Counterfeit Tickets Sold At Penn Relays Saturday

By RALF MOFFAT

Executive Director of the U.S. Olympic Committee, announced that the club would be able to play against the University of Pennsylvania in the upcoming season. He noted that the club had been invited to participate in a tournament in Europe earlier this year, and that it was hoped to receive additional invitations in the near future.

The coach said that the team was looking forward to the opportunity to compete against other top-level collegiate teams. He added that the club was excited to have the opportunity to represent the University of Pennsylvania and that it hoped to continue to improve its performance over the course of the season.

The coach also expressed gratitude to the University for its continued support of the club and its dedication to providing the best possible experience for its student-athletes. He said that the university's investment in athletics was a testament to its commitment to providing a well-rounded education to all of its students.
Mayoral Race

Mayor Doherty lost to blacks voters in the campaign against Mayor Rizzo in 1971.

Students to Support "Tell Me a Riddle"

The Daily Pennsylvania

Brown

Brown is leading in the polls with 48% of the vote, according to a recent survey. He is expected to face an opponent in the general election.

Female Volunteers

Female volunteers are being sought for various events and activities on campus. The University is looking for dedicated volunteers to help with various initiatives.

The Daily Pennsylvania

Graduating Seniors

A brunch will be served at Hillel on Commencement Day, May 18, from 11:00 AM to 1:00 PM.

Those interested in making reservations please call 243-7391 or come by 202 S. 36th St.

The Daily Pennsylvania

CLASSIFIEDS

CLASSIFIEDS

Modern Apartments on Campus
Eastern States Realty
EV 6-8024

Photographers

The Daily Pennsylvania
Vietnam Refugees Flee to Saigon

The world-renowned movie star photographed Friday returning home to Saigon, which itself had been taken over by government forces a few hours earlier. The movie star, who was instrumental in the evacuation of Saigon, was met by a cheering crowd as he arrived at the airport. The star, who had been abroad for several months, was welcomed back with open arms by the people of Saigon, who had been left homeless by the recent fighting.

US Viet refugee resettlement

The United States government has announced plans to resettle thousands of Vietnamese refugees in the United States. The refugees, who have been fleeing government forces in South Vietnam, will be provided with housing, food, and medical care. The US government has also pledged to help the refugees find work and become assimilated into American society. The resettlement program is expected to cost several billion dollars.

Who Cheers When Sales Work?

For every successful salesperson, there are many who do not make it. However, a successful salesperson is worth their weight in gold. They are the backbone of any business, and their efforts are essential to the growth and success of a company. Salespeople are the ones who bring in the revenue, and it is they who make the difference between a company's success and failure. Without salespeople, businesses would be unable to survive.

EMERSONS

Cocktails, wine and beer available.

Plymouth Meeting - Plymouth Meeting Mall - 828-5356
Philadelphia - 7501 Haverford Avenue at City Lane - 879-1656
Expires 12/31, Not And Good

With Other Discounts Or Promotions

---

Tomorrow Night!

Julie Andrews in MARY POPPINS

Tuesday, May 7th @ 7:00 & 10:00 PM

End of Class Blast

Featuring Cynthia Bloomfield - Cookhouse Club - MC Alpino

2:00 PM Till 6:00 PM
BYO And be There

---

Who Cheers When Sales Work?

For every successful salesperson, there are many who do not make it. However, a successful salesperson is worth their weight in gold. They are the backbone of any business, and their efforts are essential to the growth and success of a company. Salespeople are the ones who bring in the revenue, and it is they who make the difference between a company's success and failure. Without salespeople, businesses would be unable to survive.

---

Quality and Value

Two "possives" that product planners accentuate, when they groom their entries for competition. The ingredients American businessmen strive for, are indeed the ones consumers look for, when they buy a product. After all, the consumer is the ultimate voter in a product's election, and it is the consumer who pays for it. But just how much quality can be built into a given item? How many colors and sizes? How many features? How high a price? Read this about the route most American businessmen take. The "Main Street" approach. Read this what this has to do with 21 million dishwashers and 35 million clothes dryers winning their way into American homes.

Who are the people who evaluate the products that win, and what do they look for? Be cheap. I have your steak, fries, salad and bread for only $2.95. (regularly $4.95).

I have your steak, fries, salad and bread for only $2.95. (regularly $4.95).

Drink. We have pitchers of cold, icy beer.

Sunday thru Thursday at Emersons.

---

EMERSONS

Cocktails, wine and beer available.

Plymouth Meeting - Plymouth Meeting Mall - 828-5356
Philadelphia - 7501 Haverford Avenue at City Lane - 879-1656
Expires 12/31, Not And Good

With Other Discounts Or Promotions

---

Who Cheers When Sales Work?

