Justice Burger Named Speaker
At University Commencement

U.S. senatorial race.

Established by Gregorian graduate schools, Gregorian told the allocate fellowship money in FAS and allocation.”

woman’s pregnancy.

Court’s decision allowing abortion on demand during the first trimester of a they say they’ll vote for me. This is the year of the non-politician,” he everyone must contend with the long memory of Watergate, Packard stresses his goods magnate, and former Philadelphia District Attorney Arlen Specter.

walking.

race is mostly a slow, meandering walk.

For almost a century, South

(Continued

the telephone and welcoming to and who your politician is.”

Philly, you learn two things,” Tayoun anyone can remember and (lab Is Jntt one of the commodities available to

In Traditional Values

However, Packard calls for guaranteed full-employment and national health is a first in a six-part series on

This

In Traditional Values

(Continued

American radio and television stations were permitted to mitigate the Review Board, “the showing the was expected to win easy approval station programming was

The Federal Communications Com-

The ruling was not unexpected in the Network.

and 0 delegates in New York for an

percent and 10 delegates in Wisconsin

total of 235.

By United Press International

Ford Wins in Primary

[taken from the report of

The follow-up film, entitled O

an offer to speak by the University

Professor Robert Schrleffer and

The University Commencement

At University Commencement

The Federal Communications Com-

The ruling was not unexpected in

the Network.

and 0 delegates in New York for an

percent and 10 delegates in Wisconsin

total of 235.

By United Press International

Ford Wins in Primary

[taken from the report of

The follow-up film, entitled O

an offer to speak by the University

Professor Robert Schrleffer and

The University Commencement

At University Commencement

The Federal Communications Com-

The ruling was not unexpected in

the Network.

and 0 delegates in New York for an

percent and 10 delegates in Wisconsin

total of 235.

By United Press International

Ford Wins in Primary

[taken from the report of

The follow-up film, entitled O

an offer to speak by the University

Professor Robert Schrleffer and

The University Commencement

At University Commencement

The Federal Communications Com-

The ruling was not unexpected in

the Network.

and 0 delegates in New York for an

percent and 10 delegates in Wisconsin

total of 235.

By United Press International

Ford Wins in Primary

[taken from the report of

The follow-up film, entitled O

an offer to speak by the University

Professor Robert Schrleffer and

The University Commencement

At University Commencement

The Federal Communications Com-

The ruling was not unexpected in

the Network.

and 0 delegates in New York for an

percent and 10 delegates in Wisconsin

total of 235.
Announcing:
The New SCUE
The 1976 Course Guide
Is On Sale Now
For Only $2.00

Available At 17 College Hall,
The Bookstore
And All The Better Places
On Campus Until Friday

A Must For
Pre-Registration

CLASSIFIEDS
Music: Taj Mahal

By ANDREAS STUHMER

Workshop in the Quad? No, it's not the Spring Flings musical entertainment featuring Taj Mahal's promise to offer a closer alternative. Taj Mahal, the star attraction, writes his own songs and plays a variety of instruments in his band. On a recent album, he describes his music as Jamaican folk and rock'n'roll band.

The Spring Fling is a musical program, according to Musical coordinator Dan Socolof, that includes a mixture of folk, jazz and blues. Taj Mahal promises to offer a close alternative. According to Socolof, Taj Mahal is costing "several thousand dollars." The event begins at 9:30 with Slaves, a new rock and blues band. The Phlladelphian rock'n'roll band.

In addition to music, there will be works by Mozart and Beethoven. The Phllarte Quartet production of Leon Kirchner's Third String Quartet, with electric tape, highlights a program that also includes works by Mozart and Beethoven.

Program includes "Three Domestics" and "Law and Order". The University Choir sings Bach's Cantata 191. Featuring Barry Alten, Benefit for WXPN FM's marathon. Tickets for this show are $1 and can be purchased at the door.

Crafts

By GERRY SPOELBERG

Dramatic presentations will abound this weekend both inside and outside of Spring Flings. The Quadrants production of Peter Pan in the Lower Quad, and the Hill House Players offering of Tea and Sympathy should offer theater for all appetites.

The Quadrants production, free to the public, includes12 roles with energy and conviction, and they are supported by strong group of actors. The cast can sing, dance, act and move suitably simultaneously. In case of rain, the play will be performed Houston Hall. Tea and Sympathy will be performed Thursday, Friday and Saturday night at 8 P.M. in Houston Hall. The play involves a young man growing up in a boarding school and the typical problems of adolescence. He finds himself accused of being a homosexual and forced to prove his manhood. Coupled with the typical problems of adolescence, he finds himself accused of being a homosexual and forced to prove his manhood. He finds himself accused of being a homosexual and forced to prove his manhood.

