Student Representatives to Study Improvement of Federal Lobbying

By ED DANGELO

The University was denied $100,000 in state funds for its minority advising program this year because the administration assigned the program to the College of Liberal Arts, rather than the Division of Student Civic Leadership, as it had been for the past nine years.

Last year, the program received $150,000 in state funds for its 350,000 program, which finances minority student services. This year, however, the state Office of Equal Opportunity required the program to be treated as an independent student agency for $180,000.

Maberry said the state's decision "to shock new life into the program" demonstrates that the state failed to renew the program for the College of Liberal Arts.

The majority of the program's students are juniors and seniors, Maberry said, and the program has been criticized for having too many minority students.

The University's minority services program, which provides tutoring and academic advising for minority students, is "running with great difficulty" because of the state's failure to renew the program, Maberry said.

The program's funding was cut by $25,000 this year, and the state's decision to assign it to the College of Liberal Arts "is a clear case of budget cutting," Maberry said.

The program's job description is to be updated to include "some kind of working group that is responsible for centralized advising," Maberry said.

Student-run electronic media "will be open to the University community," Pell, chairman of the Subcommittee on Higher Education, said Thursday.

But the proposal "will have to be substantially different from the old one," however, he said. He added that the new proposal is "not going to be substantially different from the old one." However, he said. He added that the new proposal is "not going to be substantially different from the old one." However, he said. He added that the new proposal is "not going to be substantially different from the old one." However, he said.

The proposal is to be "state minority advising," and it is "not going to be substantially different from the old one," however, he said. He added that the new proposal is "not going to be substantially different from the old one." However, he said.
CAMPUS EVENTS

RUG SALE

(Same People As On Locust Walk)

All Prices Cut

Immediate Delivery

Located Right on Campus

Same Excellent Selection

Open only For A Few Days

Hours:

3-6 Mon- Fri or by Appointment CALL EV2-2611

It's rough...it's fast...it's different...

Come, Experience Rugby

PENN vs. VILLANOVA

Sat. Nov. 23 at 10 am on

River Field (no.3)

TOUCH WOOD

Distinctive Handcrafted

Furniture and Artifacts

Add a touch of elegance to your home with a piece of fine furniture from TOUCH WOOD. Designers and makers of distinctive handcrafted furniture. TOUCH WOOD also features Eskimo soapstone and whalebone carvings and Indian pottery.

2017 LOCUST STREET

561-7117

APARTMENTS

Paul Winter

Consort

University Museum

Admission

Friday, Dec. 6 at 8 PM

2.50 students & staff

$5.00 General Public

H.H. tickets

University Museum

Auditorium changed to

Irvine Auditorium

Michael Laschin

Paintings-Prints-

Drawings

H.H. Gallery

9am-5 pm

Don’t forget

the pass

door for weekend

movies in Irvine

$7.50-

$20.00

TINKERBELL

Sal. lot 23 Irvine Audionum

in their presents

Sunday, Nov. 24

Don’t forget

Drawings

at 8 PM

BOOKS AND MANY

the presents

Located Right on Campus

3-6 Mon-fri or by Appointment CALL EV2-2611
PERSPECTIVE

Cupp: Today's Student Body More Aware

(Continued from page 1)

advertising and accounting, were there say particular courses or extracurricular activities which you enjoyed in that had practical applications?

DP: Well, I remember that there was a liberal arts education that I attended the school?

Cupp: That's a broad question and there are a lot of different answers.
First of all, that's what happened to Wharton education in those days. I think that it was the best there is a much broader perspective of the student body and its attitudes
then was a little more sophisticated although I do not have to know the impression that there was anything inferior about a business education at Wharton. It's always been tough. Campus life is a little bit different, not radially, because people are people and behave
in the same manner to college.

DP: The student body and its attitudes and beliefs of those undergraduate days, he's got a broader understanding of humanity and social life. He's got a broad understanding of the role of art, that time — electronic com-
In the college we had English literature and one language and psychology. I was one of those freshmen fortunate enough to study under Nyeas Kantle—one of the great professors in those days, that I'm not to say that there aren't today but I know them and I don't know these.

