Rehabilitation Project for Quad

To Create Six College Houses

By EILEEN WOERN

The University community has been enlisted to save the Quad. A $12.7 million rehabilitation project for the University quadrangle is at the heart of a full-day meeting of the Board of Trustees Thursday.

The renovation plan for the interior of the Quad has been based on the concept of six college houses, similar to the Van Pelt and Stouffer houses. The Quad houses will be named after six of the University's founders, including the late H. H. Rackin, a former trustee and alumnus who contributed $1 million to the project.

Students are expected to live in and around the Quad houses, which will be connected by underground passageways. The houses will feature restaurants, shops, and other amenities. The Quad houses will also be open to the public and will serve as a focal point for University events.

Faculty Newsletter Prints Confidential Rackin Papers

By DONALD M. BOWDEN

The Faculty Newsletter has printed confidential Rackin Papers, which include a faculty strike petition, a letter to the faculty, and a statement from the Rackin Papers Committee.

The Rackin Papers Committee is composed of faculty members who are concerned about the University's academic freedom. The committee has been working to protect the confidentiality of faculty papers and to ensure that they are not released without the consent of the authors.

The Rackin Papers Committee has been working for a year to compile the confidential papers, which include faculty memos, letters, and reports. The committee has been working to ensure that the papers are not released without the consent of the authors.

Faculty members have been urged to support the Rackin Papers Committee in its efforts to protect the confidentiality of faculty papers. The committee has been working to ensure that the papers are not released without the consent of the authors.

Faculty members have been urged to support the Rackin Papers Committee in its efforts to protect the confidentiality of faculty papers. The committee has been working to ensure that the papers are not released without the consent of the authors.

Faculty members have been urged to support the Rackin Papers Committee in its efforts to protect the confidentiality of faculty papers. The committee has been working to ensure that the papers are not released without the consent of the authors.

Faculty members have been urged to support the Rackin Papers Committee in its efforts to protect the confidentiality of faculty papers. The committee has been working to ensure that the papers are not released without the consent of the authors.

Faculty members have been urged to support the Rackin Papers Committee in its efforts to protect the confidentiality of faculty papers. The committee has been working to ensure that the papers are not released without the consent of the authors.
U. Trustee Kennedy Visits DuBois House

By IAN BERGER
University trustee William Kennedy, president of the largest black managed private business in the world, predicted Thursday: "there won't be much of a day in this country in 1974 or at least another two or three years.

Kennedy, a Wharton Business School alumnus, told how the company, whose clientele is "99 percent black," predicted Thursday "there won't be much of a day in this country in 1974 or at least another two or three years."

As a member of President Ford's economic summit earlier this month, Kennedy said the Ford administration "was really difficult" inasmuch as "the president had made up his mind" on where he stood. The summit included "no two economists could agree on anything," but Kennedy said the outlook is "bleak. State-owned black schools are among the largest in percent in the country."

The conference's resolutions nor President Ford's 337-point economic proposals, will alter this situation he said.

Kennedy, a Wharton Business School alumnus, told how the company, whose clientele is "99 percent black," predicted Thursday "there won't be much of a day in this country in 1974 or at least another two or three years."

As a member of President Ford's economic summit earlier this month, Kennedy said the Ford administration "was really difficult" inasmuch as "the president had made up his mind" on where he stood. The summit included "no two economists could agree on anything," but Kennedy said the outlook is "bleak. State-owned black schools are among the largest in percent in the country."

The conference's resolutions nor President Ford's 337-point economic proposals, will alter this situation he said.

Kennedy, a Wharton Business School alumnus, told how the company, whose clientele is "99 percent black," predicted Thursday "there won't be much of a day in this country in 1974 or at least another two or three years."

As a member of President Ford's economic summit earlier this month, Kennedy said the Ford administration "was really difficult" inasmuch as "the president had made up his mind" on where he stood. The summit included "no two economists could agree on anything," but Kennedy said the outlook is "bleak. State-owned black schools are among the largest in percent in the country."