Based on the book by James M. Barrie, the play bursts with imagination. The cast involved in Peter Pan are freshmen. Directed by Marc Platt, a freshman who has had previous experience directing college theater, the play has been put together in the last five weeks after encountering a number of obstacles including the scripts arriving a week late. The cast is excellent, and the group has planned some intriguing special effects.

Happenings

Music, Drama & Film

Today

Kermit—Houston Hall—9:30

Nashville-Irvine—7:30 A 10:30

Directed by Marc Platt, a freshman who has had previous experience directing college theater, the play has been put together in the last five weeks after encountering a number of obstacles including the scripts arriving a week late. The cast is excellent, and the group has planned some intriguing special effects.

“Quadramics” tries to draw most of its actors from the Quad. Directed by Marc Platt, a freshman who has had previous experience directing college theater, the play has been put together in the last five weeks after encountering a number of obstacles including the scripts arriving a week late. The cast is excellent, and the group has planned some intriguing special effects.

By SETH WEBER

Directed by Marc Platt, a freshman who has had previous experience directing college theater, the play has been put together in the last five weeks after encountering a number of obstacles including the scripts arriving a week late. The cast is excellent, and the group has planned some intriguing special effects.

“Quadramics” tries to draw most of its actors from the Quad. Directed by Marc Platt, a freshman who has had previous experience directing college theater, the play has been put together in the last five weeks after encountering a number of obstacles including the scripts arriving a week late. The cast is excellent, and the group has planned some intriguing special effects.

By ANDREAS STUHMER

Workshop in the Quad? No, it's not the Spring Flings musical entertainment featuring Taj Mahal's promise to offer a closer alternative. Taj Mahal, the star attraction, writes his own songs and plays a variety of instruments in his band. On a recent album, he describes his music as Jamaican folk and rock'n'roll band.

The Spring Fling is a musical program, according to Musical coordinator Dan Socolof, that includes a mixture of folk, jazz and blues. Taj Mahal promises to offer a close alternative. According to Socolof, Taj Mahal is costing "several thousand dollars." The event begins at 9:30 with Slaves, a new rock and blues band. The Phlladelphian rock'n'roll band.

In addition to music, there will be works by Mozart and Beethoven. The Phllarte Quartet production of Leon Kirchner's Third String Quartet, with electric tape, highlights a program that also includes works by Mozart and Beethoven.

Program includes "Three Domestics" and "Law and Order". The University Choir sings Bach's Cantata 191. Featuring Barry Alten, Benefit for WXPN FM's marathon. Tickets for this show are $1 and can be purchased at the door.

Crafts

By GERRY SPOELBERG

Dramatic presentations will abound this weekend both inside and outside of Spring Flings. The Quadrants production of Peter Pan in the Lower Quad, and the Hill House Players offering of Tea and Sympathy should offer theater for all appetites.

The Quadrants production, free to the public, includes12 roles with energy and conviction, and they are supported by strong group of actors. The cast can sing, dance, act and move suitably simultaneously. In case of rain, the play will be performed Houston Hall. Tea and Sympathy will be performed Thursday, Friday and Saturday night at 8 P.M. in Houston Hall. The play involves a young man growing up in a boarding school and the typical problems of adolescence. He finds himself accused of being a homosexual and forced to prove his manhood. Coupled with the typical problems of adolescence, he finds himself accused of being a homosexual and forced to prove his manhood. He finds himself accused of being a homosexual and forced to prove his manhood.

Based on the book by James M. Barrie, the play bursts with imagination. The cast involved in Peter Pan are freshmen. Directed by Marc Platt, a freshman who has had previous experience directing college theater, the play has been put together in the last five weeks after encountering a number of obstacles including the scripts arriving a week late. The cast is excellent, and the group has planned some intriguing special effects.

Happenings

Music, Drama & Film

Today

Kermit—Houston Hall—9:30

Nashville—Irvine—7:30 A 10:30

Directed by Marc Platt, a freshman who has had previous experience directing college theater, the play has been put together in the last five weeks after encountering a number of obstacles including the scripts arriving a week late. The cast is excellent, and the group has planned some intriguing special effects.

