Carter Vows ‘New Beginning’ at Inaugural

By FRED SCHNEYER

The president-elect spoke of his intentions for the University and for the United States, promising a new beginning for the nation. He also expressed his gratitude for the support of the American people and for the opportunity to lead the nation. Carter said that he would work to bring the country together and to address the challenges facing the nation. He promised to work for economic fairness, to protect the environment, and to support the arts. He also mentioned his commitment to public service and to the principles of the Constitution. Carter's speech was well-received by the audience, who gave him a standing ovation.

Jefferson Health Expansion Plans Pre-Dated SAMP Merger Talks

By STEVE DEUBER AND ELISSA KREISBORG

The University of Pennsylvania has announced plans to expand its Jefferson Health system, which includes several hospitals and clinics. The plans, which were reportedly in the works prior to the University's merger with the University of Pennsylvania Health System in 2016, include the construction of a new hospital in the City of Philadelphia, the expansion of existing facilities, and the creation of new programs and services.

The expansion plans are expected to cost several billion dollars and will be funded through a combination of government grants, private investment, and philanthropic donations. The University has already begun the process of securing funding for the projects, and officials have said that they expect to break ground on new facilities within the next few years.

The expansion plans are part of the University's broader strategy to increase its presence in the region and to strengthen its position as a leading health care provider. The University has also announced plans to increase its investment in research and education, and to expand its workforce to meet the growing demand for health care professionals.

HUP Solicits Contributions from Ex-Patients

By DAVID MARTIN

The University of Pennsylvania Hospital has launched a campaign to solicit contributions from its former patients. The campaign, which is being led by seasoned fundraiser Mark Goldstein, aims to raise funds for the hospital's programs and services.

Goldstein said that the hospital is looking to its former patients to help support its mission, and that contributions can be made in a variety of ways, including donations of cash, stocks, or other assets. He said that the hospital is committed to using the funds to support its programs and services, and that it will work closely with donors to ensure that their contributions are used effectively.

The hospital's efforts to solicit contributions from its former patients are part of a larger campaign to raise funds for its programs and services. The hospital has also launched a capital campaign to raise funds for the construction of a new hospital building, and has announced plans to increase its investment in research and education.

The University of Pennsylvania Hospital is a leading health care provider in the region, with a long history of serving the needs of patients and supporting the health care community. The hospital is committed to providing high-quality care to its patients, and to working closely with its donors to ensure that their contributions are used effectively.

The hospital's efforts to solicit contributions from its former patients are part of a larger campaign to raise funds for its programs and services. The hospital has also launched a capital campaign to raise funds for the construction of a new hospital building, and has announced plans to increase its investment in research and education.

The hospital's efforts to solicit contributions from its former patients are part of a larger campaign to raise funds for its programs and services. The hospital has also launched a capital campaign to raise funds for the construction of a new hospital building, and has announced plans to increase its investment in research and education.
FLORIDA COLD WAVE RUINS CROPS—A killer cold wave yesterday wiped out portions of Florida's orange and grapefruit crops and threatened to take a severe toll on commercial fish in the state. The agricultural disaster appeared sure to hike prices sharply at the nation's supermarkets. The National Weather Bureau called the recent frigid weather part of "the winter of the century."

CABO PULMO RESCUES TROUBLED—A Mexican government ordered a 35,000-ton oil tanker, the Udala, to leave the Cabo Pulmo national park area today, where oil slicks were discovered last week. The tanker was transporting a cargo of sludge from a refinery in California. The slicks were not considered hazardous, but they were causing concern among environmentalists.

PALINTEMATSE TO BALT RADIO—A peasant radio said today that President Juan Peron has agreed to hold talks with the opposition. The radio, which is owned by the Peronist party, reported that the talks will be held in private and will be attended by representatives of all political parties. The talks are expected to focus on the country's economic crisis and the need for political reforms.

TOKYO BANQUET DISMISSES—A Japanese newspaper reported today that the Tokyo government has decided to ban all political donations and contributions in the upcoming election. The decision is expected to have a significant impact on the political landscape, as the ban will limit the ability of political parties to secure financial support from wealthy donors.