The conference's resolutions nor President Ford's 337-point economic proposals, will alter this situation he said.

Kennedy, a Wharton Business School alumnus, told how the company, whose clientele is "99 percent black," predicted Thursday "there won't be much of a day in this country in 1974 or at least another two or three years."

As a member of President Ford's economic summit earlier this month, Kennedy said the Ford administration "was really difficult" inasmuch as "the president had made up his mind" on where he stood. The summit included "no two economists could agree on anything," but Kennedy said the outlook is "bleak. State-owned black schools are among the largest in percent in the country."

The conference's resolutions nor President Ford's 337-point economic proposals, will alter this situation he said.

Kennedy, a Wharton Business School alumnus, told how the company, whose clientele is "99 percent black," predicted Thursday "there won't be much of a day in this country in 1974 or at least another two or three years."

As a member of President Ford's economic summit earlier this month, Kennedy said the Ford administration "was really difficult" inasmuch as "the president had made up his mind" on where he stood. The summit included "no two economists could agree on anything," but Kennedy said the outlook is "bleak. State-owned black schools are among the largest in percent in the country."

The conference's resolutions nor President Ford's 337-point economic proposals, will alter this situation he said.

Kennedy, a Wharton Business School alumnus, told how the company, whose clientele is "99 percent black," predicted Thursday "there won't be much of a day in this country in 1974 or at least another two or three years."

As a member of President Ford's economic summit earlier this month, Kennedy said the Ford administration "was really difficult" inasmuch as "the president had made up his mind" on where he stood. The summit included "no two economists could agree on anything," but Kennedy said the outlook is "bleak. State-owned black schools are among the largest in percent in the country."

The conference's resolutions nor President Ford's 337-point economic proposals, will alter this situation he said.

Kennedy, a Wharton Business School alumnus, told how the company, whose clientele is "99 percent black," predicted Thursday "there won't be much of a day in this country in 1974 or at least another two or three years."

As a member of President Ford's economic summit earlier this month, Kennedy said the Ford administration "was really difficult" inasmuch as "the president had made up his mind" on where he stood. The summit included "no two economists could agree on anything," but Kennedy said the outlook is "bleak. State-owned black schools are among the largest in percent in the country."

The conference's resolutions nor President Ford's 337-point economic proposals, will alter this situation he said.

Kennedy, a Wharton Business School alumnus, told how the company, whose clientele is "99 percent black," predicted Thursday "there won't be much of a day in this country in 1974 or at least another two or three years."

As a member of President Ford's economic summit earlier this month, Kennedy said the Ford administration "was really difficult" inasmuch as "the president had made up his mind" on where he stood. The summit included "no two economists could agree on anything," but Kennedy said the outlook is "bleak. State-owned black schools are among the largest in percent in the country."

The conference's resolutions nor President Ford's 337-point economic proposals, will alter this situation he said.

Kennedy, a Wharton Business School alumnus, told how the company, whose clientele is "99 percent black," predicted Thursday "there won't be much of a day in this country in 1974 or at least another two or three years."

As a member of President Ford's economic summit earlier this month, Kennedy said the Ford administration "was really difficult" inasmuch as "the president had made up his mind" on where he stood. The summit included "no two economists could agree on anything," but Kennedy said the outlook is "bleak. State-owned black schools are among the largest in percent in the country."

The conference's resolutions nor President Ford's 337-point economic proposals, will alter this situation he said.

Kennedy, a Wharton Business School alumnus, told how the company, whose clientele is "99 percent black," predicted Thursday "there won't be much of a day in this country in 1974 or at least another two or three years."

As a member of President Ford's economic summit earlier this month, Kennedy said the Ford administration "was really difficult" inasmuch as "the president had made up his mind" on where he stood. The summit included "no two economists could agree on anything," but Kennedy said the outlook is "bleak. State-owned black schools are among the largest in percent in the country."

The conference's resolutions nor President Ford's 337-point economic proposals, will alter this situation he said.