For every successful salesperson, there are many who do not make it. However, a successful salesperson is worth their weight in gold. They are the backbone of any business, and their efforts are essential to the growth and success of a company. Salespeople are the ones who bring in the revenue, and it is they who make the difference between a company's success and failure. Without salespeople, businesses would be unable to survive.

---

Quality and Value

Two "possives" that product planners accentuate, when they groom their entries for competition. The ingredients American businessmen strive for, are indeed the ones consumers look for, when they buy a product. After all, the consumer is the ultimate voter in a product's election, and it is the consumer who pays for it. But just how much quality can be built into a given item? How many colors and sizes? How many features? How high a price? Read this about the route most American businessmen take. The "Main Street" approach. Read this what this has to do with 21 million dishwashers and 35 million clothes dryers winning their way into American homes.

Who are the people who evaluate the products that win, and what do they look for? Be cheap. I have your steak, fries, salad and bread for only $2.95. (regularly $4.95).

I have your steak, fries, salad and bread for only $2.95. (regularly $4.95).

Drink. We have pitchers of cold, icy beer.

Sunday thru Thursday at Emersons.

---

EMERSONS

Cocktails, wine and beer available.

Plymouth Meeting - Plymouth Meeting Mall - 828-5356
Philadelphia - 7501 Haverford Avenue at City Lane - 879-1656
Expires 12/31, Not And Good

With Other Discounts Or Promotions

---

Who Cheers When Sales Work?

For every successful salesperson, there are many who do not make it. However, a successful salesperson is worth their weight in gold. They are the backbone of any business, and their efforts are essential to the growth and success of a company. Salespeople are the ones who bring in the revenue, and it is they who make the difference between a company's success and failure. Without salespeople, businesses would be unable to survive.

---

Quality and Value

Two "possives" that product planners accentuate, when they groom their entries for competition. The ingredients American businessmen strive for, are indeed the ones consumers look for, when they buy a product. After all, the consumer is the ultimate voter in a product's election, and it is the consumer who pays for it. But just how much quality can be built into a given item? How many colors and sizes? How many features? How high a price? Read this about the route most American businessmen take. The "Main Street" approach. Read this what this has to do with 21 million dishwashers and 35 million clothes dryers winning their way into American homes.

Who are the people who evaluate the products that win, and what do they look for? Be cheap. I have your steak, fries, salad and bread for only $2.95. (regularly $4.95).

I have your steak, fries, salad and bread for only $2.95. (regularly $4.95).

Drink. We have pitchers of cold, icy beer.

Sunday thru Thursday at Emersons.

---

EMERSONS

Cocktails, wine and beer available.

Plymouth Meeting - Plymouth Meeting Mall - 828-5356
Philadelphia - 7501 Haverford Avenue at City Lane - 879-1656
Expires 12/31, Not And Good

With Other Discounts Or Promotions

---

Who Cheers When Sales Work?

For every successful salesperson, there are many who do not make it. However, a successful salesperson is worth their weight in gold. They are the backbone of any business, and their efforts are essential to the growth and success of a company. Salespeople are the ones who bring in the revenue, and it is they who make the difference between a company's success and failure. Without salespeople, businesses would be unable to survive.

---

Quality and Value

Two "possives" that product planners accentuate, when they groom their entries for competition. The ingredients American businessmen strive for, are indeed the ones consumers look for, when they buy a product. After all, the consumer is the ultimate voter in a product's election, and it is the consumer who pays for it. But just how much quality can be built into a given item? How many colors and sizes? How many features? How high a price? Read this about the route most American businessmen take. The "Main Street" approach. Read this what this has to do with 21 million dishwashers and 35 million clothes dryers winning their way into American homes.

Who are the people who evaluate the products that win, and what do they look for? Be cheap. I have your steak, fries, salad and bread for only $2.95. (regularly $4.95).

I have your steak, fries, salad and bread for only $2.95. (regularly $4.95).

Drink. We have pitchers of cold, icy beer.

Sunday thru Thursday at Emersons.
Activities Council Allocations: Debate Continues

By Thaddeus MacDag

In one of the inflammatory and sarcastic reports it is my privilege to write on the subject of Women's Studies, I have had the pleasure of noting some of the most significant developments that are occurring in the field of Women's Studies. In the course of events that have resulted from this faculty in the Women's Studies Program, we have seen a number of changes that are of great importance. These changes have been so drastic as to be almost unrecognizable, and they have been accompanied by a great deal of criticism. The ad hoc committee's position has apparently been misrepresented and misconstrued. Personnel politics are significant: the Activities Council can only guarantee freedom to organize a given activity or program, but, perhaps unfortunately, cannot guarantee financial support. Thus, any group does have a right to free speech; but not to a free lunch.