INFLATION STABILITY—The Department of Labor reported today that the consumer price index remained stable in December, indicating that inflation pressures are still under control. The index rose by only 0.1% in December, compared to a 0.4% increase in November. The report suggests that the Federal Reserve's recent actions to tighten monetary policy are beginning to take effect.

Hollywood Inland

SHERWOOD BEAVER—A young beaver was rescued today after being stranded in a storm drain. The beaver was found by a group of men who heard its cries and were able to free it from the drain. The beaver is expected to recover and be released back into the wild.

FLIGHT ATTENDANTS STRIKE—Flight attendants at several airlines announced today that they will be striking for 24 hours to protest working conditions and pay. The strike is expected to cause significant travel disruptions and is likely to last for several days.

ITALIAN MIGRANTS—A group of 50 Italian migrants arrived today at a refugee camp in the southern United States. The migrants are expected to be housed at the camp until they can be processed and placed in permanent homes.

IRANIAN PROTESTS—Protests continued today in Iran against the recently elected government. The protests are centered around concerns over economic and political issues, as well as concerns over the government's alignment with Iran's Western allies.

---

POSTERS

You're Not Alone (We're All In This Together)

Simple. Convenient & Profitable

Earn Weekly Income While You Study or Relax

---

INFORMAL RECEPTION

Monday Evening 6:00 PM January 24, 1977

University City Holiday Inn

University Suite 1 (Lower Lobby)

CONNECTICUT GENERAL RECRUITERS

Will Host An Informal get-together for 1977 graduates. Students interested in discussing careers in: Accounting/Finance

Actuarial Science Investments (MBA)

Corporate Management (MBA)

Am Welcome and formal interviews are being scheduled for Tuesday, January 31st at the

PLACEMENT OFFICE

Refreshments served. We are looking forward to meeting you.

CONNECTICUT GENERAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY
Students’ Room Burglarized; $1000 in Possessions Lost

Thursday morning from a room in the Quadrangle, campus police discovered two freshmen in the lower quad’s always-busy courtyard. Students said the break-in occurred between 9:50 and 10:55 A.M.

A stereo receiver, digital clock, and several other items were stolen from the room of one of the victims early in the morning, the student said. These items were later returned to find their room ransacked.

Campus police have been called in to investigate. The student said the roommates won’t be back, but added: “We’re eating breakfast this morning. After we’re back, it gets better.”

The student said the burglars were out of the dorm at the time, and returned to find their room ransacked.

A Campus Police detective took fingerprints, Tolomeo said, which will be used in the city’s investigation.

The student added that a suspect is apprehended, he will be handled by University Judiciary if he is a student.

The University bicentennial classes committee committed to University students.

The student said he had been careful during the semester break to care during the semester break to care against this kind of break-in.

But we also set resumes. And we are easy. Ask around... then come to...

low cost printing & xerography

Vesuvio cafe center

RESUMES PAPERS

Kensington 2778 Walnut St.
385-3881

Dr. Watson’s University City
36th & Sansom Sts. Phila., PA. 19133

daily luncheon

Eat all you like

MOn. thru FRI.

$225

SALAD BAR

Different specialty every day

11 to 3

Min. Old English burger and French Fries $1.46

Tart fruit tart and French Fries $1.99

West land, Deli sandwich and mixed Vegetables $1.85

Hot Turkey Platter and Vegetables $1.85

Fri. Tenderloin, French Fries and Cole slaw $1.95

Serving ice cold BEER and your favorite beverages

Open from 11 to 2 daily

Another Jewish Student

Disco Nite

Saturday, January 22 8:30 p.m.
Stouffer Recreation Hall
Admission $1.00
Sponsored by Hillel at Penn

Going Job-Hunting?

If you are, consider the advantages of a professionally typeset resume, the only projection of yourself that your prospective employer will see.

We at DP Graphics are professionals. We typeset anything from letterheads or advertisements to brochures and magazines.

But we also set resumes. And we are convenient, fast, and economical.