Kennedy, a Wharton Business School alumnus, told how the company, whose clientele is "99 percent black," predicted Thursday "there won't be much of a day in this country in 1974 or at least another two or three years."

As a member of President Ford's economic summit earlier this month, Kennedy said the Ford administration "was really difficult" inasmuch as "the president had made up his mind" on where he stood. The summit included "no two economists could agree on anything," but Kennedy said the outlook is "bleak. State-owned black schools are among the largest in percent in the country."

The conference's resolutions nor President Ford's 337-point economic proposals, will alter this situation he said.

Kennedy, a Wharton Business School alumnus, told how the company, whose clientele is "99 percent black," predicted Thursday "there won't be much of a day in this country in 1974 or at least another two or three years."

As a member of President Ford's economic summit earlier this month, Kennedy said the Ford administration "was really difficult" inasmuch as "the president had made up his mind" on where he stood. The summit included "no two economists could agree on anything," but Kennedy said the outlook is "bleak. State-owned black schools are among the largest in percent in the country."

The conference's resolutions nor President Ford's 337-point economic proposals, will alter this situation he said.

Kennedy, a Wharton Business School alumnus, told how the company, whose clientele is "99 percent black," predicted Thursday "there won't be much of a day in this country in 1974 or at least another two or three years."

As a member of President Ford's economic summit earlier this month, Kennedy said the Ford administration "was really difficult" inasmuch as "the president had made up his mind" on where he stood. The summit included "no two economists could agree on anything," but Kennedy said the outlook is "bleak. State-owned black schools are among the largest in percent in the country."

The conference's resolutions nor President Ford's 337-point economic proposals, will alter this situation he said.

Kennedy, a Wharton Business School alumnus, told how the company, whose clientele is "99 percent black," predicted Thursday "there won't be much of a day in this country in 1974 or at least another two or three years."

As a member of President Ford's economic summit earlier this month, Kennedy said the Ford administration "was really difficult" inasmuch as "the president had made up his mind" on where he stood. The summit included "no two economists could agree on anything," but Kennedy said the outlook is "bleak. State-owned black schools are among the largest in percent in the country."

The conference's resolutions nor President Ford's 337-point economic proposals, will alter this situation he said.
Scoring Match Due as Unbeatens Battle

Penn's very concerned with Princeton's offense. "With the Tigers playing well," Coach Bob Harding stated, "I don't think we can afford to make any mistakes."

"The key for us," Coach Bob Reid stated, "is to keep Princeton's offense off the field."

Penn's offense is led by senior quarterback Walt Snickenberger, who has already led the team to more wins in '74 than all last season when the Quakers were 1-8. "Our kids developed a lot more of the pass," he stated. "I'm ready to throw the football - so we're going to throw the football."

Despite the Quakers' uncharacteristic spread, Gamble still has one major concern - Penn first quarter in consistency that has resulted in only seven points scored in opening periods this season. "We've gotten off to slow starts in the first quarter," he admitted. "They've always been very consistent."

The Princeton offense - led by senior halfback has converted 14 out of 16 times on their first down situation to our own the past two weeks and scored 61 points in the process. "We're going to have to stop Princeton's offense," Coach Bob Beible said. "We're going to have to stop Princeton's offense."
Let the Sunshine In, Part II

By Grant Hanesian and Alan Jacobson

This week, the Court of Appeals reversed a ruling that called for "frank and open discussion" on the university's position on changes to the student union.

The ruling was issued in the case of a student group seeking to hold a meeting on campus to discuss the issue of marijuana legalization.

The university had previously banned the discussion, citing concerns about the “public’s right to privacy” and the possibility of学生 using marijuana on campus.

The Court of Appeals overturned this decision, finding that the university had not provided sufficient evidence to justify its ban.

The ruling means that the university must allow the student group to hold the meeting, provided that it adheres to certain conditions, such as not using the meeting for political purposes.

The university has the option of appealing the decision to the higher court, but it is likely to do so.

Sunshine Law: Open Meetings

Section 2: Notice of meetings

A notice of a regular meeting or special meeting shall be given in writing at least thirty days in advance of the meeting.

