Faculty Will Request 9.5 Per Cent Salary Increase Next Year

By JIM KLEIN
Faculty representatives will ask that an average 9.5 per cent salary increase for next year be set as the goal at a faculty meeting Thursday.

Assistant Professor of Economics, Michael Chartier, Chancellor of the American Association of University Professors, presented a proposal at the meeting of the association, and the increase will be presented to the administration within two weeks. The indicated committee will then ask for a 9.3 per cent increase as compensation for a projected 8 per cent inflation rate this year as well as for a shortfall in this year's budget. It is possible that the administration will meet inflation by 1.5 per cent. Warther said that if the faculty panel voted for these terms, the faculty will have to make many difficult decisions, but the administration must not be given more money.
Either way you'll get the shaft.

The BSR 810 and 710 have five beams in their shaft. A carefully machined metal rod holding eight precision-machined cams. When the cam shaft turns, the cams make things happen. A lock is released, an arm raised and swings, a record drops, a platter starts spinning, the arm is lowered, the arm raises again, it swings back, another record is dropped onto the platter, the arm is lowered again and so on, for as many hours as you like.

Deluxe turntables from other companies do much the same thing, but they use many more parts—scads of separate arms, gears, drives, and springs—in an arrangement that is not nearly as mechanically simple. And they are (considerably) more likely to come out of alignment and considerably more vulnerable, and a much more susceptible to mechanical shock than the BSR sequential cam shaft system.

When you buy a turntable, make sure you get the shaft. The BSR 710 and 810. From the world's largest manufacturer of automatic turntables.

Buy the
BSR 710 or 810.
S. Viet composer to publish book on war. Viet Cong warplanes killed 32 persons and wounded 79 Vietnamese citizens in a 30-minute raid on the Communist capital of Hue Nov. 7. The raid on the city's largest rice granary, included a land mine, killing the country's largest, the Pean Cong. The report was approved 306 to 1. "Fuel Crisis Pressured AsKed By President" (WASHINGTON, D.C.) — With two experts testifying that Americans must drastically reduce gasoline use to prevent a nationwide fuel crisis, President Ford today formally asked Congress Thursday to speed development of energy legislation empowering him to oil and gas and oil and gas wells.

Following up his broadcast speech to the nation, Wednesday night on the energy crisis, the President sent a special message to the House and Senate Thursday. He said, "We have been asked to do four things: prepare for an oil embargo, extend our existing petroleum reserves, develop alternative energy sources, and require everyone to do their part."

President Ford said the energy crisis is "no longer just a problem of the oil producing nations to solve. It is a national crisis calling for immediate action."

Ford warned that gasoline supply could be at the lowest level ever during July, that the nation has only a few months supply of gasoline and that winter is approaching. If one car owner will destroy our energy security, Ford said, "We must all save."

Ford pointed out the "energy crisis is costing us billions of dollars. We can't afford it."

Ford also appealed to the oil industry to stimulate new exploration and production. He asked Congress to expedite approval by the Atomic Energy Commission of the breeder reactor at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

"I am asking Congress, and the nation, to hold together and stay the course. I am talking about the cost of disaster."

The President requested Congress to pass emergency legislation to stimulate new energy production. He asked Congress to pass legislation providing for the withdrawal of all federal leases from public lands and to allow private companies to develop new energy sources.

Ford also asked Congress to allow him to sell the federal stockpile of oil and gasoline, and to approve the use of military fuel for civilians.

Ford said, "We have been asked to do four things: prepare for an oil embargo, extend our existing petroleum reserves, develop alternative energy sources, and require everyone to do their part."

"I am asking Congress, and the nation, to hold together and stay the course. I am talking about the cost of disaster."

Ford also pointed out the "energy crisis is costing us billions of dollars. We can't afford it."

Ford warned that gasoline supply could be at the lowest level ever during July, that the nation has only a few months supply of gasoline and that winter is approaching. If one car owner will destroy our energy security, Ford said, "We must all save."