“Quadramics” tries to draw most of its actors from the Quad. Directed by Marc Platt, a freshman who has had previous experience directing college theater, the play has been put together in the last five weeks after encountering a number of obstacles including the scripts arriving a week late. The cast is excellent, and the group has planned some intriguing special effects.

By ANDREAS STUHMER

Workshop in the Quad? No, it's not the Spring Flings musical entertainment featuring Taj Mahal's promise to offer a closer alternative. Taj Mahal, the star attraction, writes his own songs and plays a variety of instruments in his band. On a recent album, he describes his music as Jamaican folk and rock'n'roll band.

The Spring Fling is a musical program, according to Musical coordinator Dan Socolof, that includes a mixture of folk, jazz and blues. Taj Mahal promises to offer a close alternative. According to Socolof, Taj Mahal is costing "several thousand dollars." The event begins at 9:30 with Slaves, a new rock and blues band. The Phlladelphian rock'n'roll band.

In addition to music, there will be works by Mozart and Beethoven. The Phllarte Quartet production of Leon Kirchner's Third String Quartet, with electric tape, highlights a program that also includes works by Mozart and Beethoven.

Program includes "Three Domestics" and "Law and Order". The University Choir sings Bach's Cantata 191. Featuring Barry Alten, Benefit for WXPN FM's marathon. Tickets for this show are $1 and can be purchased at the door.

Crafts

By GERRY SPOELBERG

Dramatic presentations will abound this weekend both inside and outside of Spring Flings. The Quadrants production of Peter Pan in the Lower Quad, and the Hill House Players offering of Tea and Sympathy should offer theater for all appetites.

The Quadrants production, free to the public, includes12 roles with energy and conviction, and they are supported by strong group of actors. The cast can sing, dance, act and move suitably simultaneously. In case of rain, the play will be performed Houston Hall. Tea and Sympathy will be performed Thursday, Friday and Saturday night at 8 P.M. in Houston Hall. The play involves a young man growing up in a boarding school and the typical problems of adolescence. He finds himself accused of being a homosexual and forced to prove his manhood. Coupled with the typical problems of adolescence, he finds himself accused of being a homosexual and forced to prove his manhood. He finds himself accused of being a homosexual and forced to prove his manhood.

Based on the book by James M. Barrie, the play bursts with imagination. The cast involved in Peter Pan are freshmen. Directed by Marc Platt, a freshman who has had previous experience directing college theater, the play has been put together in the last five weeks after encountering a number of obstacles including the scripts arriving a week late. The cast is excellent, and the group has planned some intriguing special effects.

Happenings

Music, Drama & Film

Today

Kermit—Houston Hall—9:30

Nashville—Irvine—7:30 A 10:30

Directed by Marc Platt, a freshman who has had previous experience directing college theater, the play has been put together in the last five weeks after encountering a number of obstacles including the scripts arriving a week late. The cast is excellent, and the group has planned some intriguing special effects.
Letters to the Editor

Living Without Gilburt and Sullivan

It is gratifying to read in The Daily Pennsylvanian that the production of Gilbert and Sullivan operas has been curtailed. For decades, a wail that a season would represent a “real” achievement in the university theater.

I am sure that the administration would take offense to be described in terms of its concern for the welfare of “the students.” As long as the students are satisfied, can we expect anything really worthwhile to happen? Always a problem when the university is more interested in pleasing the students than in providing an education.

The main reason this year’s Gilbert and Sullivan offering was a failure was the absence of Peter Camiel, the artistic director, who was in charge of the production of “The Pirates of Penzance” last year. His absence was felt throughout the entire season, and the productions of “The Mikado” and “HMS Pinafore” suffered greatly. The administration should always take into account the wishes of the students and their representatives when making decisions about the arts on campus.

The Raging Rascal

By Ed DeAngelis

The rhetoric at the recent Gilbert and Sullivan society meeting could be summed up as “Fed Up, Fed Up!” The group was so incensed by the announcement of a new Gilbert and Sullivan production that it almost boiled over.

The group had been promised a new Gilbert and Sullivan production after the successful run of “The Pirates of Penzance” last year, but the administration had failed to deliver. The group was absolutely fed up with the idea of a new production at this time, and it was determined to have its way.

The group’s demand was simple: “We demand a new production of Gilbert and Sullivan! We demand that the administration deliver on its promises!”

The administration was taken aback by the group’s vehemence, but it was unwilling to give in. The group was determined to have its way, and it was not going to be satisfied until it got what it wanted.