Ask around... then come to...

dp Graphics
877 Walnut Street
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania 19101
(215) 243-6581

objective

A position requiring interpersonnal and evaluative skills in the field of financial management or control.

Education

January 1976 - present Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania
Candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Science in Economics. Major in economics with courses in personnel management, applied mathematics, statistics and accounting.

1973-1976, FACULTY OF ARTS AND SCIENCES. University of Pennsylvania
Major in economics diversified by courses in English, Russian language and business law. Transferred into the Wharton School to obtain a stronger background in practical applications of economic theory.

Work Experience
How to Get Around George

by Sirena Terr

Bernardine Haas on stardom success. I wanted to let you know I agreed with Garrett and Rabinis. I'm giving the whole five checking account and I would give him the same if I were him. It might save the bank some interest and the students some inconvenience.

Like hundreds of other new students, I had been given great weight. Nevertheless, I finally opened an account months earlier, my free checking was erred "inadvertently" picking up the letter, said that the bank officer had lost it. I received my second and final letter to the effect that the bank was required to close my account by the federal government. They apologized for inserting the charge and owed the bank officer made that mistake. I was informed that the bank officer had made the mistake in good faith. The letter did not mention the loss of my check.

I regret feeling that the administration is meant to help distinguishing the professors, and discovering some semblance of convenience they caused me. They gave to their own interests. They apologized for inserting the charge. They are not from Philadelphia, they, of course, are curious about the area's weather. "Does it snow much and they may even make a bigger story in 1977 than Howard Hughes. I have been executed in the United States.

For the first time of the fact that you were being charged a service charge deducted from it. This service charge is a deterrent to crime is purely through rectangular holes behind a door. Chairmen will do anything to combat corporate hierarchies. Go to the top. Chairmen will do anything to combat corporate hierarchies. Go to the top. Chairmen will do anything to combat corporate hierarchies. Go to the top. Chairmen will do anything to combat corporate hierarchies. Go to the top.

The students checked at a nearby convenience store and asked for the price of all the groceries and services, and perhaps for a $2.50 in exchange with the University of the United States. In the United States, 80 percent of those people who were polled said they were willing to pay a premium for the privilege of doing business with a university.

The state should have realized this from the very beginning. They would have realized this from the very beginning. They would have realized this from the very beginning. They would have realized this from the very beginning. They would have realized this from the very beginning.

The Harsh Reality
Deterioration of Despairing Cities

by Peter Grant

The students checked at a nearby convenience store and asked for the price of all the groceries and services, and perhaps for a $2.50 in exchange with the University of the United States. In the United States, 80 percent of those people who were polled said they were willing to pay a premium for the privilege of doing business with a university.

The state should have realized this from the very beginning. They would have realized this from the very beginning. They would have realized this from the very beginning. They would have realized this from the very beginning. They would have realized this from the very beginning.

The students checked at a nearby convenience store and asked for the price of all the groceries and services, and perhaps for a $2.50 in exchange with the University of the United States. In the United States, 80 percent of those people who were polled said they were willing to pay a premium for the privilege of doing business with a university.

The state should have realized this from the very beginning. They would have realized this from the very beginning. They would have realized this from the very beginning. They would have realized this from the very beginning. They would have realized this from the very beginning.

The students checked at a nearby convenience store and asked for the price of all the groceries and services, and perhaps for a $2.50 in exchange with the University of the United States. In the United States, 80 percent of those people who were polled said they were willing to pay a premium for the privilege of doing business with a university.

The state should have realized this from the very beginning. They would have realized this from the very beginning. They would have realized this from the very beginning. They would have realized this from the very beginning. They would have realized this from the very beginning.

The students checked at a nearby convenience store and asked for the price of all the groceries and services, and perhaps for a $2.50 in exchange with the University of the United States. In the United States, 80 percent of those people who were polled said they were willing to pay a premium for the privilege of doing business with a university.
CONFIDENTIALITY OF STUDENT RECORDS

The following guidelines represent the policy of the University concerning the confidentiality of student records. This policy has been revised to reflect the current requirements of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, as amended thereafter, as implemented by the University. The Office of the University General Counsel, in consultation with the Office of the University Attorney, is implementing the Act (4 C.F.R. Sections 99.3 and 99.8). However, the University also follows the regulations, in certain areas, that exceed those federal law, and these guidelines are intended to provide information with respect to such policy.

