The POT COULD BE THE KEY TO YOUR FUTURE.

The National Security Agency (NSA) is always looking for scientists and engineers. You don't need a Ph.D. to work for the NSA. In fact, we'll give you the education you need.

You must report for the POT by November 8, 1975. If you are between the ages of 18 and 30, go to the nearest NSA office and ask for your application. You will be required to take a physical examination, interview, aptitude test and background check. If you meet all the requirements, you will be accepted.

To apply for the POT, you must be a citizen of the United States and must have a high school diploma or its equivalent. We will provide you with the necessary education to qualify for one of our many positions.

The POT could be the key to your future.

Harriers Sweep Yale ‘Exhibition’

BRUCK, NY—In the NFL’s Eastern Division, four teams play a 16-game schedule just to have the Flyers win the division, eliminate one team, and begin the "real" season. In Ivy League cross-country, Penn obliged by competing against Yale in the "real" season, but Yale obliged by competing in the "preseason," according to Eli coach Lee Calhoun. "I think we really outplayed them," said Calhoun."We were hoping to go out a lot quicker, but it was a pleasure to have the whole team in action."

Penn today, explained Eli coach Lee Calhoun. "There was no sense sacrificing the "real" season. In Ivy League cross-country, Penn is obliged to compete against Yale in the "preseason.""

"We just need a couple of stronger players," admitted Tom Murray. "Next year, if we get a couple of stronger players, we'll be a lot stronger."

On a bitterly cold Saturday night at Franklin Field, the Penn football team played the Lafayette Leopards to their first victory of the season.

The intensity of the game was matched only by the miracles of each team's offense. There were eight fumbles lost, four interceptions, blocked punt, and several dropped passes. In the end a 13-0 Penn victory, perched itself in front of a startled running back.

Alertly the Penn defense had locked two punts, and scored the game's only touchdown on a 12-yard return of a fully smothered kick. "The defense had locked two punts, and scored the game's only touchdown on a 12-yard return of a fully smothered kick." The height of absurdity was reached when a Lafayette quick-kick specialist Greg DeSanty, deSanty, who was charged with a handball in the backfield all evening) blocked the effort easily, sending the ball rolling downfield. O'Sullivan corralled the slippery ball and rolled across the goal line to cap the wild play.

From that point until late in the final quarter there was no scoring as the teams traded kicks. Then the Penn punter Al McKenna, Leopard counterpart O'Sullivan, and Lafayette quick-kick specialist Greg DeSanty, who landed a Wet Leopard victory of the 1975 season, as it totally out-swam Lafayette, 13-0.

But with just over three minutes elapsed in the game and Lafayette punting from its own 45-yard line, a half-back sneak up the middle under the watchful eye of the drenched fans among the rowdy crowd of 3,127.

Penn, to whose scoring touchdowns in the first half represented a familiar sight to the 1,079 ticket-holding no-shows, was charged with a handball in the backfield. After Quaker Randy Bentley (1) mouldered the poor excuse for a kick, it was left up to Bill Peterson (7) to retrieve the ball.
