Cox Testifies On Frustration In His Investigation

By United Press International

WASHINGTON -- Former Watergate prosecutor Archibald Cox told the Senate Judiciary Committee yesterday that he believes the investigation is proceeding too slowly and that the White House is trying to impede it.

Mr. Cox said in his opening statement yesterday that he was "deeply, deeply disturbed" about the pace of the investigation and that it was "incomplete and deficient" in its handling of evidence.

He said that the investigators had not turned over records on Nixon campaign finances that "cannot be strewn to the winds" and that they had not adequately investigated the Watergate affair and related issues.

The White House had said yesterday that a new special prosecutor would be named later this week and that a new special counsel would be named later next month.

By ED DREKIA

The Committee on Honorary Degrees has begun to review candidates for the academic awards to be given in June.

The committee, composed of eight faculty members, is headed by Dr. Goodenough, a law School student honoring the nominee. Dr. Goodenough explained that his nomination was made by a group of community leaders who have been actively pressing for the award.

The committee, composed of eight faculty members, is headed by Dr. Goodenough, a law School student honoring the nominee. Dr. Goodenough explained that his nomination was made by a group of community leaders who have been actively pressing for the award.

The committee, composed of eight faculty members, is headed by Dr. Goodenough, a law School student honoring the nominee. Dr. Goodenough explained that his nomination was made by a group of community leaders who have been actively pressing for the award.

The committee, composed of eight faculty members, is headed by Dr. Goodenough, a law School student honoring the nominee. Dr. Goodenough explained that his nomination was made by a group of community leaders who have been actively pressing for the award.

The committee, composed of eight faculty members, is headed by Dr. Goodenough, a law School student honoring the nominee. Dr. Goodenough explained that his nomination was made by a group of community leaders who have been actively pressing for the award.

The committee, composed of eight faculty members, is headed by Dr. Goodenough, a law School student honoring the nominee. Dr. Goodenough explained that his nomination was made by a group of community leaders who have been actively pressing for the award.

The committee, composed of eight faculty members, is headed by Dr. Goodenough, a law School student honoring the nominee. Dr. Goodenough explained that his nomination was made by a group of community leaders who have been actively pressing for the award.

The committee, composed of eight faculty members, is headed by Dr. Goodenough, a law School student honoring the nominee. Dr. Goodenough explained that his nomination was made by a group of community leaders who have been actively pressing for the award.

The committee, composed of eight faculty members, is headed by Dr. Goodenough, a law School student honoring the nominee. Dr. Goodenough explained that his nomination was made by a group of community leaders who have been actively pressing for the award.

The committee, composed of eight faculty members, is headed by Dr. Goodenough, a law School student honoring the nominee. Dr. Goodenough explained that his nomination was made by a group of community leaders who have been actively pressing for the award.

The committee, composed of eight faculty members, is headed by Dr. Goodenough, a law School student honoring the nominee. Dr. Goodenough explained that his nomination was made by a group of community leaders who have been actively pressing for the award.

The committee, composed of eight faculty members, is headed by Dr. Goodenough, a law School student honoring the nominee. Dr. Goodenough explained that his nomination was made by a group of community leaders who have been actively pressing for the award.

The committee, composed of eight faculty members, is headed by Dr. Goodenough, a law School student honoring the nominee. Dr. Goodenough explained that his nomination was made by a group of community leaders who have been actively pressing for the award.

The committee, composed of eight faculty members, is headed by Dr. Goodenough, a law School student honoring the nominee. Dr. Goodenough explained that his nomination was made by a group of community leaders who have been actively pressing for the award.

The committee, composed of eight faculty members, is headed by Dr. Goodenough, a law School student honoring the nominee. Dr. Goodenough explained that his nomination was made by a group of community leaders who have been actively pressing for the award.

The committee, composed of eight faculty members, is headed by Dr. Goodenough, a law School student honoring the nominee. Dr. Goodenough explained that his nomination was made by a group of community leaders who have been actively pressing for the award.

The committee, composed of eight faculty members, is headed by Dr. Goodenough, a law School student honoring the nominee. Dr. Goodenough explained that his nomination was made by a group of community leaders who have been actively pressing for the award.

The committee, composed of eight faculty members, is headed by Dr. Goodenough, a law School student honoring the nominee. Dr. Goodenough explained that his nomination was made by a group of community leaders who have been actively pressing for the award.

The committee, composed of eight faculty members, is headed by Dr. Goodenough, a law School student honoring the nominee. Dr. Goodenough explained that his nomination was made by a group of community leaders who have been actively pressing for the award.

The committee, composed of eight faculty members, is headed by Dr. Goodenough, a law School student honoring the nominee. Dr. Goodenough explained that his nomination was made by a group of community leaders who have been actively pressing for the award.

The committee, composed of eight faculty members, is headed by Dr. Goodenough, a law School student honoring the nominee. Dr. Goodenough explained that his nomination was made by a group of community leaders who have been actively pressing for the award.

The committee, composed of eight faculty members, is headed by Dr. Goodenough, a law School student honoring the nominee. Dr. Goodenough explained that his nomination was made by a group of community leaders who have been actively pressing for the award.