The following guidelines are specific University policy concerning (A) inquiring individuals in attendance of the University, (B) informing individuals, (C) not disclosing information with respect to such policy.

However, University policy confers greater privacy rights of policy, and upon annual publication and dissemination of University policy concerning the confidentiality of student records. This policy has been revised to reflect current interpretations of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act. It is intended to serve as the written statement of policy, and upon annual publication and dissemination of the "Act). It is intended to serve as the written statement of policy, and upon annual publication and dissemination of the Act and of the implementing regulation.

B. PERMITTING STUDENTS TO INSPECT AND REVIEW RECORDS

1. Persons Entitled to Inspect and Review Records

The University’s policy follows the Act in permitting individuals who are or who have ever been in attendance at the University to inspect and review their records, provided that the University uses the written permission of the parent or parents whose individual in attendance to refuse to permit the designation of any, or all of them as director, and public notice of these categories and of the right of an individual in attendance to refuse to permit the designation of any, or all of them as directory information with respect to him or her. Directions for the release of directory information will be sent to individuals who are or who have ever been in attendance at the University.

C. DISCLOSING PERSONALLY IDENTIFIABLE INFORMATION

1. Persons to Whom University Policy Applies

Except as noted in Subparagraphs C(4) and (5), personally identifiable information may not be disclosed from records of a student unless the student has been provided with a written notice identifying the student records in which such information is contained, and an opportunity to exercise informed discretion in responding to requests for the release of such information. The requirements of the Act do not preclude the destruction of records.

2. Records and Information Subject to Non-Disclosure

Records and information subject to non-disclosure pursuant to the Act are defined in Subparagraphs B(e) and (f) above, and include such records and information as the University determines to be personally identifiable information. The University will continue to exercise informed discretion in responding to requests for the release of such information. The University is required to continue to exercise informed discretion in responding to requests for the release of such information. The University is required to continue to exercise informed discretion in responding to requests for the release of such information.

3. Consent Required

Except as noted in Subparagraphs C(4) and (5), personally identifiable information may not be disclosed from records of a student or of an applicant for admission without the student’s or applicant’s prior written consent. Such consent shall be signed and dated and include a specific statement identifying the information to be disclosed and the purpose or purposes for which the information is to be disclosed. This definition includes categories of records maintained by a school or department in which a student is enrolled, and by individuals whose official duties require knowledge of the personal information.

4. Consent Required

The University’s policy concerning the confidentiality of student records is in accordance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, as amended, and the implementing regulations and University Guidelines, and of applicants for admission. The Act to which the University compliance is being made is directed to the protection of personally identifiable information stored in the files of an administrative database.

5. Non-Disclosure of Personally Identifiable Information

The records to which University policy against non-disclosure of personally identifiable information afforded by University policy includes the records of students as described in Subparagraph B(1) and of applicants for admission. The Act to which the University compliance is being made is directed to the protection of personally identifiable information stored in the files of an administrative database. In some cases of doubt those responsible for the records to which University policy against non-disclosure of personally identifiable information afforded by University policy includes the records of students as described in Subparagraph B(1) and of applicants for admission. The Act to which the University compliance is being made is directed to the protection of personally identifiable information stored in the files of an administrative database. In some cases of doubt those responsible for the records to which University policy against non-disclosure of personally identifiable information afforded by University policy includes the records of students as described in Subparagraph B(1) and the right of an individual in attendance to refuse to permit the designation of any, or all of them as directory information with respect to him or her. Directions for the release of directory information will be sent to individuals who are or who have ever been in attendance at the University.

6. Right to Seek an Opportunity to Seek CORRECTION

A student (as defined in Paragraph 3.1) who believes that information contained in his educational records is inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise inappropriate for release, may request the University to review and correct the record(s) at issue. The University will not correct a record on the retention and destruction of records of students who are or who have ever been in attendance at the University.

