Ford to Make Public Any Tapes of Parly

By United Press International
WASHINGTON — President Ford said Sunday he is willing to make public any tapes of conversations he had while in office in order to assuage the doubts of loyal Republicans and to solidify his position prior to his November resignation.

The President's statement came in response to the suggestion by a White House official last week that the Watergate scandal was the proper subject for investigation of the Nixon tapes.

Ford said his administration would initiate a wide-ranging search of all White House tapes for conversations held before he left office.

Two conditions were indicated for whatever any Nixon tapes exist.

1. The search must be conducted in a manner that would allow for the possibility of an independent review or audit of the tapes.

2. Any tapes that are found must be made public.

The President said the search would begin immediately and would be completed as soon as possible.

Ford added that any actions taken by the Nixon administration in the future would be subject to review and audit.

"Javelin catching takes up a lot of my time. In my end, I'm always getting pointers from other people. Now I'm glad to have the opportunity to give you a few pointers about a great place to buy sporting goods—The Bookstore at The University of Pennsylvania.
They have all kinds of equipment and clothing that will help you play almost any sport. Why you can get anything from tennis rackets to boomerangs...you name it!" Maurice said.

So stop in soon and see all this terrific sporting equipment. It'll really throw you. Take it from a champion who truly knows which way is up."

I want to suggest that the Assembly will be a major factor in determining where a university station will be responsive to the students. Rocky's Confirmation Seen Likely

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Nelson A. Rockefeller's nomination as Vice President is damn near assured, according to Congressmen who will deal with the nomination after the election review says they are disturbed by recent disclosures concerning questions of Rockefeller wealth. But they note that what has been disclosed is enough to block the nomination.