The 'Activities Council can only guarantee freedom to organize a given activity or program, but, perhaps unfortunately, cannot guarantee financial support. Thus, any group does have a right to free speech; but not to a free lunch.'
Counterfeit (Continued from page 1)
SHAY DUFFIN

The Curtis Organ Restoration Group of Penn Union Council Presents a CURTIS ORGAN CONCERT
by World Renowned Organist

ROBERT ELMORE
Playing Bach and other favorites

WED, APRIL 30 8 pm FREE
Schenley Auditorium
39th & Olney Rd., Philadelphia

Lake Country & Cornell Summer

Why not plan to spend this summer with us...

- a 40 mile clear water lake
- 3-week, 6-week, 8-week sessions
- hilly, forests, parks
- possibility of completing two semesters study in the natural sciences, humanities, classical and modern arche or hebrew
- summer culture and activities
- extensive offerings in mathematics and the natural sciences, humanities, classical and modern languages, studio art, and the social sciences
- gorges, waterfalls
- experiential learning and extended campus opportunities available through special programs

Cortin Summer...there are so many good reasons.

For free announcement write:
Tuition: $350, per credit hour
Cornell University Summer Session 135 Sage Hall, Ithaca, N.Y. I-14853 phone 298-216-4757

The Curtis Organ Restoration Group of Penn Union Council Presents a CURTIS ORGAN CONCERT
by World Renowned Organist

ROBERT ELMORE
Playing Bach and other favorites

WED, APRIL 30 8 pm FREE
Schenley Auditorium
39th & Olney Rd., Philadelphia

Lake Country & Cornell Summer

Why not plan to spend this summer with us...

- a 40 mile clear water lake
- 3-week, 6-week, 8-week sessions
- hilly, forests, parks
- possibility of completing two semesters study in the natural sciences, humanities, classical and modern arche or hebrew
- summer culture and activities
- extensive offerings in mathematics and the natural sciences, humanities, classical and modern languages, studio art, and the social sciences
- gorges, waterfalls
- experiential learning and extended campus opportunities available through special programs

Cortin Summer...there are so many good reasons.

For free announcement write:
Tuition: $350, per credit hour
Cornell University Summer Session 135 Sage Hall, Ithaca, N.Y. I-14853 phone 298-216-4757

Senior Class at Liberty Bell Race Track
Post Time 8:00 PM

Spring 1975

UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA

Renew will be cut from 2000 to 2000

SUN. IS.00

SHOWTIME $4 00

SHAY DUFFIN is

Brendan Behan

—

RHYTHMS RHYTHMS RHYTHMS

at CHESTNUT HILL UNIVERSITY CITY 29th & Chestnut St., Phila.
Phone 267-1439

THE SPRING ISSUE of the Pennsylvania Review is the 177th annual issue devoted to student literary magazines, an usually prolific season for the periodical, according to the editors. The latest Poem, "The Tambourine" starts: "If my father could assume a shape in this world..."

The 177th annual issue is the 177th annual issue for the periodical, according to the editors. The latest Poem, "The Tambourine" starts: "If my father could assume a shape in this world..."

The 177th annual issue is the 177th annual issue for the periodical, according to the editors. The latest Poem, "The Tambourine" starts: "If my father could assume a shape in this world..."

The 177th annual issue is the 177th annual issue for the periodical, according to the editors. The latest Poem, "The Tambourine" starts: "If my father could assume a shape in this world..."

The 177th annual issue is the 177th annual issue for the periodical, according to the editors. The latest Poem, "The Tambourine" starts: "If my father could assume a shape in this world..."

The 177th annual issue is the 177th annual issue for the periodical, according to the editors. The latest Poem, "The Tambourine" starts: "If my father could assume a shape in this world..."

The 177th annual issue is the 177th annual issue for the periodical, according to the editors. The latest Poem, "The Tambourine" starts: "If my father could assume a shape in this world..."

The 177th annual issue is the 177th annual issue for the periodical, according to the editors. The latest Poem, "The Tambourine" starts: "If my father could assume a shape in this world..."
Waigao Wins in Franklin Mile Upset

(Continued from page 1)

Ezra Cornman/Staff Photographer

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia — The Soviet Union set the tone for Saturday night's action with a 15-0 thrashing of the United States in the opening round.

U.S. history had not been kind to the Americans in Prague. In 1975, the U.S. was beaten 16-2 and in 1976, 16-0.