Ford asked Congress to expedite approval by the Atomic Energy Commission of the breeder reactor at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

"I am asking Congress, and the nation, to hold together and stay the course. I am talking about the cost of disaster."

The President requested Congress to pass emergency legislation to stimulate new energy production. He asked Congress to pass legislation providing for the withdrawal of all federal leases from public lands and to allow private companies to develop new energy sources.

Ford also asked Congress to allow him to sell the federal stockpile of oil and gasoline, and to approve the use of military fuel for civilians.

Ford said, "We have been asked to do four things: prepare for an oil embargo, extend our existing petroleum reserves, develop alternative energy sources, and require everyone to do their part."

"I am asking Congress, and the nation, to hold together and stay the course. I am talking about the cost of disaster."

Ford also pointed out the "energy crisis is costing us billions of dollars. We can't afford it."

Ford warned that gasoline supply could be at the lowest level ever during July, that the nation has only a few months supply of gasoline and that winter is approaching. If one car owner will destroy our energy security, Ford said, "We must all save."

Ford asked Congress to expedite approval by the Atomic Energy Commission of the breeder reactor at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

"I am asking Congress, and the nation, to hold together and stay the course. I am talking about the cost of disaster."

The President requested Congress to pass emergency legislation to stimulate new energy production. He asked Congress to pass legislation providing for the withdrawal of all federal leases from public lands and to allow private companies to develop new energy sources.

Ford also asked Congress to allow him to sell the federal stockpile of oil and gasoline, and to approve the use of military fuel for civilians.

Ford said, "We have been asked to do four things: prepare for an oil embargo, extend our existing petroleum reserves, develop alternative energy sources, and require everyone to do their part."

"I am asking Congress, and the nation, to hold together and stay the course. I am talking about the cost of disaster."

Ford also pointed out the "energy crisis is costing us billions of dollars. We can't afford it."

Ford warned that gasoline supply could be at the lowest level ever during July, that the nation has only a few months supply of gasoline and that winter is approaching. If one car owner will destroy our energy security, Ford said, "We must all save."

Ford asked Congress to expedite approval by the Atomic Energy Commission of the breeder reactor at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

"I am asking Congress, and the nation, to hold together and stay the course. I am talking about the cost of disaster."

The President requested Congress to pass emergency legislation to stimulate new energy production. He asked Congress to pass legislation providing for the withdrawal of all federal leases from public lands and to allow private companies to develop new energy sources.

Ford also asked Congress to allow him to sell the federal stockpile of oil and gasoline, and to approve the use of military fuel for civilians.
Mourn Letter Has Anti-Semite Tone

To the Editor:

The mourning letter recently printed in the Daily Pennsylvanian (October 16) has a tone that is anti-Semitic and also translates to the real estate world. It was signed "Dr. David R. Rizzou," the head of the Gestapo in Europe during World War II, for whom Robert Henry and Robert Rosenfeld donated $100,000 to the University. This donation was accepted by the University because of the real estate world.

Sincerely,

Robert Henry and Robert Rosenfeld

Pennsylvania

Law Professor Cites Racial Stereotypes

To the Editor:

I am writing to express my concern about the recent article in the Daily Pennsylvanian (October 16) that includes a quote from a law professor who cites racial stereotypes in his analysis of the University's admissions process.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

Pennsylvania

Superbuck

Superbuck

The University, in its attempt to improve the image of positively perceived students, has taken a step in the right direction by implementing the Superbuck program. This program aims to recognize students who exhibit exceptional values and character traits.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

Pennsylvania

Professor of Law

Challenging the Name

To the Editor:

I am writing to express my concern about the recent article in the Daily Pennsylvanian (October 16) that challenges the name of the University. As a Penn student, I strongly believe that the name "Pennsylvania" is a symbol of our proud history and heritage.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

Pennsylvania

Playboy and that Functional Interest

To the Editor:

I am writing to express my concern about the recent article in the Daily Pennsylvanian (October 16) that reflects on the Playboy and its functional interest in the student community. As a student, I believe that Playboy has contributed positively to our cultural landscape.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

Pennsylvania

Playboy for a special position, for does Playboy idealize a single female image and, by so doing, depress women and mislead men, but it does so in the midst of legitimate interests and topical issues.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

Pennsylvania

Letters to the Editor
UNDERGRADUATE PSYCHOLOGY COURSES

Green permits are necessary for all spring psychology courses except Psych 1. Permits will be available in the Psychology Office beginning Monday morning, Nov. 12. If you pre-register for psych. courses without permits, you will not be enrolled.