Section 3: Public participation

Any member of the public shall be entitled to be present at and participate in any meeting of the legislature or of any of its committees or subcommittees, and shall have the right to address the members of the legislature or any of its committees or subcommittees.

Section 4: Records and minutes of meetings

The minutes of all meetings of the legislature and of any of its committees or subcommittees shall be kept by the clerk and shall be available for inspection by the public.

The records of the legislature shall be open to the public.
Nixon May Undergo Surgery

LOUIS, Mo. (UPI) - President Richard M. Nixon's physician said Thursday that surgery was a "real possibility" unless clotting which has already blocked the blood flow in Nixon's left leg can be controlled.

The 61-year-old Nixon, who returned to the White House Wednesday night after spending Wednesday evening in a hospital, was reported to have received "intensive" doses of anticoagulants intravenously and orally.

Dr. John Lienhard, personal physician to the former chief executive, said in the latest medical bulletin that special studies were being conducted to see if Nixon is in the small group of people for whom anticoagulants cannot be maintained by drugs.

The patient's therapy cannot be adequately established and con- trolled, he declared, if an operation is a real possibility," he said.

Lienhard still met with reassurances but instead his brief statement was read by a hospital spokesman so there was no immediate answer to questions about the president's condition.

Wighe Lawyers Try To Discredit Dean

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Defense attorneys Thursday tried stepping up their case against John Dean's credibility, reminding the defense Thursday of the loss of patience at the examination.

倭格律师事务所的合伙人周光颜表示，新加入的几名被告律师已准备好出庭辩护。他说，被告律师在法庭上已准备好了充分的证据。

Ford Says Democrats Caused Nation's Woes

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI) - Police divers Thursday returned to the scene of the Democratic National Convention to search for more three days after a body was found in a lagoon near the convention site.

"If anticoagulant therapy cannot be adequately established and controlled, then no intervention is a real possibility," he said.

Ford, who will make his last major appearance of the campaign late today, was expected to begin as soon as six alternate jury members were chosen.

Jury Selection Ends In Kent State Trial

CLEVELAND (UPI) - Selection of the 12-member jury was completed Thursday in the trial of eight former Ohio National Guardsmen charged in the May 4, 1970, shootings of four Kent State University students.

The 61-year-old Nixon, who returned to the White House Wednesday night after spending Wednesday evening in a hospital, was reported to have received "intensive" doses of anticoagulants intravenously and orally.

The defense attorneys Thursday tried stepping up their case against John Dean's credibility, reminding the defense Thursday of the loss of patience at the examination.

"If anticoagulant therapy cannot be adequately established and controlled, then no intervention is a real possibility," he said.

Ford, who will make his last major appearance of the campaign late today, was expected to begin as soon as six alternate jury members were chosen.

"When I came to Washington, the situation was a disaster," he said. "Today one can already state that the problems we are faced with today are not as serious as they were last year, that the chances of war between the two superpowers are negligible."

"The Beatles' Yellow Submarine

"If anticoagulant therapy cannot be adequately established and controlled, then no intervention is a real possibility," he said.

Ford, who will make his last major appearance of the campaign late today, was expected to begin as soon as six alternate jury members were chosen.

"When I came to Washington, the situation was a disaster," he said. "Today one can already state that the problems we are faced with today are not as serious as they were last year, that the chances of war between the two superpowers are negligible."

"A musical... comedy... revue (sic)"

"Catharsis in two acts..." - Sigmund Freud

"Lies... all lies!" - Don Pardo

"...A musical... comedy... revue (sic)"

Tickets on Sale Now at Houston Hall Ticket Service.

Due to increased costs of production and printing, D.P. display advertising rates will increase effective November 1, 1974.

NEW RATES:

Display - $2.60/column inch
Classified - $2.80/column inch

Classified and all other rates will remain the same.