In the end, the administration caved in to the group’s demands, and a new production of Gilbert and Sullivan was announced.

The Idea Man

Is There a Method to His Madness?

By Larry Field

Is there a method to his madness? Is there a logic to his actions? Is there a pattern to his behavior? These are the questions that many people are asking about Martin Meyerson, the new president of the University of Pennsylvania.

Meyerson is a controversial figure, and his decisions have not always been well-received. But there is a sense that he is trying to do something bold and different, something that has not been done before.

The question is: What is his method? What is his logic? What is his pattern?

It is too early to say for sure, but it seems that Meyerson is trying to bring a sense of urgency and change to the university. He is trying to shake things up, to get people thinking in new ways.

The challenge is: Can he succeed? Will people respond to his calls for change? Will the university be able to implement his ideas?

The question is: What is the future of the University of Pennsylvania? Is there a method to his madness, or is he simply a man of chaos?
Old-Time Religion and Politics Still Hold in Area

A young girl, munching a soft pretzel, comes along and stares in wonder. "You eat that?" she asks. "It's all cheese." The girl continues her way, uninterested.

One butcher displays cages of live chickens, ducks and rabbits on the sidewalk. "You want one?" he asks. "I'll send someone to get it." A woman answers, "No, I'll get it myself."

According to Phil Lorello, president of the Passyunk Avenue Businessmen's Association, the area is still very much a neighborhood business district, much like the old-style cities of Europe. "There is a closeness here, a familiarity with the surrounding streets and ideas. The corner grocery store is still in evidence here, and shows little sign of going away."

Lorello does not see the constant openings of suburban shopping centers as a threat to the area. "We have seen these before and have always been able to survive."

A committeeman in South Philadelphia's 39th Ward agreed with Tayoun. "Why should I give up the old style of politics for the new? It's working for me."

Tayoun, a former restauranteur, turned politician, sees the patronage system as the cornerstone of neighborhood politics. "We run a machine that serves the voter," he said. "We help the voter by servicing them totally. They in turn oil the machine for us."

"The white-black ratio in South Philadelphia seems to be approximately 60-40," Farnese said. "This ratio has been maintained in the area because of the lack of new institutions." The white-working-class community has remained largely intact in the area.

"Don't like blacks and whites together." Public schools in South Philadelphia are 66 percent black overall, which is double the actual black population. "There is a lot of integration here," Farnese said. "We have made progress in this area."

"We have a choice," he said. "We can either vote for the candidates we think are best, or we can vote for the candidates who are the best for the job."

"We have a lot of power in South Philadelphia," he continued. "We run a machine that serves the voter." The restauranteur-turned-politician said, "We help the voter by servicing them totally. They in turn oil the machine for us."

"We have a lot of power in South Philadelphia," he said. "We run a machine that serves the voter." The restauranteur-turned-politician said, "We help the voter by servicing them totally. They in turn oil the machine for us."

"We have a lot of power in South Philadelphia," he said. "We run a machine that serves the voter." The restauranteur-turned-politician said, "We help the voter by servicing them totally. They in turn oil the machine for us."

"We have a lot of power in South Philadelphia," he said. "We run a machine that serves the voter." The restauranteur-turned-politician said, "We help the voter by servicing them totally. They in turn oil the machine for us."

"We have a lot of power in South Philadelphia," he said. "We run a machine that serves the voter." The restauranteur-turned-politician said, "We help the voter by servicing them totally. They in turn oil the machine for us.
Quadramics Presents

Peter Pan
At 7:30
April 8 & 10
In The Lower Quad
Admission Free
news in brief

COMPILATION FROM UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

GENERAL STRIKE IN SAN FRANCISCO—Labor leaders voted yesterday for a general strike of all San Francisco labor in a showdown over union-approved picket lines on city streets. It will be the first such walkout in more than 25 years. The date for the walkout has been set.

EDWARD FOLLETT KILLS ROGERS—The doctor who performed an autopsy on the body of billionaire rancher Edward F. Rogers, who was found dead in his Los Angeles mansion on Sunday, has also been found dead. The coroner's report is expected to be released today.

LAWYER TO SPEAK—Burton G. Anderson, a prominent lawyer, will speak at the University of Wisconsin on Thursday evening. Anderson is known for his work in labor law and civil rights.
Paralyzes Penn Golfers

Penn's男女篮球队遭遇挫折，分别在佛罗里达州和俄亥俄州的比赛中输球。

本周结束时，球队的表现不如人意。

本周结束时，球队的表现不如人意。