The Americans had been hoping for a better showing this time, but their dreams were shattered by the Soviets.

The game started well for the Americans, with Jack Beams scoring a goal on a penalty shot in the first minute. However, the Soviets quickly regained their composure and went on to score goals on the next three shots.

The second half was even more one-sided, with the Soviets dominating the game and scoring goal after goal.

Despite their best efforts, the Americans were unable to mount a comeback, and the game ended with a final score of 15-0 in favor of the Soviets.

Cornell Halts Ivy Lax Drive

(Continued from page 1)

Patience is a virtue in the world of Ivy League lacrosse.

The I Virus, a term coined by Harvard's coach, Bob Parker, to describe the slow, patient style of play that has typified the Ivy League for years, was on full display Saturday as the Yale Bulldogs took on the Princeton Tigers at the Energy Sports Complex in New Haven.

Yale had been the dominant team in the Ivy League for the past two seasons, winning the championship both times. However, Princeton had been a strong contender in recent years and was looking to make a statement Saturday.

The game started off with both teams比较 evenly matched, but Yale eventually took control of the game and went on to win 15-7. The Bulldogs were led by senior attackman Tom Johnson, who scored four goals and added two assists.

Princeton, on the other hand, struggled to keep up with Yale's speed and skill throughout the game. The Tigers were held to just seven goals, with no player scoring more than two goals.

The win for Yale was a significant one, as it marked the first time in three years that the Bulldogs had defeated Princeton.

Heavies, 150's, Ski Foes, Remain Unsinkable

(Continued from page 1)

By JOHN WHEELER

Philadelphia's lightweight crew had a great showing in the Franklin Mile on Saturday, taking out defending champion Harvard, 7:08.2 to 7:08.3.

The Quakers were led by captain Rick Meyer, who not only won the race, but also set a new national record for the event.

Meyer, who had previously won the race in 1973, improved his time by 2.2 seconds to 7:08.2. Harvard's Paul Hill came in second, finishing just 0.1 seconds behind Meyer.

The Quakers also won the novice men's race, with a time of 7:12.9.

The victory was a significant one for the Quakers, who have been working hard to win the race for the past few seasons.

The team was led by captain Alan Konik, who commented, "It feels great to win the race for the first time. We've been working hard for this and it's finally paying off."

The Franklin Mile is one of the most prestigious races in the world and is considered one of the most difficult races to win.

The Quakers' victory was a testament to their hard work and dedication, as they have been training for this race for months.

The team's next goal is to continue their winning streak and take the race for the next few years to come.
81st Relays Add More Mile-Stones to Track History

Coughlin Speeds Irish Express to Three Relay Wins

By ED WREST

Ellicott City, Md.—Carnival 75: The Grand Finale

EAMONN COGHLAN of Villanova pulled off the Irish Express’s third victory Saturday at Franklin Field.

Columbia has added three more mile-stones to track history through the efforts of its athletes at the 81st Relays.

ROYAL PROCESSION—Wilson Walgwa leads Rick Colon and Tony Waldrip (left), over the Irish Express medley relays the next day. Coghlan anchored the Irish Express in all three relay races Saturday, including the 1:28.2, world-record mile relay.

Schwab Sticks to Winning Strategy

By ED WREST

EAMONN COGHLAN of Villanova pulled off the Irish Express’s third victory Saturday at Franklin Field.

Columbia has added three more mile-stones to track history through the efforts of its athletes at the 81st Relays.

ROYAL PROCESSION—Wilson Walgwa leads Rick Colon and Tony Waldrip (left), over the Irish Express medley relays the next day. Coghlan anchored the Irish Express in all three relay races Saturday, including the 1:28.2, world-record mile relay.

Schwab Sticks to Winning Strategy

By ED WREST

EAMONN COGHLAN of Villanova pulled off the Irish Express’s third victory Saturday at Franklin Field.

Columbia has added three more mile-stones to track history through the efforts of its athletes at the 81st Relays.

ROYAL PROCESSION—Wilson Walgwa leads Rick Colon and Tony Waldrip (left), over the Irish Express medley relays the next day. Coghlan anchored the Irish Express in all three relay races Saturday, including the 1:28.2, world-record mile relay.

Schwab Sticks to Winning Strategy

By ED WREST

EAMONN COGHLAN of Villanova pulled off the Irish Express’s third victory Saturday at Franklin Field.

Columbia has added three more mile-stones to track history through the efforts of its athletes at the 81st Relays.

ROYAL PROCESSION—Wilson Walgwa leads Rick Colon and Tony Waldrip (left), over the Irish Express medley relays the next day. Coghlan anchored the Irish Express in all three relay races Saturday, including the 1:28.2, world-record mile relay.

