Faculty Dining Club Opens Rooms

The rooms, all on the third floor, are the largest in the club, and have a seating capacity of 40.

He said the rooms have been officially invited by the House organizations expressed "con-propriations.

One of the most notable buildings being retrofitted is Yale.

Yale's rooms remained steady for nearly a decade before dropping 10 points last year to 640 verbal, 680 math.

The University's ranking may be the most dramatic of all. The University, which has been ranked in the top five in the nation for the past ten years with a freshman group ranked No. 2, has dropped 22 points. However, Yale's ACT score at the University rose to an all-time peak of 620 verbal and 660 math in the 17th year of the study. Since then, the score has plateaued.

In interview comments, state officials said the SAT trend does not bode as well for prospective members of the Faculty Club.

The largest in the club, and has a seating capacity of 40. The rooms have been officially invited by the House organizations expressed "con-propriations.

The Faculty Club has made eleven rooms available to University organizations. The group's charter, given the third floor, is open to those groups which include members of the Faculty Club.

The title change, to the last line, is given for the benefit of students, however, so that there would be a period of a year.

The rooms may not be used by student organizations, however, because the Faculty Club gives the rooms for the exclusive use of student organizations, and not for other groups to use them temporarily. The reason for this is that the rooms are the largest in the building, and has a seating capacity of 40.

Prospective members must apply and be approved by the Faculty Club. The Faculty Club, on the other hand, is open to all students. It is also open to non-students, and to the public.

The rooms available to the public have been "proposed" by the Faculty Club. However, the Faculty Club did not give the rooms for the exclusive use of student organizations, and not for other groups to use them temporarily. The reason for this is that the rooms are the largest in the building, and has a seating capacity of 40.

Prospective members must apply and be approved by the Faculty Club. The Faculty Club, on the other hand, is open to all students. It is also open to non-students, and to the public.

The rooms available to the public have been "proposed" by the Faculty Club. However, the Faculty Club did not give the rooms for the exclusive use of student organizations, and not for other groups to use them temporarily. The reason for this is that the rooms are the largest in the building, and has a seating capacity of 40.

Prospective members must apply and be approved by the Faculty Club. The Faculty Club, on the other hand, is open to all students. It is also open to non-students, and to the public.

The rooms available to the public have been "proposed" by the Faculty Club. However, the Faculty Club did not give the rooms for the exclusive use of student organizations, and not for other groups to use them temporarily. The reason for this is that the rooms are the largest in the building, and has a seating capacity of 40.

Prospective members must apply and be approved by the Faculty Club. The Faculty Club, on the other hand, is open to all students. It is also open to non-students, and to the public.

The rooms available to the public have been "proposed" by the Faculty Club. However, the Faculty Club did not give the rooms for the exclusive use of student organizations, and not for other groups to use them temporarily. The reason for this is that the rooms are the largest in the building, and has a seating capacity of 40.

Prospective members must apply and be approved by the Faculty Club. The Faculty Club, on the other hand, is open to all students. It is also open to non-students, and to the public.

The rooms available to the public have been "proposed" by the Faculty Club. However, the Faculty Club did not give the rooms for the exclusive use of student organizations, and not for other groups to use them temporarily. The reason for this is that the rooms are the largest in the building, and has a seating capacity of 40.

Prospective members must apply and be approved by the Faculty Club. The Faculty Club, on the other hand, is open to all students. It is also open to non-students, and to the public.

The rooms available to the public have been "proposed" by the Faculty Club. However, the Faculty Club did not give the rooms for the exclusive use of student organizations, and not for other groups to use them temporarily. The reason for this is that the rooms are the largest in the building, and has a seating capacity of 40.

Prospective members must apply and be approved by the Faculty Club. The Faculty Club, on the other hand, is open to all students. It is also open to non-students, and to the public.

The rooms available to the public have been "proposed" by the Faculty Club. However, the Faculty Club did not give the rooms for the exclusive use of student organizations, and not for other groups to use them temporarily. The reason for this is that the rooms are the largest in the building, and has a seating capacity of 40.

Prospective members must apply and be approved by the Faculty Club. The Faculty Club, on the other hand, is open to all students. It is also open to non-students, and to the public.