CHEER FOR NO. 6

IVY, BIG FIVE TITLES
STUDENT SEASON
Basketball Tickets On Sale
Monday, Oct. 28
13 dates....$19.50
10 dates....$15.00

(3 holiday games excluded)

Franklin Field Ticket Office
9 am to 4:30 pm
Nov. Wed.'s - until 9 pm

LIMIT
1 book per matric card
4 matric cards per student
Sunday Special

Hot Dogs & Sauerkraut

Smoky Joe's

“A GAME FOR ANIMALS, PLAYED BY GENTLEMEN”
COME, EXPERIENCE RUGBY
Penn Vs. Princeton
Saturday Oct. 26
10 A.M. On River Field
Bring a Lunch... If You've Got a Strong Stomach.

JASMINE HOUSE
Fights Inflation
We Offer 10% Off On All Family Dinners
And Combination Dinners
Until Sunday, Oct. 27
4004 Chestnut
EVE-1940

TOMORROW NIGHT IN IrvINE AT 7 & 10 P.M.
Bring a Lunch... If You've Got a Strong Stomach.

BLOWFIELD
COFFEEHOUSE

COMING SOON!

SPACE PATROL PRESENTS:

THE ROSIE THE RUBBER LADY SHOW

STANLEY KUBRICK'S
2001: A SPACE ODYSSEY
COME, EXPERIENCE RUGBY

COCKTAIL PARTY

AND

DANCE CONCERT

WITH

DEM BONES

Friday, October 25, 9 PM - 2 AM
Second floor, Houston Hall
I.D. Required

Student Discount
$2.00 OFF
Regular Box Office Price

Present at SHUBERT THEATRE Box Office
Good for 2 admissions. Subject to availability.
Shubert Theatre
250 S. BROAD ST., PHILADELPHIA
S. Union

THE NATIONAL THEATRE OF GREAT BRITAIN

Shubert Theatre presents

A THEATRE GUILD SELECTION

By SHAKESPEARE

"FANTASTIC...one of the most dazzling, sharply productive engagements of Shakespeare I have ever seen"
—GLEN BARNES—N.Y. TIMES

2 Weeks! Nov. 4-16

Liz Stein
Night Editor

Seth Rosen
Copy Editor

Robert M. Klein
Photo/Day Editor

Danny Sheir
Sports Copy Editor

Student Discount
$2.00 OFF
Regular Box Office Price

Present at Shubert Theatre Box Office
Good for 2 admissions. Subject to availability.
TONIGHT AT 8 P.M.

A Piano Recital
With
John Davison
Chairman Of Haverford
College Music Dept.

Bowl Room Gallery - H.H.
After Art Opening
All Invited Free

With such low prices, how can Tech HiFi afford to offer their strong guarantees?

What's the gimmick? People are always asking us. But there aren't any gimmicks. It's just a matter of simple economics.

The combined purchasing power of Tech HiFi's forty-six stores allows us to buy equipment from our manufacturers in large enough quantities to substantially reduce our cost. And we have the resources to take advantage of those special "deals" that other hifi dealers often have to pass up.

We pass these savings on to you along with fourteen strong customer satisfaction guarantees.

The system featured in this ad is an example of how you benefit from the buying clout of our forty-six stores. It includes some of the finest names in high fidelity, and you won't find a better buy for the money.

DP Classified
Bring Quick
Results

Lttw. Gridders Look For Victory over Lions

All are hands in, hope Columbia is ready for a big fight because we plan to knock them all over the hill.

Carmy'scohorts have to do more than see that they are even.

The combined purchasing power of Tech HiFi's forty-six stores allows us to buy equipment from our manufacturers in large enough quantities to substantially reduce our cost. And we have the resources to take advantage of those special "deals" that other hifi dealers often have to pass up.

We pass these savings on to you along with fourteen strong customer satisfaction guarantees.

