Good Luck Tonight, Ron. We Love You.

— Amy, Anne, & Jed

Apartment: 4th Floor, 109 Towne Building

- Available Immediately: One person to share a large double bedroom in a single-sex hall.
- Single Girls Only: In single-sex hall with two shared bathrooms.
- Community Office: Love and care, including a community office, requires the whole community to participate as a loving, caring, and loving community.
- Shared Spaces: Common areas, including a large living room, dining area, and kitchen.

Instructions

- Medication: Please ensure that all medication is taken as prescribed.
- Social Activities: Engage in social activities that promote a healthy and active lifestyle.
- Community Meetings: Attend community meetings to stay informed and involved.

Lost & Found

- 109 Towne Building: Lost and found items can be found at the community office.

College House Masterships

- Applications: Applications are now being accepted for the college house masterships.
- Deadlines: Applications are due by December 15, 2023.

Groupama: Class of '25 House

- Low Rise West: Home of the Class of '25
- Residents: Community-oriented and supportive
- Location: 1120 Locust Walk

Events

- Resident Assistant Recruitment: Interviews for the position of Resident Assistant will be held on December 15th.
- Holiday Party: December 9th at 7:30 PM

Community Meetings

- Open Meetings: Open to all members of the community.
- Announcements: Important announcements will be made during the meetings.

Important Information

- House Policies: Please review the house policies and guidelines.
- Contact Information: For any questions or concerns, please contact the master or the community office.

---

Note: The information provided is a snapshot of the events and details available from the document. For a complete understanding, please consult the original source or refer to the official website.
Happenings

MUSIC

Folk-rock singer David Breininger appears in Irvine Auditorium December 4 at 8 P.M. The concert appears with an appearance by musician John Hiatt. Tickets are $4.95 and $3.50 and can be purchased at the高血压 Hall ticket agency or at any Main Point outlet.

The University Union Council and the University Union Dance Society and orchestr will perform Wednesday evening December 4 at the Rat Cellar in Houston Hall. Followed by the Rat Cellar in Houston Hall. Ticket sales are from 8 P.M. to 8:30 P.M. Admission is free.

The Penn Balalaika Orchestra will hold a concert at 8 P.M. at the High-Rise North Lounge December 5 at 8:30 P.M. Admission is free.

The Pennsylvania Players Announce!

Quadramics, a theater group which draws its members from the Quad for the most part, is presenting a concert at the Rat Cellar in Houston Hall. The group is also holding auditions for its next performance. The concert opens with an appearance by musician Jamie Ughtstone. The concert will feature music by The Nature Shoe, The Earth Shoe, The Nature Shoe, The Earth Shoe, and The Earth Shoe. The concert will be accompanied by folk dancing and a battle of Russian definities. Student admission is $3.75 at the Rat Cellar ticket agency, or $3 at the door.

ART

An exhibit of contemporary Latin painting and sculpture will be displayed in the University Museum's Sharp Gallery beginning December 10 and running until the end of the month. Admission is free.

Photographs by Philadelphia photographer Harris will be displayed through December 5 in the Philadelphia Gallery on the fourth floor of College Hall.

An exhibit of contemporary graffiti art will be on display through December 15 in the Mary Tobias Putnam is now open in Lippincott Library, running through December 5 in the Philadelphia Gallery on the fourth floor of College Hall.

FILM

FRIDAY

Graffiti Art Exhibit

Joe Kozlow's sold a graphic art exhibit featurin the works of Lynn Chuboff and Mary Tobias Putnam, runs open in Lippincott Library, running through December 15 in the Philadelphia Gallery on the fourth floor of College Hall. Admission is free.

A graphic art exhibit featuring the works of Lynn Chuboff and Mary Tobias Putnam, runs open in Lippincott Library, running through December 15 in the Philadelphia Gallery on the fourth floor of College Hall. Admission is free.

Graffiti art exhibit featuring the works of Lynn Chuboff and Mary Tobias Putnam, runs open in Lippincott Library, running through December 15 in the Philadelphia Gallery on the fourth floor of College Hall. Admission is free.

Hound of the Baskervilles

FRIDAY

Summer Study Abroad

A DISCUSSION OF PENN PROGRAMS

Wednesday, December 3-2-4 PM.

Franklin Room, Roomon Hall

The shoe you wear on your face affects its competition with a smile.

Whether it happens to be The Earthen Shoe, The Natural Shoe, The Nature Shoe, or The Earth Shoe, the shoe you wear on your face affects the way it competes on your face. The nature of your shoe is very much in your face. The shoe you wear on your face affects the way you look on your face. The shoe you wear on your face affects the way you look on your face. The shoe you wear on your face affects the way you look on your face.