Why do some people think Bud is sort of special?

The Penguinett's will present their twentieth annual water show Sunday at Sheerr Pool at 2:30 P.M. The program consists of a cast of 70 featuring Charlie and the Flying Tunas, five University students in a comedy act entitled "The Great Thin Rushby," other acts include "March Harekats," "Friss," "Fandora," "In Time of Need, a Prophet Comes" (an aquatic art composition different from regular synchronized swimming "Jug!"), and possibly a diving act entitled "Off the Board." Synchronized swimming presentations will also be given by seven students from Radnor High School and by "The Wild Catalinas," 16 Villanova University students. The Pennsbury Falconettes from Pennsbury, New Jersey will also perform.

THAI

RESTAURANT

AUTHENTIC

123 S. 23RD ST. (AT SANSOM ST.)
PHILADELPHIA, PA. 19103
(215) 567-2542

Open Sunday
Open Everyday S P.M. to 10 P.M.
Wed. Thurs. Fri. Open for lunch (From 11 Noon)
20% off M-Th till Dec. 20 with I.D.

TWA is what travel should be.
!Image
WHARTON

Cornell University

Bob Kolsby

Fielder Cook's film of Mrozek's savage same

TICKETS All seats $2. All students 50

NOV 13 8.00 PM Studio Theatre

Perlormance

Nov 16 (following performance of Repeat

Annenberg Center: University of Pennsylvania 3620

Walden Ave, Philadelphia 19104 Phone (215) 896-5941

RESERVATIONS TONIGHT NOV. 10, 15, 16 8:00 PM

Performance

Temmie Brodkey

Bryan Hull

Barclay Equestrian Center

Art and Discussion THE FAMILY: THE CREATION STAGE MONDAY

EDWARD POWERS

CROOKED STAG DE-

ILONAGEBNER

FIELDER COOK

WHARTON: The Family

The national premiere of Fielder Cook's film of Mrozek's savage same."
Due to the late arrival of the Course and Room Roster, registration for CTS courses will be extended through Tuesday, November 13

CTS Information:

449 Williams Hall
594-4940
Frosh Booters Defeat Drexel JV Squad, 9-0

"This win was the most of the goals scored yesterday at Franklin Field, as Penn's freshman squad defeated the Drexel JV by the score of 9-0 in the first varsity game played by the Freshmen. The victory encouraged the Freshmen to continue their season with the same fighting spirit that marked their victory over the J.V. squad.

Despite the disparity in the final score, the Freshmen squad met the challenge of the game with a fighting spirit and determination. The performance of the Freshmen was a credit to their team and to the university as a whole.

The victory was a morale booster for the Freshmen squad, which has been working hard to improve their skills and prepare for the upcoming matches. The Freshmen are looking forward to continuing their success in the future.
Elis’ Power Running Will Test Penn Defense

By ANDY FISHERMAN

Power football, CCLA, Ohio State, Alabama, Notre Dame... These ‘back in the days of the Big Nine, the Ivy League consisted of a blend of the best young talent in the land, and each school had a powerhouse in its offense. Today’s Ivy League is comprised of a mixture of teams, each with its own style of play, but none can rival the Yale Elis in terms of offensive yardage.

The Elis’ offense has been a dominant force in the Ivy League for several years, and they look poised to continue their winning ways against Penn this Saturday. Yale’s running game, led by star running back Martin Vasquez, has been a key component of their success.

Yale’s Offense

Yale’s offense is built around a strong running game, with Vasquez leading the way. Vasquez has topped 100 yards in each of the last six games and has rushed for over 1,000 yards this season. He is a physical specimen, standing at 6’3” and weighing 220 pounds.