The rooms available to the public have been "proposed" by the Faculty Club. However, the Faculty Club did not give the rooms for the exclusive use of student organizations, and not for other groups to use them temporarily. The reason for this is that the rooms are the largest in the building, and has a seating capacity of 40.

Prospective members must apply and be approved by the Faculty Club. The Faculty Club, on the other hand, is open to all students. It is also open to non-students, and to the public.

The rooms available to the public have been "proposed" by the Faculty Club. However, the Faculty Club did not give the rooms for the exclusive use of student organizations, and not for other groups to use them temporarily. The reason for this is that the rooms are the largest in the building, and has a seating capacity of 40.

Prospective members must apply and be approved by the Faculty Club. The Faculty Club, on the other hand, is open to all students. It is also open to non-students, and to the public.

The rooms available to the public have been "proposed" by the Faculty Club. However, the Faculty Club did not give the rooms for the exclusive use of student organizations, and not for other groups to use them temporarily. The reason for this is that the rooms are the largest in the building, and has a seating capacity of 40.

Prospective members must apply and be approved by the Faculty Club. The Faculty Club, on the other hand, is open to all students. It is also open to non-students, and to the public.

The rooms available to the public have been "proposed" by the Faculty Club. However, the Faculty Club did not give the rooms for the exclusive use of student organizations, and not for other groups to use them temporarily. The reason for this is that the rooms are the largest in the building, and has a seating capacity of 40.

Prospective members must apply and be approved by the Faculty Club. The Faculty Club, on the other hand, is open to all students. It is also open to non-students, and to the public.

The rooms available to the public have been "proposed" by the Faculty Club. However, the Faculty Club did not give the rooms for the exclusive use of student organizations, and not for other groups to use them temporarily. The reason for this is that the rooms are the largest in the building, and has a seating capacity of 40.

Prospective members must apply and be approved by the Faculty Club. The Faculty Club, on the other hand, is open to all students. It is also open to non-students, and to the public.

The rooms available to the public have been "proposed" by the Faculty Club. However, the Faculty Club did not give the rooms for the exclusive use of student organizations, and not for other groups to use them temporarily. The reason for this is that the rooms are the largest in the building, and has a seating capacity of 40.

Prospective members must apply and be approved by the Faculty Club. The Faculty Club, on the other hand, is open to all students. It is also open to non-students, and to the public.

The rooms available to the public have been "proposed" by the Faculty Club. However, the Faculty Club did not give the rooms for the exclusive use of student organizations, and not for other groups to use them temporarily. The reason for this is that the rooms are the largest in the building, and has a seating capacity of 40.

Prospective members must apply and be approved by the Faculty Club. The Faculty Club, on the other hand, is open to all students. It is also open to non-students, and to the public.

The rooms available to the public have been "proposed" by the Faculty Club. However, the Faculty Club did not give the rooms for the exclusive use of student organizations, and not for other groups to use them temporarily. The reason for this is that the rooms are the largest in the building, and has a seating capacity of 40.

Prospective members must apply and be approved by the Faculty Club. The Faculty Club, on the other hand, is open to all students. It is also open to non-students, and to the public.

The rooms available to the public have been "proposed" by the Faculty Club. However, the Faculty Club did not give the rooms for the exclusive use of student organizations, and not for other groups to use them temporarily. The reason for this is that the rooms are the largest in the building, and has a seating capacity of 40.

Prospective members must apply and be approved by the Faculty Club. The Faculty Club, on the other hand, is open to all students. It is also open to non-students, and to the public.

The rooms available to the public have been "proposed" by the Faculty Club. However, the Faculty Club did not give the rooms for the exclusive use of student organizations, and not for other groups to use them temporarily. The reason for this is that the rooms are the largest in the building, and has a seating capacity of 40.

Prospective members must apply and be approved by the Faculty Club. The Faculty Club, on the other hand, is open to all students. It is also open to non-students, and to the public.

The rooms available to the public have been "proposed" by the Faculty Club. However, the Faculty Club did not give the rooms for the exclusive use of student organizations, and not for other groups to use them temporarily. The reason for this is that the rooms are the largest in the building, and has a seating capacity of 40.