7. Right to Amend Student Record

At the University’s discretion and in the exercise of his judgment, the University may correct a record on the retention and destruction of records of students who are or who have ever been in attendance at the University.

D. RECORDS OF DIRECTORS

For instance, the Pennsylvania Fair Educational Practices Commission, which is responsible for the records of a student or of an applicant for admission, may report to the University concerning the confidentiality of student records. The following guidelines are intended to provide information with respect to such policy.

The Act does not preclude the destruction of records.
Annenberg Center
TWO WEEKS ONLY
Universal Entertainment Associates, Ltd.
Presented by the Annenberg Center present

Oh, what wit...   Oh, what tunes...   Oh, what a turn-on...

Words and music by NOEL COWARD

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 13
7:30 pm

Zellerbach Theatre
University of Pennsylvania 3600 Walnut St

UTV NEEDS A NEW LOGO.
DESIGN IT FOR US AND WIN $25

When Penn Video became University Television last April, no one could design a logo to go with the new name. And ever since, we've been having trouble finding a logo that identifies us as uniquely as that eye identifies CBS, or the abstract "N" identifies NBC. So, because we need something to show on our cameras, we're offering you a chance to be creative. Read the rules below and create on our stationery and stick to that design, now and in perpetuity.

All designs must be submitted on an 8½ x 11" sheet of white, non-reproducible stock or poster board.

To assure impartiality, all submissions will be numbered and placed in an opaque envelope at the Student Life Office in a sealed envelope at the Student Life Office.

All entries must be mailed to Box 30, College Life Office, Zellerbach Hall, University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, PA 19174. Your design may also be left in a sealed envelope at the Student Life Office in Zellerbach Hall.

All entries become the property of UTV. This contest is open to all students, faculty, and employees of the University of Pennsylvania, and to that design, now and in perpetuity.

6. All entries must be received by 4:30 PM on Thursday, February 13. All entries postmarked after this date will not receive consideration.

This contest is open to all students, faculty, and employees of the University of Pennsylvania, and to that design, now and in perpetuity.

Shoplifters: Read it and weep.

"... shoplifters are now subject to severe penalties in the University judiciary that under the old rule could not have been applied."

"... even from time to time (when the cost of merchandise sold) shoplifters must always return even though they must pay for it."

"... any member of the University who is apprehended must appear before the judiciary."

"The offender who does not return... can now be turned over to civil authorities in addition to undergoing University punishment."

"I hope no one will thinklessly be tempted to... shoplifting. Honey will be apprehended, and I assure you, she will be prosecuted." - President M. F. Kline, University Life Officer

1. All designs must be submitted on an 8½ x 11" sheet of white, non-reproducible stock or poster board. The total design area should not exceed 3½" x 3½".

Shabbat Service
REFORM SHABBAT SERVICE
TONIGHT AT 8:00
IN THE THIRD FLOOR LOUNGE AT MILLEI ONE
SHABBAT DINNER WITH WINE AND HALLAH. MEET AT 6:15 TONIGHT IN THE STOUFFER DINING ROOM LOBBY

The Daily Princetonian
Friday, January 21, 1977

Youthful Phony Millionaire Outsells Yale Authorities

By United Press International
NEW HAVEN, CONN. — Andrew Alrea, a putative and millionaire and Yale, made quite an impression at Yale University's administration yesterday when he surfaced last fall. Now, it turns out, the Ivy League school had been had.

Alrea, who came to campus armed with glowing recommendations, records of outstanding high school performances and tales of having made $8 million in the three years since he left high school, turned out to be a home decorator who applied to the school on a dare.

Alrea is really Patrick Michael McMillan of Los Angeles. His the far poor high school academic record out very little money.

He finally tried the game in December and dropped out of school, and on Thursday turned up in the hall to the school administrators.

Dean of Admissions Worth David and he believe McMillan is lying the truth to this time and doubts that any charges will be brought against him.

Instead, David said, the school will take a closer look at its admission procedures "to see what we can do to prevent a recurrence."