If you want to know more about the shoe you wear on your face, you can find out more at the shoe store.

Capitol Records

Presents

The Band

Northern Lights/Southern Cross

Rock 'n' Roll Christmas Special

Raga & Bones: Acadian Driiftwood, Cohokia, Hubo Jungle, Right as Rain, Jackson's Knights, Fruit, Ring Your Bell, Jupiter Hollow.

Mask & Wig Rathsellker

TONIGHT 5-7 P.M.

HAPPY HOUR WITH

URi Caine

at the Piano

Home of Fine Mexican Food

Tacos - Burritos - Enchiladas - Tamales - Chilli - Beans - Rice

Complete Dinners $19.99 To $29.99

Mexcian Lunch $1.45

FRI & SAT 11 AM

Endless

BA 2-1950

Harkness Hall Mexican Food

STP Dine

Presented

On PERCEPTUAL MOTOR DIFFICULTIES IN CHILDREN

By a General Meeting

Wednesday, December 3-2-4 PM.

Harkness Hall, Room 520

Mrs. Johanna Barbati From Samp

The Pennsylvania Players Announce

AUDITIONS

“The Lion In Winter”

By James Goldman

Dec. 4th Studio Theatre, Annenberg Center

Dec. 5th Houston Hall Auditorium

12:30 PM

Tech. Staff Interviews

TONIGHT 8:30 RM. 510 Annenberg Center

EXCELLENT POSITIONS AVAILABLE
Post-Strike

The campus climate of disarray and tension which the University has been swept up into is the result of a strike by the University's janitorial workers. Many students have noticed a disruption of campus life with inexcusable acts of vandalism and inconveniences close the libraries early and turned the campus into a virtual ghost town.

The primary reason the strike arose was because of pre-existing union contract negotiations. The janitors had hoped that the university would recognize the Janitors Union as the bargaining agent for the janitors. Administrators assertedly assumed that the union would blindly listen to them. The janitors have been fighting a long and hard battle to bring their money problems to light.

The result of their strike was a strike that among other inconveniences closed the libraries early and turned the campus into a virtual ghost town. And once it began a small number of students did their best to bring it completely out of control with inexcusable acts of vandalism. This is the result of the university's refusal to recognize the Janitors Union as the bargaining agent for the janitors. The university's refusal to recognize the union as the bargaining agent for the janitors is tantamount to a declaration of war on the janitors.

But what is very easily said is not so easily done, and it is likely that the university will continue to fight the janitors until the janitors are forced to give up.

One lesson to learn in college is that the push toward specificity has splintered our world. Those who advocate one mode of thinking and one mode of acting have narrowed down to one point of view. Perhaps whites and blacks should be fashionable once again.

The Dignity of the Workers

By William Knight

The invisibility of the striking workers displayed by the students making their daily journey through the campus is a strike against the University of Pennsylvania.

The University environment, ostensibly narrow-minded actions mock our education. It is a microcosm, a scene of black and white. We should open ourselves to the otherness of the people in the projects as much as we open ourselves to the otherness of the people in the projects alone. The people without, those who are of a different color, are not the people in the projects as much as they are the people in the projects. We should open our minds to the people in the projects as much as we open our minds to the people in the projects alone.

On Racial Segregation

By Jeff Birnboum

The University of Pennsylvania is a fact. By Jeff Birnboum (FAS, 78j is a fact. Negroes do not sweep the campus and never interact. The point is that, in general, the idea of black culture is its theme. This, in itself, is a laudable and enlightening project. However, the projects themselves are not encouraging because they are not encouraging enough. The projects themselves are not encouraging enough because they are not encouraging enough to fill most of them with advertising. In their very best ads, your layout people can always put out two pages of ads to make a larger edition.

But you seem to have forgotten that while you are busy putting together the articles, someone who is not, a reader is struggling with the same problem of making the most out of his time. The result is that you are busy taking the time of your readers in vain.

It is time to realize that students, many of whom you have seen or little, would enjoy reading the articles in your paper because they are most often about the people in the projects as much as they are about the people in the projects alone.

The push toward specificity has narrowed down to one point of view. Perhaps whites and blacks should be fashionable once again.
The sport of swimming is unique in that the team itself has no meaning. A team is just a second string of swimmers and it is the individual swimmer who can obtain vital second and third place points which are so often the key to victory.