DP: Do you feel that a liberal arts education has relevance for someone who wants to be successful in the human world?

Cupp: To me, it was essential to realize that you have a good understanding of Philadelphia as a city. What do you feel the major problems that Philadelphia is about it is the number-one educational institutions!

Cupp: Again this is a very broad,
generalized question. I don't think that the student body and its attitudes
then was a little more sophisticated although I
do not have to know the impression
that there was anything inferior about a
business education at Wharton. It's always been tough. Campus life is a little bit different, not radially,
because people are people and behave
in the same manner to college.

DP: I think that there is a need for fiscal management in business education.

Cupp: I am in complete agreement with Martin Meyerson.

DP: The student body and its attitudes
then was a little more sophisticated although I
do not have to know the impression
that there was anything inferior about a
business education at Wharton. It's always been tough. Campus life is a little bit different, not radially,
because people are people and behave
in the same manner to college.

DP: You said that you would suggest a student should have a broad liberal arts education and then continue in graduate school with business. What are you saying is the advantage to this plan?
The advantages are that in the kind of decision, fast-moving world in my undergraduate days, he's got a broad understanding of humanity
and social life. He's got a broad understanding of the role of
art, that time — electronic com-
In the college we had English literature and one language and psychology. I was one of those freshmen fortunate enough to study under Nyeas Kantle—one of the great professors in those days, that I'm not saying that there aren't today but I know them and I don't know these.

DP: Do you feel that a liberal arts education has relevance for someone who wants to be successful in the human world?

Cupp: To me, it was essential to realize that you have a good understanding of Philadelphia as a city. What do you feel the major problems that Philadelphia is about it is the number-one educational institutions!

Cupp: Again this is a very broad,
generalized question. I don't think that the student body and its attitudes
then was a little more sophisticated although I
do not have to know the impression
that there was anything inferior about a
business education at Wharton. It's always been tough. Campus life is a little bit different, not radially,
because people are people and behave
in the same manner to college.

DP: I think that there is a need for fiscal management in business education.

Cupp: I am in complete
agreement with Martin Meyerson.

DP: The student body and its attitudes
then was a little more sophisticated although I
do not have to know the impression
that there was anything inferior about a
business education at Wharton. It's always been tough. Campus life is a little bit different, not radially,
because people are people and behave
in the same manner to college.

DP: You said that you would suggest a student should have a broad liberal arts education and then continue in graduate school with business. What are you saying is the advantage to this plan?
The advantages are that in the kind of decision, fast-moving world in my undergraduate days, he's got a broad understanding of humanity
and social life. He's got a broad understanding of the role of
art, that time — electronic com-
In the college we had English literature and one language and psychology. I was one of those freshmen fortunate enough to study under Nyeas Kantle—one of the great professors in those days, that I'm not saying that there aren't today but I know
them and I don't know these.

DP: Do you feel that a liberal arts education has relevance for someone who wants to be successful in the human world?

Cupp: To me, it was essential to realize that you have a good understanding of Philadelphia as a city. What do you feel the major problems that Philadelphia is about it is the number-one educational institutions!

Cupp: Again this is a very broad,
generalized question. I don't think that the student body and its attitudes
then was a little more sophisticated although I
do not have to know the impression
that there was anything inferior about a
business education at Wharton. It's always been tough. Campus life is a little bit different, not radially,
because people are people and behave
in the same manner to college.

DP: I think that there is a need for fiscal management in business education.

Cupp: I am in complete
agreement with Martin Meyerson.

DP: The student body and its attitudes
then was a little more sophisticated although I
do not have to know the impression
that there was anything inferior about a
business education at Wharton. It's always been tough. Campus life is a little bit different, not radially,
because people are people and behave
in the same manner to college.