The committee, composed of eight faculty members, is headed by Dr. Goodenough, a law School student honoring the nominee. Dr. Goodenough explained that his nomination was made by a group of community leaders who have been actively pressing for the award.

The committee, composed of eight faculty members, is headed by Dr. Goodenough, a law School student honoring the nominee. Dr. Goodenough explained that his nomination was made by a group of community leaders who have been actively pressing for the award.

The committee, composed of eight faculty members, is headed by Dr. Goodenough, a law School student honoring the nominee. Dr. Goodenough explained that his nomination was made by a group of community leaders who have been actively pressing for the award.

The committee, composed of eight faculty members, is headed by Dr. Goodenough, a law School student honoring the nominee. Dr. Goodenough explained that his nomination was made by a group of community leaders who have been actively pressing for the award.

The committee, composed of eight faculty members, is headed by Dr. Goodenough, a law School student honoring the nominee. Dr. Goodenough explained that his nomination was made by a group of community leaders who have been actively pressing for the award.

The committee, composed of eight faculty members, is headed by Dr. Goodenough, a law School student honoring the nominee. Dr. Goodenough explained that his nomination was made by a group of community leaders who have been actively pressing for the award.

The committee, composed of eight faculty members, is headed by Dr. Goodenough, a law School student honoring the nominee. Dr. Goodenough explained that his nomination was made by a group of community leaders who have been actively pressing for the award.

The committee, composed of eight faculty members, is headed by Dr. Goodenough, a law School student honoring the nominee. Dr. Goodenough explained that his nomination was made by a group of community leaders who have been actively pressing for the award.
University Special
50% Off a FONZO Pizza
With This Coupon
Dining Room or Take Out
48th & Chestnut
GR2-9930
Students Only

PHOTOS FOR APPLICATIONS  RESUMES
While you wait service (if needed)
ON CAMPUS AT SHAPIR STUDIO
Recommended for quality
3907 WALNUT ST - 8A2-7888

U.S. Central Intelligence Agency

Unique professional opportunities are available for those seniors and graduate students completing work in:
- Economics
- Electrical Engineering
- Foreign Area Studies
- Foreign Languages (high proficiency required)
- International Relations
- Journalism
- Political Science

- Graduate students only
- All assignments are in Washington, D.C. area. Some require foreign travel. 5 years U.S. citizenship is required.
- Obtain your application and literature from: The University Placement Service, 1 University City, 400 Chestnut Street
- Mail resumes to our Office.
- All qualified applicants to be interviewed at an early date.
- An Equal Opportunity Employer.

WANTED
FOR DONATING PLASMA

FEMALES MALES

DESCRIPTION: At least 110 lb., Good Health, and interested in being a plasma donor to help provide critically needed plasma for the treatment of Hemophilia and the preparation of Blood Serums

DISTINGUISHING MARKS: Blood Group A, B & O

LAST KNOWN ADDRESS: University of Penn. Campus

REWARD OFFERED
$35.00 Per Week
CALL NOW FOR DETAILS: CH7-2433
Open Until 8 P.M. Every Mon., Tues., Wed., & Thurs.

BIOGENICS INC.
SPECTER DISCUSSES TRIAL BACKLASH
Campanile Issues in Interview

District Attorney John S. Specter is running for re-election as the Republican party ticket's No. 4 against Democrat G. M. Fitzpatrick. Specter has been DA since 1965. He was defeated in his race for mayor in 1969 and now serves as City Councilman for the Fourth District. He graduated from the University of Pennsylvania in 1956. Prior to law school, he worked in the office of District Attorney. He was an assistant DA in charge of the Criminal Investigation Department.

SPECTER: I was just curious about the Inspector and the Police in relation to the Campanile incident. Last week, I was approached by a student leader who said that he would do whatever was necessary to stop the Campanile. He didn't say what he had in mind. I would like to know what is happening in your office, what is your position in this race, and how serious do you think this is?

SPECTER: I'd be pleased to discuss that with you at any time. But let me just say right now that we are very concerned about the Campanile incident and we are trying to get to the bottom of it. We are doing everything we can to prevent any further violence. We are working closely with the police and the schools to try to resolve this problem.

SPECTER: Thank you. I don't want to discuss that right now. I think that it is important to remember that we are dealing with young people who are reacting to a very complex situation. We are trying to understand their point of view and to find a way to resolve this conflict.

SPECTER: I think that it is important to remember that we are dealing with young people who are reacting to a very complex situation. We are trying to understand their point of view and to find a way to resolve this conflict.

SPECTER: I agree. I think that it is important to remember that we are dealing with young people who are reacting to a very complex situation. We are trying to understand their point of view and to find a way to resolve this conflict.

SPECTER: I think that it is important to remember that we are dealing with young people who are reacting to a very complex situation. We are trying to understand their point of view and to find a way to resolve this conflict.

SPECTER: I think that it is important to remember that we are dealing with young people who are reacting to a very complex situation. We are trying to understand their point of view and to find a way to resolve this conflict.

SPECTER: I think that it is important to remember that we are dealing with young people who are reacting to a very complex situation. We are trying to understand their point of view and to find a way to resolve this conflict.