Schwab Sticks to Winning Strategy

By ED WREST

EAMONN COGHLAN of Villanova pulled off the Irish Express’s third victory Saturday at Franklin Field.

Columbia has added three more mile-stones to track history through the efforts of its athletes at the 81st Relays.

ROYAL PROCESSION—Wilson Walgwa leads Rick Colon and Tony Waldrip (left), over the Irish Express medley relays the next day. Coghlan anchored the Irish Express in all three relay races Saturday, including the 1:28.2, world-record mile relay.

Schwab Sticks to Winning Strategy

By ED WREST

EAMONN COGHLAN of Villanova pulled off the Irish Express’s third victory Saturday at Franklin Field.

Columbia has added three more mile-stones to track history through the efforts of its athletes at the 81st Relays.

ROYAL PROCESSION—Wilson Walgwa leads Rick Colon and Tony Waldrip (left), over the Irish Express medley relays the next day. Coghlan anchored the Irish Express in all three relay races Saturday, including the 1:28.2, world-record mile relay.

Schwab Sticks to Winning Strategy

By ED WREST

EAMONN COGHLAN of Villanova pulled off the Irish Express’s third victory Saturday at Franklin Field.

Columbia has added three more mile-stones to track history through the efforts of its athletes at the 81st Relays.

ROYAL PROCESSION—Wilson Walgwa leads Rick Colon and Tony Waldrip (left), over the Irish Express medley relays the next day. Coghlan anchored the Irish Express in all three relay races Saturday, including the 1:28.2, world-record mile relay.

Schwab Sticks to Winning Strategy

By ED WREST

EAMONN COGHLAN of Villanova pulled off the Irish Express’s third victory Saturday at Franklin Field.

Columbia has added three more mile-stones to track history through the efforts of its athletes at the 81st Relays.

ROYAL PROCESSION—Wilson Walgwa leads Rick Colon and Tony Waldrip (left), over the Irish Express medley relays the next day. Coghlan anchored the Irish Express in all three relay races Saturday, including the 1:28.2, world-record mile relay.

Schwab Sticks to Winning Strategy

By ED WREST

EAMONN COGHLAN of Villanova pulled off the Irish Express’s third victory Saturday at Franklin Field.

Columbia has added three more mile-stones to track history through the efforts of its athletes at the 81st Relays.

ROYAL PROCESSION—Wilson Walgwa leads Rick Colon and Tony Waldrip (left), over the Irish Express medley relays the next day. Coghlan anchored the Irish Express in all three relay races Saturday, including the 1:28.2, world-record mile relay.

Schwab Sticks to Winning Strategy

By ED WREST

EAMONN COGHLAN of Villanova pulled off the Irish Express’s third victory Saturday at Franklin Field.

Columbia has added three more mile-stones to track history through the efforts of its athletes at the 81st Relays.

ROYAL PROCESSION—Wilson Walgwa leads Rick Colon and Tony Waldrip (left), over the Irish Express medley relays the next day. Coghlan anchored the Irish Express in all three relay races Saturday, including the 1:28.2, world-record mile relay.

Schwab Sticks to Winning Strategy

By ED WREST

EAMONN COGHLAN of Villanova pulled off the Irish Express’s third victory Saturday at Franklin Field.

Columbia has added three more mile-stones to track history through the efforts of its athletes at the 81st Relays.

ROYAL PROCESSION—Wilson Walgwa leads Rick Colon and Tony Waldrip (left), over the Irish Express medley relays the next day. Coghlan anchored the Irish Express in all three relay races Saturday, including the 1:28.2, world-record mile relay.

Schwab Sticks to Winning Strategy

By ED WREST

EAMONN COGHLAN of Villanova pulled off the Irish Express’s third victory Saturday at Franklin Field.

Columbia has added three more mile-stones to track history through the efforts of its athletes at the 81st Relays.

ROYAL PROCESSION—Wilson Walgwa leads Rick Colon and Tony Waldrip (left), over the Irish Express medley relays the next day. Coghlan anchored the Irish Express in all three relay races Saturday, including the 1:28.2, world-record mile relay.

Schwab Sticks to Winning Strategy

By ED WREST

EAMONN COGHLAN of Villanova pulled off the Irish Express’s third victory Saturday at Franklin Field.

Columbia has added three more mile-stones to track history through the efforts of its athletes at the 81st Relays.

ROYAL PROCESSION—Wilson Walgwa leads Rick Colon and Tony Waldrip (left), over the Irish Express medley relays the next day. Coghlan anchored the Irish Express in all three relay races Saturday, including the 1:28.2, world-record mile relay.