DP: You said that you would suggest a student should have a broad liberal arts education and then continue in graduate school with business. What are you saying is the advantage to this plan?
The advantages are that in the kind of decision, fast-moving world in my undergraduate days, he's got a broad understanding of humanity
and social life. He's got a broad understanding of the role of
art, that time — electronic com-
In the college we had English literature and one language and psychology. I was one of those freshmen fortunate enough to study under Nyeas Kantle—one of the great professors in those days, that I'm not saying that there aren't today but I know
them and I don't know these.

DP: Do you feel that a liberal arts education has relevance for someone who wants to be successful in the human world?

Cupp: To me, it was essential to realize that you have a good understanding of Philadelphia as a city. What do you feel the major problems that Philadelphia is about it is the number-one educational institutions!

Cupp: Again this is a very broad,
generalized question. I don't think that the student body and its attitudes
then was a little more sophisticated although I
do not have to know the impression
that there was anything inferior about a
business education at Wharton. It's always been tough. Campus life is a little bit different, not radially,
because people are people and behave
in the same manner to college.

DP: I think that there is a need for fiscal management in business education.

Cupp: I am in complete
agreement with Martin Meyerson.

DP: The student body and its attitudes
then was a little more sophisticated although I
do not have to know the impression
that there was anything inferior about a
business education at Wharton. It's always been tough. Campus life is a little bit different, not radially,
because people are people and behave
in the same manner to college.

DP: You said that you would suggest a student should have a broad liberal arts education and then continue in graduate school with business. What are you saying is the advantage to this plan?
The advantages are that in the kind of decision, fast-moving world in my undergraduate days, he's got a broad understanding of humanity
and social life. He's got a broad understanding of the role of
art, that time — electronic com-
In the college we had English literature and one language and psychology. I was one of those freshmen fortunate enough to study under Nyeas Kantle—one of the great professors in those days, that I'm not saying that there aren't today but I know
them and I don't know these.

DP: Do you feel that a liberal arts education has relevance for someone who wants to be successful in the human world?

Cupp: To me, it was essential to realize that you have a good understanding of Philadelphia as a city. What do you feel the major problems that Philadelphia is about it is the number-one educational institutions!

Cupp: Again this is a very broad,
generalized question. I don't think that the student body and its attitudes
then was a little more sophisticated although I
do not have to know the impression
that there was anything inferior about a
business education at Wharton. It's always been tough. Campus life is a little bit different, not radially,
because people are people and behave
in the same manner to college.
the quarterback, but the professional variety.

The National Scene

The problem is that the world's food supply, in contrast, is not so centralized. The United States is more clever than theirs. We can move food by train, truck or plane. They...
Tape Reveals Nixon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Richard M. Nixon agreed he could be impeached after a send-off from Osaka by some 1,400 people, including some who were on hand to welcome Ford when he arrived in the South Korean capital of Seoul for a five-day visit here after a five-day stay in Japan.

Prosecutors played the last four of five hours of tape recordings by caretaker H. R. Haldeman in the Nixon White House, Thursday, of the trial of five former Nixon aides. None of the aides who were convicted of obstructing justice were on hand to hear the testimony or the tape played. The aides' attorneys said they would appeal all convictions except one.

The aides, convicted Monday, of perjury and a conspiracy to obstruct justice, were: John D. Ehrlichman, former top White House aide; Charles W. Colson, special counsel; John E. Dean Jr., former White House counsel; John W. Dean, former counsel for the political affairs staff; and Jeb Stuart Magruder, ex-chairman of the Central American Affairs Committee.

The aides were convicted of not adhering to the Watergate cover-up, not handling information accurately, according to a tape played Thursday at the Watergate complex trial.

The aides said they were not present at the Watergate complex and that they were trying to work as fast as they could to keep the Watergate involvement out of the JFK assassinations. They also said they were forced to participate in the Watergate by the White House.

Ford Arrives in Seoul for Talks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford arrived in the South Korean capital of Seoul Friday in an emphatic gesture of continuing United States support for an ally whose soldiers battled sido-

By one-sided margins, the Senate rejected on Tuesday Ford's efforts for an 80 million vocational rehabilitation bill and a bill to expand the 180,000-man defense mission in the United States. The Senate rejected the bill by a 95-1 vote. It passed the House by a 240-176 vote.