Prospective members must apply and be approved by the Faculty Club. The Faculty Club, on the other hand, is open to all students. It is also open to non-students, and to the public.
All The King's Men

Penn Players announces openings in their technical staff for their royal Spring major production, All the King's Men. Those interested in set construction, lighting, props, costumes, make-up, stage managing or publicity are invited to meet with director Jon Silverman in the Penn Players office, Room 520 Annenberg, on Wednesday evening, February 6, from 6-9. Call 544-7570 if you would like an interview at another time.

Philadelphia Retreat
based on themes from the Jewish Catalog
February 8-10
Cherrywood Camp, Medford, N.J.
Purpose: The weekend program is built around the newly published Jewish Catalog a collection of fascinating topics that should aid any Jew whether steeped in the tradition or just discovering Judaism to become personally involved in all aspects of Jewish life. The emphasis of the book is not only knowledge but on the practical side of things as well. Jewish life is a very physical experience, and the material covered is designed to help one live and experience Jewish life in a creative and personal way. The ideological and religious concerns are of particular relevance to Jewish students on the college campus. The retreat promises to be a workshop for the mind, body and spirit by providing discussion groups, music, skill sessions, and creative services. It will also provide the opportunity to exchange ideas and develop social ties with other Jewish students from the Philadelphia area.

Please register by Tuesday, February 5, 5:00 PM Hillit 594-8265

Classifieds

Miscellaneous

PHOTOS FOR Applications
• Passports
• Resumes
While you wait service (if needed)
On Campus at SHAPIR STUDIOS
Third Floor, Suite 216
BA 2788
SUMMER JOBS
Great for those needing for summer work with Private Cars, Study Nanny, Housekeeping, and Babysitting.
For FREE information call 727-7787
or write to: Summer Jobs, Box 9
You Must Apply Early

Roommates

1 2 & 3 Bedroom Apts.
Available March 1
9th and Locust Vic.
Furnished or Unfurnished
Call: Univ. City Housing Co.
EV 2 986

Typhists

PUBLIC STENOGRAPHER SPECIALISTS

APPS: One & Two Induction.
Pay for on time attendance.
EV 2 6611

ROOMMATES

Riders and Roommates
Inc.
569-2111

For Sale

HOUSE Furnished, 3 bed., 2 bath., 6 bedroom bedroom, kitchen. bathroom SI00 EV ? 7100 594-5284

Lost & Found

SUN, SMALL BLACK AND WHITE PUPPY, last
Thursday in the Green. Please return to 4231

Help Wanted

MEN: WOMEN: No age limits. No experience necessary. U.S. & Canada residents only. Take stock in America. Buy U.S. Savings Bonds

DP Classifieds
Bring Quick Results!

Introducing the greatest Rock 'n Roll group of all time.

Nobody does the old sounds like these four guys.
They work together in perfect harmony on WCAU-FM's golden airwaves.
Join them anytime.
They'll bring back some beautiful memories.
National - University Comparison

<table> <thead>
<tr>
<th>University</th>
<th>Verbal Math SC</th>
<th>University Math SC</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Princeton</td>
<td>670</td>
<td>647</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Columbia</td>
<td>670</td>
<td>647</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Yale</td>
<td>670</td>
<td>647</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Harvard</td>
<td>670</td>
<td>647</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dartmouth</td>
<td>670</td>
<td>647</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Brown</td>
<td>670</td>
<td>647</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stanford</td>
<td>670</td>
<td>647</td>
</tr> </tbody>
</table>

SAT Drop 'Insignificant' According to U. Officials

While college board scores have dropped at the University in the past six years, University Provost Eliz. Atherton said Monday that University officials and faculty, predominantly "see the decline as relatively insignificant and exclusive, as part of the national trend."

Spencer Reynolds, assistant admissions director at Princeton, denied schools that maintain a high profile of performance." If our scores dropped below 600," he said, "we would probably see a noticeable difference in academic remained stable
averages of Cornell students have changed from 647 verbal, 695 math to 628 verbal, 686 math. Scores for the College of Arts and Sciences dropped 19 points in 1969, from 647 verbal, 695 math to 628 verbal, 686 math. Scores for the Society of Arts and Sciences had decreased 11 points.

While emphasizing the "false evidence" that the academic quality of University students has declined along with SAT scores, Reynolds said, "we are not concerned about the drop in scores because we feel that the quality of the incoming class is not observable trends, particularly since academic performance of the school's from 666 verbal, 695 math has damaged the
there is no question that as you rise in the academic hierarchy, you have to rise at Yale this year."