Vasquez is not just a rushing threat, however. He is also a threat as a receiver, with 55 receptions for 640 yards and 9 touchdowns. Yale’s offense has been able to keep defenses on their toes, and Vasquez has been a key factor in that.

Penn’s Defense

Penn’s defense has been solid this season, but they are no match for Yale’s offense. The Elis have scored at least 31 points in each of their last three games, and their defense has allowed only 17 points in those games.

Penn’s defense will need to come up with a Plan B against Yale, as their Plan A (stopping Vasquez) has not worked. The Elis will likely continue to enjoy the same level of success they have had in recent games.

Conclusion

Yale is a strong team, and they will be tough to stop. Penn, on the other hand, will need to play a near-perfect game to have a chance of pulling off the upset. With Yale’s offense in full swing, it will be a difficult task for Penn's defense.

The game will be an exciting one, with Yale’s power running offense looking to continue their winning ways against Penn's struggling defense. The Elis have been a dominant force in the Ivy League this season, and they look poised to continue their winning ways against Penn this Saturday.

---

Quaker Booters Call on Bulldogs

With NCAA Tournament Spots at Stake

By JAY STAGER

Penn's senior season is coming to an end, and the Elis will likely be playing for their NCAA Tournament spot this Saturday. The Quakers have been a strong team this season, and they will be looking to secure a spot in the NCAA Tournament with a win over Yale.

Penn's offense has been strong this season, with 413 points scored in 10 games. They have been led by running back Adolph Bel, who has rushed for 1,070 yards and 15 touchdowns. Bel has been a dominant force in the Ivy League, and he will be looking to continue his strong play against Yale.

Penn's defense has also been strong this season, allowing only 258 points in 10 games. They have been led by defensive tackle George Fastuca and defensive end Peter Christ, who have both had strong seasons.

Yale, on the other hand, has been a dominant force in the Ivy League this season. They have scored 455 points in 10 games, and their defense has allowed only 193 points.

The game will be an exciting one, with both teams looking to secure a spot in the NCAA Tournament. With Penn's offense and Yale's defense, it should be a close game.

---

150 Gridders Prepare Defense as Big Red Comes to Franklin Field

By JOE THOMAS

The Lions are back in the valley, looking to play the kind of game we’ve played in last year’s game. We’re ready to face anything, and we’re ready to win.

The Lions will be looking to end their season on a high note, and they will be looking to play a strong game against the Big Red.

The Big Red’s offense has been strong this season, with 434 points scored in 10 games. They have been led by running back Anthony Catto and quarterback Brian D’Arrigo, who have both had strong seasons.

The Lions’ defense has also been strong this season, allowing only 234 points in 10 games. They have been led by defensive tackle George Fastuca and defensive end Peter Christ, who have both had strong seasons.

The game will be an exciting one, with both teams looking to play a strong game. With the Lions’ defense and the Big Red’s offense, it should be a close game.

---

DP Swans

Despite Pepper’s non-stop work at the sidelines, Big Red comes to Franklin Field in what many feel to be the best game ever played in the Ivy League.

The Big Red is a team built around a strong defense, and they have been able to keep Penn’s offense in check in recent games. They will be looking to continue their strong play against the Elis.

Penn’s offense has been strong this season, with 413 points scored in 10 games. They have been led by running back Adolph Bel, who has rushed for 1,070 yards and 15 touchdowns. Bel has been a dominant force in the Ivy League, and he will be looking to continue his strong play against Yale.

Penn’s defense has also been strong this season, allowing only 258 points in 10 games. They have been led by defensive tackle George Fastuca and defensive end Peter Christ, who have both had strong seasons.

The game will be an exciting one, with both teams looking to play a strong game. With the Lions’ defense and the Big Red’s offense, it should be a close game.

---

NET RESULT — Forever faithful Bill Serafini (left) heads big ball toward Yale tailback Ken Pedersen in the match-up last Saturday. 6-3 win at Franklin Field six years ago.