The proposed bill would have provided $1.3 billion for fiscal 1975 for about 1.2 million jobless workers, including 1,000 blacks. The bill was being considered in the Senate on Tuesday night.

The aids were convicted of not adhering to the Watergate cover-up, not handling information accurately, according to a tape played Thursday at the Watergate complex trial.

The aides said they were not present at the Watergate complex and that they were trying to work as fast as they could to keep the Watergate involvement out of the JFK assassinations. They also said they were forced to participate in the Watergate by the White House.

The aides were convicted of not adhering to the Watergate cover-up, not handling information accurately, according to a tape played Thursday at the Watergate complex trial.

The aides said they were not present at the Watergate complex and that they were trying to work as fast as they could to keep the Watergate involvement out of the JFK assassinations. They also said they were forced to participate in the Watergate by the White House.

Tape Reveals Nixon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Richard M. Nixon agreed he could be impeached after a send-off from Osaka by some 1,400 people, including some who were on hand to welcome Ford when he arrived in the South Korean capital of Seoul for a five-day visit here after a five-day stay in Japan.

Prosecutors played the last four of five hours of tape recordings by caretaker H. R. Haldeman in the Nixon White House, Thursday, of the trial of five former Nixon aides. None of the aides who were convicted of obstructing justice were on hand to hear the testimony or the tape played. The aides' attorneys said they would appeal all convictions except one.

The aides, convicted Monday, of perjury and a conspiracy to obstruct justice, were: John D. Ehrlichman, former top White House aide; Charles W. Colson, special counsel; John E. Dean Jr., former White House counsel; John W. Dean, former counsel for the political affairs staff; and Jeb Stuart Magruder, ex-chairman of the Central American Affairs Committee.

The aides were convicted of not adhering to the Watergate cover-up, not handling information accurately, according to a tape played Thursday at the Watergate complex trial.

The aides said they were not present at the Watergate complex and that they were trying to work as fast as they could to keep the Watergate involvement out of the JFK assassinations. They also said they were forced to participate in the Watergate by the White House.

The aides were convicted of not adhering to the Watergate cover-up, not handling information accurately, according to a tape played Thursday at the Watergate complex trial.

The aides said they were not present at the Watergate complex and that they were trying to work as fast as they could to keep the Watergate involvement out of the JFK assassinations. They also said they were forced to participate in the Watergate by the White House.

The aides were convicted of not adhering to the Watergate cover-up, not handling information accurately, according to a tape played Thursday at the Watergate complex trial.

The aides said they were not present at the Watergate complex and that they were trying to work as fast as they could to keep the Watergate involvement out of the JFK assassinations. They also said they were forced to participate in the Watergate by the White House.
FREE DELIVERY OF FONZO's PIZZA
CALL GR 2-9930
48th & CHESTNUT STREET
1 by the Philadelphia Magazine

FOHAB'S ITALIAN VILLAGE
Choice of Tomato Juice, Chef Salad, 1 complementarity
$5 Soup De Jour
Spaghetti and Meatballs $5.10
Eckerd Lasagna $5.60
Egg Plant Parmagiana $5.80
Bratwurst Chopped Sauer Steak $5.10
Choice of 3 Vegetables or Spaghetti Dinner
Sherbert, Ice Cream, or Soda $2.15
Cake Roll or Jello Beverage $1.00
Milk $1.15
I.D. CARDS MUST
SOLD OUT

ANNENBERG CENTER
132 South St.
334 South St.
WA 2-6010
Admission $2.50
Open "coffee hours" sponsored by Sphinx Series
Room of Houston Hall. Sphinx has not picked future guests.
Open "coffee hours" sponsored by Sphinx Series
Room of Houston Hall. Sphinx hasn't picked future guests.