SPECTER: I think that it is important to remember that we are dealing with young people who are reacting to a very complex situation. We are trying to understand their point of view and to find a way to resolve this conflict.

SPECTER: I think that it is important to remember that we are dealing with young people who are reacting to a very complex situation. We are trying to understand their point of view and to find a way to resolve this conflict.

SPECTER: I think that it is important to remember that we are dealing with young people who are reacting to a very complex situation. We are trying to understand their point of view and to find a way to resolve this conflict.

SPECTER: I think that it is important to remember that we are dealing with young people who are reacting to a very complex situation. We are trying to understand their point of view and to find a way to resolve this conflict.

SPECTER: I think that it is important to remember that we are dealing with young people who are reacting to a very complex situation. We are trying to understand their point of view and to find a way to resolve this conflict.

SPECTER: I think that it is important to remember that we are dealing with young people who are reacting to a very complex situation. We are trying to understand their point of view and to find a way to resolve this conflict.

SPECTER: I think that it is important to remember that we are dealing with young people who are reacting to a very complex situation. We are trying to understand their point of view and to find a way to resolve this conflict.

SPECTER: I think that it is important to remember that we are dealing with young people who are reacting to a very complex situation. We are trying to understand their point of view and to find a way to resolve this conflict.

SPECTER: I think that it is important to remember that we are dealing with young people who are reacting to a very complex situation. We are trying to understand their point of view and to find a way to resolve this conflict.

SPECTER: I think that it is important to remember that we are dealing with young people who are reacting to a very complex situation. We are trying to understand their point of view and to find a way to resolve this conflict.

SPECTER: I think that it is important to remember that we are dealing with young people who are reacting to a very complex situation. We are trying to understand their point of view and to find a way to resolve this conflict.

SPECTER: I think that it is important to remember that we are dealing with young people who are reacting to a very complex situation. We are trying to understand their point of view and to find a way to resolve this conflict.

SPECTER: I think that it is important to remember that we are dealing with young people who are reacting to a very complex situation. We are trying to understand their point of view and to find a way to resolve this conflict.

SPECTER: I think that it is important to remember that we are dealing with young people who are reacting to a very complex situation. We are trying to understand their point of view and to find a way to resolve this conflict.

SPECTER: I think that it is important to remember that we are dealing with young people who are reacting to a very complex situation. We are trying to understand their point of view and to find a way to resolve this conflict.

SPECTER: I think that it is important to remember that we are dealing with young people who are reacting to a very complex situation. We are trying to understand their point of view and to find a way to resolve this conflict.
The dilemma for the modern Black writer came to a head during the '20s, but also, long before then, concerned him. He realized that he must define himself as a Black artist and not merely an artist that he must shape and define his culture.'
News in Brief

Prosecution Rests Chicago 7 Case

(Continued from page 1)

The Committee has just finished members who are there work, and there are some who marking time."

They're always some who are there school gives them the opportunity to class of '24, said that while today's lawyer and current president of the alumni.

The pursuit of excellence carries forward. "He said, "and Penn not u trustee and chairman of Acme Mart."*'

Tuesday, October 30. 1973

The Student Activities Office must have the activity's registration form has been registered with the Office
visit the Office
locations during the current week to the Office

See National Lampoon's Lemmings
4 national Lampoon's Lemmings
November 5 at the Michael Reese Theatre in Philadelphia

Tuesday Evening
Oct. 30, 8:00 p.m.
ROOF-TOP THEATRE
HARRISON HOUSE
3901 Spruce Street

Inter-ACTS presents
"The Police"

For more information on Inter-ACTS, call 594-7601

Law School Room 100
7:00 P.M.

Finance Committee Elections
Reserve Fund Requests
Activity Recognition

The Student Activities Office must have the name of each person who will be representing an activity at this meeting. Call or visit the Office (594-635), 2nd floor Houston Hall) by 3:00 today to ensure that your activity's registration form has its representatives listed. NO ONE OTHER THAN OFFICIALLY REGISTERED REPRESENTATIVES WILL BE PERMITTED TO VOTE AT THIS MEETING.

All interested students are invited to attend the meeting.
Freshman Gridders Fall To Tigers and Attrition

By GRANT HANESKA

Freshman Grant Haneska of the Pennsylvania football team is feeling a bit down after losing to Princeton on Saturday, a loss that might not be described as a setback.

Princeton’s 21-0 defeat consisted of 17 points scored in the second half. The Tigers scored two touchdowns in the third quarter, and one in the fourth. The Quakers had no first downs in the second half, and scored only one point in the third quarter.

Haneska, who has been a member of the team since the fall, said he was disappointed by the game. "I felt that we had a great chance to win and we didn't take advantage of it," he said.

The Tigers had 336 yards of total offense, compared to 181 yards for the Quakers. Princeton quarterback Scott Toomey completed 16 of 26 passes for 180 yards and a touchdown, while Virginia native Tim Staver threw for 191 yards and a touchdown.

"I thought we played well," said Staver, who was named the MVP of the game. "We were able to dominate every aspect of the game."