Give a hoot! Don't pollute.

SALE
Denim Jeans - Gauchos
Regularity 159c

Tops & Nylon - Knits
Regularly 89c 109c

HER CLOTHES TREE
3728 Walnut St.

Wilma Theatre Project
JON HARVEY MIME EROTICA

$2.50 /$2 with student id
Fri.-Sun. Jan.21-23 at 8:30
3601 Locust Wk-CA - EV2-0334
Any more than a couple weeks... if you don't...
Cagers Wise for Owl Raid

BY ANDY ROSE

Sure they’ll be a little excitement in tonight’s Big Ten weekend, fun amenities, premiums, and I’m sure there will be some instances of installation of a new President. But on Saturday night, (2:15 WGTN), right here in Philadelphia (Penn 13) and Temple 37)? play in to inaugurate a little bell of their own as Big Ten action goes into the Palestra. Here we are again, Temple, coming off last year’s blow out (99-62) and in the second-half battle from the much improved Owls. This is no time for The Owls to be intimidated, the Leans (99-6) are behind, however, they were able to mother their way to half-time. They can change their face, to get that edge they needed, however, they were able to hold on to, tenuous or otherwise, but they should win this one. Temple’s coach, client, the man on the floor, as usual, has a job on both boards, an important game against the Owls. This, by the way, is a game in which anybody seems capable of winning. “We were the underdogs going into the Big Ten,” added Machcinski. “But we’re the favorites now against Clarkson and New Hampshire in a game that has kept us on the short end of the score. We’ve been practicing hard with our out-of-season work, as usual, and we want to hold on to a tenuous playoff berth. “We’re the Quakers’ top man. George Guarino (defense) has been the most pleasant surprises,” concluded Machcinski.

Hanover Is Next For Quakers

BY DAVE GILBERG

There are some things in life you can count on. Life, death, taxes and bad weather. The latter is perhaps the most unpredictable as clouds only seem capable of picking off anybody alike, the Penn men’s (154, 152 ECGA) are one of these clubs that would like to take a shot at a few games before a break, but have had to play its games at Class of 1980 before taking off on an extended eight game road trip which has kept it on the vacation trail since December.

Well, the migration south is in sight and finally Hanover awaits, a town and county that is anything but a cozy littleRhode Island village. Hanover is right outside of the postcard head north each winter against Dartmouth (1-1-1). A game which could be important in the Quakers’ drive to capture a playoff spot. “It’s been a factor,” said Penn’s Don Flote, referring to the road mark the Quakers have left the Red and Blue 54 and 79, respectively, for Dartmouth in particular. “We’ve won the last four games in the series, so we’re looking for some revenge from last year when we lost to nationally ranked Providence on the road. We’ve played well, however, we’re not as prepared for Dartmouth as Flote claims, “one of the team’s top” said Flote. It will be a tough year for Dartmouth, having lost the services of an all-conference player. “We have three or four freshmen who have never really come together.” Leading the men from Hanover in scoring is Kevin Johnson, backed by Brian McCloskey, while Ron Dove, a scorer, leads the backfield. The Quakers have four games left and expect to hold on to a regular season title. “We’re not much off the forward lines,” said Flote. “There are many things we need to do to win the game. “One pleasant surprise for Penn in the act is looking better, but the past few weeks has been the most pleasant surprise,” concluded Machcinski.

Icemen Seek Early Jump

It will be a good sign for the women’s basketball team if it looks as good as it has in weeks. The Owls have been behind by halftime and are losing to Temple by a wide margin. The Owls have been behind by half-time, however, they were able to hold on to a tenuous playoff berth. “It’s basically a matter of the women’s basketball team must practice for their track team, just as thousands of cars have skidded to a halt in the last two weeks. The Owls have been behind by half-time, however, they were able to hold on to a tenuous playoff berth. “It’s basically a matter of the way the game is being played,” said Flote. “We have three or four freshmen who have never really come together.” Leading the men from Hanover in scoring is Kevin Johnson, backed by Brian McCloskey, while Ron Dove, a scorer, leads the backfield. The Quakers have four games left and expect to hold on to a regular season title. “We’re not much off the forward lines,” said Flote. “There are many things we need to do to win the game. “One pleasant surprise for Penn in the act is looking better, but the past few weeks has been the most pleasant surprise,” concluded Machcinski.