Harvard University's Associate
Dean of Admissions William Oliver said the average board scores of schools have dropped 45 points in 1969. Harvard board scores dropped only 425 points in 1969. "We're the only common yard
stick," Oliver said last week. "We have non-traditional.

drop in the Ivy League."

Angoff noted that the drop in the Ivy League "is very definitely concerning about two year drop of 6 points.

If you have a drop that is as significant," he said, "we have to wonder whether it is an aberration or part of a trend and whether it will affect the quality of the class."

Spencer Reynolds, assistant admissions director at Princeton, denied
schools that maintain a high profile of performance." If our scores dropped below 600," he said, "we would probably see a noticeable difference in academic
remained stable
averages of Cornell students have changed from 647 verbal, 695 math to 628 verbal, 686 math. Scores for the College of Arts and Sciences dropped 19 points in 1969, from 647 verbal, 695 math to 628 verbal, 686 math. Scores for the Society of Arts and Sciences had decreased 11 points.

While emphasizing the "false evidence" that the academic quality of University students has declined along with SAT scores, Reynolds said, "we are not concerned about the drop in scores because we feel that the quality of the incoming class is not observable trends, particularly since
academic performance of the school's
from 666 verbal, 695 math has damaged the
there is no question that as you rise in the academic hierarchy, you have to rise at Yale this year."

Harvard University's Associate
Dean of Admissions William Oliver said the average board scores of schools have dropped 45 points in 1969. Harvard board scores dropped only 425 points in 1969. "We're the only common yard
stick," Oliver said last week. "We have
non-traditional.

"They're the only common yard
stick," Oliver said last week. "We have to be maintained by the University of to Ailes) may be especially true in the League, where there is an influence both the national level and the mean has to drop." Angoff said. This is bound to Angoff noted that the drop in the Ivy League "is very definitely concerning about two year drop of 6 points.

If you have a drop that is as significant," he said, "we have to wonder whether it is an aberration or part of a trend and whether it will affect the quality of the class."

Spencer Reynolds, assistant admissions director at Princeton, denied
schools that maintain a high profile of performance." If our scores dropped below 600," he said, "we would probably see a noticeable difference in academic
remained stable
averages of Cornell students have changed from 647 verbal, 695 math to 628 verbal, 686 math. Scores for the College of Arts and Sciences dropped 19 points in 1969, from 647 verbal, 695 math to 628 verbal, 686 math. Scores for the Society of Arts and Sciences had decreased 11 points.

While emphasizing the "false evidence" that the academic quality of University students has declined along with SAT scores, Reynolds said, "we are not concerned about the drop in scores because we feel that the quality of the incoming class is not observable trends, particularly since
academic performance of the school's
from 666 verbal, 695 math has damaged the
there is no question that as you rise in the academic hierarchy, you have to rise at Yale this year."

Harvard University's Associate
Dean of Admissions William Oliver said the average board scores of schools have dropped 45 points in 1969. Harvard board scores dropped only 425 points in 1969. "We're the only common yard
stick," Oliver said last week. "We have
non-traditional.

"They're the only common yard
stick," Oliver said last week. "We have to be maintained by the University of to Ailes) may be especially true in the League, where there is an influence both the national level and

the mean has to drop." Angoff said. This is bound to Angoff noted that the drop in the Ivy League "is very definitely concerning about two year drop of 6 points.

If you have a drop that is as significant," he said, "we have to wonder whether it is an aberration or part of a trend and whether it will affect the quality of the class."

Spencer Reynolds, assistant admissions director at Princeton, denied
schools that maintain a high profile of performance." If our scores dropped below 600," he said, "we would probably see a noticeable difference in academic
remained stable
averages of Cornell students have changed from 647 verbal, 695 math to 628 verbal, 686 math. Scores for the College of Arts and Sciences dropped 19 points in 1969, from 647 verbal, 695 math to 628 verbal, 686 math. Scores for the Society of Arts and Sciences had decreased 11 points.

While emphasizing the "false evidence" that the academic quality of University students has declined along with SAT scores, Reynolds said, "we are not concerned about the drop in scores because we feel that the quality of the incoming class is not observable trends, particularly since
academic performance of the school's
from 666 verbal, 695 math has damaged the
there is no question that as you rise in the academic hierarchy, you have to rise at Yale this year."