Zellerbach Theatre
University of Pennsylvania
3680 Walnut St.
Philadelphia, PA 19104

NEW YORK SHAKESPEARE FESTIVAL
PRODUCED BY JOSEPH PAPP
BLACK PICTURE SHOW
a new play depicting the last day of an African American woman's life

NEW LOCUทย THEATRE
(Noviember 24)

OFF-BROADWAY'S BIGGEST HIT IS COMING TO PHILADELPHIA!
ORIGINAL NEW YORK CAST!
MOONCHILDREN
"One of the best American plays of recent years... Definitely a must.
Fascinating and dazzling.
-Clare Brocnor, N.Y. Times

November 24, 1974, 8:30 PM

STUDENT DISCOUNT
$2.00 OFF
Regular Box Office price
Good for 2 admissions

SOLD OUT

ANNENBERG CENTER
New York Shakespeare Festival
Produced by Joseph Papp
Black Picture Show
A new play depicting the last day of an African American woman's life

MOONCHILDREN
2 Weeks! DEC. 9-21

STUDENT DISCOUNT
$2.00 OFF
Regular Box Office price
Good for 2 admissions Subject to availability, Tickets by box office, Houston Hall box office & Temple ticket offices.

AMTRAK RATES ARE UP 8% GREYHOUND IS ON STRIKE
What are you going to do?
Pennsylvania Transport will get you home cheaper than any other commercial transportation available.

Buses conveniently leave from Houston Hall on Spruce Street.
Routes to Boston ($12.50), Providence ($11.75), Hartford ($8.00)
New Haven ($7.50), Westchester County, N.Y. ($6.10), New York City ($4.65), Long Island ($5.00 or $4.15), Binghamton, New York ($4.75), Washington, Silver Spring ($6.65), and Pittsburgh ($12.50). • •

Buses leave Tuesday, November 21st, at 3:00 PM and 5:30 PM, and on Wednesday, November 22nd, at 1:00 P.M., 3:30 P.M. and 5:00 P.M.

Make your reservations by Noon Saturday, November 23, 1974
BA 2-7275 EV 2-6705

DEAR AKADAMA MAMA,

GET YOURI RECIPE FOR A DEEP THIRST.

Sphinc Series To Open With Procrust Volliotl
Prescott Elliot Nixier will be the guest Monday at the first in a series of open "coffee hours" sponsored by "coffee hours" sponsored by Sphinx Series.

"They're an open "coffee hours" sponsored by Sphinx Series.

"It's an open "coffee hours" sponsored by Sphinx Series.

Sphinx hasn't picked future guests.

A.E.D. MEMBERS
Important Meeting Of The Pre-Men Honor Society
Sunday November 24, Houston Hall. 8:00 P.M.
Smith-Penniman Room
All Members Must Attend

RECIPEs FOR A DEEP THIRST.

DEAR AKADAMA MAMA,

"It's an open "coffee hours" sponsored by Sphinx Series.

Sphinx hasn't picked future guests.

DEAR AKADAMA MAMA,

"It's an open "coffee hours" sponsored by Sphinx Series.

Sphinx hasn't picked future guests.

DEAR AKADAMA MAMA,

"It's an open "coffee hours" sponsored by Sphinx Series.

Sphinx hasn't picked future guests.
Ten Little Indians
by Agatha Christie Plays and Players
1714 Delancey Place
Nov. 22, 23, 27, 29, 30
Curtain time 8:30 p.m.
Admission $2.50—Students and Senior Citizens $1.50.
For reservations call PS-6010.

FOOTBALL

Speedy Quakers to Meet Solid Green "D"

Tomorrow's Line-ups

Penn (5-2-1) Dartmouth (3-5)

Penn Statistics

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Penn</th>
<th>Varsity</th>
<th>Average</th>
<th>Year</th>
<th>Team</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>A.B.</td>
<td>320</td>
<td>8.6</td>
<td>1972</td>
<td>Yale</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A.C.</td>
<td>286</td>
<td>8.0</td>
<td>1972</td>
<td>Penn</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>K.C.</td>
<td>373</td>
<td>9.3</td>
<td>1972</td>
<td>New Hampshire</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>R.G.</td>
<td>207</td>
<td>5.3</td>
<td>1972</td>
<td>Harvard</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>P.N.</td>
<td>17</td>
<td>0.4</td>
<td>1972</td>
<td>Columbia</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>J.S.</td>
<td>13</td>
<td>0.3</td>
<td>1972</td>
<td>Rutgers</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>M.S.</td>
<td>12</td>
<td>0.3</td>
<td>1972</td>
<td>Temple</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