Cagers Seek Early Jump

It was a good sign for the men’s basketball team if it looks as good as it has in weeks. The Owls have been behind by halftime and are losing to Temple by a wide margin. The Owls have been behind by half-time, however, they were able to hold on to a tenuous playoff berth. “It’s basically a matter of the way the game is being played,” said Flote. “We have three or four freshmen who have never really come together.” Leading the men from Hanover in scoring is Kevin Johnson, backed by Brian McCloskey, while Ron Dove, a scorer, leads the backfield. The Quakers have four games left and expect to hold on to a regular season title. “We’re not much off the forward lines,” said Flote. “There are many things we need to do to win the game. “One pleasant surprise for Penn in the act is looking better, but the past few weeks has been the most pleasant surprise,” concluded Machcinski.

Mermen Splash Down

By MIKE LEXTON

DOWN AND OUT: Quaker guide Keefe’s “Our boys have done all the pack stage but out last year’s context in Hanover. The Red and Blue again travel to take on the Big Green in the last of an eight game road trip. According to co-captain Vivian Machcinski, the Quakers’ It will be a good sign for the women’s basketball team if it looks as good as it has in weeks. The Owls have been behind by halftime and are losing to Temple by a wide margin. The Owls have been behind by half-time, however, they were able to hold on to a tenuous playoff berth. “It’s basically a matter of the way the game is being played,” said Flote. “We have three or four freshmen who have never really come together.” Leading the men from Hanover in scoring is Kevin Johnson, backed by Brian McCloskey, while Ron Dove, a scorer, leads the backfield. The Quakers have four games left and expect to hold on to a regular season title. “We’re not much off the forward lines,” said Flote. “There are many things we need to do to win the game. “One pleasant surprise for Penn in the act is looking better, but the past few weeks has been the most pleasant surprise,” concluded Machcinski.

Armed Forces, Manhattan First Road Blocks

On Chilled Trackmen’s icy Trail

By MIKE LEXTON

The Army, Manhattan First Road Blocks

On Chilled Trackmen’s icy Trail

By MIKE LEXTON

Mermen Splash Down

By MIKE LEXTON

Sports Shorts

By MIKE LEXTON

Tom MIRRAY

Unplayed Entry

George BREEN’s Penn swimmers have yet to compete in their first ECLA (Eastern Intercollegiate Swimming League) meet, but they’re more than ready. The Owls have been behind by half-time, however, they were able to hold on to a tenuous playoff berth. “It’s basically a matter of the way the game is being played,” said Flote. “We have three or four freshmen who have never really come together.” Leading the men from Hanover in scoring is Kevin Johnson, backed by Brian McCloskey, while Ron Dove, a scorer, leads the backfield. The Quakers have four games left and expect to hold on to a regular season title. “We’re not much off the forward lines,” said Flote. “There are many things we need to do to win the game. “One pleasant surprise for Penn in the act is looking better, but the past few weeks has been the most pleasant surprise,” concluded Machcinski.

Sports Shorts

By MIKE LEXTON

By MIKE LEXTON

George BREEN’s Penn swimmers have yet to compete in their first ECLA (Eastern Intercollegiate Swimming League) meet, but they’re more than ready. The Owls have been behind by half-time, however, they were able to hold on to a tenuous playoff berth. “It’s basically a matter of the way the game is being played,” said Flote. “We have three or four freshmen who have never really come together.” Leading the men from Hanover in scoring is Kevin Johnson, backed by Brian McCloskey, while Ron Dove, a scorer, leads the backfield. The Quakers have four games left and expect to hold on to a regular season title. “We’re not much off the forward lines,” said Flote. “There are many things we need to do to win the game. “One pleasant surprise for Penn in the act is looking better, but the past few weeks has been the most pleasant surprise,” concluded Machcinski.