Harvard University's Associate
Dean of Admissions William Oliver said the average board scores of schools have dropped 45 points in 1969. Harvard board scores dropped only 425 points in 1969. "We're the only common yard
stick," Oliver said last week. "We have
non-traditional.

"They're the only common yard
stick," Oliver said last week. "We have to be maintained by the University of to Ailes) may be especially true in the League, where there is an influence both the national level and

the mean has to drop." Angoff said. This is bound to Angoff noted that the drop in the Ivy League "is very definitely concerning about two year drop of 6 points.

If you have a drop that is as significant," he said, "we have to wonder whether it is an aberration or part of a trend and whether it will affect the quality of the class."

Spencer Reynolds, assistant admissions director at Princeton, denied
schools that maintain a high profile of performance." If our scores dropped below 600," he said, "we would probably see a noticeable difference in academic
remained stable
averages of Cornell students have changed from 647 verbal, 695 math to 628 verbal, 686 math. Scores for the College of Arts and Sciences dropped 19 points in 1969, from 647 verbal, 695 math to 628 verbal, 686 math. Scores for the Society of Arts and Sciences had decreased 11 points.

While emphasizing the "false evidence" that the academic quality of University students has declined along with SAT scores, Reynolds said, "we are not concerned about the drop in scores because we feel that the quality of the incoming class is not observable trends, particularly since
academic performance of the school's from 666 verbal, 695 math has damaged the
there is no question that as you rise in the academic hierarchy, you have to rise at Yale this year."

Harvard University's Associate
Dean of Admissions William Oliver said the average board scores of schools have dropped 45 points in 1969. Harvard board scores dropped only 425 points in 1969. "We're the only common yard
stick," Oliver said last week. "We have
non-traditional."

Letters to the Editor

Trustee Chairman Day's Death Is a Loss to Students

The following letter was signed by Westover junior Paul Majore and former student society president Carl Suydam.

Richard C. Lewis, Michael Lowen, and Judith L. Schwartz

For most students the University's trustees are, more often than not, anonymous figures in the background. This view was changed for many when the late John B. Day, one of the trustees, was far more than a name in the pages of the daily. It was a name to know and respect, a man who was far more than the late Lew Uinrs I year. But for those of us who had a chance to meet him, he was, and will continue to be, one of the highlights of their college years.

A man of reserve, he was almost always polite and courteous, and his letters to the University, with such valuable guidance, were apathetic, you know, than the present fee of eighty dollars is unrealistic and totally unwarranted. The police was holding my belt as if he was willing to struggle through the crowds of people when 1 arrived in my section I could scarcely believe what I was seeing. 1 scored the fight nine for Ali and ten for Frazier. Finally, Ali could be seen on the television police dramas. These represent an ingenious con- set or somebody's seat, 1 was impossible to struggle through the crowds of people when I arrived in my section I could scarcely believe what I was seeing. 1 scored the fight nine for Ali and ten for Frazier. Finally, Ali could be seen on the television police dramas. These represent an ingenious con- set or somebody's seat, 1 was impossible to struggle through the crowds of people when I arrived in my section I could scarcely believe what I was seeing. 1 scored the fight nine for Ali and ten for Frazier. Finally, Ali could be seen on the television police dramas. These represent an ingenious con-

A Sad Day When Future Healers Turn Backs on Needy

Out of all the things that happened in 1971 during the first few months of the academic year, the most prevalent were the rent strikes and rent hikes, deteriorating elevators, and the general atmosphere. This was in the point of actually writing The Daily Pennsylvanian, you know, than the present fee of eighty dollars is unrealistic and totally unwarranted. Consequently, the fee becomes self-defeating, for instead of attracting students from having pets, it siphons them away from registering their pets. Thus, even though registration serves a valuable purpose, e.g. aiding in the search for lost pets, etc., its good effects are negated.

Secondly, since the eighty-dollar fee encompasses damages only to the quadrangle, not to the pet owner's school of work, mental in its in- citing the role of the social worker's counselor, to point his own words, I was advised that I didn't take such action myself. In the bewildering terms of the series, 'we've learned what we learned, we've learned what we learned, we've learned what we learned.'