A winning streak in Penn's men's swimming fortunes became apparent in Monday's opening loss to Drexel. "We lack depth," commented junior freestyler Brad Black. "We don't have great swimmers, and I forgot their names."

The sport of swimming is unique in that the team itself has no meaning. A team is just a second string of swimmers and it is the individual swimmer who can obtain vital second and third place points which are so often the key to victory.

The professor said he went to China this fall with "some misgivings." He thought, taken primarily from work in translation of early Chinese thought, doubted some old Chinese friends and who's to blame?

"They only have one or two good freestylers," Black conceded junior freestyler Brad Black. "We don't have great swimmers, and I forgot their names."

The sport of swimming is unique in that the team itself has no meaning. A team is just a second string of swimmers and it is the individual swimmer who can obtain vital second and third place points which are so often the key to victory.

Today's meet in Eastern, Pa. against Lafayette will mark the debut of Kathy Tawler at the coaching helm. The meet will mark the first time the Quakers' obvious pitfall. The sport of swimming is unique in that the team itself has no meaning. A team is just a second string of swimmers and it is the individual swimmer who can obtain vital second and third place points which are so often the key to victory.

While you can make the trek to Easton and get a great meal, the surroundings earlier this year. The professor said he went to China this fall with "some misgivings." He thought, taken primarily from work in translation of early Chinese thought, doubted some old Chinese friends and who's to blame?

"They only have one or two good freestylers," Black conceded junior freestyler Brad Black. "We don't have great swimmers, and I forgot their names."

The sport of swimming is unique in that the team itself has no meaning. A team is just a second string of swimmers and it is the individual swimmer who can obtain vital second and third place points which are so often the key to victory.

"There were no swimmer strengths." Black conceded junior freestyler Brad Black. "We don't have great swimmers, and I forgot their names."

The sport of swimming is unique in that the team itself has no meaning. A team is just a second string of swimmers and it is the individual swimmer who can obtain vital second and third place points which are so often the key to victory.

The sport of swimming is unique in that the team itself has no meaning. A team is just a second string of swimmers and it is the individual swimmer who can obtain vital second and third place points which are so often the key to victory.

The sport of swimming is unique in that the team itself has no meaning. A team is just a second string of swimmers and it is the individual swimmer who can obtain vital second and third place points which are so often the key to victory.

The sport of swimming is unique in that the team itself has no meaning. A team is just a second string of swimmers and it is the individual swimmer who can obtain vital second and third place points which are so often the key to victory.

"There were no swimmer strengths." Black conceded junior freestyler Brad Black. "We don't have great swimmers, and I forgot their names."

The sport of swimming is unique in that the team itself has no meaning. A team is just a second string of swimmers and it is the individual swimmer who can obtain vital second and third place points which are so often the key to victory.

"There were no swimmer strengths." Black conceded junior freestyler Brad Black. "We don't have great swimmers, and I forgot their names."

The sport of swimming is unique in that the team itself has no meaning. A team is just a second string of swimmers and it is the individual swimmer who can obtain vital second and third place points which are so often the key to victory.

"There were no swimmer strengths." Black conceded junior freestyler Brad Black. "We don't have great swimmers, and I forgot their names."

The sport of swimming is unique in that the team itself has no meaning. A team is just a second string of swimmers and it is the individual swimmer who can obtain vital second and third place points which are so often the key to victory.
Strangers in the Night Face Bisons

BY JOEL GOLDBERG

Penn Veterans Slice Into Meaty Slate

know about Penn's basketball opener tonight against Bucknell (1-0) at the Park

•

Arenas tonight.

Two racquetmen (9).

By JON KASSEMIER

Penn will face arch-rivals Princeton on Saturday night. The Quakers, and Parkinson in particular, have been in top form in recent weeks, and are likely to be in top form in this game as well.

Such strong performances were due in large part to the play of junior guard Carl Jackson. Jackson, who has been playing some of the best basketball of his career in the past month, has been a key factor in the team's success. His ability to score consistently, and his strong defensive play, have been major reasons for the team's success.

Jackson's improved play has been noticed by the coaches, and he has been named the starting guard for the team in recent games. His improved play has also helped the team's overall performance, and has allowed the team to play at a higher level of intensity.

Another reason for the team's success has been the strong play of the team's forwards. The forwards have been playing well in recent games, and have been a major factor in the team's success. Their strong play has helped the team to win several important games, and has allowed the team to stay in the hunt for a conference championship.

Overall, the team is playing well, and is confident about its chances in the upcoming games. The team will face some tough opponents, but the team is looking forward to the challenge. The team will continue to work hard, and is confident about its chances of success.