo has only two of its steering rockets working, the space agency was fully confident it would bring the astronauts safely back to earth.

Students have been fortunate that the aid budget is now being forced to face up to the consequences of inflation. Major decisions are due, soon. Some students have already met with the chancellor to protest the redistributive nature of the aid.

In the past, the president and the Board of Trustees, concerned the Aid Committee, and the Student Council had been involved in the aid budget process. The aid budget is now the only budget in which these committees are not represented. This is a significant change.
Antioch Urban Campuses Offer Working Experience

By ELEANOR NOREICK

It is a world where both working and going to college is actually tolerated - a case of poverty. Antioch College, in Yellow Springs, Ohio, spends the first semester of their freshman year in the real world of work.

"Many students involved in the program are not as confident and ability in formulating and planning their future," says a senior who has been living with Antioch College since the first entering class included Milwaukee.

This program is designed to give students an opportunity to work in a community and become aware of the problems they face. It is also an opportunity to meet other students from different backgrounds.

For example, in the case of one student, the program allowed him to work in a community where he and his family had never been before. He was able to learn about the culture and way of life in that community, and this experience helped him develop a better understanding of the world.

The program is also designed to help students develop their skills in problem-solving and critical thinking. They are given the opportunity to work on real-world problems and learn how to approach and solve them. This helps them develop the skills they need to be successful in their future careers.

In addition, the program allows students to see the world from a different perspective. By living in a community and working with its residents, they are able to gain a deeper understanding of the problems that affect people's lives.

The program is also designed to help students develop their social skills. By working with people from different backgrounds and cultures, they are able to develop empathy and understanding, and this helps them build better relationships in the future.

Overall, the program is designed to help students develop the skills and knowledge they need to be successful in their future careers and to become engaged and active citizens in their communities.

Swans Gaze at Ivy Grid Standings

When football season rolls around, Ivy sports fans and players often (and for good reason) turn to a bulletin board near their dorm rooms. The bulletin board is the sportswriter's answer to the calendar, the place where the fixtures of the academic year are posted and the season's results are entered.

There is usually no shortage of interest in football scores, but to get a glimpse of the relative strength of the various Ivy teams, one must turn to the 1973 Ivy Grid standings, published by the Star Gaz'w in the fall. The standings are a useful guide to the relative strength of the various teams, and the anticipation is high for the showdown with Princeton on Saturday.

Penn and Harvard are the two leading teams in the Ivy Grid, and both have high hopes for a successful season. Penn, under the leadership of coach Ann Sage, is looking to build on last year's successes and establish itself as a serious contender for the title. Harvard, under coach John Bailey, is hoping to improve on last year's performance and solidify its position as one of the top teams in the league.

Brown and Yale are also expected to have strong seasons, with both teams looking to improve on their performances from last year. Brown, under coach Mike Rosenman, is hoping to build on its success from last year and establish itself as a serious contender for the title. Yale, under coach Bill Bush, is hoping to improve on its performance from last year and establish itself as a serious contender for the title.

Princeton and Cornell are also expected to have strong seasons, with both teams looking to improve on their performances from last year. Princeton, under coach Jack Bauscher, is hoping to build on its success from last year and establish itself as a serious contender for the title. Cornell, under coach Bill Bush, is hoping to improve on its performance from last year and establish itself as a serious contender for the title.

The future of Ivy Grid football is promising, with all of the teams looking to improve on their performances from last year. The season promises to be one of the most competitive in recent memory, with all of the teams looking to establish themselves as serious contenders for the title.
