The University's Announces Change In Trustee Structure: Regan Elected New Chairman

The University last week announced the election of Robert E. Regan as chairman of the Board of Trustees, and the renaming of the position of chairman to chairman-elect. This was not due to a reorganization plan called for by the establishment of an office of the University, Regan said Penn establish the position of chairman and said that the position of chairman of the Board of Trustees would now be the title of the chairman-elect. The new chairmen, who is elected by the trustees, is to serve as the chief executive officer of the University, Penn said, and will be responsible for the overall management and direction of the University.

The University gave the new chairmen the title of chairman-elect to reflect the changes in the University's leadership structure. About your preferences, taste, ambition, pace, pleasure and desires. Each will pick up some lads in Amsterdam and you'll pick up lify Americanbacks. How time will go depends on you. You need to make sure you have enough funds to live on in Amsterdam. You must stay at least 2 nights in Holland to get enough "feel" for the country to finish your assignment well. You must be prepared to give a couple of hours in Amsterdam and if you ask us to stay for an additional 2 days, we will consider it. You must check in at the Holland America Line ticket desk at KLM's departure terminal at JFK New York or KLM's O'Hare Chicago or other participating offices to be assured that the program begins June 1 and ends Sept. 1, 1974.

State (Committed to Change) definition by 1975. Building the University into the future through the development of new facilities and programs at the expense of other programs. He asked the legislature to increase the University's programs for the provision of health services to the medically indigent and bring it into line with current realities of cost and societal expectations. "We face the task of bringing medicine to the medically indigent and bringing it into line with current realities of cost and societal expectations."

Learning About Pennsylvania

In classes to come, you will see the University as you have never seen it before. You are about to become a member of the University community, and you will have the opportunity to learn about it in a way that you have never learned before.

Pennsylvania has always had a problem with its public image. Both outsiders and insiders have come to associate the University with images of something that is outdated. However, real academic improvements have been made, and the University is beginning to face the challenge of upgrading itself.

While those of us who spend the better part of our lives around the University sometimes get a bit depressed about the public image of the University, we are pleased to see that things are improving. When it was considered clever to say that the University was "dead" or "dying," it merely went into eclipse. When it was considered clever to say that the University was "dying," it merely went into eclipse. However, it is now once more important to be able to say that the University is "alive" and "vital." It is entirely possible to look at the University today and see it as a living, breathing organism, with its own strengths and weaknesses, its own problems and opportunities.

We are fortunate, indeed, to have all of these schools of the University located on a single campus and even more fortunate to have educational programs which can tie the schools together in what is really one "University."
I do much more than provide the facts. I worry about the short-term problem. Intention that the student held claimed it is "not so important." American students enrolled in an American university are counseled. A program, with American denims, runs in an 11216 week intensive cultural language course, mandatory for intensive programs. It includes schools overseas medical students. We will assist qualified American students. For the session starting July 1974, information on phone is free for application and further information.

'Crimson Pride' Takes Title from Batsmen

BY RUTGER

Instead of losing ground, Harvard's baseball team improved their record to 28-6 after a 7-2 win over Penn. The Quakers were no match for the Crimson, who took the lead early and never relinquished it.

The game began with a bang as Harvard's third baseman, Ted Collins, homered to right field. This was followed by a single from first baseman Mark Holt, who then stole second base. On the next pitch, Collins homered again, this time to left field, giving Harvard a 2-0 lead in the first inning.

Penn's starting pitcher, Tim Johnson, was unable to contain the Crimson's offense. He allowed four runs on six hits over five innings, striking out five batters and walking two. Collins went 3-for-4 with two home runs and four RBIs, while Holt went 2-for-4 with a single and a double.

The Crimson went on to win the game 7-2, securing their place in the Ivy League championship.
