Assembly Workshop Asks Creation of Media Council

By JAMES NOVAK

In an Assembly workshop on electronic media, members of the Social and Cultural Education Committee in charge of the Penn Communications Center voted to recommend to the Fall Assembly that a Media Council be established.

The workshop was convened by Professor R. L. Phillips, former chief of the Federal Communications Commission, and Professor Frank Goodman, also of the Law School.

The proposed Media Council would be a permanent establishment of the Assembly, with responsibility for the Penn Communications Center and for media matters in general.

The proposal was made at the request of the students of the Communications Center, who were also present.

Several amendments to the proposal were made, including a recommendation that the council be established before the end of the present semester.

The workshop approved the proposal and recommended it to the Fall Assembly for consideration.

Council Asked to Add Students to Committees

By WILHELM POGGE

The Penn Communications Center is to have a student representative for the first time in its history.

At the request of the student body, the Penn Communications Center has been asked to add a student representative to its Board of Directors.

The student representative would be appointed by the Student Assembly, and would serve as a consultant to the Board.

The proposal was made at the request of the students of the Communications Center, who were also present.

Several amendments to the proposal were made, including a recommendation that the student representative be appointed before the end of the present semester.

The workshop approved the proposal and recommended it to the Fall Assembly for consideration.
Ugrad Assembly Workgroup

The workgroup's report, which Freier said is still "subject to refinement by the workgroup and the Undergraduate Assembly," presents a wide range of topics and ideas for the university president to consider.

The report states: WPSN's the only public radio station in the area to "establish a campus station," and the underwriting of that station is considered a "significant step in the development of an educational station." The report notes that WPSN, which was established by the university in the fall of 1972, is "not a pre-packaged entity" and that setting up a "provisional station" is just what WPSN does, even more so when you consider that WPSN has already been "proven.

Hospitals

"Our aim is to train three years to be effective," Letten said, adding he made the effort to satisfy the University management that the hospital management, which The Times has reported to be a problem, is "at a minimum." Gradate Hospital faces a proposed deficit of $950,000 this year, and both hospitals have been financial problems.

Letten said that the "provisional station" is a way to reduce the hospital's expenses. "The students are interested to come in and see what they can do to help," Letten said, adding that the students are "interested to come in and see what they can do to help.

...the city is "in a reasonable kind of proposal," and it "is an unusual proposal," it is a reasonable proposal on the floor of the House. However, should the proposal be adopted, WPSN would allow the students to vote on the move. However, should the proposal be adopted, WPSN would allow the students to vote on the move, it is a reasonable proposal.

The Philadelphia Orchestra, led by the famed conductor Leopold Stokowski, has been criticized by New York critics as the best in the world. Right now he is on tour, and his Orchestra is set to perform at the Ben Franklin Hall on November 1 at the Junior Promenade to supply the musical entertainment for the Prom of the Century. Stokowski's latest review on the back of that recording made everyone aware of his genius. The orchestra has already sold out of its tickets, and New York critics have been singing his praises ever since.

Students Get Sugar Rationing Cards Today

Confusion as to whether university students eighteen years of age and over should register for a sugar rationing card was cleared up today, with a strong recommendation by administrative officials that all students eighteen years of age and over register for their cards. The Board of Education is making arrangements for a program to handle this matter more efficiently. This will help students to take immediate action.

Church Blasts Ford on CIA Role

WASHINGTON, D.C. (UPI) - Sen. Frank Church, D-N.Y., chairman of the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence, blasted Thursday the Nixon administration's handling of the "CIA Affair" and the crucial role that intelligence agencies play in foreign policy.

"We have a situation in which the President is himself a participant in the planning of a covert operation," Church said. "We have a President who is himself a participant in the planning of an operation that involves the risk of nuclear war..."

Church also accused the CIA of participating in a "cover-up" of the incident.

PCB Questions and Answers About Apartments

What is the most important thing to remember when renting an apartment? Be sure to read the lease and familiarize yourself with the terms and conditions contained therein or you are not entitled to any protection. Legal advice, whether verbal or written, from any source other than a landlord-tenant lawyer is not protected by law.

What is the difference between a landlord-tenant relationship and a landlord-tenant lease? A lease is a legal contract that sets forth the terms and conditions under which a tenant will rent an apartment. Meanwhile, a tenant-landlord relationship is a more informal arrangement that is not subject to the same legal standards as a lease.

What is the legal amount of security deposit in Pennsylvania? The maximum amount you have to put down is two months rent. Security deposits can be used to pay for damage that occurs during the period of occupancy. Security deposits can also be used to pay for damage that occurs during the period of occupancy. Security deposits can also be used to pay for damage that occurs during the period of occupancy.

Goverment Milton Shapp

After a stint in the army during World War II, Shapp returned to the University of Pennsylvania, where he earned an M.B.A. in 1952. He then went on to work for the Securities and Exchange Commission, developing the community cable television industry.

Shapp's political career began in 1956, when he was elected to the Pennsylvania House of Representatives. He served in the state Senate from 1968 to 1972.

The 1972 governor's race was the most personal and the most challenging of Shapp's career. He faced a tough opponent in the form of incumbent Republican Governor Milton Shapp, who had been a prominent figure in Pennsylvania politics for over 20 years. Shapp's campaign was marked by a series of controversies, including his use of a private plane for campaign purposes and his handling of a state liquor license.

Shapp's future in politics was uncertain, and he decided to give up the race, saying he could not "fight the machine." A former supporter of Shapp's, however, managed to secure a recount, which resulted in Shapp's election as governor in 1974. Since then, Shapp has served three terms in office, and he has been a strong advocate for education and social services.

Shapp has substantially increased the state's education budget and has been a forceful advocate for consumer protection. He has also been a strong supporter of environmental issues and has worked to protect the state's natural resources.

In recent years, Shapp has faced criticism for his handling of the state's financial affairs, including his decision to cut funding for higher education. Despite these challenges, Shapp remains a popular figure in Pennsylvania, and he has been widely respected for his dedication to public service.
we’ve helped 80,000 people get high

One of these days, you’re going to choose between getting high, or low, fidelity. At Tech Hifi, we’ve helped 80,000 people make that decision. They got high, because of the beautiful way music sounds when played through a fine high fidelity music system. And they got high at Tech Hifi, because of our low prices, huge selection, and 17 protection policies.

This week at Tech Hifi, we give you an additional reason to get high. Our Back-to-School Sale!