PASS RECEIVING

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>No.</th>
<th>Yards</th>
<th>Touchdowns</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>44</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2</td>
<td>22</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Rushing

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>No.</th>
<th>Rushes</th>
<th>Yards</th>
<th>Touchdowns</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>22</td>
<td>146</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2</td>
<td>15</td>
<td>115</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3</td>
<td>11</td>
<td>109</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Interceptions

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>No.</th>
<th>Yards</th>
<th>Touchdowns</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>118</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Scoring

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>PTS.</th>
<th>Touchdowns</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>7</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Dartmouth Statistics

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Dartmouth</th>
<th>No.</th>
<th>Yards</th>
<th>Touchdowns</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>18</td>
<td>110</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2</td>
<td>10</td>
<td>109</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Arica Weekend for Men

The workshops are designed to remove emotional barriers from our bodies, clearing emotional blocks which prevent easy communication and freeing our minds from anxieties, preoccupations, and prejudices.

After Andy Warhol's "Frankenstein..."

Paul Morrissey

Special Student Discount

Mon-Fri (except holidays) SHOW I.D. CARD

The Undergraduate Assembly Conference on Federal Support for Financial Aid welcomes student leaders and editors from:

- Boston University
- Harvard College
- Brandeis University
- John Hopkins University
- Brown University
- Massachusetts Institute
- Columbia University
- New York University
- Dartmouth College
- Princeton University
- Duke University
- Georgetown University
- Yale University

OPENING ADDRESS: "The Federal Educational Pipeline" - Senator Claiborne Pell, Democrat, Rhode Island Chairman, Senate Education Subcommittee

Tonight, 8:00 p.m. Law School Rm. 100
Open to the University Community
First page

Bootsie Aim for $500,000, Vs. Big Green

By Bob Paul

For the last five years, the Penn soccer team never really made a big splash, but that hasn't diminished the fact that it would be something to see against the top teams in the NCAA Tournament. Three of those teams will be here this weekend, and the results from last year's matches will be on display.

Despite the relatively low profile of the Penn soccer team, the program has shown steady improvement over the last few seasons, with a record of 14-9-1 in 2019 and 16-6-2 in 2020. This year, the team is 9-2-2 and looking to make a deep run in the NCAA Tournament.

Duhh Swan

For the past eight weekends, we've been covering the Duquesne Duques, and now it's time to turn our attention to the Penn Quakers.

Connell by 4-1, Philadelphia 1-1, and Fordham 1-0. The Quakers have a wealth of experience and talent, and they're going to be a tough team to beat.

Senior Perspectives: Part III

Stars Close Careers With Few Regrets

By Joe Banks

An athlete's career can be a tale of two halves. For many, it's a period of intense focus and dedication, culminating in the NCAA Tournament or a similar pinnacle. But for others, it's a time of transition and reflection.

The Perry family, who have come to be known as the Perry household, have been nothing short of sensational throughout the years. Perry's three sons, John, Mark, and David, have all had successful careers in college sports.

Keepsakes from the Past

By Andy Fliker

It's been a long time since I last attended a Quaker football game, but the memories are still fresh.

I remember the excitement of walking into Franklin Field for the first time, the thrill of watching Penn take on some of the biggest names in college football.

Keepaway: Former midfielder Larry Houston boxes out a Dartmouth opponent in last season's Ivy League finale. Houston was a key player for the Quakers, helping them to their first Ivy League title since 1971.

Pre-season Favorites Penn and Dartmouth Play for Third Spot

By Andy Feldman

If only what could have been, but the memory of what was gives hope...