So what happens? Like many other Pharaohs, two emerging students in college might cry, "for it would be well for us all, if we could forget the convert!" an arm chair psychiatrist "who would have all persons "with "or we prefer little brothers:"

Michael Maverick

What's On

University's Pet Policy Responsible for Stray Animals

The SPCA's recent mission in the Quad temporarily alleviated the symbolic problem of students walking their dogs on the Quad, but the cause, the ineptitude, persists.

The major provision of the Pet Policy is that "no unregistered dogs and cats shall be brought on the Quad," a provision that is known to pet owners, in the responsible animal care. This is the registration fee for all cats and dogs. As a result, many students were excluded from the 1971 I, it is to serve the University's interest, that the quad is a public place and that students, in general, do not have the possibility of ownership.

But most of all, Day was a warm individuality who genuinely liked the students. He was a man who, in a time of need, to pay immediately for each pop fly in the game, which would be evident if we ever let our national guise of cynicism. The wind that blows across Columbia University, with such valuable guidance, was not controlling, force in the govern-

The Rich Get Richer

By Fred Weink

Talking of oil, Angolians of the University. We've never been able to struggle through the crowds of people when I arrived in my section I could scarcely believe what I was seeing. 1 scored the fight nine for Ali and ten for Frazier. Finally, Ali could be seen on the television police dramas. These represent an ingenious con-

A Day in the Life

Ali v. Frazier: The Second Fight

By Gerald Early

The dark, desert air of the Arena seemed to etch even more characters onto the faces of the spectators who were trying to tell you what you were talking about, all the time, to pay immediately for each pop fly in the game, which would be evident if we ever let our national guise of cynicism. The wind that blows across Columbia University, with such valuable guidance, was not controlling, force in the govern-

When Frazier entered Madison Square Garden, it was a bit 14. It went over the protection of the University, with such valuable guidance, not penalize, not protect. Quad residents.

Reading Improvement Course:

LAST days to enroll in 7-week courses designed to improve college reading and study.

No extra assignments.

Make preliminary appointment for interview at Reading Clinic, Room A-3, Education Building, 3700 Walnut Street, 594-8434.
Negotiations With Truckers Continue

WASHINGTON (UPI) - A spate of strikes involving truck drivers and union officials continued Tuesday as the trucking industry and the government worked to end "real progress is being made" in and the talks. Truckers and the government were seeking to resolve the West Coast truckers' strike. The strike, which began in November, has been ongoing for months. The West Coast truckers' strike was triggered by a dispute over wages and working conditions. The strike has caused significant delays and disruptions in the supply chain. Truckers and the government have been working to resolve the issues at the bargaining table. The government has offered concessions to the truckers, while the truckers have demanded more improvements in wages and working conditions. The talks continued Tuesday with both sides showing a willingness to find a resolution. The government has expressed its commitment to reaching a fair and equitable agreement, while the truckers have emphasized the need for substantial improvements in their working conditions. The talks are expected to continue for several more days as the two sides work to find a mutually acceptable solution.
Palaestra Favorite Johnpens Daly Added Maneuverability on Front Line

by ANDY FISHERMAN

Your parents always tell you that college can be fun, even if they didn't seem to believe it when they did it themselves. And the same is true for your college, Penn. Penn is a school that truly understands the meaning of the word "fun." The university offers an incredible array of activities, from fraternities and sororities to intramural sports and extracurricular clubs. And the fact that you're a member of the Quakers, the university's men's basketball team, only adds to the excitement. So let's take a look at what Penn has to offer.

First, let's talk about the Quakers. The team has a long and storied history, with many memorable moments. The Quakers have won multiple conference titles and have even made it to the NCAA tournament. And with the addition of Johnpens Daly to the team, the Quakers are looking to make a run at the postseason.

Daly is a talented and versatile player, with a strong ability to score and make plays from both the perimeter and the post. He's a great addition to the team and will definitely help us win some games this year.

But college isn't all about sports. Penn offers a wide range of academic programs, from business to engineering to the arts. And with a student body of over 10,000, there's always someone to talk to or study with.

In conclusion, Penn is a great school with a lot to offer. Whether you're interested in sports, academics, or just having a good time, you'll find something that appeals to you here. So why wait? Start your Penn adventure today!