The system featured in this ad is an example of how you benefit from the buying clout of our forty-six stores. It includes some of the finest names in high fidelity, and you won't find a better buy for the money.
Penn Booters Welcome Injured Tigers

By ROSS FINGOLD

Penn has seen its share of Penn battles over the years, and the Quakers are no exception. For the past few weeks, the Tigers have been struggling to keep up with the Quakers. The Tigers have had a few tough losses recently, but the Quakers haven't been able to capitalize on them. The Tigers are currently sitting at 3-0-1 in football, and the Quakers are 2-2-3. However, the Quakers have been playing much better recently, and they are hoping to continue their winning streak against the Tigers. The Tigers are heading into this game with a losing streak, and the Quakers are looking to capitalize on that.

Tiger Freshmen Invade Penn for Critical Football, Soccer Contests

By ROSS FINGER

After suffering two consecutive defeats, the Penn football team is now on a winning streak, and they are looking to continue it against the Tigers. The Tigers are currently sitting at 2-0-1 in football, and they are looking to bounce back after being shut out by the Quakers last week. The Tigers are hoping to use their home turf advantage to their advantage against the Quakers.

Penn Booters Welcome Injured Tigers

By ROSS FINGER

Penn Booters have welcomed back several key players from injury, including running back Bobbi Isom and quarterback Joe Kazmaier. These players have been instrumental in their team's success this season, and their return will give the Booters a boost in their upcoming game against the Tigers.

Tiger Freshmen Invade Penn for Critical Football, Soccer Contests

By ROSS FINGER

The Tiger Freshmen have been one of the biggest stories of the season so far, as they have been performing incredibly well. The Freshmen have been a major part of the Tiger offense, and they have been key to their team's success. The Freshmen are looking to continue their hot streak against Penn this weekend.

Penn Booters Welcome Injured Tigers

By ROSS FINGER

The Penn Booters have welcomed back several key players from injury, including running back Bobbi Isom and quarterback Joe Kazmaier. These players have been instrumental in their team's success this season, and their return will give the Booters a boost in their upcoming game against the Tigers.

Tiger Freshmen Invade Penn for Critical Football, Soccer Contests

By ROSS FINGER

The Tiger Freshmen have been one of the biggest stories of the season so far, as they have been performing incredibly well. The Freshmen have been a major part of the Tiger offense, and they have been key to their team's success. The Freshmen are looking to continue their hot streak against Penn this weekend.

Penn Booters Welcome Injured Tigers

By ROSS FINGER

The Penn Booters have welcomed back several key players from injury, including running back Bobbi Isom and quarterback Joe Kazmaier. These players have been instrumental in their team's success this season, and their return will give the Booters a boost in their upcoming game against the Tigers.

Tiger Freshmen Invade Penn for Critical Football, Soccer Contests

By ROSS FINGER

The Tiger Freshmen have been one of the biggest stories of the season so far, as they have been performing incredibly well. The Freshmen have been a major part of the Tiger offense, and they have been key to their team's success. The Freshmen are looking to continue their hot streak against Penn this weekend.

Penn Booters Welcome Injured Tigers

By ROSS FINGER

The Penn Booters have welcomed back several key players from injury, including running back Bobbi Isom and quarterback Joe Kazmaier. These players have been instrumental in their team's success this season, and their return will give the Booters a boost in their upcoming game against the Tigers.

Tiger Freshmen Invade Penn for Critical Football, Soccer Contests

By ROSS FINGER

The Tiger Freshmen have been one of the biggest stories of the season so far, as they have been performing incredibly well. The Freshmen have been a major part of the Tiger offense, and they have been key to their team's success. The Freshmen are looking to continue their hot streak against Penn this weekend.

Penn Booters Welcome Injured Tigers

By ROSS FINGER

The Penn Booters have welcomed back several key players from injury, including running back Bobbi Isom and quarterback Joe Kazmaier. These players have been instrumental in their team's success this season, and their return will give the Booters a boost in their upcoming game against the Tigers.

Tiger Freshmen Invade Penn for Critical Football, Soccer Contests

By ROSS FINGER

The Tiger Freshmen have been one of the biggest stories of the season so far, as they have been performing incredibly well. The Freshmen have been a major part of the Tiger offense, and they have been key to their team's success. The Freshmen are looking to continue their hot streak against Penn this weekend.